Farmer Mac Investor Conference Call on Website

Washington, D.C. -- The Federal Agricultural Mortgage Corporation (Farmer Mac, NYSE: AGM and AGMA), the stockholder-owned instrumentality of the United States chartered by Congress to establish a secondary market for agricultural real estate and rural housing mortgage loans, announced today that the recording of its Friday, May 31, 2002 conference call for Farmer Mac investors will continue to be available on its website through the close of business on Friday, June 7, 2002 to ensure that Farmer Mac's investors and the public at large have access to a complete and accurate version of management's presentation and the ensuing question-and-answer session.

In accordance with the notice provided by the Company's press release and Form 8-K dated May 30, 2002, Farmer Mac's senior management conducted an investor conference call on Friday, May 31, 2002, to reconfirm to its investors and other members of the financial community its strong financial condition and positive outlook. Farmer Mac also reaffirmed its prior guidance that it is on track to meet or exceed analysts' expectations for both the second quarter and the full year. In addition, any and all investors were invited to ask questions and had ample opportunity to do so in a full and lively discussion. That conference call was webcast on a real-time basis, and remains available for replay, on the Company's website at <http://www.farmermac.com>. The Company will continue to make the recording of the conference call available on its website through the close of business on Friday, June 7, 2002.

Additional information about Farmer Mac is available on Farmer Mac's website.

Forward-Looking Statements

This release includes forward-looking statements that reflect management's current expectations for Farmer Mac's future financial results. Management's expectations for Farmer Mac's future necessarily involve assumptions, estimates and the evaluation of risks and uncertainties. Various factors could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those expectations. Some of the important factors that could cause Farmer Mac's actual results to differ materially from management's expectations include uncertainties regarding: (1) the rate and direction of the development of the secondary market for agricultural mortgage loans; (2) the agricultural economy resulting from low commodity prices, weak demand for U.S. agricultural products and crop damage from natural disasters; (3) the effect on the agricultural economy of federal assistance to farmers provided for in the recently-passed farm bill; and (4) the possible establishment of additional statutory or regulatory restrictions on Farmer Mac, such as restrictions on Farmer Mac's investment authority. These and other factors are discussed in Farmer Mac's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 27, 2002, and in Farmer Mac's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2002, as filed with the SEC on May 15, 2002. The forward-looking statements contained herein represent management's expectations as of the date of this release. Farmer Mac undertakes no obligation to release publicly the results of any revisions to the forward-looking statements included herein to reflect events or circumstances after today, or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.
