Your Fund s Performance

Fund Objective

The primary investment objective of The High Yield Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is to maximize current income to shareholders. As a secondary investment objective, the Fund will seek capital appreciation, but only when consistent with its primary objective. The Fund will seek to achieve its objectives by investing primarily in corporate bonds rated below investment grade by independent rating agencies. Bonds rated below investment grade are commonly known as junk bonds and are subject to greater risk of default and higher volatility than investment-grade bonds. Furthermore, these bonds tend to be less liquid than higher-quality bonds. The Fund is diversified, and we carefully research companies to find those with attractive yields and improving credit quality. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objectives.

Investment Adviser s Report

Prudential Investment Management, Inc.

A solid year for U.S. high yield corporate bonds

Despite volatile market conditions during the Fund s fiscal year that began September 1, 2003, U.S. high yield corporate bonds, commonly called junk bonds, performed impressively. The sector returned 13.98% for the reporting period, based on the Lehman Brothers U.S. Corporate High Yield Index (the Index). The Fund exceeded the Index by returning 17.40% but lagged the Lipper Closed-End High Current Yield Funds Average (the Lipper Average), which returned 21.05%.

A firm underpinning to the U.S. high yield market

Favorable credit fundamentals helped fuel gains among high yield bonds. Amid an economic recovery in the United States, some firms that issue high yield bonds reported better earnings and improved levels of free cash flow during the reporting period. Some firms reduced their indebtedness, enhancing the security of their remaining high yield bonds. In addition, interest rates were low for much of the reporting period, so investors bought high yield bonds for the extra yield.

Rate hike fears temporarily hurt U.S. high yield bond market

The Federal Reserve (the Fed) had left short-term interest rates at historically low levels to help support the economic expansion that was failing to create many new jobs. However, in the spring of 2004, data indicated that the job market was strengthening. This news and higher inflation led financial markets to anticipate that the Fed would soon begin increasing short-term rates to lessen monetary stimulus in the economy. This hurt debt securities, including high yield bonds, because bond prices move inversely to interest rates.

U.S. high yield bonds staged a late rebound

The federal funds rate the rate banks charge each other for overnight loans was raised from 1.00% to 1.25% in late June 2004 and from 1.25% to 1.50% in August 2004. The Fed reiterated that further rate hikes would likely occur at a measured pace, but warned it would respond to changing economic prospects as needed to maintain price stability. Meanwhile, economic growth had already begun to slow as high oil prices seemed to hurt consumer spending. Moderating growth and a possible gradual rise in rates soothed concerns about investing in bonds. Thus the high yield rally resumed late in the reporting period.

Leverage among key factors in Fund performance

The Fund employs leverage, which refers to the practice of taking out a relatively low-interest loan against a percentage of assets in the portfolio and using that money to purchase other investments. It can materially enhance a portfolio s return when the underlying bonds rally, or it can detract from a portfolio s return when the underlying bonds decline in value. For the reporting period ended August 31, 2004, we believe the Fund s use of leverage was one of the factors that helped it perform better than its benchmark Index. On the other hand, some portfolios included in the Lipper Average employ leverage more aggressively than the Fund and have a larger exposure to lower-quality high yield bonds and even equities. We believe the Fund s more moderate use of leverage and smaller exposure to lower-quality high yield bonds were major reasons that the Fund lagged its Lipper Average for the reporting period.

Research-driven security selection benefited the Fund

Our bottom-up analysis of corporate cash flows, earnings, management trends, and other factors enabled good security selection in certain industries that enhanced the Fund s return for the reporting period. We had positioned the Fund to benefit from an anticipated surge in commodity prices partially because of demand from China. Therefore, the Fund had a larger exposure than the Index to metals & mining as well as chemicals. Among its holdings were notes of A.K. Steel Corp. that performed well amid continued strong demand for steel, and notes of Huntsman LLC that gained in value as improved pricing power allowed the firm to pass along higher raw materials costs to its customers.

Relatively light exposure to telecommunications and airlines

The Fund had a lower exposure than its benchmark Index to some of the worst-performing bonds in the troubled wireline telecommunications industry (Level 3 Communications and Qwest Communications International) and the airline industry (Delta Air Lines, Inc. and United Airlines). Wireline telecom continues to suffer from increased competition, particularly for business customers, and lingering overcapacity in fiber-optic networks. These were built in the late 1990s when there was much capital available to finance their construction. Meanwhile, the airline industry faces high fuel prices, increased competition from low-cost carriers, and the impact of the Internet, which enables consumers to easily compare ticket prices at various airlines.

Troubled supermarket chain detracted from Fund return

Among the holdings that detracted from the Fund s return were bonds of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., which have since been sold. The supermarket chain s debt securities declined in value as it faces increasing competitive pressures and growing concern that the firm may file for bankruptcy.

Fund held too few bonds of consumer products firms

Because we expected consumer spending to slow in coming months, the Fund had smaller exposures than the Index to the debt securities of several consumer-related companies, including Levi Strauss & Co. and Revlon Inc. However, this strategy hurt the Fund's return relative to the Index because debt securities of both companies gained in value during the reporting period. Levi Strauss has lowered costs by shutting down a North American plant and moving production overseas, cutting jobs, and improving sales at some retailers. Revlon Chairman Ronald O. Perelman announced plans to cut the makeup manufacturer's debt by taking steps such as swapping debt for equity. The Fund remains underweight in the bonds of both companies because we still expect consumer spending to slow.

Edgar Filing: HIGH YIELD INCOME FUND INC - Form N-CSR

Notes to Financial Statements

The High Yield Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund ) was organized in Maryland on August 21, 1987 as a diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Fund s primary investment objective is to maximize current income to shareholders through investment in a diversified portfolio of high-yield, fixed-income securities rated in the medium to lower categories by recognized rating services, or non-rated securities of comparable quality. As a secondary investment objective, the Fund will seek capital appreciation, but only when consistent with its primary objective. The ability of issuers of debt securities held by the Fund to meet their obligations may be affected by economic or political developments in a specific industry or region.

Note 1. Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuation: Portfolio securities that are actively traded in the over-the-counter market, including listed securities for which the primary market is believed to be over-the-counter, are valued at prices provided by principal market makers and pricing agents. Any security for which the primary market is on an exchange is valued at the last sales price on such exchange on the day of valuation or, if there was no sale on such day, the last bid price quoted on such day. Securities issued in private placements are valued at the bid price or the mean between the bid and asked prices, if available, provided by principal market makers. Any security for which a reliable market quotation is unavailable is valued at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Fund s Board of Directors. Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security s most recent closing price and from the price used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values.

Short-term securities which mature in sixty days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. The amortized cost method involves valuing a security at its cost on the date of purchase and thereafter assuming a constant amortization to maturity of the difference between the principal amount due at maturity and cost. Short-term securities which mature in more than sixty days are valued at current market quotations.

In connection with transactions in repurchase agreements with U.S. financial institutions, it is the Fund s policy that its custodian or designated subcustodians, as the case may be under triparty repurchase agreements, take possession of the # Notes to Financial Statements Cont d underlying collateral securities, the value of which exceeds the principal amount of the repurchase transaction including accrued interest. If the seller defaults and the value of the collateral declines, or if bankruptcy proceedings are commenced with respect to the seller of the security, realization of the collateral by the Fund may be delayed or limited. The Fund s custodian will maintain, in a segregated account of the Fund, cash, U.S. Government securities, equity securities or other liquid, unencumbered assets marked to market daily, having a value equal to or greater than the Fund s purchase commitments with respect to certain investments. Restricted Securities: The Fund may invest up to 20% of its total assets in securities which are not readily marketable, including those which are restricted as to disposition under securities law (restricted securities). Cash Flow Information: The Fund invests in securities and distributes dividends from net investment income which are paid in cash or are reinvested at the discretion of shareholders. These activities are reported in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets and additional information on cash receipts and cash payments is presented in the Statement of Cash Flows. Accounting practices that do not affect reporting activities on a cash basis include carrying investments at value, accruing income on PIK (payment-in-kind) securities and accreting market discounts and amortizing premiums on debt obligations. Foreign Currency Translation: The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currency amounts are translated into U.S. dollars on the following basis: (i) market value of investment securities, other assets and liabilities at the current rates of exchange. (ii) purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Although the net assets of the Fund are presented at the foreign exchange rates and market values at the close of the period, the Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising as a result of changes in the foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities held at the end of the period. Similarly, the Fund does not isolate the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of long-term debt securities sold during the period. Accordingly, such realized foreign currency gains or losses are included in the reported net realized gains or losses on investment transactions.

Net realized gains or losses on foreign currency transactions represent net foreign exchange gains or losses from sales and maturities of short-term securities and forward currency contracts, disposition of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of interest, discount and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund s books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net currency gains or losses resulting from the valuing of foreign currency denominated assets (excluding investments) and liabilities at year-end exchange rates are reflected as a component of net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currencies.

Foreign security and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with those of U.S. companies as a result of, among other factors, the possibility of political or economic instability and the level of governmental supervision and regulation of foreign securities markets.

Security Transactions and Investment Income: Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized and unrealized gains (losses) from securities transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Interest income, which is comprised of stated coupon rate, original issue discount, market discount and premium, is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Expenses are recorded on the accrual basis.

Taxes: For federal income tax purposes, it is the Fund s policy to continue to meet the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable net income and capital gains, if any, to its shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

Dividends and Distributions: The Fund expects to pay dividends of net investment income monthly and make distributions of net realized capital and currency gains, if any, annually. Dividends and distributions to shareholders, which are determined in accordance with United States federal income tax regulations and which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles, are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Permanent book/tax differences relating to income and gains are reclassified amongst undistributed net investment income, accumulated net realized gain or loss and paid-in capital in excess of par, as appropriate.

Estimates: The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 2. Agreements

The Fund has a management agreement with Prudential Investments LLC (PI). Pursuant to this agreement, PI has responsibility for all investment advisory services and supervises the subadviser s performance of such services. PI has entered into a subadvisory agreement with Prudential Investment Management, Inc. (PIM). PIM furnishes investment advisory services in connection with the management of the Fund. PI pays for the services of PIM, the compensation of officers and employees of the Fund, occupancy and certain clerical and bookkeeping costs of the Fund. The Fund bears all other costs and expenses.

The management fee paid to PI is computed weekly and payable monthly, at an annual rate of .70 of 1% of the average weekly net assets of the Fund.

PI and PIM are indirect, wholly-owned subsidiaries of The Prudential Financial, Inc. ( The Prudential ).

Note 3. Portfolio Securities

Purchases and sales of investment securities, other than short-term investments, for the year ended August 31, 2004 aggregated $84,555,194 and $86,875,687, respectively.

Note 4. Tax Information

In order to present undistributed net investment income and accumulated net realized gains (losses) on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities that more closely represent their tax character, certain adjustments have been made to undistributed net investment income and accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments. For the year ended August 31, 2004, the adjustments were to increase undistributed net investment income by $351,312, decrease accumulated net realized loss on investments by $3,039,895, and decrease paid-in capital in excess of par by $3,391,207 primarily due to the difference in the treatment of accreting market discount between financial and tax reporting and the expiration of a capital loss carryforward in the current year. Net investment income, net realized gains and net assets were not affected by this change.

For the years ended August 31, 2004 and August 31, 2003, the tax character of total dividends paid, as reflected on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets, of $6,581,949 and $6,199,416, respectively, was ordinary income.

As of August 31, 2004, the accumulated undistributed earnings on a tax basis was $54,314 of taxable ordinary income. The tax basis differs from the amount shown on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities due to the deferral of Post-October net currency losses for tax purposes.

The United States federal income tax basis of the Fund s investments and the net unrealized appreciation as of August 31, 2004, were as follows:

Tax Basis of Investments	Appreciation	Depreciation	Other Cost Basis Adjustment	Net Unrealized Appreciation
$86,736,552	$4,500,758	$(2,925,235)	$(237)	$1,575,286

The difference between book basis and tax basis was attributable to deferred losses on wash sales and differences in the treatment of premium and market discount amortization for book and tax purposes.

For federal income tax purposes, the Fund has a capital loss carryforward as of August 31, 2004 of approximately $23,745,100, of which $1,361,400 expires in 2007, $3,336,700 expires in 2008, $5,010,500 expires in 2009, $6,960,200 expires in 2010 and $7,076,300 expires in 2011. As of August 31, 2004, the Fund utilized approximately $2,178,300 of its capital loss carryforward and approximately $3,391,200 expired. Accordingly, no capital gains distribution is expected to be paid to shareholders until net realized gains have been realized in excess of such amounts. It is uncertain whether the Fund will be able to realize the full benefit prior to the expiration date. In addition, the Fund will elect to treat net currency losses of approximately $2,900 incurred in the period November 1, 2003 through August 31, 2004, as having accrued in the following fiscal year.

Note 5. Borrowings

The Fund has a $25,000,000 uncommitted line of credit with State Street Bank & Trust Co. Interest on any such borrowings outstanding fluctuates daily, at one percentage point over the Federal Funds rate.

The average daily balance outstanding and the maximum face amount of borrowings outstanding at any month end for the year ended August 31, 2004 was $24,933,060 and $25,000,000 respectively, at a weighted average interest rate of 2.13%.

Note 6. Capital

There are 200 million shares of $.01 par value common stock authorized. Prudential owned 11,000 shares of common stock as of August 31, 2004.

During the year ended August 31, 2004 and the year ended August 31, 2003 the Fund issued 62,514 and 80,566 shares, respectively, in connection with the reinvestment of dividends.

Note 7. Change in Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP was previously the independent registered public accounting firm for the Fund. The decision to change the independent registered public accounting firm was approved by the Audit Committee and by the Board of Directors in a meeting held on May 25, 2004, resulting in KPMG LLP s appointment as the independent registered public accounting firm of the Fund.

The reports on the financial statements of the Fund audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP through the year ended August 31, 2003 did not contain an adverse opinion or disclaimer of opinion, and were not qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope or accounting principles. There were no disagreements between the Fund and PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedures.

Note 8. Subsequent Events

On September 1 and October 1, 2004 the Board of Directors of the Fund declared dividends of $.0425 per share payable on September 30 and October 29, 2004 respectively, to shareholders of record on September 15 and October 15, 2004, respectively.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of

The High Yield Income Fund, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of The High Yield Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund ), including the portfolio of investments, as of August 31, 2004, and the related statement of operations, the statement of changes in net assets, statement of cash flows, and the financial highlights for the year then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audit. The statement of changes in net assets for the year ended August 31, 2003 and the financial highlights for the periods presented prior to the year ended August 31, 2004, were audited by other auditors, whose report dated, October 22, 2003, expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of August 31, 2004, by correspondence with the custodian. As to securities purchased or sold but not yet received or delivered, we performed other appropriate auditing procedures. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund, as of August 31, 2004, and the results of its operations, the changes in its net assets, its cash flows and the financial highlights for the year then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Tax Information
(Unaudited)
We wish to advise you as to the federal tax status of dividends paid by the Fund during its fiscal year ended August 31, 2004.
During the fiscal year ended August 31, 2004, the Fund paid dividends of ordinary income of $0.57 per share from net investment income. Further, we wish to advise you that 1.00% of the dividends taxable as ordinary income and paid in the fiscal year ended August 31, 2004 qualified for corporate dividend received deduction available to corporate taxpayers.
For the purpose of preparing your 2004 annual federal income tax return, however, you should report the amounts as reflected on the appropriate Form 1099 DIV which will be mailed to you in January 2005.
