Chairman s statement

It has been my privilege to be the Chairman of a company that has proved to be one of the outstanding international success stories of the last decade.

Lord MacLaurin of Knebworth, DL

My last year as Chairman of Vodafone has been a watershed in the history of your Company. We have been undergoing significant change whilst operating in the most challenging market environment the telecommunications sector has seen. Nevertheless, our ability to deliver good growth in the face of increasing competition reflects the unique characteristics of our business, compared to many other mobile operators, particularly the benefits derived from our increasing exposure to faster-growing markets and the opportunity to generate further benefits from our scale.

We maintained strong customer growth across many of our markets and grew our proportionate mobile customer base to over 170 million, representing organic growth of 15% since last year. Importantly, we achieved our 10 million 3G target, which included Japan, during March, which was ahead of plan.

Over the year, we have announced total returns to shareholders of £19.2 billion. We have purchased over 4.8 billion shares in the Company at a cost of £6.5 billion and are paying out £3.7 billion in dividends for the year, including the proposed final dividend of 3.87 pence per share. We are also returning £9.0 billion to shareholders, including £6.0 billion following the sale of our Japanese business. Full details are in the documentation accompanying this Report.

When I became Chairman in July 1998 we had fewer than 6 million customers in 12 countries producing some £2.5 billion of turnover. In the summer of 1999, we acquired AirTouch of the US, followed in 2000 by the acquisition of Mannesmann in Germany. This was a period of huge expansion which formed the basis of the transformation of Vodafone into the world s leading mobile telecommunications group that has equity interests in 26 countries across five continents with over 170 million proportionate customers worldwide, as well as 32 partner networks, generating turnover this year from our ongoing businesses of over £29 billion. Not only have we extended our geographic reach but we have also transformed our industry by becoming a leader in innovation, introducing groundbreaking services such as Vodafone live! with 3G, thereby setting standards for the mobile industry as a whole. It has been a remarkable achievement.

However, the Group now faces many challenges, particularly of competition, regulation and new technology. During the year, we conducted, in the face of these challenges, a review of the future growth prospects for the Group and our analysis indicated a lower view of growth, particularly in the medium to long term, and led to an impairment of the Group s goodwill by £23.5 billion, the majority of which is attributable to Vodafone Germany. This charge does not impact this year s reported cash flows or distributable reserves, out of which we are making returns to shareholders.

However, in this challenging market the Chief Executive has spent a great deal of time reviewing the management structure and future planning required to take the Company forward. In April he announced his new management team and in May they produced a clear forward-looking strategy. I believe that through this statement the Chief Executive sets out a clear vision for the future. I congratulate him on these changes and wish him and his impressive team well.

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

It has been my privilege to be the Chairman of a company that has proved to be one of the outstanding international success stories of the last decade. identify international opportunities for profitable growth while at the same time introducing technological advances to enhance the mobile experience for our customers.

It was announced earlier this year that Sir Julian Horn-Smith had decided to retire from the Board following the Annual General Meeting in July. Julian has been with Vodafone for 22 years and a Board member for 10 years. He has had an outstanding career, being a major contributor to the creation of the UK network and subsequently leading the early development of our international presence. More recently he was Group Chief Operating Officer and then Deputy Chief Executive, with responsibility for our affiliates and business development. I am sure all shareholders will join with me in wishing him well for the future.

Peter Bamford, Chief Marketing Officer, who left the Company in early April, was instrumental in developing our brand both within the UK and internationally and developing a number of major initiatives, including the launch of Vodafone live! with 3G. I wish him well and thank him for his contribution to the success of the Company.

At the AGM, we say farewell to Paul Hazen, our Deputy Chairman, who has served with distinction as a non-executive director since 1999. We also say goodbye to Penny Hughes, a fine non-executive director for eight years and who was an exceptional Remuneration Committee Chair for five years. Her contribution cannot be overstated. Paul and Penny leave with our best wishes. Taking Paul's place as Deputy Chairman and senior independent director will be John Buchanan, who has been a non-executive director since April 2003, shortly after his retirement from BP p.l.c. I am sure that John will discharge his new duties very effectively.

During the year, we welcomed two new non-executive directors to the Board. In September, Philip Yea, Chief Executive Officer of 3i Group plc, was appointed and he was joined in November by Anne Lauvergeon, the Chairman of the Executive Board of AREVA, the leading French energy company. On 1 May, we welcomed Anthony Watson to the Board. Until his recent retirement, he was Chief Executive of Hermes Pensions Management Limited. I know that their collective experience in their different areas of business will be of great benefit to the Company.

Finally I come to my own retirement. As I have said, it has been a great privilege for me to have been Chairman of a truly outstanding British company. I have, however, been particularly saddened this year by the nature of some of the media coverage and particularly by the suggestion of boardroom splits. There are no factions within the Board and any claim that your Board is not united is unfounded. I leave with the knowledge that Vodafone, which is now very different to the company which I first chaired, is well placed to continue to enjoy an exciting and profitable future. I wish Sir John Bond, my successor, Arun Sarin, your Chief Executive, and everyone at Vodafone the very best for the future and thank you all for your support during the last eight years as your Chairman.

Lord MacLaurin of Knebworth, DL
Chairman

Chief Executive's review

We delivered another set of robust financial and operational results amidst a more competitive landscape and announced returns to shareholders over the year of £19.2 billion.

Arun Sarin

Review of the year

We have delivered another year of robust financial performance against a backdrop of increasing competition and regulation, meeting our expectations for revenue, EBITDA margin and free cash flow.

Proportionate customer growth was strong with nearly 22 million organic net additions in the year taking the closing proportionate customer base to over 170 million across 26 countries. Our unrivalled presence provides the platform for the next stage of our strategy.

These results have enabled us to significantly increase returns to shareholders. We have increased dividends per share by 49% to 6.07 pence, purchased £6.5 billion of our shares and announced a special distribution of £9.0 billion.

Financial review

Proportionate mobile revenue increased by 9% on an organic basis. Strong performances in Spain, the US and several of our emerging markets, including South Africa, Egypt and Romania, helped offset lower growth this year in several of our more established markets. Proportionate mobile EBITDA margins were slightly lower year on year. Notwithstanding this lower growth, we outperformed substantially all of our principal competitors in our major markets on revenue and EBITDA growth.

Statutory revenue increased by 10% to £29.4 billion, with over 9% growth in our mobile operations. Excluding the net benefit from acquisitions, disposals and exchange rate movements, we achieved organic revenue growth of 7% in mobile and 8% for the Group as a whole.

Our focus on profitability delivered an 11% organic increase in adjusted operating profit, with 13% growth in total. The competitive environment led to a necessary increase in net customer acquisition and retention costs but this was mitigated by our ongoing success in delivering operating efficiencies. A key part of this growth has been the strong overall performance from our associates, increasing by over 20% this year, and in particular from Verizon Wireless in the US, growing by nearly 28% as it consolidated its market leadership.

Capital expenditure on fixed assets was £4.0 billion as we continue to invest in broadening our 3G presence. Free cash flow of £6.4 billion was slightly lower than last year as expected, with increases in capital expenditure and lower dividends from Verizon Wireless offsetting an increase of £1.0 billion in net cash flow from operating activities.

Operational highlights

We have been focused on six strategic goals, including delighting our customers and leveraging scale and scope.

A core part of delighting our customers is our 3G offering. When we launched 3G late in 2004, we targeted 10 million consumers by the end of March 2006, including Japan. We reached this during March, shortly before we agreed to sell our Japanese operation.

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

3G brings an enhanced mobile experience to our customers, who want more speed, greater personalisation and richer content, and provides the platform for our future growth. For consumers, we launched mobile TV capability during the year and will further enhance our music offering during 2006 with the launch of Vodafone Radio DJ, a personalised, interactive radio service streamed to both 3G phones and PCs.

Back to Contents

For our business customers, we increased the number of mobile email solutions and range of email devices available. 3G broadband through HSDPA technology was launched in the year offering an enhanced data experience through greater speeds than 3G and faster access to the network. This will improve our already successful Vodafone Mobile Connect offering for laptop users, who have more choice with mobile capability now being built in to the laptop.

Another key part of delighting our customers is measuring customer satisfaction and brand preference. With rising customer expectations and a tougher competitive environment, we are pleased that we continue to outperform our principal competitors in terms of customer satisfaction and that customers continue to show preference for the Vodafone brand.

The second strategic area of focus has been leveraging our scale and scope which delivers benefits through our One Vodafone programme, details of which we set out last year. We are beginning to deliver real benefits in network supply chain management, as standardised designs lead to a reduced number of vendors and better terms. Our shared service platforms, which centrally host services such as Vodafone live!, are also now established.

Our strategic goals are ultimately designed to deliver shareholder value. With respect to Japan, given the relative competitive position of the business there, the reduced prospects for superior long term returns and an attractive offer from SoftBank, we decided to sell our 97.7% stake based on a value for the business of £8.9 billion. The sale completed in April, with Vodafone receiving £6.9 billion in cash, £6.0 billion of which we are returning to shareholders as part of the £9.0 billion special distribution.

Rapidly changing environment

Overall, we have performed strongly during the last year, meeting our expectations and delivering on our strategic objectives. We have continued to outperform our principal competitors on revenue and EBITDA growth, as well as customer satisfaction. We have established a strong brand around our customer base and increased returns to shareholders significantly. However, our marketplace is changing and we need to change to ensure we can leverage our unique position and continue to outperform our competitors.

There are several key drivers to the changing environment. Competition is increasing not only from established mobile operators but also from new entrants, particularly mobile virtual network operators (MVNOs). There are also new types of competitor. Established fixed line operators are increasingly combining fixed and mobile service offerings. In addition, internet based companies are extending their services to include telecommunications. All of these factors are putting pressure on pricing.

The regulatory environment also remains challenging, with continued regulator-imposed rate reductions on incoming calls across many markets, ongoing pressure to provide access to MVNOs to our networks and a high level of focus on the costs of roaming.

Developments in technology also mean that our customers have far more choice and have changing communication needs, but at the same time they demand simplicity and value for money. In addition to the core benefits of mobility, customers want greater personalisation, faster data speed and richer applications through services centred on the home and the office.

Our changing environment

- Competition is intensifying from existing and new players
- Significant price competition
- Continued significant regulatory pressure
- Customers have far greater choice in communications
- Growing demand for broadband services
- Emerging markets delivering significant growth
- Mobile business model is changing

Our strategic objectives

- Reduce costs and stimulate revenue in Europe
- Deliver strong growth in emerging markets
- Innovate and deliver on our customers' total communications needs
- Actively manage our portfolio to maximise returns
- Align capital structure and shareholder returns policy to strategy

We have updated our strategy to reflect our changing environment

Finally, our growth historically has principally come from developed markets, particularly in Europe. With average penetration now around 100%, these markets are maturing and delivering lower growth. Whilst growth in these markets has slowed, significant growth is now coming from emerging markets where average penetration is below 30%. This is creating greater diversity between our markets than previously. Transactions over the last year in Turkey, South Africa, India and Romania have combined with existing operations in markets such as Egypt to provide us now with greater exposure to this growth potential.

Developing our strategy

These factors require our strategy to evolve so that we can continue to maintain our strong performance and deliver value to customers and shareholders. We have established five key strategic objectives:

- In Europe, to focus on both cost reduction and revenue stimulation;
- To deliver strong growth in emerging markets;
- To satisfy our customer needs and extend our current mobile only offering by innovating and delivering total communications solutions;
- To actively manage our portfolio to maximise returns; and
- To align our financial policies regarding capital structure and shareholder returns to support our strategy.

In order to deliver on these objectives, we have reorganised ourselves into three key business units.

In our European businesses, where competition is most intense, we will be focused on leveraging our regional scale to deliver cost reduction and revenue stimulation.

The principal focus in the Eastern Europe, Middle East, Africa, Asia Pacific and Affiliates (EMAPA) region is to deliver strong growth from our businesses in emerging markets.

The objective of our third business unit, New Businesses, is to enable us to serve the total communications needs of our customers by taking advantage of evolving technology and new opportunities to deliver new services.

Cost reduction

Our primary objective here is to leverage our regional scale and reduce our cost structure in Europe through several approaches in order to maintain our competitiveness.

We will outsource further, particularly for IT development of billing and customer management systems, as a key means to reduce our costs. We will also continue to drive scale benefits, either at a global level, in areas such as network supply chain management as we achieve greater standardisation across the Group, or regionally, such as through the establishment of regional data centres to support our European operations.

As the size of the Group evolves, we need to ensure the appropriate balance between local and group, particularly in respect of central functions, and this is expected to result in over 400 fewer group positions.

Back to Contents

Business units aligned to strategy

Revenue stimulation

In Europe, our customers use their mobiles on average for only four minutes a day and approximately two-thirds of voice traffic continues to travel across fixed lines. We therefore aim to stimulate additional voice usage and substitute fixed line usage for mobile in a way that enhances both customer value and revenue.

For our consumers, we will seek to enhance revenues by continuing to deliver innovative bundles and tariffs to stimulate usage, building on success in areas such as 3G bundles, targeted promotions, family plans that focus on community groups and roaming through Vodafone Passport.

We are already targeting fixed to mobile substitution in the home through offerings such as Vodafone Zuhause in Germany and Vodafone Casa in Italy and aim to target office communications by building on our success in business with leading edge services, such as Oficina Vodafone in Spain, and applications through the benefits of broadband.

Deliver strong growth in emerging markets

A source of growth is through emerging markets. Our focus here is to build on our strong track record of creating value in emerging markets, having delivered strong performances over time in markets such as Egypt and South Africa. Our aim is to outperform not only our competitors but also our acquisition business plans. For example, since we achieved control in Romania last year, the business has performed strongly and ahead of our original expectations.

We will seek selective opportunities to increase our emerging markets footprint as well as taking opportunities to increase our stakes in existing markets, with a view to gaining control where possible over time.

Delivering our customers total communication needs

Customers have access to new technologies, devices and services. As a complement to mobility, they want Vodafone to provide a number of new services within the home and the office.

We will extend our reach into the home and the office to deliver richer business applications and integrated fixed and mobile services, such as higher speed internet access. We will use technologies such as HSDPA, DSL and WiFi to do this. Later this year, we will be enhancing our Vodafone Zuhause offering to incorporate DSL.

Developments in technology will also enable us to provide integrated mobile and PC offerings to give customers a consistent experience whether they are at home or on the move, with core services such as VOIP and instant messaging. We also aim to extend our business model to generate revenue from advertising in ways that customers find attractive.

We will continue to pursue a mobile centric approach, focusing on the core benefits to customers of mobility and personalisation, and will resell fixed line technologies only according to customer needs.

Actively managing our portfolio

We seek to invest only where we can generate superior returns for our shareholders in markets that offer a strong local position, with focus on specific geographic regions. It is our policy to apply strict investment criteria to ensure that transactions yield a return above the cost of capital within three to five years and overall create substantial value for our shareholders. Equally, we will consider exiting businesses which do not meet our performance requirements or provide an opportunity to create shareholder value.

There has been much speculation about our position in the US. Verizon Wireless is the market leader on nearly all key metrics and has significant local and regional scale, with over 50 million customers. We will always consider the most appropriate way to deliver shareholder value. However, we expect continued strong growth in the US and are therefore happy to remain with our existing stake.

Financial implications

Our One Vodafone programme, which primarily has been focused on our mature mobile markets in Europe, delivers efficiencies in operating costs, being payroll and other operating expenses, and in capital expenditures. We have previously targeted keeping these total costs broadly stable between the 2004 and 2008 financial years, with operating costs expected to rise at a lower rate than revenue. Through our new strategic objectives, we now expect underlying operating costs alone to be broadly stable between the 2006 and 2008 financial years for the total of our European operations and central costs.

On the same basis, we continue to target expenditures on fixed assets to be 10% of revenue for the 2008 financial year. We also continue to expect at least 1% additional revenue market share between the 2005 and 2008 financial years, measured against our established principal competitors in Germany, Italy, Spain and the UK.

Our strategic changes also have implications on returns to shareholders and our capital structure. We have previously indicated an intention to pay out approximately 50% of adjusted earnings per share for the 2007 financial year onwards. We now consider it appropriate to target a 60% payout ratio, with effect for the full 2006 financial year, with a view to growing the dividend per share in line with underlying earnings per share thereafter. Dividends per share have, therefore, increased by 49% to 6.07 pence for the year.

As we enter a new phase in our development, we believe that the most appropriate capital structure, which meets the needs of both the business and shareholders, is one that reflects a higher level of gearing. The incremental borrowing capacity this provides enables an additional return of £3.0 billion to shareholders, which will be combined with the £6.0 billion return of cash from the sale of Japan in early August. As a result, we do not currently plan any further share purchases or other one-off returns to shareholders.

This £9.0 billion one-off return, together with the £6.5 billion share purchase programme completed during the last year and £3.7 billion of dividends, gives an overall return to shareholders of £19.2 billion.

Back to ContentsOutlook for 2007 financial year*Organic proportionate:

Mobile revenue growth	5%	6.5%
------------------------------	-----------	-------------

Mobile EBITDA margin	Around 1 percentage point lower than 2006

Free cash flow	£4.0	£4.5 billion
-----------------------	-------------	---------------------

Capitalised fixed asset additions	£4.2	£4.6 billion
--	-------------	---------------------

We have a significant opportunity to deliver value to both our customers and shareholders.

Prospects for the year ahead

While we are delivering on cost reduction, revenue stimulation and emerging market growth in the shorter term, the potential benefits from serving our customers' total communications needs will materialise over a longer timeframe.

For the year ahead, we expect operating conditions to remain challenging, with a continued intense competitive environment and further regulatory pressure, and see organic growth in proportionate mobile revenue in the range of 5% to 6.5%. Proportionate mobile EBITDA margins are expected to be around 1 percentage point lower than the 2006 financial year on an organic basis. We are anticipating higher customer investment, pricing pressures and further termination rate reductions, however initiatives to deliver further cost efficiencies are expected to mitigate this effect.

Capital expenditure on fixed assets is expected to be in the range of £4.2 billion to £4.6 billion, higher than last year due to the investment needs for recent acquisitions and the wider rollout of HSDPA. Free cash flow is anticipated to be in the range of £4.0 billion to £4.5 billion. Higher tax payments, including around £1.2 billion, with interest costs, from settling some long standing disputes, increased capital expenditure and higher financing costs from our increased borrowing, are expected to offset continued growth in underlying operating cash flows.

Executing our strategy

We have a good track record of delivering against our plans and demonstrating outperformance against the majority of our principal competitors. However, our environment is changing and we need to adapt to ensure we continue to meet our customer needs and deliver superior returns to shareholders.

We have established clear strategic objectives: cost reduction and revenue stimulation in Europe; innovating and delivering total communications solutions; delivering strong growth in emerging markets; actively managing our portfolio to maximise returns; and aligning our financial policies to our strategy. We have reorganised the business as we begin to deliver against these objectives.

Vodafone is well placed to execute on this strategy. Our scale makes us the clear partner of choice for others and we have a track record for innovation. We have a strong brand and an unrivalled customer reach. As customer demands evolve and technology converges, we remain focused on the core benefits of mobility and personalisation as we seek to deliver total communications solutions. We have a significant opportunity to deliver value to both our customers and shareholders.

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

On a final note, on behalf of the Board, I would like to express sincere thanks to Ian MacLaurin, who is retiring as Chairman, for his service and support to the Company since 1997. We wish him continued success.

Corporate Responsibility

Vodafone sees corporate responsibility (CR) as the process of understanding stakeholders' expectations of the Company and taking action to meet those expectations where they are realistic and legitimate. By 'stakeholders' we mean customers, employees, suppliers, the communities where we operate, governments, regulators and representatives of civil society as well as investors.

Stakeholder engagement: key learnings

We engage with stakeholders in a variety of ways so that we understand what people expect. For example, during the year we held meetings on CR issues with 15 investors, we surveyed 146 CR opinion leaders in 11 European countries and had four roundtable meetings with NGOs, academics, CR organisations and socially responsible investors. We learned that the emerging issues in the CR agenda are: privacy, bribery and corruption and the role of companies in disaster situations. We conducted research with the public on the subject of mobiles, masts and health which involved over 17,000 interviews across 18 markets.

Reporting about the most important issues

We have identified the following CR issues as global priorities for Vodafone: clear pricing, content standards, energy use, handset recycling, network rollout, radio frequency (RF) fields and health, supply chain issues and tax. The Company's CR Report for the 2006 financial year presents our performance on these issues.

Embedding CR in the way we do business

Vodafone's approach to business is underpinned by our Business Principles. They cover both corporate and individual behaviour and are communicated to employees through induction processes, websites and briefings.

www.vodafone.com/responsibility/businessprinciples

CR is embedded in Vodafone's values. One of our four values is 'Passion for the world around us'. We believe that CR issues are most effectively managed as part of our core business processes rather than as a separate 'add-on'.

Our CR strategy

Our vision for 2010 is to be one of the most trusted companies in the markets where we operate. In 2005, we developed a five-year CR strategy to help us realise this vision. It sets clear priorities to:

- Maintain high ethical standards;
- Understand our stakeholders' priorities;
- Ensure our operating standards are consistent across the Group;
- Deliver on our promises in three key areas: responsibility to our customers; reuse and recycling of mobile phones; and energy and climate change; and
- Capture the potential of mobile to bring socio-economic value through access to communications.

Summary of the Board's Report to Shareholders on Directors' Remuneration

Dear Shareholder

Since the introduction of the current Executive Remuneration Policy (Policy) in 2002, the Remuneration Committee has conducted annual reviews to ensure that the policy continues to serve the Company and shareholders. Following my appointment as Chairman of the Committee we have undertaken a review again this year.

As a result of this year's review, the Remuneration Committee has concluded that the existing Policy remains appropriate but wishes to make three minor changes. These are as follows:

The deferred bonus scheme will be extended to members of the Executive Committee based outside the UK and the mechanics amended in light of recent US tax legislation;

We have considered the weighting of performance shares and options within our long term incentives, and will place a greater weighting on performance shares for awards made in the 2007 financial year, thus increasing the emphasis on total shareholder return performance; and

Dividends will be accrued on performance shares awarded in the 2007 financial year and transferred on the vesting of awards to increase the alignment of executive and shareholder interests.

The key principles of the Policy, which are being maintained, are:

The expected value of total remuneration will be benchmarked against the relevant market;

A high proportion of total remuneration will be delivered through performance-related payments;

Performance measures will be balanced between absolute financial measures and sector comparative measures to achieve maximum alignment between executive and shareholder objectives;

The majority of performance-related remuneration will be provided in the form of equity; and Share ownership requirements will be applied to executive directors.

The Committee continues to monitor how well incentive awards made in previous years align with the Company's performance. The Policy continues to work well and forecast rewards are commensurate with actual performance. I am confident that the Policy will continue to align executives' interests with the interests of shareholders, whilst enabling the Company to engage a high calibre team to successfully lead the Company. I hope that we receive your support at the AGM in July 2006.

Luc Vandeveld

Chairman of the Remuneration Committee

Remuneration structure and performance measures

The structure of remuneration (excluding pensions) for executive directors under the policy and the performance on which it is based is illustrated below.

Approximately 80% of the potential remuneration of executive directors (excluding pensions) is delivered through performance contingent incentives. The Remuneration Committee selects performance measures that provide the greatest degree of alignment with the Company's strategic goals and that are clear and transparent to directors and shareholders. Each remuneration element focuses on supporting different Company objectives.

Components of executive directors remuneration

Base salary

Salaries are reviewed annually and adjustments may be made to reflect competitive national pay levels, the prevailing level of salary reviews of employees within the Group, changes in responsibilities, and Group and individual performance. External remuneration consultants provide data about market salary levels and advise the Committee accordingly.

Deferred share bonus

The deferred share bonus comprises two elements: a base award and an enhancement award. The base award is earned by achievement of one year KPI linked performance targets and is delivered in the form of shares. The target base award level for the 2006 financial year was 100% of salary with a maximum of 200% of salary available for exceptional performance. For the Chief Executive, in the 2006 financial year, the adjusted operating profit target was 30% of the total, total service revenue 35%, free cash flow 20% and customer satisfaction 15%, and the payout achieved was 118.7%. An enhancement award of 50% of the number of shares comprised in the pre-tax base award is earned by achievement of a subsequent two-year EPS performance target following the initial twelve-month period.

The Company has reviewed the current plan in light of changes to US tax legislation, and will make future awards under the Vodafone Global Incentive Plan Rules approved by shareholders in 2005. This will enable the plan to be operated for members of the Executive Committee based overseas.

Performance shares

Vesting of performance shares depends upon the Company's relative Total Shareholder Return (TSR) performance. TSR measures the change in value of a share and reinvested dividends. The Company's TSR performance is compared to other companies in the FTSE Global Telecommunications index over a three-year performance period. In the 2006 financial year, the Chief Executive received an award with a face value of two times base salary, other executive directors one and a half times base salary.

Share options

The exercise of the options is subject to the achievement of growth in adjusted basic earnings per share.

Share ownership guidelines

Executive directors participating in long term incentive plans must comply with the Company's share ownership guidelines. The guidelines require the Chief Executive to build up over five years a shareholding in the Company of four times base salary and other executive directors to build up a shareholding of three times base salary.

Pensions

Arun Sarin is provided with a defined contribution pension arrangement to which the Company contributes 30% of his base salary. During the 2006 financial year Sir Julian Horn-Smith, Andy Halford and Peter Bamford were contributing members of the Vodafone Group Pension Scheme, a UK scheme approved by the Inland Revenue. Andy Halford and Peter Bamford, whose benefits are restricted by Inland Revenue earnings limits, also participated in a defined contribution Vodafone Group Funded Unapproved Retirement Benefit Scheme to enable pension benefits to be provided on base salary above the earnings cap. Thomas Geitner participates in the German Essener Verband Retirement Scheme.

Non-executive directors remuneration

Non-executive directors' fees are periodically reviewed by the Board, excluding the non-executive directors. Fee levels were increased in April 2005 to reflect directors' considerably increased workload and the increased complexity of managing an international company:

	Fees payable from 1 April 2005 (£ 000)
Chairman	510
Deputy Chairman and senior independent director	130
Basic Non-Executive Director fee	95
Chairmanship of Audit Committee	20
Chairmanship of Remuneration Committee	15
Chairmanship of Nominations and Governance Committee	10

An allowance of £6,000 is payable to non-European based non-executive directors when required to travel to attend Board and Committee meetings.

Service contracts and appointments of directors

The contracts of all executive directors have rolling terms and are terminable by either party on one year's notice.

Sir Julian Horn-Smith will retire from the Company following the 2006 AGM. He will be entitled to subsisting long term incentive awards, pro-rated for both time and performance, in accordance with the standard rules of the plans in which he participates. Sir Julian will receive a pension in line with the standard rules of the plan in which he participates. No severance payment will be payable to him.

Summary of the Board's Report to Shareholders on Directors' Remuneration continued

Peter Bamford left the Company on 1 April 2006 and will receive salary and compensation for loss of office in accordance with his legal entitlement. The total payment is in the order of £1.25 million, including pension contribution. He will receive his annual bonus for the 2006 financial year and the Remuneration Committee has exercised discretion to allow him access to long term incentive awards, pro-rated for time and performance.

Non-executive directors are engaged on letters of appointment that set out their duties and responsibilities. The appointment of non-executive directors may be terminated without compensation. In December 2005, Sir John Bond accepted the invitation of the Board to be appointed as Chairman of the Company following the 2006 AGM. As Chairman, Sir John Bond will receive an annual fee of £475,000. The appointment is indefinite and may be terminated by either party on one year's notice.

Lord MacLaurin will retire from the Company following the 2006 AGM. Lord MacLaurin will receive fees in accordance with his service contract until the end of the 2006 calendar year. Lord MacLaurin will provide advisory services to the Company for a period of three years following his retirement. 3 Impairment losses

The carrying value of goodwill of the Group's mobile operations in Germany, Italy and Sweden was impaired in the year ended 31 March 2006 by £19,400 million, £3,600 million and £515 million respectively due to the Group having revised its view of medium to longer term prospects for these businesses given certain developments in the current market environment.

The German market has seen recent intensification in price competition, principally from new market entrants, together with high levels of penetration and continued regulated reductions in incoming call rates. In Italy, competitive pressures are increasing with the mobile network operators competing aggressively on subsidies and, increasingly, on price. The impairment of the carrying value of goodwill in relation to Vodafone Sweden of £515 million in the year to 31 March 2006 (2005: £475 million) resulted from fierce competition in the Swedish market combined with onerous 3G licence obligations. On 5 January 2006, the Group completed the sale of its 100% interest in Vodafone Sweden for net cash proceeds, after assumption of net debt by the purchaser, of €953 million (£653 million).

Dividends and ADS holders

Holders of ADRs evidencing ADSs are generally eligible for all dividends or other entitlements attaching to the underlying shares of Vodafone Group Plc and receive cash dividends in US dollars.

A US holder is subject to US federal income tax on the gross amount of any dividend paid by the Company out of its current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined for US federal income tax purposes). Dividends paid to a non-corporate US holder in tax years beginning before 1 January 2009 that constitute qualified dividend income will be taxable to the holder at a maximum rate of 15%, provided that the ADSs are held for more than 60 days during the 121 day period beginning 60 days before the ex-dividend date and the holder meets other holding period requirements. Dividends paid by the Company with respect to the ADSs will generally be qualified dividend income.

A US holder is not subject to a UK withholding tax. The US holder includes in gross income for US federal tax purposes only the amount of the dividend actually received from the Company, and the receipt of a dividend does not entitle the US holder to a foreign tax credit.

Dividends must be included in income when the Depository actually or constructively receives the dividend and will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction generally allowed to US corporations in respect of dividends received from other US corporations. Dividends will be income from sources outside the United States.

ADS holders unsure of their tax position should consult their independent tax adviser.

The Company offers a Dividend Reinvestment Plan which allows holders of ordinary shares who choose to participate to use their cash dividends to acquire additional shares in the Company. These are purchased on their behalf by the Plan Administrator through a low cost dealing arrangement. Further details can be obtained from the Plan Administrator on +44 (0) 870 702 0198.
