BUNZL ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

In a statement at today's AGM, Michael Roney, Chief Executive of Bunzl plc, said that in spite of the upward movement of US dollar interest rates, the current level of trading is satisfactory, supported by upward pressure from commodity prices leading to slightly stronger pricing. Overall organic growth is in line with expectations with the percentage increase in North America slightly higher than in 2005. He added that the integration of Bunzl's recent acquisitions, particularly those in North America which came in with lower than the Group's average margins, is ongoing. With respect to currency movements, he further indicated that while the year to date average value of the dollar is stronger than in 2005, the recent weakness, if continued until the end of the first half, will offset some of the positive translation impact from the first quarter.

He also stated that Bunzl's strong market leadership and growth potential both organically and through acquisitions continues to give the Board confidence that the prospects of the Group are good and that the business will continue to develop satisfactorily.
