To our Common Unitholders:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of the common unitholders of Constellation Energy Partners LLC (the Common Unitholders) to be held at 600 Travis, Suite 4200, Houston, Texas 77002 on October 12, 2007, at 10:00 a.m. local time.

Our board of managers has called the special meeting. At this meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote upon a proposal to approve (a) a change in the terms of our Class F Units to provide that each Class F Unit is convertible into one of our Common Units and (b) the issuance of additional Common Units upon such conversion (the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal). Upon approval of this proposal, all 3,371,219 outstanding Class F Units will convert automatically into 3,371,219 Common Units without any further action.

Our board of managers unanimously recommends that the Common Unitholders approve the proposal.

We are submitting the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal to you as a result of our acquisition of AMVEST Osage, Inc. on July 25, 2007 for approximately $240 million, subject to purchase price adjustments (the Amvest Acquisition). To partially finance the Amvest Acquisition, we sold 3,371,219 Class F Units and 2,664,998 Common Units at a negotiated average purchase price of $34.79 to certain institutional investors on July 25, 2007 to provide additional financing for the Amvest Acquisition.

We chose to issue Class F Units as part of the financing of the Amvest Acquisition because this form of financing provided timely access to the requisite equity capital at prices that we believe were competitive. Alternative sources of equity could have potentially been obtained, but at a risk of delaying completion of the Amvest Acquisition. For example, to have issued all the equity capital in the form of Common Units would have required a vote of our Common Unitholders prior to such issuance under the rules of NYSE Arca and thereby delayed completion of the transaction. This delay could have prevented the consummation of such transaction. The institutional investors agreed to accept Class F Units in lieu of additional Common Units, provided we ask Common Unitholders to approve the conversion of the Class F Units into Common Units no later than October 23, 2007. We are now asking you for this approval.

In connection with the sale of the Class F Units and Common Units to the institutional investors, Constellation Energy Partners Holdings, LLC (CEPH) entered into a Voting Agreement (the Voting Agreement), pursuant to which it agreed to vote all of the Common Units beneficially owned by it in favor of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal at any meeting of the Common Unitholders convened to consider such proposal. However, these votes will not be sufficient to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, so we encourage you to take part in the decision process by voting by proxy or at the special meeting. CEPH held approximately 45% of the outstanding Common Units (excluding the 2,664,998 Common Units purchased by institutional investors in the July 25, 2007 private placement) as of the record date.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, we urge you to mark, sign and date the enclosed proxy card and return it promptly. You will retain the option to revoke it as any time before the vote, or to vote your common units personally if you attend the special meeting.

For the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal to be approved, it must have the support of a majority of the votes cast at the special meeting, provided that the total number of votes cast is at least a majority of outstanding Common Units eligible to vote. Once our Common Unitholders approve the proposal, then the Class F Units will convert automatically into an equal number of Common Units without any further action.

We urge you to review carefully the attached proxy statement, which contains a detailed description of the proposal to be voted upon at the special meeting.

Sincerely,

Felix J. Dawson
Chief Executive Officer and President

PROXY STATEMENT

SPECIAL MEETING OF COMMON UNITHOLDERS

October 12, 2007

This proxy statement contains information related to the special meeting of Common Unitholders of Constellation Energy Partners LLC and any postponements or adjournments thereof. This proxy statement and the accompanying form of proxy is first being mailed to Constellation Energy Partners LLC's Common Unitholders on or about September 10, 2007.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The following is qualified in its entirety by the more detailed information contained in or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement. Common Unitholders are urged to read carefully this proxy statement in its entirety.

Q: WHEN AND WHERE IS THE SPECIAL MEETING?

A: The special meeting will be held on October 12, 2007 at 600 Travis, Suite 4200, Houston, Texas 77002 at 10:00 a.m. local time.

Q: WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THE SPECIAL MEETING?

A: At the special meeting, our Common Unitholders will act upon a proposal to approve (i) a change in the terms of our Class F Units to provide that each Class F Unit is convertible into one of our Common Units and (ii) the issuance of additional Common Units upon such conversion. Upon approval of this proposal, all 3,371,219 outstanding Class F Units will convert automatically into 3,371,219 Common Units without any further action. We refer to this proposal in this proxy statement as the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal.

Q: WHO IS ENTITLED TO VOTE AT THE SPECIAL MEETING?

A: All Common Unitholders who owned our Common Units at the close of business on the record date, August 24, 2007, are entitled to receive notice of the special meeting and to vote the Common Units that they held on the record date at the special meeting, or any postponements or adjournments of the special meeting. However, the Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal.

Q: HOW DO I VOTE?

A: Just mail your completed, signed and dated proxy card in the enclosed postage-prepaid return envelope as soon as possible so that your Common Units may be represented at the special meeting. You may also attend the special meeting and vote your Common Units in person. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, your plans may change, so it is a good idea to complete, sign and return your proxy card in advance of the special meeting.

Q: WHAT VOTE IS REQUIRED TO APPROVE THE PROPOSALS?

A: The Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal requires the approval of a majority of votes cast at the special meeting, provided that the total number of votes cast represents a majority of the outstanding Common Units entitled to vote at the special meeting. Thus, for purposes of the vote to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as votes against the proposal unless holders of more than 50% in interest of all common units entitled to vote cast votes, in which event abstentions and broker non-votes will not have any effect on the result of the vote. A properly executed proxy submitted without instructions on how to vote will be voted FOR the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. A properly executed proxy marked ABSTAIN with respect to any matter will not be voted, although it will be counted for purposes of determining whether there is a quorum. The Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. In connection with the sale of the Class F Units and Common Units to the institutional investors, CEPH entered into the Voting Agreement, pursuant to which it agreed to vote all of the Common Units beneficially owned by it in favor of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal at any meeting of the Common Unitholders convened to consider such proposal. CEPH held approximately 45% of the outstanding Common Units (excluding the 2,664,998 Units purchased by institutional investors in the July 25, 2007 private placement) as of the record date. For the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal to be approved, it must have the support of a majority of the votes cast at the special meeting, provided that the total number of votes cast is at least a majority of outstanding Common Units eligible to vote.

Q: WHAT IS THE QUORUM REQUIRED FOR THE SPECIAL MEETING?

A: If a majority of the outstanding Common Units entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal as of the record date is present in person or by proxy at the special meeting, that majority will constitute a quorum and will permit us to conduct the proposed business at the special meeting. Proxies received but marked as abstentions or as broker non-votes will be included in the number of Common Units considered to be present at the special meeting. Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the proposal and, as a result, will not be considered for purposes of determining whether a quorum exists.

Q: WHAT IS THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS?

A: Our board of managers recommends that you vote FOR the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal.

Q: WHAT HAPPENS IF THE CLASS F CONVERSION AND ISSUANCE PROPOSAL IS NOT APPROVED?

A: If holders of our Common Units do not approve the conversion of Class F Units to Common Units, then beginning on October 23, 2007, the Class F Units will be entitled to receive 115% of the initial quarterly distribution payable on each Common Unit after the initial quarterly distribution of $0.4625 has been paid on the Class A Units and the Common Units. This distribution reduces the amount of cash available for Common Unitholders because any cash available for distribution after the holders of the Class F Units have received their respective initial quarterly distribution would be distributed as follows: 2% to the Class A Unitholders, pro rata and 98% to the Common Unitholders and Class F Unitholders, pro rata. Thus, an increase in the percentage of the initial quarterly distribution to the Class F Unitholders from 100% to 115% would reduce any cash available for distributions to the Common Unitholders. We also will be obligated to resubmit the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal to holders of common units, but not more frequently than once every 180 days.

Q: WHAT HAPPENS IF THE CLASS F CONVERSION AND ISSUANCE PROPOSAL IS APPROVED?

A: Each outstanding Class F Unit will convert automatically into one Common Unit upon approval of the proposal, and those new Common Units will be issued and listed on NYSE Arca. For purposes of future distributions, former holders of Class F Units will become Common Unitholders and will no longer be entitled to 115% of the initial quarterly distribution payable on each Common Unit. The former holders of Class F Units would be entitled to receive 98% of the initial quarterly distribution pro rata with the current Common Unitholders. Upon the approval of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, the former Class F Units will be entitled to vote, pari passu, with the Common Units on all future matters. Thus, the voting power of current Common Unitholders who own Class F Units would increase, while the voting power of current Common Unitholders who do not own Class F Units would decrease as a result of dilution.

Q: AT PRESENT, HOW DO THE CLASS F UNITS QUARTERLY DISTRIBUTION RIGHTS DIFFER FROM THOSE OF THE COMMON UNITS?

A: The Class F Units are not entitled to receive any quarterly distributions, until the initial quarterly distribution of $0.4625 has been paid on the Common Units and the Class A Units. After the initial quarterly distribution has been paid on the Class A Units and the Common Units, the Class F Units would be entitled to receive 100% of the initial quarterly distribution. After the initial quarterly distribution has been paid on all of the Common Units, the Class A Units and the Class F Units, each such class of units will share pro rata in any distributions in excess of the amount of the initial quarterly distribution.

Q: HOW DO THE VOTING RIGHTS OF THE CLASS F UNITS COMPARE TO THOSE OF THE COMMON UNITS?

A: The Class F Units are non-voting except that the Class F Units shall be entitled to vote as a separate class on any matter that materially adversely affects the rights or preferences of the Class F Units in relation to other classes of our units or as required by law.

Q: IF MY COMMON UNITS ARE HELD IN STREET NAME BY MY BROKER, WILL MY BROKER VOTE MY COMMON UNITS FOR ME?

A: Your broker will not vote your Common Units unless you provide instructions on how to vote. You should instruct your broker how to vote your Common Units upon receipt of your broker's request for voting instructions. Without your instructions, your Common Units will not be voted.

Q: WHAT DO I DO IF I WANT TO CHANGE MY VOTE?

A: To change your vote after you have submitted your proxy card, send in a later-dated, signed proxy card to us or attend the special meeting and vote in person. You may also revoke your proxy by sending in a notice of revocation to us at the address set forth in the notice. Please note that attendance at the special meeting will not by itself revoke a previously granted proxy.

THE CLASS F CONVERSION AND ISSUANCE PROPOSAL

Background

We are submitting the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal to you as a result of our sale of 3,371,219 Class F Units to certain institutional investors. The sales price of the Class F Units was determined through negotiations with the institutional investors. We used the proceeds from the sale of the Class F Units to partially finance a portion of the cost of our Amvest Acquisition. We financed the balance of the purchase price through:

the private placement of 2,664,998 Common Units, which together with the private placement of the Class F Units generated net proceeds to us of approximately $210 million; and funds available under our revolving credit facility.

We chose to issue Class F Units as part of the financing of the Amvest Acquisition because this form of financing provided timely access to the requisite equity capital at prices that we believe were competitive. Alternative sources of equity could have potentially been obtained, but at a risk of delaying completion of the Amvest Acquisition. This delay could have prevented the consummation of such transaction. For example, under the rules of NYSE Arca, issuing all of the equity securities in the equity private placement in the form of Common Units would have required a vote of our Common Unitholders prior to such issuance. The solicitation of a Common Unitholder vote at that time would have delayed completion of the Amvest Acquisition. The institutional investors agreed to accept Class F Units in lieu of additional Common Units, provided we ask the holders of our Common Units to approve the conversion of the Class F Units into Common Units no later than October 23, 2007. We are now asking you for this approval.

The Proposal

At the special meeting, the holders of our Common Units will consider and act upon a proposal to approve (a) a change in the terms of our Class F Units to provide that each Class F Unit is convertible into one of our Common Units and (b) the issuance of additional Common Units upon such conversion.

Voting Agreement

In connection with the sale of the Class F Units and Common Units to the institutional investors, CEPH entered into the Voting Agreement, pursuant to which it agreed to vote all of the Common Units beneficially owned by it in favor of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal at any meeting of the Common Unitholders convened to consider such proposal. CEPH held approximately 45% of the outstanding Common Units (excluding the 2,664,998 Common Units purchased by institutional investors in the July 25, 2007 private placement) as of the record date. However, these votes will not be sufficient to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, so we encourage you to take part in the decision process by voting by proxy or at the special meeting.

Effects of Approval

Once our Common Unitholders approve the conversion of Class F Units at the special meeting, each outstanding Class F Unit will convert automatically into one Common Unit upon approval and will be listed on NYSE Arca. Following such conversion, no Class F Units will remain outstanding.

Effects of Failure to Approve

If holders of our common units do not approve the conversion of Class F units to common units, then beginning on October 23, 2007:

the Class F units will be entitled to receive 115% of the quarterly distribution payable on common units;

Edgar Filing: Constellation Energy Partners LLC - Form PRER14A

we will be obligated to resubmit a proposal for the conversion of Class F units to holders of common units, but not more frequently than once every 180 days.

Table of Contents

Although the Class F units would remain subordinated to the common units, any increase in distributions payable on the Class F units would reduce the amount of cash available for distributions to holders of common units and any other subordinated units. Distributions to any class of units of the Company will not be cumulative. Consequently, if distributions on the Company's Common Units, Class A Units and Class F Units are not paid with respect to any fiscal quarter at the initial quarterly distribution rate, the Company's unitholders will not be entitled to receive such payments in the future. Please see Description of Units' Cash Distribution Policy on page 8.

The 115% distributions will terminate if at any time there are no longer any Class F units outstanding, which would occur upon the automatic conversion of the Class F units into common units either (i) upon receipt of approval of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, whether at this special meeting or a subsequent meeting, or (ii) if at any time approval from our holders of common units is no longer required under the rules of NYSE Arca as a condition to listing the common units to be issued upon conversion of the Class F units.

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT THE COMMON UNITHOLDERS VOTE FOR APPROVAL OF THE CLASS F CONVERSION AND ISSUANCE PROPOSAL.

Reasons for Board of Managers' Recommendation

Our board of managers believes that the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal is in the best interests of our company and our Common Unitholders and should be approved for the following reasons:

If our Common Unitholders fail to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, each Class F Unit will be entitled to receive 115% of the initial quarterly distribution payable on each Common Unit. This distribution reduces the amount of cash available for distributions to Common Unitholders because any cash available for distribution after the holders of the Class F Units have received their respective initial quarterly distribution would be distributed as follows: 2% to the Class A Unitholders, pro rata and 98% to the Common Unitholders and Class F Unitholders, pro rata. Thus, an increase in the percentage of the initial quarterly distribution to the Class F Unitholders from 100% to 115% would reduce any cash available for distributions to the Common Unitholders;

Under the rules of NYSE Arca we could not have issued all of the privately placed equity securities necessary to fund the Amvest Acquisition in the form of Common Units without a vote of Common Unitholders prior to such issuance. The completion of the Amvest Acquisition could have been significantly delayed or not occurred at all if we had first been forced to call a special meeting of Common Unitholders. Instead, the institutional investors in the equity private placement agreed to accept Class F Units in lieu of additional Common Units provided that we ask Common Unitholders to approve the conversion of the Class F Units into Common Units no later than October 23, 2007; and

If the holders of our common units fail to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal at this special meeting, we have agreed to solicit the holders of our common units again at a subsequent special meeting. Any subsequent solicitation would result in additional costs and expenses to us and could decrease the amount of cash available to be distributed to holders of our common units.

OUR BUSINESS

We are a limited liability company that was formed by Constellation Energy Group, Inc. in 2005 to acquire oil and natural gas reserves. We are focused on the acquisition, development and production of oil and natural gas properties as well as related midstream assets. Voting Rights Holders of Class A Units have the right to vote with respect to the election of two members of our board of managers, certain amendments of our limited liability company agreement, the withdrawal or removal of members of our board of managers elected by the Class A Unitholders, the merger of our company or the sale of all or substantially all of our assets, and the dissolution of our company.

The approval of a majority of the Class F Units is required to approve any matter for which the holders of the Class F Units are entitled to vote as a separate class.

Exchange Listing

The Class F Units are not listed or traded on any exchange or quotation service. Once the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal is approved, the Common Units issuable upon a conversion of the Class F Units will be listed on NYSE Arca.

Cash Distribution Policy

Our limited liability company agreement requires that, within 45 days after the end of each quarter, we distribute all of our available cash to our Common Unitholders of record on the applicable record date. The term available cash means, for each fiscal quarter, all cash on hand at the end of the quarter, less the amount of cash reserves established by our board of managers to provide for the proper conduct of our business, to comply with applicable law or agreements, or to provide funds for future distributions to our Common Unitholders plus working capital borrowings after the end of the quarter. No distribution was paid for the second quarter of 2007 to the holders of the Class F Units and Common Units purchased in the July 25, 2007 private placement.

If the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal is not approved, each Class F unit will be entitled to receive 115% of the per unit quarterly distribution received by the common units, but the Class F units would remain subordinated to the common units in their right to receive the initial quarterly distribution. Distributions to any class of units of the Company will not be cumulative. Consequently, if distributions on the Company's Common Units, Class A Units and Class F Units are not paid with respect to any fiscal quarter at the initial quarterly distribution rate, the Company's unitholders will not be entitled to receive such payments in the future.

We currently distribute at the end of each fiscal quarter available cash, as follows:

first, 98% to the Common Unitholders and 2% to the Class A Unitholders, pro rata, until each unitholder has received the target distribution for that quarter;

second, 100% to the Class F Unitholders, pro rata, until each unitholder has received the target distribution for that quarter; provided, however, that if the Class F Units shall not have been converted to Common Units by October 23, 2007, such distribution shall be an amount equal to 115% for such quarter;

third, (A) 2% to the Class A Unitholders, pro rata and (B) 98% to the Common Unitholders and Class F Unitholders, pro rata.

Table of ContentsSECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT

The following table sets forth the beneficial ownership of our Common Units, Class A Units and Class F Units by:

each unitholder known by us to be a beneficial owner of more than 5% of any class of our outstanding units;

each of our managers and named executive officers; and our managers and executive officers as a group.

The amounts and percentage of Common Units, Class A Units and Class F Units beneficially owned are reported on the basis of the SEC rules governing the determination of beneficial ownership of securities. Under the SEC rules, a person is deemed to be a beneficial owner of a security if that person has or shares voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of such security, and/or investment power, which includes the power to dispose of or to direct the disposition of such security. A person is also deemed to be a beneficial owner of any securities of which that person has a right to acquire beneficial ownership within 60 days. Under these rules, more than one person may be deemed a beneficial owner of the same securities and a person may be deemed a beneficial owner of securities as to which he has no economic interest. Upon the approval of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, the former Class F Units will be entitled to vote, pari passu, with the Common Units on all future matters. Thus, the voting power of current Common Unitholders who own Class F Units would increase while the voting power of current Common Unitholders who do not own Class F Units would decrease as a result of dilution.

Percentage of total units beneficially owned is based on 19,830,007 units outstanding. Except as indicated by footnote, to our knowledge the persons named in the table below have sole voting and investment power with respect to all units shown as beneficially owned by them, subject to community property laws where applicable. Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal.

THE SPECIAL MEETING

Time and Place

The special meeting will be held at 600 Travis, Suite 4200, Houston, Texas 77002 on October 12, 2007, at 10:00 a.m. local time.

Purpose

At the special meeting, the holders of our Units will act upon a proposal to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. Upon approval of this proposal, all 3,371,219 outstanding Class F Units will convert automatically into 3,371,219 Common Units.

Record Date

Our board of managers has fixed the close of business on August 24, 2007 as the record date for the determination of Common Unitholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting or any postponements or adjournments thereof. Only holders of record of Common Units at the close of business on the record date are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting. A complete list of such Common Unitholders will be available for inspection in our offices at One Allen Center, Suite 3300, 500 Dallas Street, Houston, Texas 77002, during normal business hours upon written demand by any holder of our Common Units.

Holders Entitled to Vote

All Common Unitholders at the close of business on the record date, August 24, 2007, are entitled to receive notice of the special meeting and to vote the Common Units that they held on the record date at the special meeting, or any postponements or adjournments of the special meeting, except for Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units. In addition, our limited liability company agreement provides that any person or group (other than CEPM or CEPH or their affiliates) that owns beneficially 20% or more of all our Units may not vote on any matter and Common Units held by such holders are not considered to be outstanding. Each holder of Common Units is entitled to one vote for each Common Unit owned on all matters to be considered. On August 24, 2007, 16,056,952 Common Units were issued and outstanding.

Vote Required

The Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal requires the approval of a majority of votes cast at the special meeting, provided that the total number of votes cast represents a majority of the outstanding Common Units entitled to vote at the special meeting. Thus, for purposes of the vote to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as votes against the proposal unless holders of more than 50% in interest of all common units entitled to vote cast votes, in which event abstentions and broker non-votes will not have any effect on the result of the vote. A properly executed proxy submitted without instructions on how to vote will be voted FOR the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. A properly executed proxy marked ABSTAIN with respect to any matter will not be voted, although it will be counted for purposes of determining whether there is a quorum. The Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. In addition, broker non-votes will not be counted for purposes of calculating the vote for the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal.

Constellation Energy Partners Holdings, LLC, the holder of 5,918,894 of our Common Units has agreed to vote all of its Common Units pursuant to the Voting Agreement in favor of the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal. However, these votes will not be sufficient to approve the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal, so we encourage you to take part in the decision process by voting by proxy or at the special meeting.

Brokers who hold our Common Units in street name for customers have the authority to vote on certain routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. However, absent specific instructions from the beneficial owner of such common units with respect to non-routine matters, brokers may not vote such common units with respect to the approval and adoption of such a proposal, known as a broker non-vote. The Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal is a non-routine matter. Assuming that the votes cast on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal constitutes a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, a broker non-vote will not have any effect on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal since such proposal requires the support of only a majority of the votes cast.

Quorum

If a majority of the Common Units entitled to vote on the Class F Conversion and Issuance Proposal as of the record date is present in person or by proxy at the special meeting, that majority will constitute a quorum and will permit us to conduct the proposed business at the special meeting. The Common Units purchased by the institutional investors simultaneously with the Class F Units are not entitled to vote on the proposal and, as a result, will not be considered for purposes of determining whether a quorum exists.

Your Common Units will be counted as present at the special meeting if you:

are present and vote in person at the meeting; or have properly submitted a proxy card.

Proxies received but marked as abstentions or as broker non-votes will be included in the number of Common Units considered to be present at the special meeting for the purpose of determining a quorum.

Revocation of Proxies

Even after you have submitted your proxy, you may change your vote at any time before the proxy is exercised by filing with our Secretary, either a notice of revocation or a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. The powers of the proxy holders will be suspended if you attend the special meeting in person and so request. Please note that attendance at the special meeting will not by itself revoke a previously granted proxy.

No Solicitation

The expense of preparing, printing and mailing this proxy statement will be borne by us. We will also request brokerage firms, banks, nominees, custodians and fiduciaries to forward proxy materials to the beneficial owners of our Common Units as of the record date and will provide reimbursement for the cost of forwarding the proxy materials in accordance with customary practice. Your cooperation in promptly signing and returning the enclosed proxy card will help to avoid additional expense.

Householding of Proxy Materials

The SEC permits companies and intermediaries (e.g., brokers) to satisfy the delivery requirements for proxy statements and related documents with respect to two or more Common Unitholders sharing the same address by delivering a single proxy statement and related documents addressed to those Common Unitholders. This process, which is commonly referred to as householding, potentially means extra convenience for Common Unitholders and cost savings for the company.

One proxy statement will be delivered to multiple Common Unitholders sharing an address unless we receive contrary instructions from one or more of the Common Unitholders sharing such address. Upon receipt of such notice, we will undertake to promptly deliver a separate copy of this proxy statement to the holder of Common Units at the shared address to which a single copy of the proxy statement was delivered and provide instructions as to how the holder of Common Units can notify us that the holder of Common Units wishes to receive other communications to the holder of Common Units in the future. In the event a holder of Common Units desires to provide us with such notice, it may be given by writing us at the following address: One Allen Center, Suite 3300, 500 Dallas Street, Houston, Texas 77002, Attention: Secretary.

Adjournment

The special meeting may be adjourned to another date and/or place for any proper purposes (including, without limitation, for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies).

No Unitholder Proposals

Your Common Units do not entitle you to make proposals at the special meeting. Under our limited liability company agreement, only our board of managers can make a proposal at the meeting. Our limited liability company agreement establishes a procedure for calling meetings whereby unitholders owning 20% or more of the outstanding units of the class for which a meeting is proposed may call a meeting. In any case, Common Unitholders are not allowed to vote on matters that would cause the Common Unitholders to be deemed to be taking part in the management and control of the business and affairs of the company. Doing so would jeopardize the company's limited liability under Delaware law or the law of any other state in which we are qualified to do business.

Dissenter's Rights

We were formed under the laws of the State of Delaware. Under those laws, dissenters' rights are not available to our Common Unitholders with respect to the matters to be voted on at the special meeting.

Our independent registered public accountants are not expected to be present at the special meeting.

In some cases, you can identify forward looking statements by terminology such as may, could, should, expect, plan, project, intend, anticipate, believe, estimate, predict, potential, pursue, target, continue, the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. These estimates and assumptions reflect our best judgment based on currently known market conditions and other factors. Although we believe such estimates and assumptions to be reasonable, they are inherently uncertain and involve a number of risks and uncertainties that are beyond our control. In addition, management's assumptions about future events may prove to be inaccurate.
