GOVERNMENT SHOULD
EXPLAIN WHY IT REJECTED RYANAIR'S DEC 2008 OFFER, WHICH WOULD HAVE CREATED 1,000 NEW JOBS IN AER LINGUS
WHEN YESTER
DAY THEY ANNOUNCE 670
JOB LOSSES

Ryanair, Ireland's favourite airline today (

Thursday,

8

th

October

2009

) called on the Department of Transport, to explain why it rejected Ryanair's December 2008 offer for Aer Lingus

, which guaranteed to double the size of Aer Lingus' short-haul fleet and create 1,000 new jobs in the airline over a 5 year period, when

yesterday t

he Board of Aer Lingus

, which is controlled by the Irish Government and the trade unions announce d

670

jobs losses

, as well as

pay
and pension
cuts in Aer Lingus.

Ryanair's

Dec
2008 offer document for Aer Lingus guaranteed

to double Aer Lingus' short-haul fleet from 30 to over 60 aircraft, create 1,000 new jobs for pilots, cabin crew and engineers over a 5 year period, while at the same time

reduc

ing

Aer Lingus' fares, removing its fuel surcharges, securing its

brand, Heathrow slots and connectivity

Ryanair's offer would also have provided Aer Lingus with a strong financial partner, at a time when all other

airlines

across

Europe are collapsing or consolidating into one of the big four European airlines led by Air France, BA, Lufthansa and Ryanair.

Since the Minister for Transport rejected Ryanair's offer, Aer Lingus has:

Dec 2008

- Announced record losses of over €100m for 2008.
- Guided increased losses in 2009.
- Seen its long-haul traffic collapse
- Seen its net cash balances fall from over €800m, to less than €400m.
- Yesterday announced over 670 jobs losses

, and pay and pension
cuts.

Ryanair's Michael O'Leary said

"Yesterday

's announcement of widespread job losses and pay cuts in Aer Lingus is further evidence of the incompetence of Ireland's Department of Transport. Since they rejected Ryanair's second offer for Aer Lingus last January, the Irish Government and the trade unions have controlled the Board of

Aer Lingus

and have spectacularly mismanaged it. Aer Lingus' share price has collapsed, its losses have exploded, its transatlantic business is in freefall and now

they

why they rejected a n

offer from the world's largest international airline, which would

and creat ed
up to 1,000 new jobs at the airline

connectivity
. The sooner the dead hand of the Department of Transport and its* *corrupt

Civil Service is removed from the transport

*"
Ryanair believes there is a bright future for Aer Lingus, but it will never be achiev

while it is mismanaged by a bunch of political and trade union hacks on the Aer Lingus Board
".*
