Item 5. Other Events

OGE Energy Corp. (the Company) is the parent company of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company (OG&E), a regulated electric utility with approximately 728,000 customers in Oklahoma and western Arkansas, and Enogex Inc. and its subsidiaries (Enogex), a natural gas pipeline business with principal operations in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

As previously reported, PowerSmith Cogeneration Project, L.P. (PowerSmith), has filed an application with the Oklahoma Corporation Commission (OCC) seeking to compel OG&E to continue purchasing power from PowerSmith's qualified cogeneration facility under the Public Utility Regulatory Policy Act of 1978 when the existing contract between OG&E and PowerSmith expires in August 2004. On March 29, 2004, OG&E and PowerSmith announced that they had reached a tentative, 15-year power sales agreement under which OG&E would continue to purchase electric power from PowerSmith. The terms of the agreement were subject to finalization by the parties and approval by the OCC. To date the parties have been unable to finalize the agreement and, in the interim, a procedural schedule has been set for hearings at the OCC to begin on June 7, 2004 on PowerSmith's application seeking to compel OG&E to continue purchasing power from PowerSmith.
