Table of Contents*I. Operating Results and Financial Conditions*2007 Third Quarter in Review

Looking back at the global economy in the third quarter of 2007, economic expansion was fairly steady during the term. In the United States, despite concern over the economic fallout of the subprime loan crisis, the impact was limited and the economy continued to display moderate growth. In Europe, while export growth proved sluggish, the region headed toward moderate recovery as domestic demand expanded in major European countries, boosted by such factors as increased consumer spending. Within Asia, the Chinese economy maintained a high rate of growth while other economies in the region also enjoyed generally favorable conditions. In Japan, although consumer spending grew at a sluggish pace, the economy maintained a trend toward recovery boosted by such factors as increased capital spending.

As for the markets in which the Canon Group operates, within the camera segment, demand for digital single-lens reflex (SLR) cameras and compact digital cameras continued to realize healthy growth during the term. Within the office imaging products market, sales of network digital multifunction devices (MFDs) remained solid as demand shifted in all regions toward color models and advanced functionality. In the computer peripherals segment, which includes printers, demand for laser beam printers continued growing for both color and monochrome models. Among inkjet printers, as the shift in demand from single-function to multifunction machines gained momentum, price competition for multifunction models increased in severity. In the optical equipment segment, while demand for steppers, used in the production of semiconductors, indicated a moderate recovery, the market for projection aligners, used to produce liquid crystal display (LCD) panels, declined due to restrained investment by LCD manufacturers. The average value of the yen in the third quarter was ¥117.67 to the U.S. dollar and ¥161.82 to the euro, representing year-on-year decreases of about 1% against the U.S. dollar and about 9% against the euro.

Amid these conditions, Canon's consolidated net sales for the third quarter increased by 6.4% from the year-ago period to ¥1,050.8 billion (U.S.$9,138 million), boosted by a solid rise in sales of digital cameras and color network MFDs, along with the positive effect of favorable currency exchange rates. The gross profit ratio in the third quarter improved 0.9 points year on year to 50.3%. The improved gross profit ratio was mainly the result of such factors as the launch of new products and continued cost-reduction efforts, which absorbed the effects of escalating raw material costs, declining sales price in the consumer products market, and an increase in depreciation expense due to the implementation of a change in accounting method to calculate depreciation of fixed assets. Owing to the improved gross profit ratio, third quarter gross profit increased by 8.3% to ¥528.4 billion (U.S.$4,594 million). Operating expenses for the third quarter increased by 12.3% from the year-ago period to ¥354.1 billion (U.S.$3,079 million), mainly due to an increase in depreciation expense, a factor that also led to a rise in cost of sales, along with R&D spending of ¥90.0 billion (U.S.$783 million), representing a year-on-year increase of 27.3%. Consequently, third-quarter operating profit totaled ¥174.2 billion (U.S.$1,515 million), a year-on-year increase of 0.9%. Other income (deductions) decreased by ¥19.5 billion (U.S.$170 million), due to an increase in currency exchange loss on foreign-currency-denominated trade receivables. Income before income taxes and minority interests in the third quarter totaled ¥162.3 billion (U.S.$1,412 million), a year-on-year decrease of 10.0%, and third quarter net income totaled ¥105.3 billion (U.S.$916 million), a decrease of 8.9% compared with last year.

Basic net income per share for the third quarter was ¥81.94 (U.S.$0.71), a year-on-year decrease of ¥4.86 (U.S.$0.04).

Table of Contents*Results by Product Segment

In the business machine segment, demand for network digital MFDs, which are grouped in the office imaging products sub-segment, continued to expand for color models in both the domestic Japanese and overseas markets. Additionally, among color network digital MFDs, the competitively priced iR C2880 series and the high-end iR C5185 series continued to enjoy strong sales. Among monochrome network digital MFDs, the iR5055 series and the new energy-saving iR3025 series contributed to expanded sales. Overall, sales of office imaging products for the third quarter recorded a year-on-year increase of 13.2%. In the field of computer peripherals, while laser beam printers achieved year-on-year unit sales growth amid strong demand for monochrome models, and consumables also grew favorably, sales in value terms for the segment remained at the same approximate level as the same period last year due to an increase in low-priced models as a percentage of unit sales as market demand shifted toward low-end models. As for inkjet printers, despite a continuing decline in unit sales for single-function models and severe price competition in the market, sales in value terms increased by 12.8%, boosted by such factors as increased unit sales of multifunction models, such as the PIXMA MP600, and healthy sales growth for consumables. As a result, sales of computer peripherals for the third quarter realized a year-on-year increase of 2.9%. Within the field of business information products, demand for document scanners grew, contributing to a sales increase of 1.6%. Collectively, sales of business machines for the third quarter totaled ¥685.8 billion (U.S.$5,963 million), a year-on-year increase of 7.2%. Operating profit for the business machine segment totaled ¥152.4 billion (U.S.$1,325 million), a year-on-year increase of 9.5%, made possible by such factors as increased sales and an improved gross profit ratio.

Within the camera segment, demand for digital SLR cameras fueled growth, with particularly strong sales for the competitively priced EOS DIGITAL REBEL XT<sub>i</sub> and the new advanced-amateur model EOS 40D, launched in the third quarter of this year, which, in turn, led to expanded sales of interchangeable lenses for SLR cameras. Sales of compact digital cameras also continued to expand steadily with healthy demand for stylish ELPH-series models as well as for PowerShot-series models, which cater to a diverse range of shooting styles. Accordingly, unit sales of digital cameras for the third quarter expanded approximately 20% compared with the year-ago period. As a result, camera sales overall for the term increased by 14.0% year on year to ¥268.0 billion (U.S.$2,330 million). Operating profit for the camera segment totaled ¥76.9 billion (U.S.$668 million), a year-on-year increase of 14.0%, boosted by such factors as the suppression of price declines through the launch of new products and continued cost-reduction efforts, as well as sales growth.

In the optical and other products segment, while steppers, used in the production of semiconductors, enjoyed steady demand, sales of optical products decreased for the three-month period amid declining demand for aligners for the production of LCD panels as investment by LCD manufacturers remained at a low level. As a result, third-quarter sales for the segment totaled ¥97.0 billion (U.S.$844 million), a year-on-year decrease of 14.4%. Operating profit for the segment decreased by 83.6% year on year to ¥2.4 billion (U.S.$20 million).

Cash Flow

In the nine months ended September 30, 2007, Canon generated cash flow from operating activities of ¥562.6 billion (U.S.$4,892 million), a year-on-year increase of ¥102.9 billion (U.S.$895 million), reflecting the growth in net sales and net income and the change in working capital. Cash flow from investing activities totaled ¥340.9 billion (U.S.$2,965 million), due to such factors as active capital investment, used mainly to expand production capabilities. As a result, free cash flow totaled ¥221.7 billion (U.S.$1,927 million), representing a ¥90.2 billion (U.S.$784 million) improvement from ¥131.5 billion for the year-ago period.

Cash flow from financing activities recorded an outlay of ¥602.7 billion (U.S.$5,241 million), mainly resulting from the dividend payout of ¥131.6 billion (U.S.$1,144 million) in accordance with the company's basic policy regarding profit distribution and the ¥450.0 billion (U.S.$3,913 million) purchase of treasury stock with the aim of improving capital efficiency and ensuring a flexible capital strategy. Consequently, cash and cash equivalents totaled ¥766.3 billion (U.S.$6,664 million), representing a ¥389.3 billion (U.S.$3,385 million) decrease from the end of the previous year.

Table of Contents*Outlook

As for the global economic outlook in the fourth quarter, although uncertainty surrounds such factors as the future direction of crude-oil and raw-material prices and a slowdown in the U.S. economy, the global economy is expected to continue growing gradually.

In the businesses in which Canon is involved, demand for both digital SLR cameras and compact digital cameras is expected to continue enjoying robust growth. As for network digital MFDs and laser beam printers, while additional demand is projected for full-color models, severe price competition and shifting demand toward lower-priced models are expected to continue. Within the semiconductor-production equipment market, demand for steppers indicates a trend toward steady performance supported by increasing orders from chip manufacturers, while demand for projection aligners used in the production of LCD panels is expected to continue being sluggish as investment levels by LCD manufacturers remain low.

Following a review of the current business climate and currency exchange trends, the company has revised its forecast for the 2007 fiscal year and now anticipates consolidated net sales of ¥4,560.0 billion (U.S.$39,652 million) while maintaining its forecasts for consolidated income before income taxes and minority interests of ¥788.0 billion (U.S.$6,852 million), and consolidated net income of ¥500.0 billion (U.S.$4,348 million). These forecasts reflect an increase in depreciation expense of around ¥63.0 billion (U.S.$548 million) for the full business year, resulting from the change in the accounting method used to calculate depreciation. Additionally, these forecasts assume exchange rates of ¥115 to the U.S. dollar and ¥160 to the euro, representing an approximately 2% appreciation of the yen against the U.S. dollar, and an approximately 5% depreciation of the yen against the euro compared with the previous year.

(2) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying consolidated financial statements reflect the adjustments which management believes are necessary to conform them with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, except for the segment information, as required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No.131, Disclosure about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information.

The disclosure is omitted for other than listed below, since no significant change has occurred since the date of the annual financial statements.

Change of Depreciation Method

On April 1, 2007, the Company and its domestic subsidiaries elected to change the declining balance method of depreciating machinery and equipment from the fixed-percentage-on-declining base application to the 250% declining balance application. Estimated salvage values were also reduced in conjunction with this change. The change in depreciation methods caused an increase in depreciation expense by JPY40,363 million (U.S.$ 350,983thousand) for the nine months ended September 30, 2007.

8. OTHER

We have engaged Ernst & Young ShinNihon to perform a review of the consolidated statements of income, the consolidated balance sheets, the consolidated statements of the stockholders' equity and the consolidated statements of cash flows as of and for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007. This review engagement was partially performed in accordance with Statement of Auditing Standards No.100, Interim Financial Information ( SAS 100 ), established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the consolidated interim financial information does not include certain disclosures, such as notes to financial statements, compared with that required under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

This document contains forward-looking statements with respect to future results, performance and achievements that are subject to risk and uncertainties and reflect management's views and assumptions formed by available information. All statements other than statements of historical fact are statements that could be considered forward-looking statements. When used in this document, words such as anticipate, believe, estimate, expect, intend, may, or should and similar expressions, as they relate to Canon, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Many factors could cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Canon to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements that may be expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements, including, among others, changes in general economic and business conditions, changes in currency exchange rates and interest rates, introduction of competing products by other companies, lack of acceptance of new products or services by Canon's targeted customers, inability to meet efficiency and cost reduction objectives, changes in business strategy and various other factors, both referenced and not referenced in this document. A detailed description of these and other risk factors is included in Canon's annual report on Form 20-F, which is on file with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described herein. Canon does not intend or assume any obligation to update these forward-looking statements.
