Overview

The Buffered Jump Securities, which we refer to as the securities, are unsecured obligations of MSFL and are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by Morgan Stanley. The securities offer the opportunity to earn a return based on the performance of the shares of the iShares® MSCI Emerging Markets ETF. Unlike ordinary debt securities, the Buffered Jump Securities do not pay interest and provide for the minimum payment of only 10% of the principal at maturity. At maturity, you will receive for each security that you hold an amount in cash that will vary depending on the performance of the underlying shares, as determined on the valuation date. If the underlying shares appreciate or do not depreciate at all as of the valuation date, you will receive for each security that you hold at maturity an upside payment of $250 to $300 (to be determined on the pricing date) in addition to the stated principal amount. However, if the underlying shares decline in value by more than 10% as of the valuation date from the initial share price, the payment due at maturity will be less, and possibly significantly less, than the stated principal amount of the securities. You could lose up to 90% of the stated principal amount of the securities. The securities are for investors who seek an equity fund-based return and who are willing to risk their principal and forgo current income and appreciation above the fixed upside payment in exchange for the upside payment and buffer features that in each case apply to a limited range of performance of the underlying shares. The securities are notes issued as part of MSFL’s Series A Global Medium-Term Notes program. All payments are subject to our credit risk. If we default on our obligations, you could lose some or all of your investment. These securities are not secured obligations and you will not have any security interest in, or otherwise have any access to, any underlying reference asset or assets.

Hypothetical Payout on the Securities

The payoff diagram below illustrates the payment at maturity on the securities, assuming a hypothetical upside payment of $275 per security (27.50% of the statement principal amount, the midpoint of the specified range). The actual upside payment will be set on the pricing date.

Investing in the securities involves risks. See “Selected Risks” on the following page and “Risk Factors” in the accompanying preliminary terms.

Risk Considerations

The risks set forth below are discussed in more detail in the “Risk Factors” section in the accompanying preliminary terms. Please review those risk factors carefully prior to making an investment decision.

· The securities do not pay interest and provide for the minimum payment at maturity of only 10% of your principal.

· The appreciation potential of the securities is fixed and limited to the upside payment at maturity.

· The market price of the securities will be influenced by many unpredictable factors.

· The price of the underlying shares is subject to currency exchange risk.

· There are risks associated with investments in securities, such as the securities, linked to the value of foreign (and especially emerging markets) equity securities.

· The securities are subject to our credit risk, and any actual or anticipated changes to our credit ratings or credit spreads may adversely affect the market value of the securities.

· As a finance subsidiary, MSFL has no independent operations and will have no independent assets.

· The amount payable on the securities is not linked to the value of the underlying shares at any time other than the valuation date.

· The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and secondary trading may be limited.

· Investing in the securities is not equivalent to investing in the underlying shares or the stocks composing the MSCI Emerging Markets IndexSM.

· Adjustments to the underlying shares or the index tracked by the underlying shares could adversely affect the value of the securities.

· The rate we are willing to pay for securities of this type, maturity and issuance size is likely to be lower than the rate implied by our secondary market credit spreads and advantageous to us. Both the lower rate and the inclusion of costs associated with issuing, selling, structuring and hedging the securities in the original issue price reduce the economic terms of the securities, cause the estimated value of the securities to be less than the original issue price and will adversely affect secondary market prices.

· The estimated value of the securities is determined by reference to our pricing and valuation models, which may differ from those of other dealers and is not a maximum or minimum secondary market price.

· The performance and market price of the underlying shares, particularly during periods of market volatility, may not correlate with the performance of the MSCI Emerging Markets IndexSM, the performance of the component securities of the MSCI Emerging Markets IndexSM or the net asset value per share of such underlying shares.

· The antidilution adjustments the calculation agent is required to make do not cover every event that can affect the underlying shares.

· Hedging and trading activity by our affiliates could potentially adversely affect the value of the securities.

The calculation agent, which is a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley and an affiliate of MSFL, will make determinations with respect to the securities.

The U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the securities are uncertain.

Tax Considerations

You should review carefully the discussion in the accompanying preliminary terms under the caption “Additional Information About the Securities– Tax considerations” concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the securities. However, you should consult your tax adviser regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the securities, as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.
