NEC Electronics and Renesas Reach a Definitive Agreement on Business Integration

KAWASAKI, Japan, TOKYO, Japan, September 16, 2009 NEC Electronics Corporation (NEC Electronics; TSE: 6723), Renesas Technology Corp. (Renesas), NEC Corporation (NEC; TSE: 6701), Hitachi, Ltd. (Hitachi; TSE: 6501 / NYSE: HIT), and Mitsubishi Electric Corporation (Mitsubishi Electric; TSE: 6503) today announced that they have signed a definitive agreement to integrate business operations at NEC Electronics and Renesas (the Business Integration). The Business Integration will become effective following the adoption of the resolutions at the Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of NEC Electronics and Renesas and approval by authorities concerned.

As a condition to the Business Integration, Renesas will issue shares of Renesas common stock to Hitachi and Mitsubishi Electric, the sole shareholders of Renesas, in exchange for a total of 78 billion yen before the effective date of the Business Integration (the Pre-merger Capital Injection). In addition, on the effective date of the Business Integration (scheduled to be April 1, 2010), the integrated company after the Business Integration (the Integrated Company) will issue shares of its common stock to NEC, Hitachi, and Mitsubishi Electric in exchange for a total of approximately 122 billion yen (the Post-merger Capital Injection).

1. Goals of Business Integration

Both as leading semiconductor companies, NEC Electronics and Renesas provide a wide variety of semiconductor solutions, primarily specializing in microcontroller units (MCUs). In light of fierce global competition and structural changes triggered by the rapid expansion of emerging markets in the semiconductor market, NEC Electronics and Renesas have been exploring the possibility of the Business Integration after signing a basic agreement on April 27, 2009, in order to further strengthen their business foundations and technological assets, while increasing corporate value through enhanced customer satisfaction.

Table of Contents

The Integrated Company will provide globally competitive products in its three major product groups, MCUs, SoCs, and discrete products, by concentrating its development resources to further strengthen the companies' respective advantages. The Integrated Company aims to expand its business by offering complete solutions that extend the three major groups to best fit the requirement of customers of all kinds of industries.

In order to address the ongoing challenges of the current economic downturn, NEC Electronics and Renesas will each continue to execute structural reform plans in order to strengthen their business frameworks. The two companies will integrate their operations and generate synergies to establish a powerful new semiconductor company that is capable of consistently achieving high earnings in order to withstand changing semiconductor market conditions.

2. Outline of Business Integration

(1) Schedule of Business Integration

|--|-------------------------|
| Signing of basic agreement | April 27, 2009 |
| Signing of definitive agreement | September 16, 2009 |
| Signing of merger agreement | By mid-January 2010 |
| Shareholders meetings for approval of merger agreement | February 2010 (planned) |
| Effective date of merger | April 1, 2010 (planned) |

(2) Structure of Business Integration

The merger will be effective with NEC Electronics being the surviving entity.

(3) Integration Ratio (Ratio between equity value of NEC Electronics and that of Renesas after completion of the Pre-merger Capital Injection)

| | NEC Electronics | Renesas |
|-------------------|--------------------|---------|
| Integration Ratio | 1 | 1.189 |

Note 1: For the Business Integration, NEC Electronics will issue a total of approximately 146.84 million common shares to the Renesas common shareholders based on a merger ratio that will be calculated in accordance with the Integration Ratio set forth in 2-(3) above.

Note 2: The Integration Ratio represents the ratio between the total number of the NEC Electronics common shares outstanding (not including the potential shares) immediately before the Business Integration and the total number of the NEC Electronics common shares to be allocated to the Renesas shareholders as a result of the Business Integration, based on the assumption that the Pre-merger Capital Injection is funded before the Business Integration. The ratio of the number of the NEC Electronics common shares to be issued to the Renesas shareholders in exchange for a share of the Renesas common stock as a result of the Business Integration (i.e., merger ratio) will be determined at the time the merger agreement is signed.

Note 3: In accordance with Art. 124 §4 of the Corporation Law, Hitachi and Mitsubishi Electric, the new shareholders of the Integrated Company after the Business Integration, will be entitled to vote at the ordinary shareholders meeting of the Integrated Company which is scheduled to be held in June 2010.

Table of Contents

(4) Reinforcement of capital

As a condition to the Business Integration, Renesas will issue shares of Renesas common stock to Hitachi and Mitsubishi Electric, the sole shareholders of Renesas, in exchange for an aggregate of 78 billion yen before the effective date of the Business Integration. In addition, on the effective date of the Business Integration (scheduled to be April 1, 2010), the Integrated Company will issue shares of its common stock to NEC, Hitachi, and Mitsubishi Electric in exchange for an aggregate of approximately 122 billion yen.

Note: Depending on the business result of NEC Electronics for the first half of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010, the amount of the Pre-merger Capital Injection could be reduced and the amount of the Post-merger Capital Injection could be increased keeping the Integration Ratio as 1:1.189.

(5) Notes on share acquisition rights and bonds with share acquisition rights of Renesas:

None

3. Basis and Process of Calculation of Integration Ratio and Relationship with Financial Advisors:

Exhibit 1: Basis and Process of Calculation of the Integration Ratio

(1) Basis and Process of Calculation

The Integration Ratio under the Business Integration was determined by NEC Electronics, Renesas, NEC, Hitachi and Mitsubishi Electric after discussions and negotiations as well as consideration of various factors, including the financial results, the assets, liabilities and prospects of NEC Electronics and Renesas, the benefits of the Business Integration and the capital increases described above, and the financial analyses performed by the financial advisors to NEC Electronics and Renesas.

NEC Electronics selected Goldman Sachs Japan Co., Ltd. (Goldman Sachs) and Daiwa Securities SMBC Co. Ltd. (Daiwa SMBC), and Renesas selected Mitsubishi UFJ Securities, Co. Ltd. (Mitsubishi UFJ Securities), and Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd. (Mizuho Securities) as their respective financial advisors in each case, and in order to support the fairness of the calculation of the Integration Ratio, NEC Electronics requested Goldman Sachs and Renesas requested Mitsubishi UFJ Securities to perform financial analyses relating to the Integration Ratio under the Business Integration.

Goldman Sachs performed a comparable companies analysis and a discounted cash flow analysis based upon publicly available information and projections prepared by NEC Electronics management, as approved for Goldman Sachs use by NEC Electronics. No company used in the comparable companies analysis as a comparison is directly comparable to NEC Electronics and Renesas. The results of Goldman Sachs respective analyses are shown below.

| | Analysis Method | Range of Integration Ratio |
|---|-------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 | Comparable Companies Analysis | 0.591 ~ 1.310 |
| 2 | Discounted Cash Flow Analysis | 1.162 ~ 1.410 |

The ranges of the Integration Ratio are for a number of NEC Electronics shares to be issued to Hitachi and Mitsubishi Electric as a result of the Business Integration stated as a multiple of the number of NEC Electronics shares outstanding immediately before the Business Integration, assuming that the Pre-merger Capital Injection has been funded. Goldman Sachs also performed a contribution analysis and an accretion / dilution analysis. Goldman Sachs reviewed and considered such analyses as a whole in preparing its opinion and did not attribute any particular weight to any factor or analysis considered by it.

Goldman Sachs delivered to NEC Electronics a written opinion, approved by a fairness committee of Goldman, Sachs & Co., that, as of September 16, 2009, and based upon and subject to certain limitations and conditions, including the factors, assumptions and procedures set forth therein and described below in Note 1, the Integration Ratio in connection with the Business Integration pursuant to the definitive agreement was fair from a financial point of view to NEC Electronics. Goldman Sachs provided its advisory services and the opinion solely for the information and assistance of the Board of Directors of NEC Electronics in connection with its consideration of the Business Integration and such opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any shareholder of NEC Electronics should vote with respect to the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement or any other matter. Goldman Sachs did not recommend any specific Integration Ratio to NEC Electronics or its board of directors or that any specific Integration Ratio constituted the only appropriate Integration Ratio. Please refer to Note 1 below for a more detailed description about the assumptions and disclaimers for the analyses and opinion of Goldman Sachs.

Table of Contents

Goldman Sachs' analyses and opinion are necessarily based on economic, monetary, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Goldman Sachs as of, September 16, 2009 and Goldman Sachs has assumed no responsibility for updating, revising or reaffirming this opinion based on circumstances, developments or events occurring after such date. The quantitative information used in Goldman Sachs' financial analysis, to the extent it is based on market data, is based on market data as it existed on or before September 10, 2009 and is not necessarily indicative of current market conditions.

Mitsubishi UFJ Securities has adopted the discounted cash flow method (the "DCF Method"), as well as the comparable peer company method (the "Comparable Peer Company Method") and contribution analysis (the "Contribution Analysis"), for calculating the integration ratio. The results of the calculations based on each method are as follows. The calculation range below shows the ratio of equity value for NEC Electronics and Renesas prior to the Business Integration, assuming that the Pre-Merger Capital Injection, equivalent to 78 billion yen, is funded before the Business Integration, as described in 2.(4) above.

| | Adopted Method | Calculation Range of Integration Ratio |
|-----|--------------------------------|---|
| (1) | DCF Method | 0.64 - 1.29 |
| (2) | Comparable Peer Company Method | 0.58 - 1.50 |
| (3) | Contribution Analysis | 0.68 - 1.32 |

Mitsubishi UFJ Securities has used the information provided by NEC Electronics and Renesas, in addition to publicly available information, to conduct its analysis. Mitsubishi UFJ Securities has not conducted any independent verification of the accuracy and completeness of this information, but rather has assumed that all such materials and information are accurate and complete. In addition, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities has not made any independent evaluation, appraisal or assessment of the assets or liabilities (including contingent liabilities) of either party or their affiliates, nor has Mitsubishi UFJ Securities independently analyzed or assessed each individual asset and liability. Mitsubishi UFJ Securities has not appointed any third party for appraisal or assessment. Mitsubishi UFJ Securities calculated the integration ratio based on information and economic conditions as of September 10, 2009, and Mitsubishi UFJ Securities assumes that the financial projections (including the profit plan and other information) reported by NEC Electronics and Renesas have been rationally prepared on the basis of the best possible estimates and judgment currently available from the management of each of NEC Electronics and Renesas.

Table of Contents

Furthermore, Renesas obtained a written opinion from Mitsubishi UFJ Securities dated as of September 15, 2009, stating that from a financial point of view, the agreed Integration Ratio is fair to the shareholders of Renesas, subject to the conditions set forth hereunder and certain other conditions.

(2) Relationship with Financial Advisors

Goldman Sachs and Daiwa SMBC, the financial advisors to NEC Electronics, are not a Related Party of NEC Electronics or Renesas, and have no material interest in the Business Integration. Please refer to Note 1 below for a more detailed description.

Furthermore, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities and Mizuho Securities, the financial advisers of Renesas, do not fall under the category of related parties in relation to NEC Electronics and Renesas, and Mitsubishi UFJ Securities is not a material interested party that must be disclosed in conjunction with the Business Integration.

(Note 1) Goldman Sachs and its affiliates are engaged in investment banking and financial advisory services, commercial banking, securities trading, investment management, principal investment, financial planning, benefits counseling, risk management, hedging, financing, brokerage activities and other financial and non-financial activities and services for various persons and entities. In the ordinary course of these activities and services, Goldman Sachs and its affiliates may at any time make or hold long or short positions and investments, as well as actively trade or effect transactions, in the equity, debt and other securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans and other obligations) of third parties, NEC Electronics, Renesas, NEC, Hitachi, Mitsubishi Electric and any of their respective affiliates or any currency or commodity that may be involved in the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Goldman Sachs has acted as financial advisor to NEC Electronics in connection with, and has participated in certain of the negotiations leading to, the Business Integration. Goldman Sachs expects to receive fees for its services in connection with the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement, a portion of which is contingent upon consummation of the Business Integration, and NEC Electronics has agreed to reimburse Goldman Sachs' expenses arising, and indemnify Goldman Sachs against certain liabilities that may arise, out of Goldman Sachs' engagement. In addition, Goldman Sachs has provided certain investment banking and other financial services to NEC Electronics and its affiliates from time to time. Goldman Sachs also may provide investment banking and other financial services to NEC Electronics, Renesas, NEC, Hitachi, Mitsubishi Electric and their respective affiliates in the future. In connection with the above-described services, Goldman Sachs has received, and may receive, compensation.

In connection with rendering the opinion and performing its related financial analyses, Goldman Sachs reviewed, among other things, the definitive agreement; the annual securities reports (Yuka Shoken Hokokusyo) of NEC Electronics for the three fiscal years ended March 31, 2009; certain interim reports to stockholders and the quarterly securities reports (Shi-hanki Hokokusyo) of NEC Electronics; certain other communications from NEC Electronics and Renesas to their respective stockholders and the public; certain publicly available research analyst reports for NEC Electronics; certain audited financial statements of Renesas for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 and unaudited financial statements of Renesas for the two fiscal years ended March 31, 2008 and the quarter ended June 30, 2009; certain internal financial analyses and forecasts for Renesas prepared by its management; and certain internal financial analyses and forecasts for NEC Electronics prepared by its management, both stand-alone and giving effect to the Transactions, and certain financial analyses and forecasts for Renesas prepared by the management of NEC Electronics, in each case as approved for Goldman Sachs' use by NEC Electronics (the "Forecasts"), including certain cost savings and operating synergies projected by the managements of NEC Electronics and Renesas to result from the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement as approved for Goldman Sachs' use by NEC Electronics (the "Synergies"). Goldman Sachs also held discussions with members of the senior managements of NEC Electronics and Renesas regarding their assessment of the past and current business operations, financial condition and future prospects of Renesas and the strategic rationale for, and the potential benefits of, the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement, and with the members of senior management of NEC Electronics regarding their assessment of the past and current business operations, financial condition and future prospects of NEC Electronics. In addition, Goldman Sachs reviewed the reported price and trading activity for the shares of NEC Electronics common stock, compared certain financial and stock market information for NEC Electronics and certain financial information for Renesas with similar financial and stock market information for certain other companies the securities of which are publicly traded, reviewed the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the semiconductor industry specifically and performed such other studies and analyses, and considered such other factors, as Goldman Sachs considered appropriate.

In connection with rendering the opinion and performing its related financial analyses, Goldman Sachs relied upon and assumed, without assuming any responsibility for independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial, legal, regulatory, tax, accounting and other information provided to, discussed with or reviewed by it and does not assume any liability for any such information. Goldman Sachs did not make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities (including any contingent, derivative or off-balance-sheet assets and liabilities) of NEC Electronics or Renesas or any of their respective subsidiaries and Goldman Sachs has not been furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. In addition, Goldman Sachs assumed that the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement, including the Pre-merger Capital Injection and the Post-merger Capital Injection, will be consummated in accordance with their respective terms set forth in the definitive agreement, without any waiver or modification of any term or condition the effect of which will have any adverse effect on NEC Electronics or Renesas or on the expected benefits of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement in anyway meaningful to its analysis. Goldman Sachs also assumed that all governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals necessary for the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement will be obtained without any adverse effect on NEC Electronics or Renesas or on the expected benefits of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement in any way meaningful to Goldman Sachs' analysis. In addition, Goldman Sachs also assumed with NEC Electronics' consent that the Forecasts, including the Synergies, had been reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of NEC Electronics and Renesas. Goldman Sachs did not express any opinion on the impact of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement on the solvency or viability of NEC Electronics or Renesas or the ability of any of NEC Electronics or Renesas to pay its obligations when they come due, nor does Goldman Sachs express an opinion on any legal, regulatory, tax or accounting matters. In addition, Goldman Sachs did not express any opinion that addresses the underlying business decision of NEC Electronics to engage in the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement or the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement as compared to any strategic alternatives that may be available to NEC Electronics. NEC Electronics informed Goldman Sachs, and Goldman Sachs has assumed, that the shares of common stock of NEC Electronics will continue to be listed on the first section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange following consummation of the Business Integration.

Goldman Sachs' opinion addresses only the fairness from a financial point of view of the Integration Ratio in connection with the Business Integration pursuant to the definitive agreement to NEC Electronics as of the date of the opinion. Goldman Sachs' opinion does not express any view on, and does not address, any other term or aspect of the definitive agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby, including, without limitation, the fairness of the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement to, or any consideration received in connection therewith by, the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of NEC Electronics or Renesas; nor as to the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be paid or payable to any of the officers, directors or employees of NEC Electronics or Renesas, or class of other persons in connection with the transactions contemplated by the definitive agreement, whether relative to the Integration Ratio in connection with the Business Integration or otherwise. In addition, Goldman Sachs has not expressed any view on, and its opinion does not address any term of the Pre-merger Capital Injection or the Post-merger Capital Injection. Goldman Sachs does not express any opinion as to the prices at which shares of the common stock of NEC Electronics will trade at any time.

Table of Contents

The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Selecting portions of the analyses or of the summary set forth above, without considering the analyses as a whole, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying Goldman Sachs' opinion. In arriving at its fairness determination, Goldman Sachs considered the results of all of its analyses and did not attribute any particular weight to any factor or analysis considered by it. Rather, Goldman Sachs made its determination as to fairness on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all of its analyses.
