The Board of Directors
Foxby Corp.
11 Hanover Square
New York, NY 10005

Gentlemen:

I believe that at the annual meeting I will have proxies representing significantly more shares than those pledged to you. Unless the proxy count radically changes in your favor before the meeting, it is clear that my nominees will be elected as directors. The only way they will not be elected is if my nominations are ruled out of order at the meeting. In that case, we would have to file a lawsuit to declare my nominees elected. The basis of our lawsuit would be that any action taken by the board for the primary purpose of interfering with or impeding a shareholder vote without a compelling justification or shareholder approval - even if taken in good faith -- is invalid. There are ample legal precedents for this principle, which was first established in Blasius Industries, Inc. v. Atlas Corp. Please ask your counsel to explain this case and whether he believes it is applicable.

A provision in the bylaws purports to require board approval prior to seeking judicial review. We don't think that provision is valid either, and we reserve our right to challenge it in court. However, since it is there, I hereby request that the board approve my seeking judicial review of the outcome of the vote if I am not permitted to nominate candidates at the meeting.

In conclusion, please remember that you have a fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of the shareholders. Also, litigation can be very costly, and Foxby can ill afford to waste money on a lawsuit in which I am confident we would prevail. (Do you really believe a judge would rule to prevent the will of the shareholders from being effected?) Therefore, I ask you to consider allowing the will of the shareholders to prevail at the meeting even if you do not agree with it.

Edgar Filing: SHAKER RICHARD J - Form SC 13D/A

Thank you for giving this matter your serious consideration.

Very truly yours,

Richard J. Shaker
