Additionally, the Company has recently acquired from a private party the right to earn, primarily through the drilling of wells, up to approximately 49,000 gross (44,000 net) acres in Weston County, Wyoming, targeting multiple formations, including the Muddy formation. This acreage is approximately 125 miles to the northeast of our newly acquired Mowry Shale prospect in Natrona County, Wyoming, where we have the right to earn approximately 93,000 net acres. We plan to secure a rig and obtain the necessary permits to initiate a vertical pilot well and subsequent horizontal test of the Muddy formation in late 2014 or early 2015.
