Nomura to close acquisition of Lehman Brothers Europe and Middle East investment banking and equities businesses on October 13

London, 6 October 2008 Nomura, the pre-eminent Asia-based investment bank, today announced that the conditions to closing the acquisition of Lehman Brothers' investment banking and equities businesses in Europe and the Middle East had been met. The deal will become legally effective on Monday, 13 October.

The transaction represents a significant step for Nomura in its strategy to accelerate growth across international markets and follows the company's acquisition of Lehman Brothers' Asian franchise last week.

Nomura also announced that the vast majority of the top bankers from the businesses acquired in Europe and the Middle East have accepted positions with Nomura. Lehman Brothers' equities and investment banking businesses in Europe and the Middle East employed around 2500 staff, of whom a significant proportion are expected to be retained.

This transaction, achieved in a very short period of time, is transformational for Nomura. We've moved with speed to bring it to a close so that business can be resumed without delay," said Sadeq Sayeed, Chief Executive of the acquired businesses in Europe and the Middle East.

By securing the support of all the staff who have agreed to join, we have generated significant momentum in our efforts to get the businesses up and running under the Nomura name. We look forward to working alongside them to build a world class business.
