Table of Contents

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements:

1. Basis of Presentation: The accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements and footnotes of the International Business Machines Corporation (IBM or the company) have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The financial statements and footnotes are unaudited. In the opinion of the company's management, these statements include all adjustments, which are of a normal recurring nature, necessary to present a fair statement of the company's results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the assets, liabilities, revenue, costs, expenses and accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) that are reported in the Consolidated Financial Statements and accompanying disclosures. Actual results may be different. See the company's 2011 Annual Report on pages 58 to 61 for a discussion of the company's critical accounting estimates.

Interim results are not necessarily indicative of financial results for a full year. The information included in this Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with the company's 2011 Annual Report.

Noncontrolling interest amounts in income of $3.0 million and $0.9 million, net of tax, for the three months ended September 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively, and $8.6 million and $5.7 million, net of tax, for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively, are included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings within the other (income) and expense line item. Additionally, changes to noncontrolling interests which are presented in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity on page 8 were $29 million and $(40) million for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

Within the financial statements and tables presented, certain columns and rows may not add due to the use of rounded numbers for disclosure purposes. Percentages presented are calculated from the underlying whole-dollar amounts. Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation. This is annotated where applicable.

2. Accounting Changes: In May 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued amended guidance and disclosure requirements for fair value measurements. These amendments did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial results. These changes became effective January 1, 2012 on a prospective basis. See Note 3, Financial Instruments on pages 9 through 14 for fair value disclosures.

In July 2012, the FASB issued amended guidance that simplifies how entities test indefinite-lived intangible assets other than goodwill for impairment. After an assessment of certain qualitative factors, if it is determined to be more likely than not that an indefinite-lived asset is impaired, entities must perform the quantitative impairment test. Otherwise, the quantitative test is optional. The amended guidance is effective for annual and interim impairment tests performed for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2012, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the company's financial results.

3. Financial Instruments:

Fair Value Measurements

Accounting guidance defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Under this guidance, the company is required to classify certain assets and liabilities based on the following fair value hierarchy:

- Level 1 Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that can be accessed at the measurement date;
- Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The guidance requires the use of observable market data if such data is available without undue cost and effort.

When available, the company uses unadjusted quoted market prices in active markets to measure the fair value and classifies such items within Level 1. If quoted market prices are not available, fair value is based upon internally developed models that use current market-based or independently sourced market parameters such as interest rates and currency rates. Items valued using internally generated models are classified according to the lowest level input or value driver that is significant to the valuation.

The determination of fair value considers various factors including interest rate yield curves and time value underlying the financial instruments. For derivatives and debt securities, the company uses a discounted cash flow analysis using discount rates commensurate with the duration of the instrument.

In determining the fair value of financial instruments, the company considers certain market valuation adjustments to the base valuations calculated using the methodologies described below for several parameters that market participants would consider in determining fair value:

- Counterparty credit risk adjustments are applied to financial instruments, taking into account the actual credit risk of a counterparty as observed in the credit default swap market to determine the true fair value of such an instrument.
- Credit risk adjustments are applied to reflect the company's own credit risk when valuing all liabilities measured at fair value. The methodology is consistent with that applied in developing counterparty credit risk adjustments, but incorporates the company's own credit risk as observed in the credit default swap market.

As an example, the fair value of derivatives is derived utilizing a discounted cash flow model that uses observable market inputs such as known notional value amounts, yield curves, spot and forward exchange rates as well as discount rates. These inputs relate to liquid, heavily traded currencies with active markets which are available for the full term of the derivative.

Certain financial assets are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. These assets include equity method investments that are recognized at fair value at the measurement date to the extent that they are deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired. Certain assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis can be subject to nonrecurring fair value measurements. These assets include available-for-sale equity investments that are deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired. In the event of an other-than-temporary impairment of a financial investment, fair value is measured using a model described above.

Non-financial assets such as property, plant and equipment, land, goodwill and intangible assets are also subject to nonrecurring fair value measurements if they are deemed to be impaired. The impairment models used for nonfinancial assets depend on the type of asset. See Note A, Significant Accounting Policies, on pages 76 to 86 in the company's 2011 Annual Report for further information. There were no material impairments of non-financial assets for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

Accounting guidance permits the measurement of eligible financial assets, financial liabilities and firm commitments at fair value, on an instrument-by-instrument basis, that are otherwise not permitted to be accounted for at fair value under other accounting standards. This election is irrevocable. The company does not apply the fair value option to any eligible assets or liabilities.

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

The following tables present the company's financial assets and financial liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

- (5) Available-for-sale securities with carrying values that approximate fair value.
- (6) If derivative exposures covered by a qualifying master netting agreement had been netted in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position, the total derivative asset and liability positions would have been reduced by $324 million each.

There were no transfers between Levels 1 and 2 for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Financial Assets and Liabilities Not Measured at Fair Value

Short-Term Receivables and Payables

Notes and other accounts receivable and other investments are financial assets with carrying values that approximate fair value. Accounts payable, other accrued expenses and short-term debt (excluding the current portion of long-term debt) are financial liabilities with carrying values that approximate fair value. If measured at fair value in the financial statements, these financial instruments would be classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

Loans and Long-term Receivables

Fair values are based on discounted future cash flows using current interest rates offered for similar loans to clients with similar credit ratings for the same remaining maturities. At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the difference between the carrying amount and estimated fair value for loans and long-term receivables was immaterial. If measured at fair value in the financial statements, these financial instruments would be classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

Long-term Debt

Fair value of publicly-traded long-term debt is based on quoted market prices for the identical liability when traded as an asset in an active market. For other long-term debt for which a quoted market price is not available, an expected present value technique that uses rates currently available to the company for debt with similar terms and remaining maturities is used to estimate fair value. The carrying amount of long-term debt is $24,333 million and $22,857 million, and the estimated fair value is $27,544 million and $27,383 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively. If measured at fair value in the financial statements, long-term debt (including the current portion) would be classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

Debt and Marketable Equity Securities

The company's cash equivalents and current debt securities are considered available-for-sale and recorded at fair value, which is not materially different from carrying value, in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. The following tables summarize the company's noncurrent debt and marketable equity securities which are also considered available-for-sale and recorded at fair value in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

Based on an evaluation of available evidence as of September 30, 2012, the company believes that unrealized losses on debt and available-for-sale equity investments are temporary and do not represent a need for an other-than-temporary impairment.

Sales of debt and available-for-sale equity investments during the period were as follows:

Derivative Financial Instruments

The company operates in multiple functional currencies and is a significant lender and borrower in the global markets. In the normal course of business, the company is exposed to the impact of interest rate changes and foreign currency fluctuations, and to a lesser extent equity and commodity price changes and client credit risk. The company limits these risks by following established risk management policies and procedures, including the use of derivatives, and, where cost effective, financing with debt in the currencies in which assets are denominated. For interest rate exposures, derivatives are used to better align rate movements between the interest rates associated with the company's lease and other financial assets and the interest rates associated with its financing debt. Derivatives are also used to manage the related cost of debt. For foreign currency exposures, derivatives are used to better manage the cash flow volatility arising from foreign exchange rate fluctuations.

As a result of the use of derivative instruments, the company is exposed to the risk that counterparties to derivative contracts will fail to meet their contractual obligations. To mitigate the counterparty credit risk, the company has a policy of only entering into contracts with carefully selected major financial institutions based upon their credit ratings and other factors. The company's established policies and procedures for mitigating credit risk on principal transactions include reviewing and establishing limits for credit exposure and continually assessing the creditworthiness of counterparties. The right of set-off that exists under certain of these arrangements enables the legal entities of the company subject to the arrangement to net amounts due to and from the counterparty reducing the maximum loss from credit risk in the event of counterparty default.

The company is also a party to collateral security arrangements with most of its major counterparties. These arrangements require the company to hold or post collateral (cash or U.S. Treasury securities) when the derivative fair values exceed contractually established thresholds. Posting thresholds can be fixed or can vary based on credit default swap pricing or credit ratings received from the major credit agencies. The aggregate fair value of all derivative instruments under these collateralized arrangements that were in a liability position at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 was $109 million and $131 million, respectively, for which no collateral was posted at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011. Full collateralization of these agreements would be required in the event that the company's credit rating falls below investment grade or if its credit default swap spread exceeds 250 basis points, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of the collateral security arrangements. The aggregate fair value of derivative instruments in net asset positions as of September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 was $1,228 million and $1,300 million, respectively. This amount represents the maximum exposure to loss at the reporting date as a result of the counterparties failing to perform as contracted. This exposure was reduced by $245 million and $324 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, of liabilities included in master netting arrangements with those counterparties. Additionally, at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, this exposure was reduced by $376 million and $466 million of cash collateral, respectively, received by the company. In addition to cash collateral, the company held $28 million in non-cash collateral, in U.S. Treasury securities, at September 30, 2012. Per accounting guidance, non-cash collateral is not recorded on the Statement of Financial Position.

The company does not offset derivative assets against liabilities in master netting arrangements nor does it offset receivables or payables recognized upon payment or receipt of cash collateral against the fair values of the related derivative instruments. No amount was recognized in other receivables at September 30, 2012 or December 31, 2011 for the right to reclaim cash collateral. The amount recognized in accounts payable for the obligation to return cash collateral totaled $376 million and $466 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively. The company restricts the use of cash collateral received to rehypothecation, and therefore reports it in prepaid expenses and other current assets in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. No amount was rehypothecated at September 30, 2012 or at December 31, 2011.

The company may employ derivative instruments to hedge the volatility in stockholders' equity resulting from changes in currency exchange rates of significant foreign subsidiaries of the company with respect to the U.S. dollar. These instruments, designated as net investment hedges, expose the company to liquidity risk as the derivatives have an immediate cash flow impact upon maturity which is not offset by a cash flow from the translation of the underlying hedged equity. The company monitors this cash loss potential on an ongoing basis and may discontinue some of these hedging relationships by de-designating or terminating the derivative instrument in order to manage the liquidity risk. Although not designated as accounting hedges, the company may utilize derivatives to offset the changes in the fair value of the de-designated instruments from the date of de-designation until maturity.

In its hedging programs, the company uses forward contracts, futures contracts, interest-rate swaps and cross-currency swaps, depending upon the underlying exposure. The company is not a party to leveraged derivative instruments.

A brief description of the major hedging programs, categorized by underlying risk, follows.

Interest Rate Risk

Fixed and Variable Rate Borrowings

The company issues debt in the global capital markets, principally to fund its financing lease and loan portfolio. Access to cost-effective financing can result in interest rate mismatches with the underlying assets. To manage these mismatches and to reduce overall interest cost, the company uses interest-rate swaps to convert specific fixed-rate debt issuances into variable-rate debt (i.e., fair value hedges) and to convert specific variable-rate debt issuances into fixed-rate debt (i.e., cash flow hedges). At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the total notional amount of the company's interest rate swaps was $5.9 billion and $5.9 billion, respectively. The weighted-average remaining maturity of these instruments at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 was approximately 4.7 years and 5.5 years, respectively.

Forecasted Debt Issuance

The company is exposed to interest rate volatility on future debt issuances. To manage this risk, the company may use forward starting interest-rate swaps to lock in the rate on the interest payments related to the forecasted debt issuance. These swaps are accounted for as cash flow hedges. The company did not have any derivative instruments relating to this program outstanding at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, net gains of approximately $1 million and net losses of approximately $5 million (before taxes), respectively, were recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) in connection with cash flow hedges of the company's borrowings. Within these amounts, less than $1 million and $6 million of losses are expected to be reclassified to net income within the next 12 months, providing an offsetting economic impact against the underlying transactions.

Foreign Exchange Risk

Long-Term Investments in Foreign Subsidiaries (Net Investment)

A large portion of the company's foreign currency denominated debt portfolio is designated as a hedge of net investment in foreign subsidiaries to reduce the volatility in stockholders' equity caused by changes in foreign currency exchange rates in the functional currency of major foreign subsidiaries with respect to the U.S. dollar. The company also uses cross-currency swaps and foreign exchange forward contracts for this risk management purpose. At September 30, 2012 and December 31,

2011, the total notional amount of derivative instruments designated as net investment hedges was $5.1 billion and $5.0 billion, respectively. The weighted-average remaining maturity of these instruments at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 was approximately 0.2 years and 0.4 years, respectively.

Anticipated Royalties and Cost Transactions

The company's operations generate significant nonfunctional currency, third-party vendor payments and intercompany payments for royalties and goods and services among the company's non-U.S. subsidiaries and with the parent company. In anticipation of these foreign currency cash flows and in view of the volatility of the currency markets, the company selectively employs foreign exchange forward contracts to manage its currency risk. These forward contracts are accounted for as cash flow hedges. The maximum length of time over which the company is hedging its exposure to the variability in future cash flows is four years. At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the total notional amount of forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges of forecasted royalty and cost transactions was $11.2 billion and $10.9 billion, respectively, with a weighted-average remaining maturity of 0.7 years and 0.7 years, respectively.

At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, in connection with cash flow hedges of anticipated royalties and cost transactions, the company recorded net losses of $99 million and net gains of $88 million (before taxes), respectively, in accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss). Within these amounts, $64 million of losses and $191 million of gains, respectively, are expected to be reclassified to net income within the next 12 months, providing an offsetting economic impact against the underlying anticipated transactions.

Foreign Currency Denominated Borrowings

The company is exposed to exchange rate volatility on foreign currency denominated debt. To manage this risk, the company employs cross-currency swaps to convert fixed-rate foreign currency denominated debt to fixed-rate debt denominated in the functional currency of the borrowing entity. These swaps are accounted for as cash flow hedges. At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, no instruments relating to this program were outstanding.

Subsidiary Cash and Foreign Currency Asset/Liability Management

The company uses its Global Treasury Centers to manage the cash of its subsidiaries. These centers principally use currency swaps to convert cash flows in a cost-effective manner. In addition, the company uses foreign exchange forward contracts to economically hedge, on a net basis, the foreign currency exposure of a portion of the company's nonfunctional currency assets and liabilities. The terms of these forward and swap contracts are generally less than one year. The changes in the fair values of these contracts and of the underlying hedged exposures are generally offsetting and are recorded in other (income) and expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the total notional amount of derivative instruments in economic hedges of foreign currency exposure was $14.9 billion and $13.6 billion, respectively.

Equity Risk Management

The company is exposed to market price changes in certain broad market indices and in the company's own stock primarily related to certain obligations to employees. Changes in the overall value of these employee compensation obligations are recorded in selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. Although not designated as accounting hedges, the company utilizes derivatives, including equity swaps and futures, to economically hedge the exposures related to its employee compensation obligations. The derivatives are linked to the total return on certain broad market indices or the total return on the company's common stock. They are recorded at fair value with gains or losses also reported in SG&A expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. At September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the total notional amount of derivative instruments in economic hedges of these compensation obligations was $1.2 billion and $1.0 billion, respectively.

Other Risks

The company may hold warrants to purchase shares of common stock in connection with various investments that are deemed derivatives because they contain net share or net cash settlement provisions. The company records the changes in the fair value of these warrants in other (income) and expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. The company did not have any warrants qualifying as derivatives outstanding at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

The company is exposed to a potential loss if a client fails to pay amounts due under contractual terms. The company utilizes credit default swaps to economically hedge its credit exposures. The swaps are recorded at fair value with gains and losses reported in other (income) and expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. The company did not have any derivative instruments relating to this program outstanding at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

The following tables provide a quantitative summary of the derivative and non-derivative instrument related risk management activity as of September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 as well as for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively:

4. Financing Receivables: The following table presents financing receivables, net of allowances for credit losses, including residual values.

(Dollars in millions)	At September 30, 2012	At December 31, 2011
Current:
Net investment in sales-type and direct financing leases	$ 3,887	$ 3,765
Commercial financing receivables	5,417	7,095
Client loan receivables	4,750	5,195
Installment payment receivables	871	846
Total	$ 14,925	$ 16,901
Noncurrent:
Net investment in sales-type and direct financing leases	$ 5,091	$ 5,406
Commercial financing receivables	6	34
Client loan receivables	5,223	4,925
Installment payment receivables	470	410
Total	$ 10,791	$ 10,776

Net investment in sales-type and direct financing leases relates principally to the company's systems products and are for terms ranging generally from two to six years. Net investment in sales-type and direct financing leases includes unguaranteed residual values of $716 million and $745 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, and is reflected net of unearned income of $661 million and $733 million, and net of the allowance for credit losses of $118 million and $118 million at those dates, respectively.

Commercial financing receivables, net of allowance for credit losses of $39 million and $53 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, relate primarily to inventory and accounts receivable financing for dealers and remarketers of IBM and non-IBM products. Payment terms for inventory and accounts receivable financing generally range from 30 to 90 days.

Client loan receivables, net of allowance for credit losses of $151 million and $126 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, are loans that are provided by Global Financing primarily to clients to finance the purchase of software and services. Separate contractual relationships on these financing arrangements are for terms ranging generally from one to seven years.

Installment payment receivables, net of allowance for credit losses of $34 million and $51 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, are loans that are provided primarily to clients to finance hardware, software and services ranging generally from one to three years.

Client loan receivables and installment payment receivables financing contracts are priced independently at competitive market rates. The company has a history of enforcing the terms of these financing agreements.

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

The company utilizes certain of its financing receivables as collateral for non-recourse borrowings. Financing receivables pledged as collateral for borrowings were $668 million and $410 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively.

The company did not have any financing receivables held for sale as of September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

Financing Receivables by Portfolio Segment

The following tables present financing receivables on a gross basis excluding the allowance for credit losses and residual value, by portfolio segment and by class, excluding current commercial financing receivables and other miscellaneous current financing receivables at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011. The company determines its allowance for credit losses based on two portfolio segments: lease receivables and loan receivables, and further segments the portfolio via two classes: major markets and growth markets. For additional information on the company's accounting policies for the allowance for credit losses, see the company's 2011 Annual Report beginning on page 85.

When determining the allowances, financing receivables are evaluated either on an individual or a collective basis. For individually evaluated receivables, the company determines the expected cash flow for the receivable and calculates an estimate of the potential loss and the probability of loss. For those accounts in which the loss is probable, the company records a specific reserve. In addition, the company records an unallocated reserve that is determined by applying a reserve rate to its different portfolios, excluding accounts that have been specifically reserved. This reserve rate is based upon credit rating, probability of default, term, characteristics (lease/loan) and loss history.

Certain receivables for which the company has recorded a specific reserve may also be placed on non-accrual status. Non-accrual assets are those receivables with specific reserves and other accounts for which it is likely that the company will be unable to collect all amounts due according to original terms of the lease or loan agreement. Income recognition is discontinued on these receivables.

The following table presents the recorded investment in financing receivables which are on non-accrual status at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

Impaired Loans

The company considers any loan with an individually evaluated reserve as an impaired loan. Depending on the level of impairment, loans will also be placed on non-accrual status (see section Financing Receivables on Non-Accrual Status).

The following tables present impaired client loan receivables.

Credit Quality Indicators

The company's credit quality indicators, which are based on rating agency data, publicly available information and information provided by customers, are reviewed periodically based on the relative level of risk. The resulting indicators are a numerical rating system that maps to Moody's Investors Service credit ratings as shown below. Moody's does not provide credit ratings to the company on its customers.

The tables below present the gross recorded investment for each class of receivables, by credit quality indicator, at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011. Receivables with a credit quality indicator ranging from Aaa to Baa3 are considered investment grade. All others are considered non-investment grade.

The company assessed all restructurings that occurred on or after January 1, 2011 and determined that there were no troubled debt restructurings for the year ended December 31, 2011 and the nine months ended September 30, 2012.

5. Stock-Based Compensation: Stock-based compensation cost is measured at grant date, based on the fair value of the award, and is recognized over the employee requisite service period. The following table presents total stock-based compensation cost included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings:

(Dollars in millions)	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Cost	$ 34	$ 35	$ 99	$ 81
Selling, general and administrative	133	116	370	372
Research, development and engineering	15	15	43	45

Pre-tax stock-based compensation cost	183	166	510	498
Income tax benefits	(64)	(57)	(179)	(177)
Total stock-based compensation cost	$ 119	$ 109	$ 331	$ 321

The increase in pre-tax stock-based compensation cost for the three months ended September 30, 2012, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, was primarily due to an increase related to the company's assumption of stock-based awards previously issued by acquired entities ($5 million) and increases related to performance share units ($11 million). The increase in pre-tax stock-based compensation cost for the nine months ended September 30, 2012, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, was primarily due to an increase related to the company's assumption of stock-based awards previously issued by acquired entities ($2 million) and increases related to restricted stock units ($23 million), partially offset by decreases in performance share units ($12 million).

As of September 30, 2012, the total unrecognized compensation cost of $1,227 million related to non-vested awards is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of approximately three years.

There was no significant capitalized stock-based compensation cost at September 30, 2012 and 2011.

6. Segments: The tables on pages 26 and 27 reflect the results of operations of the company's segments consistent with the management and measurement system utilized within the company. Performance measurement is based on pre-tax income. These results are used, in part, by senior management, both in evaluating the performance of, and in allocating resources to, each of the segments.

The company received a $21.5 million subsidy in the third quarter of 2012 and a $42.4 million subsidy for the first nine months of 2012 in connection with the Medicare Prescription Drug Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003. A portion of this amount is used by the company to reduce its obligation and expense related to the plan, and the remainder is contributed to the plan to reduce contributions required by the participants. For further information related to the Medicare Prescription Drug Act, see page 134 in the company's 2011 Annual Report.

In the second quarter, the U.S. Congress passed the Surface Transportation Extension Act, also referred to as the Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act, which included pension funding stabilization provisions. The company has evaluated the provisions of the new law and expects no material impacts.

Acquisitions: During the nine months ended September 30, 2012, the company completed ten acquisitions at an aggregate cost of $2,613 million.

The Software segment completed eight acquisitions: in the first quarter, Green Hat Software Limited (Green Hat), Emptoris Inc. (Emptoris) and Worklight, Inc. (Worklight), all privately held companies, and DemandTec, Inc. (DemandTec), a publicly held company; in the second quarter, Varicent Software Inc. (Varicent), Vivisimo Inc. (Vivisimo) and Tealeaf Technology Inc. (Tealeaf), all privately held companies; and in the third quarter, Butterfly Software, Ltd. (Butterfly), a privately held company. Systems and Technology (STG) completed two acquisitions: in the first quarter, Platform Computing Corporation (Platform Computing), a privately held company; and in the third quarter, Texas Memory Systems (TMS), a privately held company. All acquisitions were for 100 percent of the acquired companies.

The table below reflects the purchase price related to these acquisitions and the resulting purchase price allocations as of September 30, 2012:

Each acquisition further complemented and enhanced the company's portfolio of product and services offerings. Green Hat helps customers improve the quality of software applications by enabling developers to use cloud computing technologies to conduct testing of a software application prior to its delivery. Emptoris expands the company's cloud-based analytics offerings that provide supply chain intelligence leading to better inventory management and cost efficiencies. Worklight delivers mobile application management capabilities to clients across a wide range of industries. The acquisition enhances the company's comprehensive mobile portfolio, which is designed to help global corporations leverage the proliferation of all mobile devices from laptops and smartphones to tablets. DemandTec delivers cloud-based analytics software to help organizations improve their price, promotion and product mix within the broad context of enterprise commerce. Varicent's software automates and analyzes data across sales, finance, human resources and IT departments to uncover trends and optimize sales performance and operations. Vivisimo software automates the discovery of big data, regardless of its format or where it resides, providing decision makers with a view of key business information necessary to drive new initiatives. Tealeaf provides a full suite of customer experience management software, which analyzes interactions on websites and mobile devices. Butterfly offers storage planning software and storage migration tools, helping companies save storage space, operational time, IT budget and power consumption. Platform Computing's focused technical and distributed computing management software helps clients create, integrate and manage shared computing environments that are used in compute-and-data intensive applications such as simulations, computer modeling and analytics. TMS designs and sells high-performance solid state storage solutions. Purchase price consideration for all acquisitions as reflected in the table above, is paid primarily in cash. All acquisitions are reported in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows net of acquired cash and cash equivalents.

The acquisitions were accounted for as business combinations using the acquisition method, and accordingly, the identifiable assets acquired, the liabilities assumed, and any noncontrolling interest in the acquired entity were recorded at their estimated fair values at the date of acquisition. The primary items that generated the goodwill are the value of the synergies between the acquired companies and IBM and the acquired assembled work-force, neither of which qualify as an amortizable intangible asset. The overall weighted-average life of the identified amortizable intangible assets acquired is 6.6 years. These identified intangible assets will be amortized on a straight-line basis over their useful lives. Goodwill of $1,879 million has been assigned to the Software ($1,413 million), Global Business Services ($5 million), Global Technology Services ($21 million) and Systems and Technology ($441 million) segments. It is expected that approximately 20 percent of the goodwill will be deductible for tax purposes.

On August 27, 2012, the company announced that it had entered into a definitive agreement to acquire Kenexa Corporation (Kenexa), a publicly held company headquartered in Wayne, Pennsylvania. Kenexa, a leading provider of recruiting and talent management solutions, brings a unique combination of Cloud-based technology and consulting services that integrates both people and processes, providing solutions to engage a smarter, more effective workforce across their most critical businesses functions. The acquisition is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2012.

Divestitures: In the third quarter, the company completed the first two phases of the sale of its Retail Stores Solutions business to Toshiba Tec. The company received net proceeds of $572 million, recorded a note receivable of $251 million and recognized a net pre-tax gain of $447 million in the third quarter of 2012. The gain was net of the fair value of certain contractual terms, certain transaction costs and the assets and liabilities sold. The gain was recorded in other (income) and expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings and the net proceeds are reflected within divestitures of businesses, net of cash transferred within cash flows from investing activities in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows. In addition, in the third quarter, the company acquired a 19.9 percent ownership interest for $161 million in Toshiba Global Commerce Solutions Holding Corporation, the new holding company that Toshiba Tec established for the business. The company will retain this ownership for a period of three years at which time Toshiba Tec will purchase the company's equity interest for the initial acquisition value. This investment was recorded in investments and sundry assets in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position and the payment is reflected within purchases of marketable securities and other investments within cash flows from investing activities in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows.

The company expects to close the next phase of the divestiture in the fourth quarter of 2012 with subsequent closings expected in 2013. Overall, the company expects to recognize a total pre-tax gain on the sale of approximately $500 million.

10. Intangible Assets Including Goodwill: The following table details the company's intangible asset balances by major asset class:

(a) Other intangibles are primarily acquired proprietary and non-proprietary business processes, methodologies and systems.

The net carrying amount of intangible assets increased $172 million during the first nine months of 2012, primarily due to intangible asset additions resulting from acquisitions, partially offset by amortization. The aggregate intangible amortization expense was $324 million and $952 million for the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 respectively, versus $307 million and $926 million for the third quarter and first nine months ended September 30, 2011, respectively. In addition, in the first nine months of 2012, the company retired $503 million of fully amortized intangible assets, impacting both the gross carrying amount and accumulated amortization by this amount.

The amortization expense for each of the five succeeding years relating to intangible assets currently recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position is estimated to be the following at September 30, 2012:

(Dollars in millions)	Capitalized Software	Acquired Intangibles	Total
2012 (for Q4)	$ 145	$ 183	$ 327

12. Contingencies: As a company with a substantial employee population and with clients in more than 170 countries, IBM is involved, either as plaintiff or defendant, in a variety of ongoing claims, demands, suits, investigations, tax matters and proceedings that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of its business. The company is a leader in the information technology industry and, as such, has been and will continue to be subject to claims challenging its IP rights and associated products and offerings, including claims of copyright and patent infringement and violations of trade secrets and other IP rights. In addition, the company enforces its own IP against infringement, through license negotiations, lawsuits or otherwise. Also, as is typical for companies of IBM's scope and scale, the company is party to actions and proceedings in various jurisdictions involving a wide range of labor and employment issues (including matters related to contested employment decisions, country-specific labor and employment laws, and the company's pension, retirement and other benefit plans), as well as actions with respect to contracts, product liability, securities, foreign operations, competition law and environmental matters. These actions may be commenced by a number of different parties, including competitors, clients, current or former employees, government and regulatory agencies, stockholders and representatives of the locations in which the company does business. Some of the actions to which the company is party may involve particularly complex technical issues, and some actions may raise novel questions under the laws of the various jurisdictions in which these matters arise.

The company records a provision with respect to a claim, suit, investigation or proceeding when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. Any recorded liabilities, including any changes to such liabilities for the quarter ended September 30, 2012, were not material to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

In accordance with the relevant accounting guidance, the company provides disclosures of matters for which the likelihood of material loss is at least reasonably possible. In addition, the company also discloses matters based on its consideration of other matters and qualitative factors, including the experience of other companies in the industry, and investor, customer and employee relations considerations.

With respect to certain of the claims, suits, investigations and proceedings discussed herein, the company believes at this time that the likelihood of any material loss is remote, given, for example, the procedural status, court rulings, and/or the strength of the company's defenses in those matters. With respect to the remaining claims, suits, investigations and proceedings discussed in this Note, the company is unable to provide estimates of reasonably possible losses or range of losses, including losses in excess of amounts accrued, if any, for the following reasons. Claims, suits, investigations and proceedings are inherently uncertain, and it is not possible to predict the ultimate outcome of these matters. It is the company's experience that damage amounts claimed in litigation against it are unreliable and unrelated to possible outcomes, and as such are not meaningful indicators of the company's potential liability. Further, the company is unable to provide such an estimate due to a number of other factors with respect to these claims, suits, investigations and proceedings, including considerations of the procedural status of the matter in question, the presence of complex or novel legal theories, and/or the ongoing discovery and development of information important to the matters. The company reviews claims, suits, investigations and proceedings at least quarterly, and decisions are made with respect to recording or adjusting provisions and disclosing reasonably possible losses or range of losses (individually or in the aggregate), to reflect the impact and status of settlement discussions, discovery, procedural and substantive rulings, reviews by counsel and other information pertinent to a particular matter.

Whether any losses, damages or remedies finally determined in any claim, suit, investigation or proceeding could reasonably have a material effect on the company's business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows will depend on a number of variables, including: the timing and amount of such losses or damages; the structure and type of any such remedies; the significance of the impact any such losses, damages or remedies may have in the Consolidated Financial Statements; and the unique facts and circumstances of the particular matter that may give rise to additional factors. While the company will continue to defend itself vigorously, it is possible that the company's business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows could be affected in any particular period by the resolution of one or more of these matters.

The following is a summary of the more significant legal matters involving the company.

The company is a defendant in an action filed on March 6, 2003 in state court in Salt Lake City, Utah by the SCO Group (SCO v. IBM). The company removed the case to Federal Court in Utah. Plaintiff is an alleged successor in interest to some of AT&T's UNIX IP rights, and alleges copyright infringement, unfair competition, interference with contract and breach of contract with regard to the company's distribution of AIX and Dynix and contribution of code to Linux. The company has asserted counterclaims, including breach of contract, violation of the Lanham Act, unfair competition, intentional torts, unfair and deceptive trade practices, breach of the General Public License that governs open source distributions, promissory estoppel and copyright infringement. Motions for summary judgment were heard in March 2007, and the court has not yet issued its decision. On September 14, 2007, plaintiff filed for bankruptcy protection, and all proceedings in this case were stayed. On August 25, 2009, the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware approved the appointment of a Trustee of SCO. The court in another suit, the SCO Group, Inc. v. Novell, Inc., held a trial in March 2010. The jury found that Novell is the owner of UNIX and UnixWare copyrights; the judge subsequently ruled that SCO is obligated to recognize Novell's waiver of SCO's claims against IBM and Sequent for breach of UNIX license agreements. On August 30, 2011, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the district court's ruling and denied SCO's appeal of this matter. In November 2011, SCO filed a motion in Federal Court in Utah seeking to reopen the SCO v. IBM case.

On May 13, 2010, IBM and the State of Indiana (acting on behalf of the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration) sued one another in a dispute over a 2006 contract regarding the modernization of social service program processing in Indiana. The State terminated the contract, claiming that IBM was in breach, and the State is seeking damages. IBM believes the State's claims against it are without merit and is seeking payment of termination amounts specified in the contract. Trial began in late February 2012 in Marion County, Indiana Superior Court and concluded in early April. On July 18, 2012, the court rejected the State's claims in their entirety and awarded IBM $52 million plus interest and costs. In August 2012, the State of Indiana filed a notice of appeal. IBM also intends to appeal certain portions of the court's ruling.

The company was named as a co-defendant in numerous purported class actions filed on and after March 18, 2011 in federal and state courts in California in connection with an information technology outsourcing agreement between Health Net, Inc. and IBM. The matters were consolidated in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of California, and plaintiffs filed a consolidated complaint on July 15, 2011. The consolidated complaint alleges that the company violated the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act in connection with hard drives that are unaccounted for at one of Health Net's data centers in California; plaintiffs have been notified by Health Net that certain of their personal information is believed to be contained on those hard drives. Plaintiffs seek damages, as well as injunctive and declaratory relief. IBM has also received a request for information regarding this matter from the California Attorney General. On January 12, 2012, the court granted IBM's motion to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing, and on February 22, 2012, the case against IBM was dismissed.

IBM United Kingdom Limited (IBM UK) initiated legal proceedings in May 2010 before the High Court in London against the IBM UK Pensions Trust (the UK Trust) and two representative beneficiaries of the UK Trust membership. IBM UK is seeking a declaration that it acted lawfully both in notifying the Trustee of the UK Trust that it was closing its UK defined benefit plans to future accruals for most participants and in implementing the company's new retirement policy. The trial in the High Court is scheduled to begin in February 2013. In addition, IBM UK is a defendant in approximately 290 individual actions brought since early 2010 by participants of the defined benefits plans who left IBM UK. These actions, which allege constructive dismissal and age discrimination, are pending before the Employment Tribunal in Southampton UK and are currently stayed pending resolution of the above-referenced High Court proceedings.

In a separate but related proceeding, in March 2011, the Trustee of the IBM UK Trust was granted leave to initiate a claim before the High Court in London against IBM UK and one member of the UK Trust membership, seeking an order modifying certain documents and terms relating to retirement provisions in IBM UK's largest defined benefit plan (the C Plan) dating back to 1983. The trial of these proceedings began in May 2012 and finished in early June. On October 12, 2012, the High Court in London issued its ruling, holding that the 1983 Trust Deeds and Rules should be modified to allow certain categories of current IBM UK employees who are members of the C Plan to retire from the age of 60 (rather than from the age of 63) without actuarial reduction of their defined benefit pension. The Court declined to similarly modify the Trust Deeds and Rules for former employees who were C Plan members and who left the company prior to retirement, although the Court stated that it will provide an opportunity for further legal argument on this issue. IBM UK is considering the company's rights of appeal. As a result of the ruling, IBM recorded an additional pre-tax retirement-related obligation of $162 million in the third quarter of 2012.

In March 2011, the company announced that it has agreed to settle a civil enforcement action with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) relating to activities by employees of IBM Korea, LG IBM, IBM (China) Investment Company Limited and IBM Global Services (China) Co., Ltd., during the period from 1998 through 2009, allegedly in violation of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977. As part of the settlement, IBM has consented to the entry of a judgment relating to the books and records and internal control provisions of the securities laws. IBM has also agreed to pay a total of $10 million, categorized by the SEC as follows: (i) $5.3 million, representing profits gained as a result of the conduct alleged in the SEC's complaint, (ii) prejudgment interest on that amount of $2.7 million, and (iii) a civil penalty of $2 million. The settlement is subject to court approval.

The company is a defendant in numerous actions filed after January 1, 2008 in the Supreme Court for the State of New York, county of Broome, on behalf of hundreds of plaintiffs. The complaints allege numerous and different causes of action, including for negligence and recklessness, private nuisance and trespass. Plaintiffs in these cases seek medical monitoring and claim damages in unspecified amounts for a variety of personal injuries and property damages allegedly arising out of the presence of groundwater contamination and vapor intrusion of groundwater contaminants into certain structures in which plaintiffs reside or resided, or conducted business, allegedly resulting from the release of chemicals into the environment by the company at its former manufacturing and development facility in Endicott. These complaints also seek punitive damages in an unspecified amount.

The company is party to, or otherwise involved in, proceedings brought by U.S. federal or state environmental agencies under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA), known as Superfund, or laws similar to CERCLA. Such statutes require potentially responsible parties to participate in remediation activities regardless of fault or ownership of sites. The company is also conducting environmental investigations, assessments or remediations at or in the vicinity of several current or former operating sites globally pursuant to permits, administrative orders or agreements with country, state or local environmental agencies, and is involved in lawsuits and claims concerning certain current or former operating sites.

The company is also subject to ongoing tax examinations and governmental assessments in various jurisdictions. Along with many other U.S. companies doing business in Brazil, the company is involved in various challenges with Brazilian authorities regarding non-income tax assessments and non-income tax litigation matters. These matters include claims for taxes on the importation of computer software. In November 2008, the company won a significant case in the Superior Chamber of the federal administrative tax court in Brazil, and in late July 2009, the company received written confirmation regarding this decision. The total potential amount related to the remaining matters for all applicable years is approximately $550 million. The company believes it will prevail on these matters and that this amount is not a meaningful indicator of liability.

13. Commitments: The company's extended lines of credit to third-party entities include unused amounts of $5,308 million and $4,040 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively. A portion of these amounts was available to the company's business partners to support their working capital needs. In addition, the company has committed to provide future financing to its clients in connection with client purchase agreements for approximately $2,856 million and $2,567 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively.

The company has applied the guidance requiring a guarantor to disclose certain types of guarantees, even if the likelihood of requiring the guarantor's performance is remote. The following is a description of arrangements in which the company is the guarantor.

The company is a party to a variety of agreements pursuant to which it may be obligated to indemnify the other party with respect to certain matters. Typically, these obligations arise in the context of contracts entered into by the company, under which the company customarily agrees to hold the party harmless against losses arising from a breach of representations and covenants related to such matters as title to the assets sold, certain intellectual property (IP) rights, specified environmental matters, third-party performance of non-financial contractual obligations and certain income taxes. In each of these circumstances, payment by the company is conditioned on the other party making a claim pursuant to the procedures specified in the particular contract, which procedures typically allow the company to challenge the other party's claims. While typically indemnification provisions do not include a contractual maximum on the company's payment, the company's obligations under these agreements may be limited in terms of time and/or nature of claim, and in some instances, the company may have recourse against third parties for certain payments made by the company.

It is not possible to predict the maximum potential amount of future payments under these or similar agreements, due to the conditional nature of the company's obligations and the unique facts and circumstances involved in each particular agreement. Historically, payments made by the company under these agreements have not had a material effect on the company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

In addition, the company guarantees certain loans and financial commitments. The maximum potential future payment under these financial guarantees was $68 million and $56 million at September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively. The fair value of the guarantees recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position is not material.

Changes in the company's warranty liability for standard warranties and deferred income for extended warranty contracts are presented in the following tables:

14. Subsequent Events: On October 12, 2012, the High Court in London issued a ruling against IBM United Kingdom Limited and IBM United Kingdom Holdings Limited, both wholly-owned subsidiaries of the company, in litigation involving one of IBM UK's defined benefit plans. As a result of the ruling, the company recorded an additional pre-tax retirement-related obligation of $162 million in the third quarter of 2012 in selling, general and administrative expense in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. See Note 12, Contingencies, on pages 36 and 37 for additional information.

On October 30, 2012, the company announced that the Board of Directors approved a quarterly dividend of $0.85 per common share. The dividend is payable December 10, 2012 to shareholders of record on November 9, 2012.

On October 30, 2012, the company announced that the Board of Directors authorized $5 billion in additional funds for use in the company's common stock repurchase program.

Currency:

The references to "adjusted for currency" or "at constant currency" in the Management Discussion do not include operational impacts that could result from fluctuations in foreign currency rates. Certain financial results are adjusted based on a simple mathematical model that translates current period results in local currency using the comparable prior year period's currency conversion rate. This approach is used for countries where the functional currency is the local country currency. This information is provided so that certain financial results can be viewed without the impact of fluctuations in foreign currency rates, thereby facilitating period-to-period comparisons of business performance. See "Currency Rate Fluctuations" on pages 67 and 68 for additional information.

Operating (non-GAAP) Earnings:

In an effort to provide better transparency into the operational results of the business, the company separates business results into operating and non-operating categories. Operating earnings is a non-GAAP measure that excludes the effects of certain acquisition-related charges and retirement-related costs, and their related tax impacts. For acquisitions, operating earnings exclude the amortization of purchased intangible assets and acquisition-related charges such as in-process research and development, transaction costs, applicable restructuring and related expenses and tax charges related to acquisition integration. For retirement-related costs, the company characterizes certain items as operating and others as non-operating. The company includes defined benefit plan and nonpension postretirement benefit plan service cost, amortization of prior service cost and the cost of defined contribution plans in operating earnings. Non-operating retirement-related cost includes defined benefit plan and nonpension postretirement benefit plan interest cost, expected return on plan assets, amortized actuarial gains/losses, the impacts of any plan curtailments/settlements and multi-employer plan costs, pension insolvency costs and other costs. Non-operating costs are primarily related to changes in pension plan assets and liabilities which are tied to financial market performance and the company considers these costs to be outside the operational performance of the business.

Overall, the company believes that providing investors with a view of operating earnings as described above provides increased transparency and clarity into both the operational results of the business and the performance of the company's pension plans; improves visibility to management decisions and their impacts on operational performance; enables better comparison to peer companies; and allows the company to provide a long-term strategic view of the business going forward. For its 2015 earnings per share road map, the company is utilizing an operating view to establish its objectives and track its

Financial Performance Summary:

In the third quarter of 2012, the company reported $24.7 billion in revenue, expanded gross, pre-tax and net income margins and delivered diluted earning per share growth of 4.4 percent as reported and 10.4 percent on an operating (non-GAAP) basis. The company's as reported financial performance was impacted by a pre-tax charge of $162 million ($125 million on an after-tax basis) related to a court ruling in the United Kingdom (UK) regarding one of IBM UK's defined benefit pension plans. This charge is not included in the company's operating (non-GAAP) earnings presentation. As reported earnings per share increased 7.8 percent compared to the third quarter of 2011 excluding this charge. The company generated $4.5 billion in cash from operations in the third quarter driving shareholder returns of $4.0 billion in common stock repurchases and dividends. In October 2012, the company adjusted its full year 2012 diluted earnings per share expectation to at least

$14.29 per share to reflect the impact of the UK pension charge, while reiterating its operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share expectation of at least $15.10 per share for the full year. The operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share expectation reflects a 12 percent increase compared to the full year 2011.

The company's performance in the third quarter was driven by strength in its solutions offerings, the solid annuity base and the ongoing focus on productivity. First, the company continued to drive very good results in its solutions offerings across software and services offerings that address key demand areas including Smarter Planet, business analytics and cloud. Second, the company's annuity businesses which represent approximately half of total annual revenue and sixty percent of total annual profit provided a solid base of revenue and profit in the quarter. Third, the company continues to execute its productivity initiatives and remains on track to deliver $8 billion of productivity improvements over the 2015 road map. The benefit from these initiatives, together with the mix to more profitable businesses, has helped drive the company's margin expansion.

Across all of its business segments, the company continues to have strong performance in its key growth initiatives. In the growth markets, the company is continuing to expand into new markets, building out IT infrastructures and focusing on targeted industries. For the first nine months of 2012, revenue in the growth markets has increased 3.1 percent or 7 percent at constant currency. The company's business analytics solutions help clients identify, manage and predict outcomes by leveraging huge amounts of data. The broad portfolio of analytics solutions drove increased revenue of 14 percent on a year to date basis through the third quarter, led by the Global Business Services (GBS) consulting practice. The SmartCloud portfolio addresses the full scope of enterprise client requirements. With strong growth across all offerings, from private cloud to public cloud to industry based solutions, cloud revenue through the first nine months of 2012 has already exceeded full year revenue for 2011. The Smarter Planet solution portfolio is also driving strong performance with revenue growth of more than 20 percent on a year to date basis compared to the prior year driven by Smarter Commerce and industry specific solutions. Within the company's offerings in business analytics, cloud and Smarter Planet, approximately half of the revenue is software. As a result, the success that the company is having in these areas is improving the business mix and margins.

In the third quarter, the company completed the first two phases of the sale of its Retail Store Solutions (RSS) business to Toshiba Tec. The company recognized a pre-tax gain of $447 million on the transaction. With a discrete tax rate applied to the gain, based on the countries closed in these phases, the transaction contributed approximately $280 million of net income in the quarter. The transaction also results in a loss of revenue and profit related to the divested operations.

Revenue in the third quarter declined 5.4 percent versus the prior year, including a negative currency impact of approximately 4 points. At constant currency, revenue was down 1.8 percent, 1 percent normalized for the RSS divestiture. Within the quarter, revenue results through the first two months were consistent with second quarter performance. Performance in September was more challenging with the impact most pronounced in Software and GBS, and from a geographic perspective in North America and the growth markets.

On a geographic basis, revenue performance was led by the growth markets which declined 0.8 percent as reported, but increased 3.7 percent at constant currency with the BRIC countries of Brazil, Russia, India and China delivering growth of 3.5 percent (11 percent adjusted for currency). While both Australia and Mexico declined at a double-digit rate in the quarter, most of the growth market countries continued to perform well. In the third quarter, 35 countries grew constant currency revenue at a double-digit rate reflecting ongoing broad-based strength.

Within the company's segments, Software revenue declined 0.9 percent as reported, but increased 2.9 percent adjusted for currency, driven by double-digit growth across the solutions areas—business analytics, commerce and social business. Global Services revenue decreased 4.6 percent, with constant currency performance essentially flat year to year. Within Global Services, modest growth from the backlog was offset by impacts from shorter term and volume related activity. Systems and Technology revenue declined 13.1 percent (12 percent adjusted for currency); adjusted for the RSS divestiture, revenue declined 10.6 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) versus the prior year. While revenue declined each month within the quarter, performance in September improved as the company introduced the next generation System z mainframe server.

The consolidated gross profit margin increased 0.9 points versus the third quarter of 2011 to 47.4 percent. The operating (non-GAAP) gross margin increased 1.2 points to 48.1 percent. The improvement was driven by a combination of margin expansion in both services segments, and an improving segment mix due to the relative growth of the software business.

Total expense and other income decreased 6.8 percent in the third quarter compared to the prior year. Total operating (non-GAAP) expense and other income decreased 9.9 percent compared to the third quarter of 2011. The as reported expense and other income decrease was impacted by the charge related to the UK pension litigation. The year to year drivers for both categories were approximately:

Pre-tax income grew 0.9 percent and the pre-tax margin was 20.5 percent, an increase of 1.3 points versus the third quarter of 2011. Net income declined 0.4 percent due to an increase in the tax rate, but, the net income margin increased 0.8 points to 15.5 percent. The effective tax rate for the third quarter was 24.6 percent, an increase of 1.0 points versus the prior year. This increase was primarily driven by the discrete tax impact resulting from the gain on the RSS divestiture. Operating (non-GAAP) pre-tax income grew 6.6 percent and the operating (non-GAAP) pre-tax margin was 22.3 percent, an increase of 2.5 points versus the prior year. Operating (non-GAAP) net income increased 5.1 percent and the operating (non-GAAP) net income margin was 16.8 percent, an increase of 1.7 points compared to the prior year. The operating (non-GAAP) effective tax rate was 24.7 percent versus 23.6 percent in the third quarter of 2011 with the increase driven by the RSS divestiture gain.

Diluted earnings per share improved 4.4 percent reflecting the benefits of the common stock repurchase program. In the third quarter, the company repurchased 15.2 million shares of its common stock. Diluted earnings per share of $3.33 increased $0.14 from the prior year. Operating (non-GAAP) diluted earnings per share increased 10.4 percent reflecting the growth in operating (non-GAAP) net income and the benefits of the common stock repurchase program. Operating (non-GAAP) diluted earnings per share of $3.62 increased $0.34 versus the third quarter of 2011 driven by the following factors:

• Revenue decrease at actual rates:	$	(0.17)
• Margin expansion:	$	0.34
• Common stock repurchases:	$	0.17

Margin expansion was the largest contributor to the growth in operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share. There were several factors within margin expansion driving the $0.34 contribution: the gain on the RSS divestiture contributed $0.23; gross margin expansion contributed $0.19 and expense productivity contributed $0.16. These benefits were partially offset by increased workforce rebalancing charges which drove a $0.24 impact.

The company generated $4,514 million in cash flow provided by operating activities, a decrease of $164 million compared to the third quarter of 2011, driven primarily by an increase in taxes paid ($321 million). Net cash used in investing activities of $999 million increased $194 million primarily due to decreased cash from net sales of marketable securities and other investments ($409 million) and cash used for acquisitions ($277 million), partially offset by increased cash from divestitures ($573 million). Net cash used in financing activities of $2,507 million decreased $1,162 million compared to the prior year primarily due to higher net cash from total debt ($976 million) and a net decrease in cash used for common stock transactions ($260 million).

Table of ContentsFinancial Performance Summary:

In the first nine months of 2012, the company delivered diluted earnings per share growth of 9.3 percent as reported and 12.9 percent on an operating (non-GAAP) basis compared to the first nine months of 2011. Normalized for the charge recorded in the third quarter related to the UK pension litigation, as reported earnings per share increased 10.6 percent year to year. The company generated $13.2 billion in cash from operations in the first nine months, returning $11.8 billion to shareholders in common stock repurchases and dividends.

Total revenue decreased 2.9 percent (essentially flat adjusted for currency) compared to the first nine months of 2011. Software revenue increased 1.4 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) driven by key branded middleware which increased 1.8 percent (5 percent adjusted for currency). Global Technology Services revenue declined 1.6 percent (up 2 percent adjusted for currency), while Global Business Services revenue declined 3.9 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) and Systems and Technology revenue declined 9.7 percent (8 percent adjusted for currency). Global Financing revenue declined 4.9 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency). On a geographic basis, revenue performance was led by the growth markets which increased 3.1 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) driven by the BRIC countries which increased 5.8 percent (11 percent adjusted for currency).

The consolidated gross margin increased 1.0 points versus the first nine months of 2011 to 46.7 percent. The operating (non-GAAP) gross margin increased 1.3 points to 47.4 percent compared to the prior year. The improvement in gross margin in the first nine months was driven by Global Services and the improved segment mix driven by growth in Software.

Total expense and other income decreased 2.9 percent in the first nine months of 2012 versus the prior year. Total operating (non-GAAP) expense and other income decreased 4.4 percent compared to the prior year. The year-to-year drivers were approximately:

	Total Consolidated	Operating (non-GAAP)
• Currency *	(6) points	(6) points
• Acquisitions	3 points	2 points
• Base expense	0 points	(1) points

* Reflects impacts of translation and hedging programs.

 Includes acquisitions completed in prior 12-month period.

Pre-tax income grew 2.5 percent and the pre-tax margin was 18.7 percent, an increase of 1.0 points versus the first nine months of 2011. Net income increased 3.9 percent and the net income margin increased 0.9 points to 14.3 percent. The effective tax rate for the first nine months of 2012 was 23.5 percent, compared with 24.5 percent in the prior year, primarily reflecting a one-time benefit from a tax restructuring in Latin America, partially offset by the tax impact of the RSS divestiture gain. Operating (non-GAAP) pre-tax income grew 6.1 percent and the operating (non-GAAP) pre-tax margin was 20.0 percent, an increase of 1.7 points versus the prior year. Operating (non-GAAP) net income increased 7.2 percent and the operating (non-GAAP) net income margin of 15.3 percent increased 1.4 points versus the prior year. The operating (non-GAAP) effective tax rate was 23.7 percent versus 24.5 percent in the first nine months of 2011.

Diluted earnings per share improved 9.3 percent reflecting the growth in net income and the benefits of the common stock repurchase program. In the first nine months of 2012, the company repurchased 45.8 million shares of its common stock. Diluted earnings per share of $9.27 increased $0.79 from the prior year. Operating (non-GAAP) diluted earnings per share of $9.90 increased $1.13 versus the first nine months of 2011 driven by the following factors:

• Revenue decrease at actual rates:	$	(0.25)
• Margin expansion:	$	0.89
• Common stock repurchases:	$	0.49

Table of Contents

At September 30, 2012, the company's balance sheet and liquidity positions remain strong and are well-positioned to support the company's objectives. Cash and marketable securities at quarter end were $12,254 million. Key drivers in the balance sheet and total cash flows are highlighted below.

Total assets decreased $655 million ($635 million adjusted for currency) from December 31, 2011 driven by:

- Decreases in total receivables ($2,783 million) and deferred taxes ($1,027 million), partially offset by
- Increased goodwill ($2,057 million) and prepaid pension assets ($581 million).

Total liabilities decreased $2,086 million ($2,164 million adjusted for currency) from December 31, 2011 driven by:

- Decreases in retirement and nonpension postretirement ($1,692 million), accounts payable ($1,431 million) and taxes ($1,166 million), partially offset by
- Increased total debt ($2,348 million).

Total equity of $21,666 million increased $1,431 million from December 31, 2011 as a result of:

- Higher retained earnings ($7,916 million), common stock ($1,473 million) and lower accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) ($1,165 million); partially offset by
- Increased treasury stock ($9,152 million) driven by share repurchases.

The company generated $13,240 million in cash flow provided by operating activities, an increase of $490 million when compared to the first nine months of 2011, primarily driven by the increase in net income ($406 million), a decrease in taxes paid ($731 million) and a decrease in retirement-related contributions ($164 million), partially offset by a decrease in cash provided by financing receivables ($865 million). Net cash used in investing activities of $4,912 million was $4,021 million higher than the first nine months of 2011, primarily due to an increase of cash used of $2,419 million associated with net purchases and sales of marketable securities and other investments, and increased cash used for acquisitions ($2,043 million), partially offset by increased cash from divestitures ($583 million). Net cash used in financing activities of $8,185 million was $2,701 million lower, compared to the first nine months of 2011, primarily due to lower cash used for common stock repurchases ($2,476 million) and increased proceeds associated with debt ($1,279 million), partially offset by lower cash provided by common stock transactions ($831 million) and increased dividend payments ($223 million).

In January 2012, the company disclosed that it was expecting GAAP earnings of at least $14.16 and operating (non-GAAP) earnings of at least $14.85 per diluted share for the full year 2012. In April 2012, the company increased its expectation for GAAP earnings per diluted share to at least $14.27 and its expectation for operating (non-GAAP) earnings per diluted share to at least $15.00 for the full year. In July 2012, the company again increased its expectations for GAAP earnings per diluted share to at least $14.40 and its expectation for operating (non-GAAP) earnings per diluted share to at least $15.10 for the full year. In October 2012, the company adjusted its full year GAAP earnings per diluted share expectation to at least $14.29 per share to reflect the impact of the UK pension charge, while reiterating its operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share expectation of at least $15.10 per share for the full year.

Global Services

The Global Services segments, Global Technology Services (GTS) and Global Business Services (GBS), delivered $14,463 million of revenue in the third quarter, a decrease of 4.6 percent (flat adjusted for currency) year to year. Adjusted for currency, modest revenue growth from the backlog was offset by impacts from shorter-term and volume-related activity. Revenue in the growth markets increased 2.0 percent (8 percent adjusted for currency) year to year in the third quarter, while the major markets decreased 5.9 percent (2 percent adjusted for currency). Total outsourcing revenue of $6,766 million decreased 5.3 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) and total transactional revenue of $5,889 million decreased 3.8 percent (flat adjusted for currency) year to year. In the first nine months of 2012, total Global Services revenue was $43,798 million, a decrease of 2.3 percent (increase of 1 percent adjusted for currency) year to year. Revenue in the growth markets increased 4.5 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) year to year in the first nine months of 2012, while the major markets decreased 3.9 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency). Total outsourcing revenue of $20,575 million decreased 2.4 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) and total transactional revenue of $17,723 million decreased 2.1 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) year to year. The services segments continued to have good performance in the business analytics, cloud, and Smarter Planet offerings.

Global Technology Services revenue of $9,922 million in the third quarter of 2012 decreased 3.9 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) versus the third quarter of 2011 and decreased 1.6 percent (increased 2 percent adjusted for currency) to $29,952 million in the first nine months of 2012, year to year. Revenue performance adjusted for currency was led by the growth markets which were up 2.2 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) and 4.2 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, year to year. GTS Outsourcing revenue decreased 5.0 percent (flat percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and decreased 2.1 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012, respectively. In the third quarter, revenue growth from the backlog was offset by a decline in revenue from base growth, which had increased year to year through the first half of 2012. Integrated Technology Services (ITS) revenue decreased 0.7 percent (increased 3 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and increased 0.6 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012. Within ITS, revenue in the growth markets increased 8.6 percent (13 percent adjusted for currency) and 10.4 percent (14 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, year to year.

Global Business Services revenue decreased 6.0 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency) to $4,542 million and decreased 3.9 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) to $13,846 million in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, year to year. Application Outsourcing revenue decreased 6.9 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and decreased 4.2 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012. Consulting and Systems Integration (C&SI) revenue decreased 5.8 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and decreased 3.8 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012. On a geographic basis, the growth markets continued to drive the strongest performance with revenue up 1.2 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) and up 5.2 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, year to year. Within the major markets, Japan returned to growth in the third quarter with revenue up 2 percent adjusted for currency, while North America and Europe were both down 6 percent adjusted for currency. On an offering basis, the growth initiatives continued to drive strong growth in the third quarter with double-digit growth in business analytics, Smarter Planet and cloud. In total, these initiatives represent approximately one-third of total GBS revenue. The company continues to benefit as the growth initiatives gain traction, however, the overall GBS growth rate is being impacted by declines in some of the more traditional packaged application projects.

GTS gross profit margins improved 1.6 points in the third quarter and 1.8 points in the first nine months of 2012, respectively, versus the prior year, with margin expansion in each of the lines of business. Pre-tax income of $1,697 million in the third quarter of 2012 was flat year to year and the pre-tax margin expanded 0.7 points to 16.6 percent. Normalized for workforce rebalancing charges of $151 million and $5 million in the third quarter of 2012 and 2011, respectively, GTS pre-tax income was up 8.6 percent and pre-tax margin expanded 2.1 points. GTS pre-tax income for the first nine months of 2012 increased 13.3 percent to $4,934 million and pre-tax margin expanded 2.1 points. There are a number of drivers of the GTS margin expansion. First, an increased contribution from the growth markets which continue to drive higher gross margins than the major markets. Second, benefits from the continued focus on automation and process, primarily through the company's enterprise productivity initiatives. Third, GTS continues to benefit from the work done to improve performance in a select set of lower margin contracts within Strategic Outsourcing.

GBS gross profit margins expanded 1.7 points and 1.4 points in the third quarter and first nine months, respectively, versus the prior year, led by improved profit performance in Application Outsourcing. GBS pre-tax income declined 4.8 percent to $738 million in the third quarter of 2012 with a pre-tax margin of 15.6 percent, relatively flat year to year. Normalized for workforce rebalancing charges of $113 million and $5 million in the third quarter of 2012 and 2011, respectively, GBS pre-tax income was up 9.1 percent and pre-tax margin expanded 2.5 points. GBS margin has benefitted from several factors: prior workforce rebalancing actions, yield from the enterprise productivity initiatives and benefits from currency. Segment pre-tax income in the first nine months of 2012 decreased 1.1 percent to $2,142 million and pre-tax margin increased 0.5 points year to year to 14.9 percent.

The total Global Services business continued to deliver strong profit growth and margin expansion in the third quarter. As reported, pre-tax income of $2,435 million declined 1.5 percent year to year. Normalized for the higher level of workforce rebalancing charges, pre-tax income was up 8.8 percent and pre-tax margin expanded 2.3 points. For the first nine months of 2012, pre-tax income increased 8.5 percent to $7,076 million, with a pre-tax margin of 15.7 percent, up 1.6 points year to year.

Global Services Backlog

The estimated Global Services backlog at September 30, 2012 was $138 billion, an increase of 0.6 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) compared to the September 30, 2011 balance, and an increase of 1.1 percent (flat adjusted for currency) compared to the June 30, 2012 balance. Total growth markets backlog at September 30, 2012 increased 15 percent year to year adjusted for currency. The estimated transactional backlog at September 30, 2012 increased 6.2 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) and the estimated outsourcing backlog decreased 1.2 percent (flat adjusted for currency), respectively, from the September 30, 2011 levels.

Table of Contents

Total Global Services backlog includes GTS Outsourcing, ITS, GBS Outsourcing, Consulting and Systems Integration and Maintenance. Outsourcing backlog includes GTS Outsourcing and GBS Outsourcing. Transactional backlog includes ITS and Consulting and Systems Integration. Total backlog is intended to be a statement of overall work under contract and therefore does include Maintenance. Backlog estimates are subject to change and are affected by several factors, including terminations, changes in the scope of contracts, periodic revalidations, adjustments for revenue not materialized and adjustments for currency.

Global Services signings are management's initial estimate of the value of a client's commitment under a Global Services contract. There are no third-party standards or requirements governing the calculation of signings. The calculation used by management involves estimates and judgments to gauge the extent of a client's commitment, including the type and duration of the agreement, and the presence of termination charges or wind-down costs.

Signings include GTS Outsourcing, ITS, GBS Outsourcing and Consulting and Systems Integration contracts. Contract extensions and increases in scope are treated as signings only to the extent of the incremental new value. Maintenance is not included in signings as maintenance contracts tend to be more steady state, where revenues equal renewals.

Contract portfolios purchased in an acquisition are treated as positive backlog adjustments provided those contracts meet the company's requirements for initial signings. A new signing will be recognized if a new services agreement is signed incidental or coincidental to an acquisition or divestiture.

Software revenue of $5,763 million decreased 0.9 percent (increased 3 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and increased 1.4 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) to $17,533 million in the first nine months of 2012, respectively, compared to the same periods in 2011. Revenue growth in the quarter through August was up 5 percent adjusted for currency. A weak September performance, particularly in North America and the growth markets, impacted the third quarter growth rate. Performance in the third quarter reflects double-digit growth in the solution offerings portfolio, while the complementary infrastructure portfolio was essentially flat year to year.

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

Key branded middleware revenue, which accounted for 63 percent of total Software revenue in both the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, decreased 0.5 percent (increased 3 percent adjusted for currency) and increased 1.8 percent (5 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, year to year. Adjusted for currency, growth in both periods was led by WebSphere, Information Management and Tivoli.

WebSphere revenue increased 2.1 percent (5 percent adjusted for currency) and increased 6.4 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 year to year, respectively, and continued to extend its market-leading position. Revenue performance in both periods included good growth in the Commerce offerings. This performance was bolstered by the recent acquisition of Tealeaf, which enables clients to analyze interactions on websites and mobile devices.

Table of Contents

Information Management revenue decreased 0.9 percent (increased 3 percent adjusted for currency) and increased 1.1 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 year to year, respectively. Performance was driven by strong constant currency growth in the business analytics offerings led by Algorithmics, which together with the company's deep analytics expertise, helps clients to manage risk, and enable better, faster decision making. In October 2012, the Software business announced new members of the PureSystems family, the IBM PureData System. These expert integrated systems are optimized to deliver high performance data services for transactional and analytics applications.

Lotus revenue decreased 10.2 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and 6.4 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012, respectively. Revenue declines in Lotus Notes were partially offset by growth in the social business offerings. In the third quarter of 2012, the company announced the acquisition of Kenexa which will further expand its solution portfolio for social business. The acquisition is expected to close late in the fourth quarter.

Tivoli revenue increased 5.2 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and increased 4.0 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012 compared to the prior year periods, and gained share in the third quarter. Tivoli storage revenue was up 9.4 percent (14 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and up 11.7 percent (15 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012, reflecting the value of storage software. Tivoli security revenue increased 6.4 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) and increased 4.2 percent (6 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, driven by Q1 Labs which provides next generation security intelligence.

Operating systems revenue was flat (increased 4 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and increased 2.6 percent (6 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012, driven by Platform Computing which provides cluster and grid management software for distributed computing environments.

Other software revenue increased 7.1 percent (10 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and increased 9.4 percent (12 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012 driven primarily by growth in software-related services.

Shipments of this mainframe will be increasing through the fourth quarter of 2012.

Power Systems revenue decreased 2.4 percent and 3.3 percent (1 percent and 2 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the third quarter and first nine months of 2011, respectively, which included continued strength in high performance computing solutions. The company extended its market leadership this quarter, the 18th consecutive quarter of year-to-year share gains. In the third quarter, the company had over 260 competitive displacements resulting in over $200 million of business; almost equally from Hewlett Packard and Oracle/Sun. Early in October, the company announced the new POWER7+ based servers. These new systems offer performance improvements of 30 to 40 percent compared to prior versions, and new capabilities for cloud and security solutions.

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

System x revenue decreased 4.8 percent and 4.3 percent (3 percent and 3 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the third quarter and first nine months of 2011, respectively. High-end System x revenue decreased 12 percent and increased 5 percent (down 10 percent and up 7 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the comparable periods of 2011, respectively.

Storage revenue decreased 9.7 percent and 5.9 percent (8 percent and 4 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the comparable periods in 2011, respectively. Total disk revenue decreased 7 percent and 4 percent (5 percent and 2 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2012 versus the third quarter and first nine months of 2011, respectively. Tape revenue decreased 19 percent and 13 percent (17 percent and 11 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2012, versus the comparable periods of 2011, respectively. The value in storage solutions continues to shift to software, as demonstrated by the ongoing success the company is having in its Tivoli storage software offerings. In October 2012, the company announced the new high end DS8870 storage system which enables clients to take full advantage of the increased performance in the company's new enterprise servers. In addition, the company also announced the Virtual Storage Center which integrates multiple software solutions to deliver fast backup and restore capabilities in a virtualized storage environment.

Retail Stores Solutions revenue decreased 79.2 percent and 30.7 percent (79 percent and 29 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the same periods in 2011, respectively. In the third quarter, the company completed the first two phases of the sale of its Retail Stores Solutions business to Toshiba Tec. See the caption, Divestitures, on page 33 for additional information regarding the RSS divestiture.

Microelectronics OEM revenue decreased 25.2 percent and 20.5 percent (25 percent and 20 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the comparable periods of 2011, respectively.

Pre-tax margin	2.0%	6.1%		(4.0)pts.

Gross profit margin decreased 2.6 points in the third quarter of 2012 versus the prior year. The decrease was driven by lower margins in System x (1.6 points), Power Systems (1.1 points) and Microelectronics (0.6 points), partially offset by improvement due to revenue mix (0.8 points). Gross profit margin for the first nine months of 2012 decreased 2.8 points compared to the first nine months of 2011. The decrease was driven by lower margins in System x (0.9 points), Storage (0.8 points), Microelectronics (0.8 points) and Power Systems (0.6 points), partially offset by improved margin in System z (0.2 points).

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

Systems and Technology's pre-tax income decreased $194 million (61.1 percent) to $124 million in the third quarter, and decreased $590 million to $253 million for the first nine months of 2012, when compared to the prior year. Pre-tax margin decreased 3.8 points in the third quarter and 4.0 points in the first nine months, respectively, versus the prior year periods. Normalized for workforce rebalancing charges of $46 million and $3 million in the third quarter of 2012 and 2011, respectively, Systems and Technology pre-tax income declined 47.3 percent, while the pre-tax margin declined 2.7 points in the third quarter.

Total geographic revenue decreased 4.7 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) to $24,209 million in the third quarter of 2012. Adjusted for currency, revenue declines in the major markets were partially offset by continued growth in the growth markets. Total geographic revenue, excluding the divested RSS business, decreased 4.1 percent (flat adjusted for currency).

Revenue from the major markets decreased 6.0 percent (2 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter of 2012 compared to the third quarter of 2011. In the Americas, the U.S. decreased 3.7 percent and Canada decreased 5.0 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency). Revenue declines in services and a double-digit decline in hardware were partially offset by increased software revenue, which improved 4 percent adjusted for currency. In EMEA, performance in the major markets, adjusted for currency, was relatively consistent with the second quarter of 2012. Constant currency performance by country was mixed with Germany down 8.7 percent (up 3 percent adjusted for currency), Spain down 10.4 percent (up 1 percent adjusted for currency), the U.K down 1.4 percent (flat adjusted for currency), France down 15.1 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency), and Italy down 12.7 percent (2 percent adjusted for currency). Within Asia Pacific, Japan decreased 1.1 percent (flat adjusted for currency), an improvement over the last several quarters, adjusted for currency.

Revenue from the growth markets decreased 0.8 percent (increased 4 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter of 2012. Within the BRIC countries (Brazil, Russia, India and China) revenue increased 3.5 percent (11 percent adjusted for currency) with performance in Russia up 9.5 percent (11 percent adjusted for currency), India down 6.1 percent (up 13 percent adjusted for currency) and China up 19.7 percent (19 percent adjusted for currency). Brazil revenue decreased 17.1 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency). Outside the BRIC countries, Australia and Mexico were down double-digits in the third quarter, while most of the other growth market countries continued to perform well. Performance was again broad based with 35 growth market countries delivering double-digit revenue growth year to year, adjusted for currency.

Table of Contents

Total geographic revenue for the first nine months of 2012 of $73,644 million decreased 2.3 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) year to year. The major markets decreased 3.9 percent (1 percent adjusted for currency) year to year while the growth markets increased 3.1 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency). The growth markets represented approximately 23 percent of the total geographic revenue in the first nine months of 2012, with revenue growth adjusted for currency, approximately 8 points higher than the major markets. Within the BRIC countries, revenue increased 5.8 percent (11 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012 versus the first nine months of 2011, with strong constant currency growth in China, India and Russia. Total geographic revenue, excluding the divested RSS business, decreased 2.1 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency) versus the prior year.

Americas revenue for the first nine months of 2012 decreased 1.3 percent (flat adjusted for currency) compared to the same period of 2011. Within the major market countries, the U.S. decreased 1.3 percent and Canada was essentially flat (increased 3 percent adjusted for currency) year to year. Revenue in the Latin America growth markets decreased 3.4 percent (increased 4 percent adjusted for currency) year to year.

EMEA revenue decreased 7.0 percent (flat adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012 versus the same period in 2011. The EMEA growth markets increased 2.3 percent (8 percent adjusted for currency) year to year, led by growth in Russia of 20.1 percent (22 percent adjusted for currency). Within the major market countries, the U.K. increased 1.6 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency), Spain decreased 6.9 percent (increased 2 percent adjusted for currency), Germany decreased 7.8 percent (increased 1 percent adjusted for currency), France decreased 14.9 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency) and Italy decreased 10.4 percent (2 percent adjusted for currency).

Asia Pacific revenue increased 2.0 percent (3 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012. The growth markets increased 5.6 percent (7 percent adjusted for currency), led by growth in China of 20.6 percent (19 percent adjusted for currency). India revenue decreased 5.2 percent as reported, but increased 11 percent on a constant currency basis. Japan decreased 2.6 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) year to year in the first nine months of 2012.

OEM revenue decreased 27.6 percent (28 percent adjusted for currency) and 23.2 percent (23 percent adjusted for currency) year to year in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, respectively, driven by the Microelectronics OEM business.

Total Selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expense increased 4.3 percent (9 percent adjusted for currency) in the third quarter of 2012 versus the third quarter of 2011. The increase was primarily driven by higher base expense (6 points), due to the increase in workforce rebalancing charges, and acquisition-related spending (3 points), partially offset by the effects of currency (4 points). Operating (non-GAAP) SG&A expense increased 0.7 percent (5 percent adjusted for currency) primarily driven by higher base spending (3 points) and acquisition-related spending (2 points), partially offset by the effects of currency (4 points). The increase in workforce rebalancing charges was due to actions primarily focused on the company's non-U.S. operations. The increase in retirement-related costs was driven by the charge related to the ruling regarding one of IBM UK's defined benefit plans. As a result of the ruling, the company recorded an additional retirement-related obligation of $162 million in the third quarter of 2012. This charge is not reflected in operating (non-GAAP) SG&A expense. See Note 12, Contingencies, on pages 36 and 37 and Note 14, Subsequent Events, on page 38 for additional information.

Total SG&A expense increased 0.6 percent (4 percent adjusted for currency) in the first nine months of 2012 versus the first nine months of 2011. The increase was driven by higher acquisition-related spending (2 points) and base spending (2 points), partially offset by currency impacts (3 points). Operating (non-GAAP) SG&A expense decreased 1.0 percent (up 2 percent adjusted for currency) primarily driven by the same factors. Bad debt expense increased $30 million for the first nine months of 2012 versus the first nine months of 2011. The accounts receivable provision coverage is 1.6 percent at September 30, 2012, an increase of 10 basis points from year-end 2011.

Other (income) and expense was income of $606 million and expense of $128 million in the third quarter of 2012 and 2011, respectively. The increase in income of $735 million in the third quarter of 2012 was primarily driven by the gain associated with the divestiture of the RSS business ($447 million) reflected in Other in the tables above and on page 58, increased gains on derivative instruments ($144 million) and lower losses from foreign currency transactions ($94 million) due to foreign currency rate volatility year to year. See the caption, Divestitures, on page 33 for additional information regarding the RSS divestiture.

Other (income) and expense was income of $796 million and expense of $23 million in the first nine months of 2012 and 2011, respectively. The increase in income of $820 million in the first nine months of 2012 was primarily driven by higher gains from foreign currency transactions ($523 million) due to foreign currency rate volatility year to year and the gain associated with the divested RSS business ($447 million). This increase in income was partially offset by lower gains from securities and investment asset sales ($174 million). In the first quarter of 2011, the company had investment gains of over $200 million, primarily from the sale of Lenovo shares.

The company continues to invest in research and development, focusing its investments on high value, high growth opportunities and to extend its technology leadership. Total Research, development and engineering (RD&E) expense decreased 0.8 percent in the third quarter of 2012 versus the third quarter of 2011 primarily driven by: currency impacts (3 points) and lower base expense (2 points), partially offset by higher expense due to acquisitions (4 points). Operating (non-GAAP) RD&E expense decreased 1.9 percent in the third quarter of 2012 compared to the prior year, primarily driven by: currency impacts (3 points) and lower base expense (3 points), partially offset by higher expense due to acquisitions (4 points).

The increase in interest expense for the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 versus the same periods of 2011 was primarily driven by higher average debt levels, partially offset by lower average interest rates. Interest expense is presented in cost of financing in the Consolidated

Statement of Earnings only if the related external borrowings are to support the Global Financing external business. See page 74 for additional information regarding Global Financing debt and interest expense. Overall interest expense (excluding capitalized interest) for the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 was $259 million and $760 million, respectively, an increase of $9 million and $40 million, respectively, year to year.

Total retirement-related plans cost	$ 1,862	$ 1,419		31.2%

nm not meaningful

In the third quarter, total retirement-related plans cost increased by $253 million compared to the third quarter of 2011, primarily driven by the charge related to the UK pension litigation ($162 million), an increase in recognized actuarial losses ($151 million) and lower expected return on plan assets ($71 million), partially offset by lower interest cost ($103 million). Total cost for the first nine months of 2012 increased $443 million versus the first nine months of 2011, primarily driven by an increase in recognized actuarial losses ($454 million), lower expected return on plan assets ($182 million) and the charge related to the UK pension litigation ($162 million), partially offset by lower interest cost ($284 million). See Note 12, Contingencies, on pages 36 and 37 and Note 14, Subsequent Events, on page 38 for additional information regarding the litigation-related charges.

As discussed in the Snapshot on pages 39 and 40, the company characterizes certain retirement-related costs as operating and others as non-operating. Utilizing this characterization, operating retirement-related costs in the third quarter were $440 million, a decrease of $33 million compared to the third quarter of 2011, primarily driven by lower service cost ($19 million) and lower defined contribution plan costs ($17 million). Non-operating costs of $258 million increased $287 million in the third quarter compared to the prior year driven primarily by the UK pension litigation charge ($162 million), an increase in recognized actuarial losses ($151 million) and lower expected return on plan assets ($71 million), partially offset by lower interest cost ($103 million). For the first nine months of 2012, operating retirement-related costs were $1,407 million, a decrease of $49 million compared to the first nine months of 2011. This decrease was driven by lower service cost of $51 million. Non-operating costs of $454 million increased $491 million in the first nine months compared to the prior year driven primarily by an increase in recognized actuarial losses ($454 million), lower expected return on plan assets ($182 million) and the UK pension litigation charge ($162 million), partially offset by lower interest cost ($284 million).

See Note 8, Retirement-Related Benefits, on pages 30 and 31 for additional plan cost detail.

Taxes

The effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2012 was 24.6 percent compared to an effective tax rate of 23.6 percent for the third quarter of 2011. The effective tax rates for the first nine months of 2012 and 2011 were 23.5 percent and 24.5 percent, respectively. The operating (non-GAAP) tax rate for the third quarter of 2012 was 24.7 percent compared to 23.6 percent for the third quarter of 2011. The operating (non-GAAP) tax rate for the first nine months of 2012 was 23.7 percent compared to 24.5 percent for the first nine months of 2011. The increase in the third quarter tax rate was primarily driven by the tax impact of the RSS divestiture gain. The decline in the rate for the nine month period was primarily due to discrete period tax events in the first quarter of 2012 driven by a one-time benefit associated with a tax restructuring in Latin America, partially offset by the tax impact of the RSS divestiture gain in the third quarter of 2012.

With limited exception, the company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local or non-U.S. income tax audits by taxing authorities for years through 2007. The years subsequent to 2007 contain matters that could be subject to differing interpretations of applicable tax laws and regulations as it relates to the amount and/or timing of income, deductions and tax credits. Although the outcome of tax audits is always uncertain, the company believes that adequate amounts of tax and interest have been provided for any adjustments that are expected to result for these years.

The amount of unrecognized tax benefits at December 31, 2011 increased $118 million in the third quarter and $156 million in the first nine months of 2012 to $5,731 million. The total amount of unrecognized tax benefits that, if recognized, would favorably affect the effective tax rate is $5,230 million at September 30, 2012.

In April 2010, the company appealed the determination of a non-U.S. local taxing authority with respect to certain foreign tax losses. The tax benefit of these losses, approximately $1,541 million, has been included in unrecognized tax benefits. This amount includes the portion of these losses that had been utilized against a prior year liability. In April 2011, the company received notification that the appeal had been denied. In June 2011, the company filed a lawsuit challenging this decision. A court hearing was held in October 2012 to determine the subsequent hearings schedule.

In October 2011, the IRS commenced its audit of the company's U.S. tax returns for 2008 through 2010.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed on the basis of the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share is computed on the basis of the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding plus the effect of dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period using the treasury stock method. Dilutive potential common shares include outstanding stock options and stock awards.

Actual shares outstanding at September 30, 2012 were 1,129.9 million. The weighted-average number of common shares outstanding assuming dilution during the third quarter and first nine months of 2012 was 55.6 and 60.3 million lower, respectively, than the same periods in 2011, primarily as a result of the company's common stock repurchase program.

Financial Position

Dynamics

At September 30, 2012, the company's balance sheet and liquidity positions remain strong to support the business over the long term. Cash and marketable securities at quarter end were $12,254 million. At September 30, 2012, a significant portion of the investment portfolio was invested in U.S. and Canadian sovereign instruments, with no holdings of European sovereign debt securities. Total debt of $33,668 million increased $2,348 million from prior year-end levels driven by new debt issuances, partially offset by a decline of $2,300 million in commercial paper and maturities of $4,991 million. The company continues to have substantial flexibility to sources of liquidity through the capital markets. During the first nine months of the year, the company issued $6,025 million of long-term bonds in the capital markets at a weighted-average interest rate of approximately 1.49 percent. In the first nine months, the company generated $13,240 million in cash from operations, an increase of $490 million compared to the first nine months of 2012 (see cash flow analysis on page 64). The company has consistently generated strong cash flow from operations and continues to have access to additional sources of liquidity through the capital markets and its $10 billion global credit facility. The company's strong cash flow and substantial cash position permits the company to invest and deploy capital to areas with the most attractive long-term opportunities.

The assets and debt associated with the Global Financing business are a significant part of the company's financial position. The financial position amounts appearing on pages 5 and 6 are the consolidated amounts including Global Financing. The amounts appearing in the separate Global Financing section, beginning on page 70, are supplementary data presented to facilitate an understanding of the Global Financing business.

Working Capital

(Dollars in millions)	At September 30, 2012	At December 31, 2011
Current assets	$ 48,141	$ 50,928

Current liabilities		39,499		42,123
Working capital	$	8,642	$	8,805
Current ratio		1.22		1.21

Working capital decreased $163 million from the year-end 2011 position. The key changes are described below:

Current assets decreased $2,788 million ($2,640 million adjusted for currency), due to:

- A decline of $2,798 million ($2,876 million adjusted for currency) in current accounts receivable, driven by declines in notes and short-term financing receivables ($3,383 million), primarily due to collections of higher year-end balances; partially offset by an increase of $585 million ($582 million adjusted for currency) in other accounts receivable, primarily driven by the RSS divestiture.

Table of Contents

Current liabilities decreased $2,624 million ($2,751 million adjusted for currency), as a result of:

- A decrease of $1,166 million in taxes payable primarily due to tax payments in the U.S. and Japan;
- A decrease in accounts payable of $1,431 million reflecting declines from typically higher year-end balances;
- A decrease in deferred income of $967 million; partially offset by
- An increase in short-term debt of $872 million.

Cash Flow

The company's cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities, as reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows on page 7, is summarized in the table below. These amounts include the cash flows associated with the Global Financing business.

(Dollars in millions)

For the nine months ended September 30:

	2012	2011
Net cash provided by/(used in):
Operating activities	$ 13,240	$ 12,750
Investing activities	(4,912)	(891)
Financing activities	(8,185)	(10,886)
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash and cash equivalents	(156)	(330)
Net change in cash and cash equivalents	$ (13)	$ 643

Net cash from operating activities increased by $490 million as compared to the first nine months of 2011 driven by the following factors:

- Improved net income of $406 million;
- A decrease in retirement-related contributions of $164 million; and

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

- A decrease in taxes paid of $731 million; partially offset by
- A decrease in cash provided by financing receivables of $865 million.

Net cash used in investing activities increased $4,021 million driven by:

- A net increase of $1,461 million in cash used for acquisitions/divestitures; and
- A decrease in cash of $2,419 million from net sales of marketable securities and other investments.

Net cash used in financing activities decreased $2,701 million as compared to the first nine months of 2011 driven by the following factors:

- Increased cash from net debt activity of $1,279 million; and
- A net decrease of $1,645 million of cash used for common stock transactions; partially offset by
- An increase of $223 million in cash dividends paid.

Table of ContentsNoncurrent Assets and Liabilities

(Dollars in millions)	At September 30, 2012		At December 31, 2011
Noncurrent assets	$	67,637	$	65,505
Long-term debt		24,333		22,857
Noncurrent liabilities (excluding debt)		30,279		31,217

The increase in noncurrent assets of $2,133 million (an increase of $2,005 million adjusted for currency) was driven by:

- An increase of $2,229 million ($2,006 million adjusted for currency) in goodwill and intangible assets driven by acquisitions, and
- An increase of $581 million in prepaid pension assets ($616 million adjusted for currency) primarily driven by returns on plan assets in excess of interest costs; partially offset by
- A decrease of $948 million in deferred taxes ($953 million adjusted for currency) primarily driven by retirement related activity.

Long-term debt increased by $1,476 million primarily driven by new debt issuances of $6,373 million, partially offset by reclasses to short-term debt.

Other noncurrent liabilities, excluding debt, decreased $938 million ($905 million adjusted for currency) primarily driven by:

- A decrease in retirement and nonpension benefit obligations of $1,692 million ($1,645 million adjusted for currency) primarily driven by contributions to non-U.S. plans and returns on plan assets; partially offset by
- An increase of $339 million ($331 million adjusted for currency) in other noncurrent liabilities primarily due to an increase in tax related liabilities.

Debt

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORP - Form 10-Q

The company's funding requirements are continually monitored and strategies are executed to manage the overall asset and liability profile. Additionally, the company maintains sufficient flexibility to access global funding sources as needed.

(Dollars in millions)	At September 30, 2012		At December 31, 2011
Total company debt	$	33,668	$	31,320
Total Global Financing segment debt	$	23,318	$	23,332
Debt to support external clients		20,246		20,051
Debt to support internal clients		3,073		3,281

Global Financing provides financing predominantly for the company's external client assets, as well as for assets under contract by other IBM units. These assets, primarily for Global Services, generate long-term, stable revenue streams similar to the Global Financing asset portfolio. Based on their attributes, these Global Services assets are leveraged with the balance of the Global Financing asset base. The debt analysis above is further detailed in the Global Financing section on page 74.

Given the significant leverage, the company presents a debt-to-capitalization ratio which excludes Global Financing debt and equity as management believes this is more representative of the company's core business operations. This ratio can vary from period to period as the company manages its global cash and debt positions.

Core debt-to-capitalization ratio (excluding Global Financing debt and equity) was 36.0 percent at September 30, 2012 compared to 32.0 percent at December 31, 2011. The increase was primarily driven by an increase in non-Global Financing debt of $2,362 million partially offset by an increase in non-Global Financing equity of $1,386 million from the December 31, 2011 balances.

Consolidated debt-to-capitalization ratio at September 30, 2012 was 60.8 percent versus 60.7 percent at December 31, 2011.

Table of Contents

Debt Exchange

In the second quarter of 2012, the company completed an exchange of approximately $6 million of principal of its 7.125 percent debentures due 2096, $104 million principal of its 8.000 percent notes due in 2038 and $800 million of principal of its 5.600 percent senior notes due in 2039 for approximately $1,107 million of 4.000 percent senior notes due in 2042 and cash of approximately $121 million. The exchange was completed to retire high coupon debt in the current favorable interest rate environment.

The debt exchange was accounted for as a non revolving debt modification in accordance with accounting guidance, and therefore it did not result in any gain or loss recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. Cash payments will be amortized over the life of the new debt. Administrative fees with third parties in relation to the exchange were expensed as incurred.

Equity

Total equity increased by $1,431 million from December 31, 2011 as a result of an increase in retained earnings of $7,916 million, an increase of $1,473 million in common stock and lower accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) ($1,165 million) primarily driven by retirement-related benefit plans ($1,132 million), partially offset by an increase in treasury stock of $9,152 million related to common stock repurchases in the first nine months of 2012.

Looking Forward

The company measures the success of its business model over the long term, not any individual quarter or year. The company's strategies, investments and actions are all taken with an objective of optimizing long-term performance.

In May 2010, the company met with investors and introduced a roadmap for earnings per share in 2015. The objective of the roadmap for growth is to achieve at least $20 of operating (non-GAAP) earnings per diluted share in 2015. The company has identified the major drivers of financial performance: revenue growth, margin expansion and common stock share repurchase. The revenue growth will come from a combination of base revenue growth, a shift to faster growing businesses and from acquisitions closed between 2010 and 2015. The contribution from margin expansion will be driven by the mix of higher margin businesses and enterprise productivity. The company will also continue to return value to its shareholders, with approximately $50 billion of share repurchase and $20 billion of dividends expected during the road map period. Overall, the company expects fairly balanced contribution from revenue growth, margin expansion and share repurchase.

Looking forward, the company expects continued opportunity in the growth markets and in the higher value solutions, including business analytics, Smarter Planet and cloud computing, where the company believes its enterprise clients will continue to focus. The company is confident in its ability to continue to leverage its business model to expand margin, grow profit, generate cash and return value to shareholders. In January 2012, the company disclosed that it was expecting GAAP earnings of at least $14.16 and operating (non-GAAP) earnings of at least $14.85 per diluted share for the full year 2012. In April 2012, the company increased its expectation for GAAP earnings per diluted share to at least $14.27 and its expectation for operating (non-GAAP) earnings per diluted share to at least $15.00 for the full year. In July 2012, the company again increased its expectation for GAAP earnings per diluted share to at least $14.40 and its expectation for operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share to at least $15.10 for the full year. In October 2012, the company adjusted its full year expectation for GAAP earnings per diluted share to at least $14.29 per share to reflect the impact of the UK pension charge, while reiterating its operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share expectation of at least $15.10 for the full year. The operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share expectation excludes acquisition-related charges of $0.47 per share and non-operating retirement-related costs of $0.34 per share. These expectations result in an increase year to year of 9 percent in GAAP earnings per share and an increase of 12 percent year to year in operating (non-GAAP) earnings per share.

In the first nine months of 2012, the Global Services business increased pre-tax income by 8.5 percent, expanded pre-tax margin by 1.6 points and increased backlog, adjusted for currency, versus the prior year. Looking forward to the fourth quarter, the company expects the Global Services business to deliver revenue growth at constant currency consistent with the third quarter growth rate. The Software business delivered strong performance in the first nine months capitalizing on the momentum and a strong set of opportunities it had coming off an excellent performance in 2011. Performance in the third quarter was impacted by a number of transactions, particularly in the growth markets, which did not close in the period. In the fourth quarter, the company expects the Software business to deliver revenue growth at constant currency in the mid single-digits with double digit pre-tax income growth. As expected, the Systems and Technology business faced a tough comparison in the first nine months of 2012 driven primarily by the System z and Power Systems product cycle performance in the first nine months of 2011. Looking forward to the fourth quarter, the company has significantly enhanced its systems portfolio with the new zEnterprise EC12 mainframe, new Power Systems products based on the new POWER7+ architecture and new Storage Systems products including the high end DS8870. The company expects System z to generate revenue growth in the fourth quarter of 20 to 30 percent, with the Systems and Technology business in total to deliver revenue growth at constant currency in the mid single-digits, excluding the impact of the divested RSS business. The RSS divestiture impacts the hardware business by approximately four points and the company's consolidated revenues by approximately one point.

The company's earnings expectation for 2012 is consistent with its business model: revenue growth, margin expansion driven by a mix to software and continued productivity and prudent use of cash to drive investments, acquisitions and share repurchase. The company will continue to improve its portfolio through acquisitions and divestitures and will continue to invest in market opportunities and drive productivity. The company expects to complete the next phase of the sale of its RSS business and close the acquisition of Kenexa Corporation late in the fourth quarter.

The company's effective tax rate in the first nine months was 23.5 percent, a decrease of 1.0 points compared to the first nine months of 2011. The company expects its full year 2012 effective tax rate on an as reported and operating (non-GAAP) basis to be in the range of 24 percent; excluding discrete items, the effective tax rate on an as reported and operating (non-GAAP) basis is expected to be in the range of 24.5 percent.

The company expects 2012 pre-tax retirement-related plan cost to be approximately $2.4 billion, an increase of approximately $0.6 billion compared to 2011. This estimate reflects current pension plan assumptions at December 31, 2011 and the UK pension litigation-related charge recorded in the third quarter. Within total retirement-related plan cost, operating retirement-related plan cost is expected to be approximately $1.9 billion, approximately flat versus 2011. Non-operating retirement-related plan cost is expected to be approximately $0.5 billion versus income of $0.1 billion in 2011.

The economy could impact the credit quality of the company's receivables, and therefore the allowance for credit losses. The company will continue to apply its rigorous credit policies and analysis, and will also continue to monitor the current economic environment, particularly in Europe. At September 30, 2012, total receivables in Portugal, Italy, Ireland, Greece and Spain were approximately $2.3 billion, net of allowances, and represented approximately 6 percent of total net trade and financing accounts receivables. The company will continue to monitor potential exposures in these countries in conjunction with the application of its credit policies.

Currency Rate Fluctuations

Changes in the relative values of non-U.S. currencies to the U.S. dollar affect the company's financial results and financial position. At September 30, 2012, currency changes resulted in assets and liabilities denominated in local currencies being translated into fewer dollars than at year-end 2011. The company uses financial hedging instruments to limit specific currency risks related to financing transactions and other foreign currency-based transactions. Further discussion of currency and hedging appears in the company's 2011 Annual Report in Note D, Financial Instruments, on pages 96 to 100.

Foreign currency fluctuations often drive operational responses that mitigate the simple mechanical translation of earnings. During periods of sustained movements in currency, the marketplace and competition adjust to the changing rates. For example, when pricing offerings in the marketplace, the company may use some of the advantage from a weakening U.S. dollar to improve its position competitively, and price more aggressively to win the business, essentially passing on a portion of the currency advantage to its customers. Competition will frequently take the same action. Consequently, the company believes that some of the currency-based changes in cost impact the prices charged to clients. The company also maintains currency hedging programs for cash management purposes which mitigate, but do not eliminate, the volatility of currency impacts on the company's financial results.

The company translates revenue, cost and expense in its non-U.S. operations at current exchange rates in the reported period. References to adjusted for currency or constant currency reflect adjustments based upon a simple constant currency mathematical translation of local currency results using the comparable prior period's currency conversion rate. However, this constant currency methodology that the company utilizes to disclose this information does not incorporate any operational actions that management may take in reaction to fluctuating currency rates. Based on the currency rate movements in the first nine months of 2012, total revenue decreased 2.9 percent as reported and decreased 0.1 percent at constant currency versus the first nine months of 2011. On a pre-tax income basis, these translation impacts offset by the net impact of hedging activities resulted in a theoretical maximum (assuming no pricing or sourcing actions) decrease of approximately $55 million in the first nine months of 2012. The same mathematical exercise resulted in an increase of approximately $520 million in the first nine months of 2011. The company views these amounts as a theoretical maximum impact to its as-reported financial results. Considering the operational responses mentioned above, movements of exchange rates, and the nature and timing of hedging instruments, it is difficult to predict future currency impacts on any particular period, but the company believes it could be substantially less than the theoretical maximum given the competitive dynamics in the marketplace.

For non-U.S. subsidiaries and branches that operate in U.S. dollars or whose economic environment is highly inflationary, translation adjustments are reflected in results of operations. Generally, the company manages currency risk in these entities by linking prices and contracts to U.S. dollars. The company continues to monitor the economic conditions in Venezuela. On December 30, 2010, the official rate for essential goods was eliminated, with no change to the SITME rate. The SITME rate remained constant throughout 2011 and the first nine months of 2012. Future gains or losses from devaluation of the SITME rate are not expected to have a material impact given the size of the company's operations in Venezuela (less than 1 percent of total 2010 and 2011 revenue, respectively).

Liquidity and Capital Resources

In the company's 2011 Annual Report, on pages 56 to 58, there is a discussion of the company's liquidity including two tables that present five years of data. The table presented on page 56 includes net cash from operating activities, cash and marketable securities and the size of the company's global credit facilities for each of the past five years. For the nine months ended, or as of, as applicable, September 30, 2012, those amounts are $13.2 billion for net cash from operating activities, $12.3 billion of cash and marketable securities and $10 billion in global credit facilities, respectively. The term of the 5 year global credit facility has been extended by one year, and now expires on November 10, 2017. See the 2011 Annual Report on page 108 for additional information.

The major rating agencies' ratings on the company's debt securities at September 30, 2012 appear in the table below. The Standard and Poor's ratings reflect an upgrade on May 30, 2012. The other agency ratings remain unchanged from December 31, 2011. The company's debt securities do not contain any acceleration clauses which could change the scheduled maturities of the obligation. In addition, the company does not have ratings trigger provisions in its debt covenants or documentation, which would allow the holders to declare an event of default and seek to accelerate payments there under in the event of a change in credit rating. The company's contractual agreements governing derivative instruments contain standard market clauses which can trigger the termination of the agreement if the company's credit rating were to fall below investment grade. At September 30, 2012, the fair value of those instruments that were in a liability position was $399 million, before any applicable netting, and this position is subject to fluctuations in fair value period to period based on the level of the company's outstanding instruments and market conditions. The company has no other contractual arrangements that, in the event of a change in credit rating, would result in a material adverse effect on its financial position or liquidity.

The table appearing on page 57 of the company's 2011 Annual Report presents the format in which management reviews cash flows for each of the past five years and is accompanied by a description of the way cash flow is managed, measured and reviewed. The company prepares its Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows in accordance with applicable accounting standards for cash flow presentation on page 7 of this Form 10-Q and highlights causes and events underlying sources and uses of cash in that format on page 64. The following is management's view of cash flows for the first nine months of 2012 and 2011 prepared in a manner consistent with the table and description on pages 56 and 57 of the company's 2011 Annual Report:

Table of Contents

(Dollars in millions)

For the nine months ended September 30:

	2012	2011
Net cash from operating activities per GAAP:	$ 13,240	$ 12,750
Less: the change in Global Financing receivables	1,245	2,110
Net cash from operating activities, excluding Global Financing receivables	11,995	10,640
Capital expenditures, net	(3,326)	(3,000)
Free cash flow	8,670	7,640
Acquisitions	(2,266)	(223)
Divestitures	587	4
Share repurchase	(8,988)	(11,465)
Dividends	(2,816)	(2,593)
Non-Global Financing debt	2,284	1,093
Other (includes Global Financing receivables and Global Financing debt)	2,861	5,196
Change in cash, cash equivalents and short-term marketable securities	$ 331	$ (348)

Free cash flow for the first nine months of 2012 increased $1,030 million versus the first nine months of 2011. The increase was driven by net income and reductions in taxes paid. Also, in the first nine months of 2012, $11,804 million was returned to shareholders through share repurchases and dividends.

Events that could temporarily change the historical cash flow dynamics discussed above and in the company's 2011 Annual Report include significant changes in operating results, material changes in geographic sources of cash, unexpected adverse impacts from litigation or future pension funding during periods of severe downturn in the capital markets. Whether any litigation has such an adverse impact will depend on a number of variables, which are more completely described in Note 12, Contingencies, on pages 35 to 37 of this Form 10-Q. The company expects to make legally mandated pension plan contributions to certain non-U.S. plans of approximately $700 million in 2012. The company is not quantifying any further impact from pension funding because it is not possible to predict future movements in the capital markets or pension plan funding regulations.

The company's U.S. cash flows continue to be sufficient to fund its current domestic operations and obligations, including investing and financing activities such as dividends and debt service. The company's U.S. operations generate substantial cash flows, and, in those circumstances where the company has additional cash requirements in the U.S., the company has several liquidity options available. These options include the ability to borrow funds at reasonable interest rates, utilizing its committed global credit facility, repatriating certain foreign earnings and calling intercompany loans that are in place with certain foreign subsidiaries.

The company does earn a significant amount of its pre-tax income outside the U.S. The company's policy is to indefinitely reinvest the undistributed earnings of its foreign subsidiaries, and accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes has been made on accumulated earnings of foreign subsidiaries. The company periodically repatriates a portion of these earnings to the extent that it does not incur an additional U.S. tax liability. Quantification of the deferred tax liability, if any, associated with indefinitely reinvested earnings is not practicable. While the company currently does not have a need to repatriate funds held by its foreign subsidiaries, if these funds are needed for operations and obligations in the U.S., the company could elect to repatriate these funds which could result in a reassessment of the company's policy and increased tax expense.

Table of ContentsGlobal Financing

Global Financing is a reportable segment that is measured as a stand-alone entity. Global Financing facilitates clients' acquisition of IBM systems, software and services with the objective of generating consistently strong returns on equity.

* See page 74 for the details of the after-tax income and the return on equity calculation.

The decrease in revenue in the third quarter, as compared to the same period in 2011, was due to:

- A decline in external revenue of 9.2 percent (down 5 percent adjusted for currency), due to decreases in financing revenue (down 10.8 percent to $358 million) and in used equipment sales (down 3.8 percent to $113 million); partially offset by
- Growth in internal revenue of 2.5 percent, due to an increase in used equipment sales (up 10.1 percent to $374 million), partially offset by a decrease in financing revenue (down 16.1 percent to $117 million).

The decrease in revenue in the first nine months, as compared to the same period in 2011, was due to:

- A decline in external revenue of 4.9 percent (down 1 percent adjusted for currency), due to a decrease in financing revenue (down 8.6 percent to $1,109 million), partially offset by an increase in used equipment sales (up 8.5 percent to $368 million); and

- A decline in internal revenue of 2.1 percent, due to a decrease in financing revenue (down 11.2 percent to $378 million), partially offset by an increase in used equipment sales (up 1.4 percent to $1,114 million).

The decreases in external financing revenue in the third quarter and first nine months of 2012, compared to the same periods in 2011, were due to lower asset yields. The decreases in internal financing revenue in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2012, compared to the same periods in 2011, were due to decreases in average asset balances and lower asset yields.

Global Financing gross profit increased 0.7 percent in the third quarter of 2012 compared to the same period in 2011 due to an increase in used equipment sales gross profit, partially offset by a decrease in financing gross profit. Gross profit decreased 0.3 percent in the first nine months of 2012 compared to the prior year due to a decrease in financing gross profit, partially offset by an increase in used equipment sales gross profit. Gross margin increased 2.8 points in the third quarter of 2012 compared to the same period in 2011, and gross margin increased 2.1 points in the first nine months of 2012 compared to the prior year. The increases in both periods were due to margin improvement in both used equipment sales and financing, partially offset by a shift in mix toward lower margin used equipment sales.

Global Financing pre-tax income decreased 1.2 percent to $476 million in the third quarter of 2012 versus the same period in 2011. The decrease was primarily driven by higher financing receivables provisions ($22 million) and other expenses ($6 million), partially offset by a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses ($17 million) and an increase in gross profit ($4 million). The increase in financing receivables provisions was primarily driven by higher specific reserve requirements in the current year. Pre-tax income increased 1.3 percent to $1,516 million in the first nine months of 2012 versus the same period in 2011. The increase was driven by higher financing receivables provisions ($33 million), a decrease in gross profit ($7 million), and an increase in other expenses ($2 million), partially offset by a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses ($61 million). The increase in financing receivables provisions was primarily due to lower reserve requirements in the prior year.

Return on equity was essentially flat in the third quarter of 2012 compared to the prior year. The increase in return on equity for the first nine months of 2012 compared to the prior year was primarily driven by higher after-tax income.

(b) Entire amount eliminated for purposes of IBM's consolidated results and therefore does not appear on pages 5 and 6.

(c) These assets, along with all other financing assets in this table, are leveraged at the value in the table using Global Financing debt.

(d) Global Financing debt is comprised of intercompany loans and external debt. A portion of Global Financing debt is in support of the company's internal business, or related to intercompany mark-up embedded in the Global Financing assets. See table on page 74.

Sources and Uses of Funds

The primary use of funds in Global Financing is to originate client and commercial financing assets. Client financing assets for end users consist primarily of IBM systems, software and services, but also include non-IBM equipment, software and services to meet IBM clients' total solutions requirements. Client financing assets are primarily sales-type, direct financing and operating leases for systems products, as well as loans for systems, software and services with terms generally from one to seven years. Global Financing's client loans are primarily for software and services and are unsecured. These loans are subjected to additional credit analysis to evaluate the associated risk and, when deemed necessary, actions are taken to mitigate risks in the loan agreements which include covenants to protect against credit deterioration during the life of the obligation. Client financing also includes internal activity as described on page 24 of the 2011 IBM Annual Report.

Commercial financing receivables arise primarily from inventory and accounts receivable financing for dealers and remarketers of IBM and non-IBM products. Payment terms for inventory financing and accounts receivable financing generally range from 30 to 90 days. These short-term receivables are primarily unsecured and are also subjected to additional credit analysis in order to evaluate the associated risk.

At September 30, 2012, substantially all financing assets are IT related assets, and approximately 60 percent of the external portfolio is with investment grade clients with no direct exposure to consumers or mortgage assets.

Originations

The following are total external and internal financing originations:

(Dollars in millions)	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Client financing	$ 3,013	$ 2,870	$ 9,809	$ 9,304
Commercial financing	8,413	8,285	25,507	24,336
Total	$ 11,426	$ 11,156	$ 35,316	$ 33,641

Cash collections of both commercial and client financing assets exceeded new financing originations, which resulted in a net decline in financing assets in the third quarter of 2012 from June 30, 2012. Cash collections of both commercial and client financing assets also exceeded new financing originations in the first nine months of 2012, which resulted in a net decline in financing assets from December 31, 2011. The increase in originations in both periods in the table above was due to improving volumes in client and commercial financing.

Cash generated by Global Financing was primarily deployed to pay the intercompany payables and dividends to IBM.

Global Financing Receivables and Allowances

The following table presents external financing receivables excluding residual values and the allowance for credit losses:

January 1, 2012	350	(13)	8	343

* Represents reserved receivables, net of recoveries, that were disposed of during the period.

 Primarily represents translation adjustments.

The percentage of Global Financing receivables reserved remained at 1.3 percent for periods ending December 31, 2011 and September 30, 2012. Specific reserves increased 1 percent from $226 million at December 31, 2011 to $228 million at September 30, 2012. Unallocated reserves decreased 8 percent from $124 million at December 31, 2011 to $115 million at September 30, 2012 primarily due to the decline in gross financing receivables.

Global Financing's bad debt expense was an increase of $18 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012, compared to a decrease of $3 million for the same period in 2011. The year-to-year increase in bad debt expense was primarily attributed to higher specific reserve requirements in the current year. Global Financing's bad debt expense was an increase of $8 million for the first nine months ended September 30, 2012, compared to a decrease of $25 million for the same period in 2011. The year-to-year increase was primarily attributed to lower reserve requirements in the prior year.

Residual Value

Residual value is a risk unique to the financing business and management of this risk is dependent upon the ability to accurately project future equipment values at lease inception. Global Financing has insight into product plans and cycles for the IBM products under lease. Based upon this product information, Global Financing continually monitors projections of future equipment values and compares them with the residual values reflected in the portfolio.

Global Financing optimizes the recovery of residual values by selling assets sourced from end of lease, leasing used equipment to new clients, or extending lease arrangements with current clients. Sales of equipment, which are primarily sourced from equipment returned at the end of a lease, represented 50.6 percent and 49.9 percent of Global Financing's revenue in the third quarter and first nine months, respectively, of 2012, and 45.8 percent and 46.8 percent in the third quarter and first nine months, respectively, of 2011. The gross profit margins on these sales were 54.8 percent and 52.0 percent in the third quarter of 2012 and 2011, respectively. The increase was driven by a shift in mix toward higher margin internal sales and an increase in the external sales margin. The gross profit margins were 56.0 percent and 54.4 percent for the first nine months of 2012 and 2011, respectively. The increase was driven by margin increases in both external and internal sales, partially offset by a shift in mix toward lower margin external sales.

The table below presents the recorded amount of unguaranteed residual value for sales-type, direct financing and operating leases at January 1, 2012 and September 30, 2012. In addition, the table presents the residual value as a percentage of the related original amount financed and a run out of when the unguaranteed residual value assigned to equipment on leases at September 30, 2012 is expected to be returned to the company. In addition to the unguaranteed residual value, on a limited basis, Global Financing will obtain guarantees of the future value of the equipment to be returned at end of lease. While primarily focused on IBM products, guarantees are also obtained for certain OEM products. These third-party guarantees are included in minimum lease payments as provided for by accounting standards in the determination of lease classifications for the covered equipment and provide protection against risk of loss arising from declines in equipment values for these assets.

The residual value guarantee increases the minimum lease payments that are utilized in determining the classification of a lease as a sales-type lease, direct financing lease or operating lease. The aggregate asset values associated with the guarantees of sales-type leases were $175 million and $125 million for the financing transactions originated during the quarters ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively, and $461 million and $561 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively. The aggregate asset values associated with the guarantees of direct financing leases were $42 million and $9 million for the financing transactions originated during the quarters ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively, and $137 million and $9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively. The associated aggregate guaranteed future values at the scheduled end of lease were $18 million and $9 million for the financing transactions originated during the quarters ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively, and $38 million and $28 million for the financing transactions originated during the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively. The cost of guarantees was $1.8 million and $0.9 million for the quarters ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively and $3.8 million and $2.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, respectively.

Debt

	At September 30, 2012	At December 31, 2011
Debt-to-equity ratio	7.1x	7.2x

The company funds Global Financing through borrowings using a debt-to-equity ratio target of approximately 7 to 1. The debt used to fund Global Financing assets is composed of intercompany loans and external debt. The terms of the intercompany loans are set by the company to substantially match the term and currency underlying the financing receivable and are based on arm's-length pricing. Both assets and debt are presented in the Global Financing balance sheet on page 71.

Global Financing provides financing predominantly for the company's external client assets, as well as for assets under contract by other IBM units. As previously stated, the company measures Global Financing as a stand-alone entity, and accordingly, interest expense relating to debt supporting Global Financing's external client and internal business is included in the Global Financing Results of Operations on pages 70 and 71 and in Segment Information on pages 25 through 27.

In the company's Consolidated Statement of Earnings on page 3, the external debt-related interest expense supporting Global Financing's internal financing to the company is reclassified from cost of financing to interest expense.

The following table provides additional information on total company debt. In this table, intercompany activity includes internal loans and leases at arm's-length pricing in support of Global Services' long-term contracts and other internal activity. The company believes these assets should be appropriately leveraged in line with the overall Global Financing business model.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As a segment of the company, Global Financing is supported by the company's overall liquidity position and access to capital markets. Cash generated by Global Financing was primarily deployed to pay intercompany payables and dividends to the company in order to maintain an appropriate debt-to-equity ratio.

Looking Forward

Global Financing's financial position provides flexibility and funding capacity which enables the company to be well positioned in the current environment. Global Financing's assets and new financing volumes are primarily IBM products and services financed to the company's clients and business partners, and substantially all financing assets are IT related assets which provide a stable base of business for future growth. Global Financing's offerings are competitive and available to clients as a result of the company's borrowing cost and access to the capital markets. Overall, Global Financing's originations will be dependent upon the demand for IT products and services as well as client participation rates.

IBM continues to access both the short-term commercial paper market and the medium- and long-term debt markets. A protracted period where IBM could not access the capital markets would likely lead to a slowdown in originations.

Interest rates and the overall economy (including currency fluctuations) will have an effect on both revenue and gross profit. The company's interest rate risk management policy, however, combined with the Global Financing pricing strategy should mitigate gross margin erosion due to changes in interest rates.

The economy could impact the credit quality of the Global Financing receivables portfolio and therefore the level of provision for credit losses. Global Financing will continue to apply rigorous credit policies in both the origination of new business and the evaluation of the existing portfolio.

As discussed on page 73, Global Financing has historically been able to manage residual value risk both through insight into the company's product cycles, as well as through its remarketing business.

Global Financing has policies in place to manage each of the key risks involved in financing. These policies, combined with product and client knowledge, should allow for the prudent management of the business going forward, even during periods of uncertainty with respect to the global economy.

GAAP Reconciliation

The tables below provide a reconciliation of the company's income statement results as reported under GAAP to its operating earnings presentation which is a non-GAAP measure. The company's calculation of operating earnings, as presented, may differ from similarly titled measures reported by other companies. Forward-Looking and Cautionary Statements

Except for the historical information and discussions contained herein, statements contained in this release may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are based on the company's current assumptions regarding future business and financial performance. These statements involve a number of risks, uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual results to differ materially, including the following: a downturn in economic environment and corporate IT spending budgets; the company's failure to meet growth and productivity objectives; a failure of the company's innovation initiatives; risks from investing in growth opportunities; failure of the company's intellectual property portfolio to prevent competitive offerings and the failure of the company to obtain necessary licenses; cybersecurity and data privacy considerations; fluctuations in financial results and purchases; impact of local legal, economic, political and health conditions; adverse effects from environmental matters, tax matters and the company's pension plans; ineffective internal controls; the company's use of accounting estimates; the company's ability to attract and retain key personnel and its reliance on critical skills; impacts of relationships with critical suppliers and business with government clients; currency fluctuations and customer financing risks; impact of changes in market liquidity conditions and customer credit risk on receivables; reliance on third party distribution channels; the company's ability to successfully manage acquisitions and alliances; risk factors related to IBM securities; and other risks, uncertainties and factors discussed in the company's Form 10-Q, Form 10-K and in the company's other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) or in materials incorporated therein by reference. The company assumes no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

The company's management evaluated, with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of the company's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this report. There has been no change in the company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter covered by this report that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the company's internal control over financial reporting.

Part II Other Information
