"Safe Harbor" Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995: This report includes forward-looking statements intended to qualify for the safe harbor from liability established by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements generally can be identified by phrases such as TI or its management "believes," "expects," "anticipates," "foresees," "forecasts," "estimates" or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements in this report that describe the Company's business strategy, outlook, objectives, plans, intentions or goals also are forward-looking statements. All such forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in forward-looking statements.

We urge you to carefully consider the following important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations of the Company or its management:

- Market demand for semiconductors, particularly for analog chips and digital signal processors in key markets such as telecommunications and computers;
- TI's ability to maintain or improve profit margins, including its ability to utilize its manufacturing facilities at sufficient levels to cover its fixed operating costs, in an intensely competitive and cyclical industry;
- TI's ability to develop, manufacture and market innovative products in a rapidly changing technological environment;
- TI's ability to compete in products and prices in an intensely competitive industry;
- TI's ability to maintain and enforce a strong intellectual property portfolio and obtain needed licenses from third parties;
- Consolidation of TI's patent licensees and market conditions reducing royalty payments to TI;
- Economic, social and political conditions in the countries in which TI, its customers or its suppliers operate, including security risks, health conditions, possible disruptions in transportation networks and fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates;
- Natural events such as severe weather and earthquakes in the locations in which TI, its customers or suppliers operate;
- Availability and cost of raw materials and critical manufacturing equipment;

Edgar Filing: TEXAS INSTRUMENTS INC - Form 8-K

- Changes in the tax rate applicable to TI as the result of changes in tax law, the jurisdictions in which profits are determined to be earned and taxed, the outcome of tax audits and the ability to realize deferred tax assets;
- Changes in the accounting treatment of stock options and other share-based compensation;
- Losses or curtailments of purchases from key customers and the timing and amount of distributor and other customer inventory adjustments;
- Customer demand that differs from company forecasts;
- The financial impact of inadequate or excess TI inventories to meet demand that differs from projections;
- Product liability or warranty claims, or recalls by TI customers for a product containing a TI part;
- TI's ability to recruit and retain skilled personnel; and
- Timely implementation of new manufacturing technologies, installation of manufacturing equipment and the ability to obtain needed third-party foundry and assembly/test subcontract services.

For a more detailed discussion of these factors, see the text under the heading "Cautionary Statements Regarding Future Results of Operations" in Item 1 of the Company's most recent Form 10-K. The forward-looking statements included in this report on Form 8-K are made only as of the date of this report, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update the forward-looking statements to reflect subsequent events or circumstances.

Edgar Filing: TEXAS INSTRUMENTS INC - Form 8-K

DALLAS (Sept. 8, 2005) - In a scheduled update to its business outlook for the third quarter of 2005, Texas Instruments Incorporated (TI) (NYSE: TXN) today narrowed its expected ranges for revenue and earnings per share (EPS). TI's updated estimate reflects growing demand across a broad range of its Semiconductor products.

The company's expectations for revenue are:

- Total revenue between $3480 million and $3620 million, compared with the prior range of $3290 million to $3560 million;
- Semiconductor revenue between $3020 million and $3140 million, compared with the prior range of $2835 million to $3065 million;
- Sensors & Controls revenue between $280 million and $290 million, compared with the prior range of $275 million to $295 million; and
- Educational & Productivity Solutions revenue between $180 million and $190 million, compared with the prior range of $180 million to $200 million.

TI expects EPS between $0.36 and $0.38, compared with the previous range of $0.31 to $0.35. Both the current and previous EPS ranges include the expensing of employee stock options, which TI will initiate in the third quarter as previously announced. TI continues to expect this expense to be about $80 million, or $0.03 per share.

The company will hold a conference call at 3:30 p.m. CDT today to discuss this update. This conference call will be available live at www.ti.com. TI's original third-quarter outlook was published in the company's second-quarter 2005 earnings release on July 25, available at www.ti.com. TI's third quarter ends on September 30.
