Energy Efficiency Programs and Incentive Ratemaking

On September 28, 2010, a proposed decision and an alternate proposed decision were issued in the final true-up phase of the energy efficiency incentive ratemaking proceeding pending at the California Public Utilities Commission (“CPUC”). In the true-up phase, the CPUC will determine the final amounts to be awarded to (or refunded by) the California investor-owned utilities based on the energy savings achieved through implementation of their respective 2006-2008 energy efficiency programs. The CPUC has previously awarded Pacific Gas and Electric Company (“Utility”) incentive revenues totaling $75 million for implementation of its 2006-2008 programs. The proposed decision recommends that no additional incentive revenues be awarded to the Utility based on energy savings assumptions and calculations used by the CPUC’s Energy Division which the utilities had contested. The alternate proposed decision recommends that the Utility be awarded additional incentive revenues of $40.3 million, an amount equal to the amounts that had been held back from the interim awards.

The CPUC is scheduled to issue a final decision to complete the true-up process by the end of 2010. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to predict the final amount of incentive revenues, if any, that the Utility will receive.
