Item 2.03. Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.

On December 16, 2011, Prudential Financial, Inc. (the Company) entered into a $2 billion five-year credit agreement (the Five-Year Credit Facility) expiring in December 2016, and, along with its subsidiary, Prudential Funding, LLC (Prudential Funding), the Company entered into a new $1.75 billion three-year credit agreement (the Three-Year Credit Facility and, together with the Five-Year Credit Facility, the New Facilities), expiring in December 2014, in each case with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, and certain other financial institutions as lenders. The Prudential Insurance Company of America is also a party to the Three-Year Credit Facility for purposes of providing certain representations, warranties and covenants contained therein, but it is not a borrower under either credit facility. The New Facilities replace the Company's previously-existing $3.93 billion of revolving credit facilities.

Borrowings under the New Facilities may be used for general corporate purposes, including as backup liquidity for the commercial paper programs of the Company and Prudential Funding. The Company expects that it may borrow under the Five-Year Credit Facility from time to time to fund its working capital needs and those of its subsidiaries. In addition, up to $300 million of the Five-Year Credit Facility may be drawn in the form of standby letters of credit that can be used to meet the operating needs of the Company and its subsidiaries. Any borrowings under the New Facilities would mature no later than the respective expiration dates of the facilities and would bear interest at the rates set forth in the applicable credit agreement.

The New Facilities contain representations and warranties, covenants and events of default that are customary for facilities of this type; however, borrowings under the New Facilities are not contingent on the borrowers' credit ratings nor subject to material adverse change clauses. Borrowings under the New Facilities are conditioned on the continued satisfaction of other customary conditions, including the maintenance at all times of consolidated net worth, relating to the Company's Financial Services Businesses only, of at least $21.25 billion, which for this purpose is calculated as U.S. GAAP equity, excluding accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) and excluding equity of non-controlling interests. Also, under the credit agreements for the New Facilities, the required minimum level of consolidated net worth will be reduced automatically in the future by an amount equal to 85 percent of the amount of any reduction, on an after-tax basis, in the total U.S. GAAP equity attributable to the Company's Financial Services Businesses, resulting from the Company's expected retrospective application of amended authoritative guidance regarding the deferral of costs relating to the acquisition of new or renewal insurance contracts.
