Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On August 11, 2014, West Pharmaceutical Services, Inc. (“West”) entered into a global supply agreement (the “Agreement”) with ExxonMobil Chemical Company (“EMCC”). The Agreement is effective for the period January 1, 2014, through December 31, 2018.

Under the agreement, EMCC and certain of its subsidiaries have agreed to supply certain identified Exxon® (Exxon is a registered trademark of ExxonMobil Corporation) butyl polymers to West and certain of its subsidiaries and affiliates. The EMCC products are used as a principal raw material in a broad range of West’s polymer-based pharmaceutical packaging products.

Pricing for the products is based on discounts of EMCC’s and its subsidiaries’ list prices. The parties may renegotiate pricing based on changes in certain economic trends and conditions, including but not limited to the levels of industrial production, tire demand, labor rates, energy costs and foreign exchange relationships.

The foregoing summary of the terms of the Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 to this Report and is incorporated herein by reference.
