ONE MICROSOFT WAY
REDMOND, WASHINGTON 98052

PROXY STATEMENT FOR ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 19, 2009

This Proxy Statement was first mailed to shareholders on or about October 1, 2009. It is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of Microsoft Corporation, to be voted at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders for the purposes set forth in the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting of Shareholders. The Annual Meeting of Shareholders will be held at 8:00 a.m. on November 19, 2009 at the Meydenbauer Center, 11100 NE 6th Street, Bellevue, Washington 98004. Shareholders who execute proxies retain the right to revoke them at any time before the shares are voted by proxy at the meeting. A shareholder may revoke a proxy by delivering a signed statement to our Corporate Secretary at or prior to the Annual Meeting or by timely executing and delivering, by Internet, telephone, mail, or in person at the Annual Meeting, another proxy dated as of a later date. Microsoft will pay the cost of solicitation of proxies.

Shareholders of record at the close of business on September 4, 2009 will be entitled to vote at the meeting on the basis of one vote for each share held. On September 4, 2009, there were 8,928,107,654 shares of common stock outstanding, held of record by 142,195 shareholders.

PROPOSAL 1:

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS AND MANAGEMENT INFORMATION

The Company's Board of Directors currently consists of ten members. James I. Cash, Jr. is retiring from the Board effective as of the date of the Annual Meeting. In connection with Dr. Cash's retirement, the Board has authorized a reduction in the size of the Board to nine members effective as of November 19, 2009, as permitted by the Company's Bylaws.

Nine directors are to be elected at the Annual Meeting to hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders, and until their respective successors are elected and qualified. If, for any reason, the directors are not elected at an annual meeting, they may be elected at a special meeting of shareholders called for that purpose in the manner provided by the Bylaws. The accompanying proxy will be voted in favor of the nominees named below to serve as directors unless the shareholder indicates to the contrary on the proxy. All of the nominees are current directors.

The Board of Directors expects that each of the nominees will be available for election, but if any of them is unable to serve at the time the election occurs, the proxy will be voted for the election of another nominee to be designated by the Board of Directors.

MAJORITY VOTE STANDARD FOR DIRECTOR ELECTIONS

Microsoft's Bylaws require that in an uncontested election each director will be elected by a vote of the majority of the votes cast. A majority of votes cast means that the number of shares cast for a director's election exceeds the number of votes cast against that director. We will not treat as cast any shares (a) whose ballot is marked as withheld, (b) that are otherwise present at the meeting but for which there is an abstention, or (c) to which a shareholder gives no authority or direction. In a contested election, the directors will be elected by a plurality of the votes cast, meaning the directors receiving the largest number of for votes are elected to the open positions.

As provided in Section 2.2 of our Bylaws, a contested election is one in which:

as of the last day for giving notice of a shareholder nominee, a shareholder has nominated a candidate for director according to the requirements of our Bylaws (assuming on that day there is a candidate nominated by the Board of Directors for each of the director positions to be voted on at the meeting), and as of the date that notice of the meeting is given, the Board of Directors considers that a shareholder candidacy has created a bona fide election contest.

In an uncontested election, a nominee who does not receive a majority vote will not be elected. Except as explained in the next paragraph, an incumbent director who is not elected because he or she does not receive a majority vote will continue to serve as a holdover director until the earliest of: (a) 90 days after the date on which an inspector determines the voting results as to that director; (b) the date on which the Board of Directors appoints an individual to fill the office held by that director; or (c) the date of the director's resignation.

Table of Contents

The Board of Directors may fill any vacancy resulting from the non-election of a director as provided in our Bylaws. The Governance and Nominating Committee will consider promptly whether to fill the office of a nominee who fails to receive a majority vote and make a recommendation to the Board of Directors about filling the office. The Board of Directors will act on the Governance and Nominating Committee's recommendation and within 90 days after the certification of the shareholder vote will disclose publicly its decision. Except as provided in the next sentence, no director who fails to receive a majority vote for election will participate in the Governance and Nominating Committee recommendation or Board decision about filling his or her office. If no director receives a majority vote in an uncontested election, then the incumbent directors (a) will nominate a slate of directors and hold a special meeting for the purpose of electing those nominees as soon as practicable, and (b) may in the interim fill one or more offices with the same director(s) who will continue in office until their successors are elected.

For additional information, the complete Bylaws are available on our Web site at www.microsoft.com/about/corporategovernance.

Our Board recommends a vote FOR the election to the Board of each of the following nominees:

PROCEDURES FOR NOMINATION OF DIRECTORS

The Governance and Nominating Committee annually reviews with the Board of Directors the applicable skills and characteristics required of Board nominees, considering current Board composition and Company circumstances. In making its recommendations to the Board, the Governance and Nominating Committee considers, among other things, the qualifications of individual director candidates. The Committee retains any search firms and approves payment of their fees. The Governance and Nominating Committee works with the Board to determine the appropriate characteristics, skills, and experiences for the Board as a whole and its individual members with the objective of having a Board with diverse backgrounds and experience in business, education, and public service. Characteristics expected of all directors include independence, integrity, high personal and professional ethics, sound business judgment, and the ability and willingness to commit sufficient time to the Board. In evaluating the suitability of individual Board members, the Board takes into account many factors, including general understanding of marketing, finance, and other disciplines relevant to the success of a large publicly traded company in today's business environment; understanding of our business and technology; educational and professional background; personal accomplishment; and geographic, gender, age, and ethnic diversity. The Board evaluates each individual in the context of the Board as a whole, with the objective of recommending a group that can best perpetuate the success of our business and represent shareholder interests through the exercise of sound judgment using its diversity of experience. In determining whether to recommend a director for re-election, the Governance and Nominating Committee also considers the director's past attendance at meetings, participation in and contributions to the activities of the Board, and the results of the most recent Board self-evaluation.

Table of Contents

Shareholders have previously elected each of the directors submitted at the 2009 annual meeting, except Dr. Klawe. As part of the recruitment process leading to Dr. Klawe's election by the Board, the Governance and Nominating Committee requested that members of the Microsoft Research division leadership recommend potential candidates from academia and Dr. Klawe was selected from those recommendations.

The Governance and Nominating Committee will consider shareholder recommendations for candidates for the Board, using the same criteria described in the preceding paragraph. The name of any recommended candidate for director, together with a brief biographical sketch, a document indicating the candidate's willingness to serve, if elected, and evidence of the nominating shareholder's ownership of Company stock should be sent to the attention of MSC 123/9999, Corporate Secretary, Microsoft Corporation, One Microsoft Way, Redmond, WA 98052-6399. If you wish to formally nominate a candidate you must follow the procedures described in Sections 1.3, 1.13, and 1.14 of our Bylaws.

DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE

Our Corporate Governance Guidelines provide that a substantial majority of our directors will be independent. Our Board has adopted director independence guidelines to assist in determining each director's independence. These guidelines are available on our Web site at www.microsoft.com/about/independenceguidelines. The guidelines include, and either meet or exceed, the independence requirements of the NASDAQ Stock Market (NASDAQ) on which the Company's shares are traded. The guidelines identify categories of relationships that the Board has determined would not affect a director's independence, and therefore are not considered by the Board in determining director independence.

Under the director independence guidelines, the Board must affirmatively determine that a director has no relationship that would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the responsibilities of a director. To facilitate this determination, annually each director completes a questionnaire that provides information about relationships that might affect the determination of independence. Management provides the Governance and Nominating Committee and Board with relevant facts and circumstances of any relationship bearing on independence of a director or nominee that are outside the categories permitted under the director independence guidelines.

Based on the review and recommendation by the Governance and Nominating Committee, the Board of Directors analyzed the independence of each director and determined that [Messrs. Cash, Gilmartin, Hastings, Marquardt, Noski, and Panke, and Mme. Dublon and Klawe] meet the standards of independence under our Corporate Governance Guidelines, director independence guidelines, and applicable NASDAQ listing standards, including that each member is free of any relationship that would interfere with his or her individual exercise of independent judgment. In making this determination, the Board considered that certain Board members have in the past and may in the future invest in investment funds of which Mr. Marquardt is a general partner or that are managed directly or indirectly by the firm of which Mr. Marquardt is a partner.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICES

Microsoft's Board of Directors is committed to maintaining strong corporate governance principles and practices. The Board periodically reviews evolving legal, regulatory, and best practice developments to determine those that will best serve the interests of our shareholders, and adopts policies designed to strengthen our corporate governance framework. Microsoft's Corporate Governance Guidelines were most recently updated in July 2009. Highlights of Microsoft's corporate governance framework include:

Board Independence

Currently, our Board has 10 directors, eight of whom are independent of the company and its management. We are committed to maintaining a substantial majority of independent directors.

The independent directors meet regularly in executive session at least quarterly each fiscal year.

The Compensation Committee has adopted a policy for compensation consultant independence under which any compensation consultant retained by the Committee must be independent of the Company and management.

Table of Contents

CEO, Chairman, and Lead Independent Director

Since 2000, the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer have been held separately. Mr. Gates serves as Chairman and Mr. Ballmer serves as Chief Executive Officer.

Mr. Gilmartin, as chair of the Governance and Nominating Committee, serves as Lead Independent Director. That role is described on page [].

Board Committees

Only independent directors serve as members of the Audit, Compensation, Governance and Nominating, Finance, and Antitrust Compliance Committees.

All members of the Audit Committee are audit committee financial experts under Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

Shareholder Authority

Microsoft has a majority vote standard for director elections. In an uncontested election, directors will be elected by the vote of the majority of votes cast. All directors are elected annually; Microsoft does not have a classified board.

Microsoft has a confidential voting policy to protect our shareholders' voting privacy.

Microsoft's Board is recommending amendments to our Articles of Incorporation that would give shareholders representing 25% or more of outstanding shares the right to call special shareholder meetings. On page our Board has submitted the proposed amendments to a vote of shareholders. If the amendments are approved, the Company's Bylaws will be updated with the procedural requirements that shareholders would follow to call a special meeting.

Compensation

Microsoft's Board of Directors has adopted a triennial say-on-pay model. Beginning with our 2009 annual shareholder meeting, Microsoft shareholders will be able to cast a non-binding advisory vote on the compensation of our executive officers every three years.

Microsoft has an executive compensation recovery policy that applies to our executive officers and our chief accounting officer. In fiscal year 2009 we amended the recovery policy to expand the situations in which the Company can recover incentive compensation. A more complete description of the compensation recovery policy appears in Section III of the Compensation Discussion and Analysis on page .

Stock Ownership

The Board has adopted stock ownership policies for Microsoft's directors and executive officers. The policies were established to promote a long-term perspective in managing the enterprise, and to help align the interests of our shareholders, executives and directors.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE GUIDELINES AND COMMITTEE CHARTERS

The Corporate Governance Guidelines and the charters of the five standing committees of the Board of Directors describe our system of corporate governance. The Corporate Governance Guidelines and charters are intended to ensure that our Board has the necessary authority and practices in place to review and evaluate our business operations and to make decisions that are independent of management. The Corporate Governance Guidelines also are intended to align the interests of directors and management with those of our shareholders. The Corporate Governance Guidelines establish the practices the Board follows with respect to board composition and selection, board meetings and involvement of senior management, chief executive officer performance evaluation, succession planning, board committees, and director compensation. The Board annually conducts a self-evaluation to assess adherence to the Corporate Governance Guidelines and identify opportunities to improve Board performance.

The Corporate Governance Guidelines and committee charters are reviewed periodically and updated as necessary to reflect changes in regulatory requirements and evolving oversight practices. The Corporate Governance Guidelines comply with requirements contained in the NASDAQ listing standards and otherwise enhance our corporate governance policies.

MEETINGS AND MEETING ATTENDANCE

Our Board of Directors holds regularly scheduled quarterly meetings. Typically, committee meetings occur the day before the Board meeting. During one quarter each year, the Committee and Board meetings occur on a single day so that the evening and following day can be devoted to presentations and discussions with senior management about Microsoft's long-term strategy as part of the Board's annual retreat. In addition to the quarterly meetings, typically there are two other regularly scheduled meetings and several special meetings each year. At each quarterly Board meeting time is set aside for the independent directors to meet without management present. Our Board met nine times during fiscal year 2009.

All incumbent directors attended 75% or more of the Board meetings and meetings of the committees on which they served during the last fiscal year. Directors are encouraged to attend the Annual Meeting of Shareholders. Five directors attended the 2008 Annual Meeting.

CEO, CHAIRMAN AND LEAD INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR

Since 2000, the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer have been held separately. Mr. Gates serves as Chairman and Mr. Ballmer serves as Chief Executive Officer. The Chair of our Governance and Nominating Committee serves as the Lead Independent Director. Mr. Gilmartin has served as Lead Independent Director since 2004. The Lead Independent Director is responsible for leading the independent directors in conducting a review of the CEO's performance. Additionally, the Lead Independent Director coordinates the activities of the independent directors, coordinates with the Chief Executive Officer to set the agenda for Board meetings, and chairs executive sessions of the independent directors. See Shareholder Communication with Directors on page for information about how to communicate with the Lead Independent Director.

* Committee Chairperson

Below is a description of each standing committee of our Board of Directors. Each committee has authority to engage legal counsel or other advisors or consultants as it deems appropriate to carry out its responsibilities.

Audit Committee. The Audit Committee assists the Board of Directors in its oversight of the quality and integrity of our accounting, auditing, and reporting practices. The Committee's role includes:

overseeing the work of our internal accounting function and internal control over financial reporting, overseeing internal auditing processes, inquiring about significant risks, reviewing our policies for risk assessment and risk management, and assessing the steps management has taken to control these risks, and reviewing compliance with significant applicable legal, ethical, and regulatory requirements.

The Audit Committee is responsible for the appointment, compensation, retention, and oversight of the independent auditor engaged to prepare or issue audit reports on our financial statements and internal control over financial reporting. The Committee relies on the expertise and knowledge of management, the internal auditor, and the independent auditor in carrying out its oversight responsibilities. The Audit Committee Responsibilities Calendar accompanying the Audit Committee Charter describes the Committee's specific responsibilities. The Board of Directors has determined that each Committee member has sufficient knowledge in financial and auditing matters to serve on the Committee. In addition, the Board has determined that Dr. Cash, Ms. Dublon, and Mr. Noski are audit committee financial experts as defined by Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) rules.

Compensation Committee. The primary responsibilities of the Compensation Committee are to:

assist the Board in establishing the annual goals and objectives of the Chief Executive Officer, recommend to the independent members of the Board the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, oversee an evaluation of the performance of the Company's other executive officers and approve their compensation, oversee and advise the Board on the adoption of policies that govern executive officer compensation programs and other compensation-related policies, oversee plans for executive officer development and succession, oversee administration of our equity-based compensation and other benefit plans, and approve and authorize grants of equity compensation awards under our stock plan.

The Compensation Committee periodically reviews the compensation paid to non-employee directors, and makes recommendations to the Board for any adjustments. The Committee may delegate to the senior human resources officer the authority to make equity compensation grants to employees who are not executive officers.

Our Senior Vice President, Human Resources and Corporate Vice President of Compensation, Benefits, and Performance Management support the Compensation Committee in its work. Dan Marcus, Managing Principal, Semler Brossy Consulting Group LLC, advises the Committee on marketplace trends in executive compensation, management proposals for compensation programs, and executive officer compensation decisions. Mr. Marcus also evaluates compensation for the next levels of senior management and equity compensation programs generally. He also has consulted with the Committee about its recommendations to the Board on director compensation. Mr. Marcus is directly accountable to the Committee. To maintain the independence of the firm's advice, Semler Brossy does not provide any other services for Microsoft. The Committee has adopted Compensation Consultant Independence Standards which can be viewed at www.microsoft.com/about/compensationconsultant. This policy requires that the Committee annually assess the independence of its compensation consultant. A consultant satisfying the following requirements will be considered independent. The consultant and the organization employing the consultant:

are retained and terminated by has its compensation fixed by, and reports solely to the Committee.

are independent of the Company, will not perform any work for Company management except at the request of the Committee chair and in the capacity of the Committee's agent, and does not provide any unrelated services or products to the Company, its affiliates, or management, except for surveys purchased from the organization employing the consultant.

The Compensation Committee must approve any other services performed by the consultant. In performing the annual assessment of the consultant's independence, the Committee considers the nature and amount of work performed for the Committee during the year, the nature of any unrelated services performed for the Company, and the amount of fees paid for those services in relation to the firm's total revenues. The consultant annually prepares for the Committee an independence letter providing appropriate assurances and confirmation of the consultant's independent status pursuant to the policy. The Committee believes that Mr. Marcus has been independent during his service for the Committee.

The Compensation Committee Charter describes the specific responsibilities and functions of the Compensation Committee. See Process for Determining Named Executive Officer Compensation on page for more information about the Committee's work.

Governance and Nominating Committee. The principal responsibilities of the Governance and Nominating Committee are to:

determine the slate of director nominees for election to our Board of Directors, identify and recommend candidates to fill vacancies occurring between annual shareholder meetings, review the composition of Board committees, monitor adherence to, review, and recommend changes to our corporate governance framework, including our Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, and Corporate Governance Guidelines, and review our policies and programs that relate to matters of corporate citizenship, including environmental sustainability, the annual public policy agenda, and political activities and expenditures.

In addition, the Chair of the Governance and Nominating Committee acts as the Lead Independent Director and is responsible for leading the Board of Directors' annual performance review of our Chief Executive Officer. The Committee regularly reviews the charters of Board committees and, after consultation with the respective committee chairs, makes recommendations, if necessary, about changes to the charters. The Governance and Nominating Committee Charter describes the specific responsibilities and functions of the Committee.

Finance Committee. The Finance Committee is responsible for overseeing and making recommendations to the Board about our financial affairs and policies including:

 policies relating to our cash flow, cash management, and working capital, shareholder dividends and distributions, share repurchases, and investments, financial strategies,
 policies for managing financial risk, tax planning and compliance, and proposed mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, and strategic investments.

From time to time, the Board may delegate to the Finance Committee decisions with respect to specific transactions. The Finance Committee Charter describes the specific responsibilities and functions of the Finance Committee.

Antitrust Compliance Committee. The Antitrust Compliance Committee oversees the performance of the Compliance Officer, who is charged under the Final Judgment entered by the District Court for the District of Columbia in State of New York et al. v. Microsoft Corp., No. 98-1232 (the Final Judgment) with developing and supervising Microsoft's internal programs and processes to ensure compliance with antitrust laws and the Final Judgment. The Compliance Officer reports directly to the Committee and our Chief Executive Officer, and may be removed by our Chief Executive Officer only with the concurrence of the Committee. The Antitrust Compliance Committee Responsibilities Checklist attached to the Antitrust Compliance Committee Charter describes the Committee's specific responsibilities. The Compliance Officer is required to maintain a record of complaints received and actions taken and to report credible evidence of violations of the Final Judgment to the Final Judgment plaintiffs. The Committee receives regular reports from the Compliance Officer about existing and planned internal compliance programs and processes, complaints received and our response to them, and violations reported to the Final Judgment plaintiffs. In addition, the Committee receives reports from the General Counsel and from other members of management about compliance with the Final Judgment and about other issues that may arise concerning our compliance with antitrust and competition laws. The Committee can authorize further inquiries into matters reported to it for the purpose of ensuring the adequacy of our processes and programs for fulfilling its obligations under the Final Judgment and antitrust laws. The Committee provides guidance to the Compliance Officer and to management and reports regularly to the Board of Directors.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

During fiscal year 2009, Mr. Ballmer received no compensation for serving as a director, except that he, like all directors, is eligible to be reimbursed for any expenses incurred in attending Board and committee meetings. Each director, other than Mr. Ballmer, is entitled to receive compensation for serving on our Board of Directors and committees of the Board as follows:

 a total annual retainer of $200,000 per year with $120,000 of the retainer provided in the form of a stock award under the Amended and Restated 1999 Stock Plan for Non-Employee Directors, an annual retainer of $10,000 for chairs of Board committees, an annual retainer of $10,000 for members of the Audit Committee, and reimbursement of reasonable expenses incurred in connection with Board-related activities.

The Board retainer is paid quarterly in arrears. Quarterly periods are measured beginning on the date of the annual shareholders meeting and each three months after that date. At the end of each quarterly period each director is paid 25% of the total annual retainer, provided he or she continues to serve as a director as of the last day of the performance period.

Edgar Filing: MICROSOFT CORP - Form PRE 14A

Under our Deferred Compensation Plan for Non-Employee Directors, non-employee directors may elect to defer and convert to equity all or part of their annual cash retainer, and to defer receipt of all or part of their annual equity retainer. Amounts deferred by non-employee directors are maintained in bookkeeping accounts that are deemed invested in Microsoft common stock, and dividends paid on our common stock are deemed to be invested in our common stock. Accounts in the Plan are distributed in shares of Microsoft common stock, with payments either in installments beginning on separation from Board service or in a lump amount paid no later than the fifth anniversary after separation from Board service.

To align the interests of our directors and shareholders, our Board believes that directors should have a significant financial stake in Microsoft. Under the Corporate Governance Guidelines, each director should own Microsoft shares equal in value to a minimum of three times the base annual retainer payable to a director. Directors should achieve this ownership level by the later of February 28, 2011 or five years after the director has become a Board member. Stock deferred under the Deferred Compensation Plan for Non-Employee Directors counts towards the minimum ownership requirement.

Mr. Ballmer, an employee director, is excluded from the following table because we describe his compensation under Process for Determining Named Executive Officer Compensation beginning on page .

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Executive Summary

Purpose of Compensation Discussion and Analysis

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis provides information about the fiscal year 2009 compensation program for our fiscal year 2009 named executive officers, who are:

Steven A. Ballmer, Chief Executive Officer, our principal executive officer, Christopher P. Liddell, Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, our principal financial officer,
Robert J. Bach, President, Entertainment and Devices Division, Stephen A. Elop, President, Microsoft Business Division, and
B. Kevin Turner, Chief Operating Officer.

Fiscal Year 2009 Executive Compensation Highlights

New Incentive Compensation Program

In fiscal year 2009, we changed how we deliver cash and stock-based incentive compensation to our executive officers. Previously, our executive officer incentive compensation consisted of annual cash bonuses and annual grants of performance-based restricted stock units (stock awards) that vested over multiple years. Our new Executive Officer Incentive Plan (Incentive Plan) replaced the prior separate cash bonus and stock award programs. The Incentive Plan provides a unified framework for assessing executive officer performance and determining the appropriate cash and stock-based compensation for that performance.

Awards under the Incentive Plan are not derived under a formula. Instead, the Compensation Committee uses its business judgment to determine Incentive Plan awards. The Committee approves Incentive Plan awards after considering executive officer performance across a wide range of financial, operational, and strategic measures, Mr. Ballmer's recommendations for awards, and other relevant information, as described on page . As in previous years, Mr. Ballmer's incentive compensation for fiscal year 2009 was limited to a cash payment of up to 200% of his fiscal year 2009 base salary, consistent with his request that we not award him equity compensation. The fiscal year 2009 Incentive Plan awards for other executive officers were payable:

20% in cash in September 2009, and
80% in the form of a stock award that vested 25% in September 2009, with additional 25% vests on August 31 of 2010, 2011, and 2012.

Table of Contents

The table below is intended to provide insight into the compensation that our named executive officers were awarded for their performance in fiscal year 2009. The table sets forth their base salaries and the cash and stock-based incentive compensation they were awarded for fiscal years 2008 and 2009, providing a simple year-over-year comparison.

(1) The 2008 amounts in this column are annual bonuses under the Annual Bonus Plan for Executive Officers for fiscal year 2008. The 2009 amounts in this column are the 20% of the Incentive Plan awards for fiscal year 2009 that were paid in cash.

(2) The 2008 amounts in this column are the stock awards granted for fiscal year 2008 performance (target awards under certain fiscal year 2008 performance-based stock awards were approved in September 2007.) The 2009 amounts in this column are the 80% of the Incentive Plan awards for fiscal year 2009 that were paid in the form of a stock award. Stock awards for both fiscal year 2008 and fiscal year 2009 vested 25% in the September following the fiscal year end, then 25% on each August 31 following the initial vest date.

This table is intended to supplement, not replace, the Summary Compensation Table on page , which lists our fiscal year 2009 named executive officers and reports their compensation in the format required by SEC rules. Because the Summary Compensation Table definition of compensation for fiscal year 2009 includes the value of stock-based compensation that was awarded in previous fiscal years, and includes only a portion of the value of the stock-based compensation we awarded for fiscal year 2009 performance, we believe this alternative table should help investors to understand our fiscal year 2009 compensation actions.

More information about our fiscal year 2009 Incentive Plan awards can be found on page(s) ..

Base Salary Freezes for Fiscal Year 2010

Given the uncertainty surrounding the impact of the current economic climate, in January 2009 we announced that all of our employees, including our executive officers, would not receive merit-based salary increases for fiscal year 2010. Accordingly, base salaries for our named executive officers in effect at the end of fiscal year 2009 remain the same for fiscal year 2010.

Fiscal Year 2009 Corporate Performance

A worldwide economic recession that created the most difficult business environment in decades made fiscal 2009 a challenging year for us. As consumers and businesses reset their spending at lower levels, PC sales and corporate IT investments fell. As a result, we saw our first-ever drop in annual revenue, from $60.4 billion in fiscal 2008 to $58.4 billion in fiscal 2009, a decline of 3 percent. Operating income was $20.4 billion, down 9 percent. Earnings per share fell 13 percent to $1.62. Responding to these changes, we focused on opportunities to cut costs and use resources more effectively. We reduced expenses by more than $3 billion compared with our original fiscal 2009 plan.

We also sharpened our focus on our most important opportunities for growth. To drive innovation, we maintained our commitment to smart, long-term investment in research and development. We increased our investment in research and development by 10% in fiscal 2009 and made significant progress in key areas of product development and technology innovation that position us for growth in the years ahead. We launched new releases of some of our flagship products and services, including Internet Explorer 8, our new Web search technology Bing, SQL Server 2008, and software-plus-services offerings such as Office Online and Exchange Online. Our development groups also positioned for release in fiscal year 2010 other important offerings, including Windows 7, Office 2010, Windows Azure, Windows Server 2008 R2, Windows Mobile 6.5, and Silverlight 3.0.

Worldwide economic conditions made fiscal 2009 a challenging year for Microsoft and our entire industry. Our compensation decisions for fiscal year 2009 reflect the difficult economic environment, the impact of that environment on company financial performance, and the degree of success each executive officer achieved in meeting these challenges.

Section 2 explains how we make decisions on the design and operation of our compensation program for executive officers.

Section 3 describes (a) the major components of executive officer compensation and (b) the amount of compensation awarded to our named executive officers for fiscal year 2009 and the reasons for the awards.

Section 1. Compensation Philosophy

We design the compensation program for our executive officers to attract, motivate, and retain the key executives who drive our success and industry leadership. We achieve these objectives through a compensation package that:

- provides competitive total compensation consisting primarily of stock-based compensation,
- provides a significant portion of total compensation linked to performance that we believe will create long-term shareholder value,
- differentiates rewards based on the contributions of the executive officer to our performance,
- enhances retention by having a large percentage of total compensation subject to multi-year vesting,
- does not encourage unnecessary and excessive risk taking, and
- encourages our executive officers to act as owners with an equity stake in our company.

Section 2. Decision Making

Compensation Program Actions and Governance

Actions under our compensation program for our executive officers fall into three categories:

Compensation Program Design. Actions related to the overall design and governance of our executive compensation program, which occur throughout our fiscal year,

*Compensation Program Design*Program Review

We compete with global information technology and large market capitalization U.S. companies for senior executive talent. Each year, we review the market competitiveness of our executive compensation relative to technology and broad industry peers (described in detail below). If the review shows that our executive compensation is not competitive, we will recommend changes to the Compensation Committee. We may also recommend changes to the executive compensation program based on changes in our strategic goals or the business environment in which we operate.

The Compensation Committee periodically reviews the overall goals of our executive compensation program and the elements of the program, including the mix of cash and stock-based compensation and the mix of short term and long term compensation, to determine whether they are appropriate, properly coordinated, and achieve their intended purposes. From time to time, the Compensation Committee may make modifications or revisions to existing plans and adopt new plans. In reviewing our executive compensation program, our Compensation Committee retains and is advised by an independent compensation consultant, as described on page .

To assist the Committee in assessing the competitive position of our executive compensation program and making decisions about individual compensation elements, we provide the Compensation Committee with the results of our review of third-party surveys and publicly available executive compensation data for two specific groups of peer companies.

Technology peer group. These are companies in the information technology industry that focus on producing software or hardware or providing online services and that employ work forces with skill sets and professional backgrounds similar to those of our work force.

Dow 30 peer group. Generally, these are large, diversified companies with significant international operations. As an industry and worldwide business leader, we compete for senior executive talent with top companies across a variety of other industries, not just those in the information technology industry.

The table below represents the peer companies that were in place when we conducted our compensation analysis in planning for fiscal year 2009.

- (1) Although EDS was acquired by Hewlett Packard in August 2008, it is included in the Technology Peer Group because it was used in fiscal year 2009 compensation planning. Time Warner was used in fiscal year 2009 compensation planning but is not a part of the Technology Peer Group for fiscal year 2010.
- (2) The Dow 30 peers shown above represent the companies in the Dow 30 at the time of our compensation planning for fiscal year 2009. Since then, American International Group, Citigroup, and General Motors have been removed from the Dow 30 and replaced by Kraft, Cisco Systems, and Travelers Companies. For compensation design and planning purposes, we always use the current Dow 30 group. Hewlett Packard, IBM, and Intel are members of the Dow 30, but are excluded because they are members of the Technology Peer Group. Microsoft is also a Dow 30 member but is also excluded from the analysis.

Positioning of Pay

The Compensation Committee determines target total direct compensation (base salary and target Incentive Plan awards) for our named executive officers (other than Mr. Ballmer) after considering a variety of data sources that provide information on compensation for similar positions, including surveys and proxies, and considering internal comparisons of the executive officer's total compensation to the total compensation of our other executive officers. We do not apply a formula that ties our target compensation levels to specific market percentiles. In general, our target compensation levels for the named executive officers (other than Mr. Ballmer) will be above median but below the 75th percentile for similar positions within our peer group companies.

Mix of Pay Elements

As described in Section 1 above, our philosophy is to provide a significant portion of total compensation linked to performance that we believe will create long-term shareholder value. Further, a significant portion of the named executive officers' total compensation (with the exception of Mr. Ballmer) is delivered through stock awards under the Incentive Plan with a multi-year vesting schedule to align our executive officers to the long-term interests of the Company and shareholders to encourage the named executive officers to act as owners.

Table of Contents

The following chart provides information about the target mix of pay for our named executive officers (excluding chief executive officers) and the named executive officers of our current peer group as of the end of fiscal year 2009.

	Salary	Variable Cash ⁽¹⁾	Equity ⁽²⁾	Other Compensation
Peer Group	16%	22%	58%	4%
Microsoft	9%	18%	73%	0%

- (1) For peer group companies, variable cash consists of discretionary bonus, target annual non-equity incentive plan awards and target multi-year non-equity incentive plan awards. For Microsoft, variable cash consists of 20% of the target Incentive Plan award.
- (2) For peer group companies, equity consists of stock options, stock awards, annual incentive plan equity awards, and multi-year incentive plan equity awards. For Microsoft, equity consists of 80% of the target Incentive Plan award.

Assessment of Risk

By design our compensation program for executive officers does not incentivize excessive risk taking. Our base salary component of compensation does not encourage risk-taking because it is a fixed amount. The current Incentive Plan awards have the following risk-limiting characteristics:

- Awards to each executive officer are limited by the terms of the Incentive Plan to a fixed maximum specified in the Plan or a fixed percentage of an incentive pool, and Mr. Ballmer's awards are further limited to 200% of his base salary;
- Awards are made based on a review of a variety of indicators of performance, thus diversifying the risk associated with any single indicator of performance;
- Awards are not made in the form of stock options, which may provide an asymmetrical incentive to take unnecessary risks to increase Company stock price;
- Incentive Plan awards are not tied to formulas that could focus executives on specific short-term outcomes;
- Members of the Compensation Committee, or in the case of Mr. Ballmer, the independent members of the Board, approve the final Incentive Plan awards in their discretion, after the review of executive and corporate performance;
- Incentive Plan awards are subject to the Executive Compensation Recovery Policy;
- For executive officers other than Mr. Ballmer (who is a significant Microsoft shareholder), the majority of the award value is delivered in the form of stock that vests over a multiple years, which aligns the interests of executive officers to long-term shareholder interests; and
- Executive officers are subject to our executive stock ownership and holding guidelines.

Performance Review Process

Each year, our named executive officers participate in a performance review process that leads to decisions on the size of their Incentive Plan awards for the prior fiscal year and whether their base salaries should be increased.

Chief Executive Officer

Following the end of each fiscal year, the Compensation Committee recommends to the independent members of the Board of Directors Mr. Ballmer's proposed Incentive Plan award based on his performance during the just concluded fiscal year and whether there should be any adjustment to Mr. Ballmer's base salary for the current fiscal year. The Compensation Committee, which meets in executive session to formulate its recommendations, does not apply a formula to determine any Incentive Plan award or proposed base salary adjustment. Instead, the Compensation Committee exercises its judgment in formulating its recommendations, taking into consideration:

the evaluation of Mr. Ballmer's performance for the fiscal year, and the amounts that are being paid or awarded to the other executive officers for their performance for the same period.

Table of Contents

The evaluation conducted by the independent members of the Board of Directors, led by the Chair of the Governance and Nominating Committee, assesses Mr. Ballmer's success in achieving his performance commitments for the just-completed fiscal year, which typically include financial, operational, strategic, and company culture/leadership objectives. Mr. Ballmer provides the independent members of the Board of Directors with a self-evaluation of his performance. Microsoft provides the Board of Directors with a summary of Mr. Ballmer's performance on a wide range of quantitative and qualitative financial, operational, and strategic measures that were developed by management and reviewed with the Board of Directors at the beginning of the fiscal year as a part of the annual business planning process. The independent members of the Board of Directors also conduct in-depth interviews with Mr. Ballmer's direct reports to evaluate his performance. In addition, as part of our annual review processes, all employees have the opportunity to provide written feedback and ratings on the performance of their direct and next level managers. This information from Mr. Ballmer's next level reports is compiled and provided to the independent members of the Board of Directors for consideration as part of its evaluation.

Other Named Executive Officers

During the fiscal year, the Compensation Committee discusses on several occasions executive officer performance. Following the end of the fiscal year, the Committee devotes one of its meetings to a comprehensive discussion of all executive officers' performance and long-term potential. The meeting is attended by the members of the Committee, Mr. Ballmer, Lisa Brummel, our Senior Vice President of Human Resources, and the Committee's compensation consultant. The Committee also reviews tally sheets prepared by our Human Resources division that set forth each named executive officer's historical earnings, the value of his outstanding and unvested equity awards, his current holdings of shares of Microsoft common stock, any perquisites and benefits, and, if applicable, any potential severance payments and benefits. Based on its discussions at this meeting and recommendations from Mr. Ballmer, the Committee approves the amount of each executive officer's Incentive Plan award and any base salary adjustments after considering:

- an evaluation of the executive officer's performance for the just-completed fiscal year, as prepared and conducted by Mr. Ballmer and supported by performance evaluation documents including: performance against a wide range of quantitative and qualitative financial, operational and strategic measures, a self-evaluation provided by the executive officer, feedback from his peers, written feedback and ratings from direct and next level reports, and a summary of performance versus predefined commitments for the fiscal year, and
- any other information deemed relevant by the Committee.

Setting Compensation Opportunities

At the beginning of the fiscal year, the Compensation Committee approves a target Incentive Plan award amount for each of our executive officers based on the following:

- the executive officer's role and responsibilities,
- an assessment of compensation practices at our peer group companies for similar positions (see page),
- internal comparisons of the executive officer's total compensation to the total compensation of other executive officers, and
- input from the Committee's compensation consultant.

As the principal leader of Microsoft, Mr. Ballmer focuses on building our long-term success, and, as a significant shareholder, his personal wealth is tied directly to Microsoft's value. While the Compensation Committee believes that Mr. Ballmer is underpaid for his role and performance, it has accepted his recommendation to continue with Microsoft's historical practice for setting his total compensation opportunity to exclude any long-term equity compensation award. Based on proxy statement compensation information disclosed by our peer companies as of August 20, 2009, excluding those with founder CEOs (Apple, Dell and Oracle), the average CEO annual base salary was $1.4 million, bonus compensation was $4.1 million, and total compensation was $14.0 million. For fiscal year 2009, Mr. Ballmer's maximum pay opportunity was $1,997,499 consisting of base salary and a potential Incentive Plan award of up to 200% of his base salary for the fiscal year. This maximum pay opportunity will remain the same for fiscal year 2010.

Section 3. Components of Compensation and Fiscal Year 2009 Awards

Components of Compensation

For fiscal year 2009, the primary components of compensation for the named executive officers were base salary and Incentive Plan awards.

Base Salary

As described on page , the Compensation Committee reviews base salaries of our executive officers annually to ensure they fairly and competitively compensate these individuals for the jobs they perform. Effective September 1, 2008, the fiscal year 2009 base salaries of our named executive officers were increased between 3.2% and 3.8%. These percentage increases were consistent with the range of increases for our U.S.-based employees in September 2008. Based on the challenging economic environment in fiscal year 2009 and our decision that employees would not receive merit increases in fiscal year 2010:

The Compensation Committee recommended that there be no change to Mr. Ballmer's base salary for fiscal year 2010 and the independent members of the Board approved this recommendation.

Mr. Ballmer recommended that there be no change to the base salary of our other executive officers for fiscal year 2010 and the Compensation Committee of the Board approved this recommendation.

Incentive Plan

In September 2009, the Compensation Committee approved our new Incentive Plan to provide both cash and equity incentive compensation for our executive officers. The Incentive Plan replaces the annual cash bonus opportunity and stock award programs we used in previous fiscal years. Awards under the Incentive Plan are determined following a discretionary evaluation of performance for the fiscal year, and are not based on achievement of pre-established formulaic criteria. The Incentive Plan provides a more flexible framework that:

- allows us to consider performance against a large number of strategic, operational, and financial business goals, reflecting Microsoft's broad and complex business,
- allows us to reward our executive officers for timely adjustments to changing dynamics in the market for our products and services, including work that cannot be anticipated in advance of the performance period,
- allows us to incentivize efforts to create shareholder value that may not produce tangible results within a fixed or predictable time period, which is important given the long-term characteristics of Microsoft's business, and
- provides for greater opportunity to differentiate rewards among our executive officers.

As described on page , the Incentive Plan is designed to deliver a significant portion of total direct compensation to our named executive officers (excluding Mr. Ballmer) through shares of Microsoft common stock. We rely on stock-based compensation with a multi-year vesting schedule to enhance retention and align our executive officers to the long-term interests of the Company and Shareholders.

For fiscal year 2009, the Incentive Plan awards granted to our named executive officers (excluding Mr. Ballmer) were made in the following steps:

The Compensation Committee determined that it would grant awards to the executive officers as of July 1, 2009 from an incentive pool with maximum funding of 0.35% of Microsoft's fiscal year 2009 corporate operating income.

Edgar Filing: MICROSOFT CORP - Form PRE 14A

Each executive officer's maximum Incentive Plan award was set at a fixed percentage of the pool. The Compensation Committee intended that each executive officer (other than Mr. Ballmer) would receive an Incentive Plan award between zero and 150% of a target award established by the Committee, subject to the availability of pool funding.

In September 2009, the Compensation Committee considered Mr. Ballmer's award recommendations and its assessment of the performance of the executive officers as described on page .

In September 2009, the Committee determined the actual Incentive Plan award amounts for each executive officer.

Table of Contents

Following approval of the awards, 20% of the Incentive Plan award was paid to the executive officer in cash and 80% of the Incentive Plan award was converted into a stock award for shares of Microsoft common stock. The number of shares was determined by dividing 80% of the Incentive Plan award by the closing market price of Microsoft common stock on August 31, 2009. Incentive Plan awards vest in four equal installments. The first installment vested following the Compensation Committee's approval of the Incentive Plan awards in September 2009. Subsequent installments will vest on August 31 of 2010, 2011, and 2012. Beginning August 31, 2009, all stock awards granted to Microsoft employees, including Incentive Plan stock awards, will vest if employment terminates due to death or total and permanent disability. In addition, Incentive Plan stock awards may continue to vest following retirement, as described on page .

When we assess the performance of our executive officers we do not use a formula or apply specific weights to performance results. Instead, the Compensation Committee members (or, for Mr. Ballmer, the independent members of the Board) use their business judgment to determine an appropriate award after considering the information discussed on page , which includes the executive officer's performance across a wide range of quantitative and qualitative financial, operational, and strategic measures. These measures vary based on individual responsibilities and the business function, division, or group that an executive officer manages. Among the most important factors that we have used in prior fiscal years to evaluate performance and continued to use in fiscal year 2009 are:

- revenue,
- sales and licensing volume,
- contribution margin,
- innovation,
- corporate citizenship,
- product development and implementation,
- quality,
- customer satisfaction,
- customer acceptance,
- developer community satisfaction,
- organizational culture and leadership,
- strategic planning and development,
- operations excellence, and
- efficiency and productivity.

Mr. Ballmer's participation in the Incentive Plan for fiscal year 2009 was limited to 200% of his fiscal year 2009 base salary, consistent with our past practice of paying cash bonuses and his request that we not award him equity compensation. His maximum award was the lesser of 200% of his fiscal year 2009 base salary or the maximum pool percentage assigned to him; his target award was 100% of his fiscal year 2009 base salary; and the award was payable in cash following the end of fiscal year 2009. For fiscal year 2009, Mr. Ballmer's Incentive Plan award was $, which is % of his base salary. This amount was recommended by the Compensation Committee based on his performance appraisal by the independent members of the Board and other information the Compensation Committee deemed relevant, including [to be provided]. The independent members of the Board of Directors considered the recommendation of the Compensation Committee and approved Mr. Ballmer's Incentive Plan award.

[Named executive officer individual performance discussion to be provided]

Fiscal Year 2010 Incentive Plan

For fiscal year 2010, the Compensation Committee determined that it would grant awards to the executive officers as of July 1, 2010 from an incentive pool with maximum funding of 0.45% of Microsoft's fiscal year 2010 corporate operating income. The maximum funding in fiscal year 2010 increased 0.1% of corporate operating income over the rate in effect in fiscal year 2009 following the addition of two executive officers. As with the fiscal year 2009 Incentive Plan awards, each executive officer's Incentive Plan award from this pool will be limited to a fixed percentage of the pool that for fiscal year 2010 ranges from 1.2% to 12.3%. The Compensation Committee intends that each executive officer (other than Mr. Ballmer) will receive between zero and 150% of his target award as established by the Committee, subject to the availability of pool funding.

Section 4. Other Compensation Topics

Compensation Committee Advisor

During fiscal year 2009, the Compensation Committee continued retaining Dan Marcus, Managing Principal, Semler Brossy Consulting Group, LLC, as an independent compensation consultant. Information on the role and independence of the compensation consultant is provided on page .

Executive Benefits and Perquisites

Our named executive officers are eligible for the same benefits made available to our other full-time regular employees, including our 401(k) Plan, employee stock purchase plan, health care plan, life insurance plans, and other welfare benefit programs. In addition to the standard benefits offered to all employees, we maintain a non-qualified deferred compensation plan for executives and senior managers in which the named executive officers may participate. The plan is unfunded, and participation is voluntary. The non-qualified deferred compensation plan allows our named executive officers the opportunity to defer their base salary, the cash portion of their Incentive Plan awards, and certain on-hire bonuses. We do not contribute to the non-qualified deferred compensation plan. None of our named executive officers participated or had a balance outstanding in the deferred compensation plan in fiscal year 2009.

Perquisites are provided to our named executive officers only in special situations, including relocation for newly hired executive officers. During fiscal year 2009, other than relocation assistance, we did not provide any significant perquisites to our named executive officers.

Relocation Assistance

Mr. Elop received assistance with relocation expenses that we customarily offer officer candidates, including travel, shipping household goods, and temporary housing. As part of the arrangements negotiated to induce Mr. Elop to accept an employment offer and reflecting the specific circumstances of his hiring, he also received assistance with the sale of his prior home. For more information see Note to the All Other Compensation table on page .

Severance and Change in Control Arrangements

Our named executive officers do not have employment contracts, and (other than Mr. Turner) are not entitled to any payments upon termination of their employment or following a change of control of Microsoft, with the following exceptions:

All employees who retire from Microsoft in the United States after (a) age 65 or (b) age 55 with 15 years of service are eligible for the continuation of vesting of on-hire and annual review stock awards that were granted more than one year before retirement; and Effective August 31, 2009, all employees who terminate Microsoft employment due to death or total and permanent disability will be fully vested in their outstanding stock awards.

Pursuant to Mr. Turner's offer letter, he received an on-hire stock award of 320,000 shares, half of which will vest during his first five years of employment and the remainder of which will vest upon retirement at age 60 or older. In addition, in the case of termination of employment by Microsoft for any reason other than for cause, 160,000 shares of his 320,000 share on-hire stock award will vest immediately.

Tax/Accounting Treatment of Compensation

Under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, we may not be able to deduct as compensation expense amounts in excess of $1 million paid in one year to certain of our named executive officers. Certain performance-based compensation approved by shareholders is not subject to this deduction limit. Generally, in structuring compensation for the named executive officers, we consider whether a form of compensation will be deductible; however, other factors discussed above may be of greater importance than preserving deductibility for a particular form of compensation. Awards under the Incentive Plan are expected to qualify as performance based compensation under Section 162(m). No non-deductible compensation was paid in fiscal year 2009.

Table of Contents

In accordance with SFAS No. 123(R), we measure the fair value of stock awards, including those under the Incentive Plan, based on the market price of the underlying common stock as of the date of grant, reduced by the present value of estimated future dividends. These awards are amortized over their applicable vesting period using the straight-line method.

Executive Compensation Recovery Policy

Accountability is a fundamental value of Microsoft. To reinforce this value through our executive compensation program, the Compensation Committee maintains an executive compensation recovery policy that applies to our executive officers and our chief accounting officer. In fiscal year 2009, the Compensation Committee amended this recovery policy to expand the circumstances that would permit the recovery of incentive compensation. Under the amended recovery policy, the Compensation Committee may seek to recover payments of incentive compensation if the performance results leading to the payment are later subject to a downward adjustment or restatement of financial or nonfinancial performance. The Committee may use its judgment in determining the amount of the incentive compensation to be recovered where the incentive compensation was awarded on a discretionary basis, as with awards under the Incentive Plan for fiscal year 2009. Further, the Compensation Committee may recover incentive compensation whether or not the executive officer's actions involve misconduct. When an executive officer has engaged in intentional misconduct that contributed to the payment the Compensation Committee may take other remedial action, including seeking to recover the entire payment. Payments of incentive compensation include awards under the Incentive Plan as well as prior year compensation related to annual bonuses and incentive stock awards.

Stock Ownership Requirements for Company Executives

The Compensation Committee has adopted stock ownership requirements that require each of our executive officers to maintain a minimum equity stake in Microsoft. The requirements formalize the Compensation Committee's belief that our executive officers should maintain a material personal financial stake in Microsoft to promote a long-term perspective in managing our business, and to align executive and shareholder interests. The requirements ensure the alignment of executive and shareholder interests, which reduces the incentives for excessive short-term risk-taking. The requirements provide for stock ownership as follows:

Role	Minimum Ownership	Requirement
Chief Executive Officer and Executive Chairman	10x base pay	Each executive officer must retain 50% of all net shares (post tax) that vest on or after October 1, 2007 until the minimum share ownership requirement is achieved.
Division Presidents and Chief Operating Officer	5x base pay	If the executive officer is promoted to a position that has a higher ownership requirement, the higher standard will apply and 50% of net vested shares should be retained until the ownership requirement is met.
Other Executive Officers	3x base pay

Minimum share ownership levels are determined annually using the base pay rate in effect as of the end of the fiscal year and the average daily closing share price for the just-completed fiscal year. Following the conclusion of each fiscal year, compliance with the requirements is measured and executive officers are notified about their ownership requirement, current holdings, and whether they must hold additional shares.

For purposes of determining ownership levels, the following forms of equity interests in Microsoft count towards the stock ownership requirement:

shares held in a 401(k) plan, shares held in trust for the economic benefit of the executive officer, spouse, or dependent children of the executive officer, and shares held outright, whether acquired through open market purchase, the vesting of stock awards, stock option exercise, or purchase through our employee stock purchase plan.

Table of Contents

All of our named executive officers currently comply with these ownership requirements.

- (1) The amounts in this column for 2009 are the 20% of the Incentive Plan award that is payable in cash in September 2009 and, for Mr. Elop, a $2 million bonus paid in fiscal year 2009 in connection with the commencement of his employment. The amounts in this column for 2008 and 2007 were annual bonuses awarded under Microsoft's Annual Performance Bonus Plan for Executive Officers.
- (2) The amounts in this column are calculated using the same valuation methodology we use for financial reporting purposes in accordance with SFAS No. 123(R). The impact of estimated forfeitures related to service-based vesting is not included in this calculation, in accordance with SEC rules. As a result, these amounts do not reflect the amount of compensation actually received by the named executive officer during the fiscal year. For a description of the assumptions used in calculating the fair value of equity awards under SFAS No. 123(R), see Note 20 of our financial statements in our Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2009, Note 18 of our financial statements in our Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2008, and Note 14 of our financial statements in our Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2007.
- (3) This amount differs from the amount shown in the 2008 and 2007 Proxy Statements due to a change to what Microsoft has determined to be the preferred methodology for calculating the dollar amount of Stock Awards. In the prior years, the amount shown was calculated by giving effect to post-fiscal year-end approvals of final award amounts, which for accounting purposes were not taken into account as compensation expense until the next fiscal year. The change aligns the disclosure with the accounting treatment by shifting a portion of the amount previously shown into the next year. The new calculation methodology, had it been applied in 2007 and 2008, would not have changed the named executive officers in either year.

(4) See the All Other Compensation table below for a breakdown of these amounts.

- (1) As part of our executive relocation program, in fiscal year 2009 Mr. Elop received assistance with relocation expenses, including travel, shipping household goods, and temporary housing. As part of the arrangements negotiated to induce Mr. Elop to accept an employment offer and reflecting the specific circumstances of his hiring, he also received assistance with the sale of his prior home. We agreed to purchase his former home at a price equal to the average of three independent appraisals because he was unable to sell the home within a mutually agreed time. We also agreed with Mr. Elop that if the appraisal resulted in a loss on the sale of his prior home, we would pay him the difference between his home purchase price (adjusted for improvements) over the appraised value. Because of the precipitous decline in the California housing market over this period, the price at which the house ultimately sold was significantly below Mr. Elop's purchase price adjusted for improvements. SEC rules require that we include as fiscal year 2009 compensation this difference, along with other transaction costs. We also agreed to provide Mr. Elop with a tax gross up on amounts from this transaction that are considered taxable income. Similarly, in order to allow Messrs. Liddell and Turner to use the equity in their former homes to purchase new homes in the Redmond area after they were hired, we agreed to purchase their former homes at a price equal to the average of three independent appraisals. Because they were unable to sell the homes within a mutually agreed time, we resold these homes at our expense. As with Mr. Elop, we included as compensation to Messrs. Liddell and Turner all expenses we incurred in fiscal year 2007 and fiscal year 2008 in connection with the sale of these homes, including any difference between the price at which we purchased the homes based on appraised value and the price at which we sold them.

- (2) We measure the grant date fair value of these stock awards based on the market price as of the date of grant of common stock underlying a target award, reduced by the present value of estimated future dividends because the awards are not entitled to receive dividends prior to vesting. These awards are amortized over their applicable vesting period using the straight-line method.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

The Compensation Committee has reviewed and discussed with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis provided above. Based on its review and discussions, the Compensation Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this Proxy Statement.

Compensation Committee

Dina Dublon (Chair)

Reed Hastings

Helmut Panke

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE INTERLOCKS AND INSIDER PARTICIPATION

During fiscal year 2009, the Compensation Committee consisted of Dina Dublon, Reed Hastings, and Helmut Panke. All members of the Compensation Committee were independent directors, and no member was an employee or former employee. During fiscal year 2009, none of our executive officers served on the compensation committee (or its equivalent) or board of directors of another entity whose executive officer served on our Compensation Committee.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

We are a global software company with extensive operations in the U.S. and many foreign countries. In fiscal year 2009 we purchased approximately $21.6 billion of goods and services from third parties. We have over 90,000 employees and the authority to purchase goods and services is widely dispersed. Because of these far-reaching activities, we encounter transactions and business arrangements with businesses and other organizations in which one of our directors, executive officers, or nominees for director, or their immediate families, or a greater than 5% owner of our stock, may also be a director, executive officer, or investor, or have some other direct or indirect material interest. We will refer to these relationships generally as related-party transactions.

Related-party transactions have the potential to create actual or perceived conflicts of interest between Microsoft and its directors and executive officers or their immediate family members. The Audit Committee has established a written policy and procedures for review and approval of related-party transactions. If a related party transaction subject to review directly or indirectly involves a member of the Audit Committee (or an immediate family member or domestic partner), the remaining Committee members will conduct the review. In evaluating a related-party transaction involving a director, executive officer, or their immediate family members, the Audit Committee considered, among other factors:

goods or services provided by or to the related party, the nature of the transaction and the costs to be incurred by Microsoft or payments to Microsoft,

2009 PROXY STATEMENT

the benefits associated with the transaction and whether comparable or alternative goods or services are available to Microsoft from unrelated parties, the business advantage Microsoft would gain by engaging in the transaction, the significance of the transaction to Microsoft and to the related party, and management's determination that the transaction is in the best interests of the Company.

To receive Audit Committee approval, related party transactions must have a Microsoft business purpose and be on terms that are fair and reasonable to Microsoft, and as favorable to the Company as would be available from non-related entities in comparable transactions. The Audit Committee also requires that the transaction meets the same Company standards that apply to comparable transactions with unaffiliated entities.

The following are transactions in which Microsoft was or is a party, in which the amount involved exceeded $120,000, and in which a director, director nominee, executive officer, holder of more than 5% of our Common Stock or any member of the immediate family of any of the foregoing persons had or will have a direct or indirect material interest.

As in prior years, the Company has engaged in business transactions with Corbis Corporation, a company that provides digitized images and production services. Mr. Gates is the sole shareholder of Corbis. Microsoft paid Corbis approximately $472,000 in fiscal year 2009 as licensing fees for digital images to be used in Microsoft's products, services, and marketing materials. Those licenses were entered into at arm's length, and are similar to license agreements Microsoft enters into from time to time with other providers of digital images. The terms of the Corbis transactions are established by Corbis and the business group at Microsoft seeking to use the digital images. We believe the terms are no less favorable to Microsoft than what are offered by Corbis to other large customers. Corbis also uses Microsoft software in its business, and paid approximately $370,000 in fiscal year 2009 for software license fees under our standard licensing program. Mr. Gates is not involved in negotiating agreements with Corbis or setting price or other terms, either on behalf of Microsoft or Corbis.

A brother of Ray Ozzie, an executive officer of the Company, and a nephew of Robert J. (Robbie) Bach, an executive officer of the Company, were employed by the company in fiscal year 2009. Each received compensation that exceeded $120,000.

Microsoft's Audit Committee has reviewed and approved these arrangements.

In addition, Mr. Gates has extensive personal holdings in private and public companies where he is not involved in management or daily operations. Microsoft may, from time to time, do business with these companies in the ordinary course. Mr. Gates also owns several business entities that purchase technology consulting services from Microsoft. The business described in this paragraph is conducted at arm's length on terms that are available to unrelated parties. The business is not material to Microsoft or Mr. Gates.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires our directors, executive officers, and persons who own more than 10% of our common stock to file reports of their ownership and changes in ownership of our common stock with the SEC. Our employees prepare these reports for our directors and executive officers who request it on the basis of information obtained from them and from Microsoft's records. Based on information available to us during fiscal year 2009, we believe that all applicable Section 16(a) filing requirements were met.

REPORT OF THE MICROSOFT CORPORATION

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee operates under a written charter adopted by the Board of Directors. It is available on Microsoft's Web site at www.microsoft.com/about/corporategovernance. The charter, which was last amended effective July 1, 2009, includes a calendar that outlines the Audit Committee's duties and responsibilities quarter-by-quarter. The Audit Committee reviews the charter and calendar annually.

terminated that [James I. Cash, Jr., Dina Dublon, and Charles H. Noski] are audit committee financial experts as defined by Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) rules.

The Board of Directors has the ultimate authority for effective corporate governance, including oversight of the management of Microsoft. The Audit Committee's purpose is to assist the Board of Directors in fulfilling its responsibilities by overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes of Microsoft, the audits of Microsoft's consolidated financial statements and internal control over financial reporting, the qualifications and performance of the independent registered public accounting firm engaged as Microsoft's independent auditor, and the performance of Microsoft's internal auditor.

The Committee relies on the expertise and knowledge of management, the internal auditor, and the independent auditor in carrying out its oversight responsibilities. Management is responsible for the preparation, presentation, and integrity of Microsoft's consolidated financial statements, accounting and financial reporting principles, internal control over financial reporting, and disclosure controls and procedures designed to ensure compliance with accounting standards, applicable laws, and regulations. Management is responsible for objectively reviewing and evaluating the adequacy, effectiveness, and quality of Microsoft's system of internal control. Microsoft's independent auditor, Deloitte & Touche LLP (Deloitte & Touche), is responsible for performing an independent audit of the consolidated financial statements and expressing an opinion on the conformity of those financial statements with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. For fiscal year 2009, the independent auditor was also responsible for expressing an opinion on the effectiveness the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

During fiscal year 2009, the Audit Committee fulfilled its duties and responsibilities generally as outlined in the charter and the accompanying calendar. The Committee had nine meetings, four of which were regular quarterly meetings and five of which related to earnings announcements and periodic SEC filings. Specifically, the Committee, among other actions:

- reviewed and discussed Microsoft's quarterly earnings press releases, consolidated financial statements, and related periodic reports filed with the SEC, with management and the independent auditor,
- reviewed with management, the independent auditor, and the internal auditor management's assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting and the independent auditor's opinion about the effectiveness of Microsoft's internal control over financial reporting,
- reviewed with the independent auditor, management, and the internal auditor, as appropriate, the audit scopes and plans of both the independent auditor and internal auditor,
- inquired about significant risks, reviewed Microsoft's policies for risk assessment and risk management, and assessed the steps management is taking to control these risks, and
- met in periodic executive sessions with each of the independent auditor, management, and the internal auditor.

The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed Microsoft's audited consolidated financial statements and related footnotes for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009, and the independent auditor's report on those financial statements, with management and independent auditor. Management represented to the Audit Committee that Microsoft's financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Deloitte & Touche presented the matters required to be discussed with the Audit Committee by Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) Auditing Standard AU Section 380 (Communication with Audit Committees) and Rule 2-07 of SEC Regulation S-X. This review included a discussion with management and the independent auditor of the quality (not merely the acceptability) of the Company's accounting principles, the reasonableness of significant estimates and judgments, and the disclosures in Microsoft's financial statements, including the disclosures relating to critical accounting policies.

The Audit Committee recognizes the importance of maintaining the independence of Microsoft's independent auditor, both in fact and appearance. Consistent with its charter, the Audit Committee has evaluated Deloitte & Touche's qualifications, performance, and independence, including that of the lead audit partner. As part of its auditor engagement process, the Audit Committee considers whether to rotate the independent audit firm. The Audit Committee has established a policy pursuant to which all services, audit and non-audit, provided by the independent auditor must be pre-approved by the Audit Committee or its delegate. The Company's pre-approval policy is more fully described in this Proxy Statement under the caption Fees Billed by Deloitte & Touche. The Audit Committee has concluded that provision of the non-audit services described in that section was compatible with maintaining the independence of Deloitte & Touche. In addition, Deloitte & Touche has provided the Audit Committee with the letter required by applicable requirements of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board regarding the independent accountant's communications with the audit committee concerning independence, and the Audit Committee has engaged in dialogue with Deloitte & Touche about their independence.

Based on the reviews and discussions described above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited consolidated financial statements be included in Microsoft's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009, for filing with the SEC. The Audit Committee also has selected Deloitte & Touche as the independent registered public accounting firm for fiscal year 2010. The Board is recommending that shareholders ratify this selection at the Annual Meeting.

FEES BILLED BY DELOITTE & TOUCHE

Fees. The following table presents fees for professional audit services rendered by Deloitte & Touche for the audit of Microsoft's annual financial statements for the years ended June 30, 2009, and 2008, and fees billed for other services rendered by Deloitte & Touche during those periods.

(In millions)
Year Ended June 30		2009	2008
Audit Fees		$ 19.0	$ 19.8
Audit-Related Fees		6.8	7.2
Tax Fees		0.4	0.5
All Other Fees		0.1	0.4
Total		$ 26.3	$ 27.9

Audit Fees. These amounts represent fees of Deloitte & Touche for the audit of our annual consolidated financial statements, the review of financial statements included in our quarterly Form 10-Q reports, the audit of internal control over financial reporting, and the services that an independent auditor would customarily provide in connection with subsidiary audits, statutory requirements, regulatory filings, and similar engagements for the fiscal year, such as comfort letters, attest services, consents, and assistance with review of documents filed with the SEC. Audit Fees also include advice on accounting matters that arose in connection with or as a result of the audit or the review of periodic consolidated financial statements and statutory audits that non-U.S. jurisdictions require.

Audit-Related Fees. Audit-Related Fees consist of assurance and related services that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of Microsoft's consolidated financial statements or internal control over financial reporting. This category may include fees related to the performance of audits and attest services not required by statute or regulations, audits of our employee benefit plans, due diligence related to mergers, acquisitions, and investments, additional revenue and license compliance procedures related to performance of the review or audit of Microsoft's financial statements, and accounting consultations about the application of generally accepted accounting principles to proposed transactions. Revenue assurance and license compliance includes procedures under contracts that provide for review by an independent accountant, and advice about controls associated with the completeness and accuracy of our software licensing revenue. These services support the evaluation of the effectiveness of internal control over revenue recognition, and enhance the independent auditor's understanding of licensing programs and controls.

Tax Fees. These fees consist generally of the two categories of tax compliance and return preparation, and of tax planning and advice. For fiscal year 2009, fees incurred for tax compliance and return preparation were $372,000 and fees for tax planning and advice were $41,000. For fiscal year 2008, fees incurred for tax compliance and return preparation were $535,000, and we did not incur any fees for tax planning and advice. The compliance and return preparation services consisted of the preparation of original and amended tax returns and claims for refunds. Tax planning and advice consisted of support during income tax audits or inquiries.

All Other Fees. All Other Fees consist of permitted services other than those that meet the criteria above and include data support for proposed acquisitions and volume licensing, training activities, and economic, industry and accounting subscriptions and surveys.

The Audit Committee has concluded the provision of the non-audit services listed above is compatible with maintaining the independence of Deloitte & Touche.

POLICY ON AUDIT COMMITTEE PRE-APPROVAL OF AUDIT AND PERMISSIBLE NON-AUDIT SERVICES OF INDEPENDENT AUDITOR

The Audit Committee has established a policy regarding pre-approval of all audit and permissible non-audit services provided by the independent auditor. Each year, the Audit Committee approves the terms on which the independent auditor is engaged for the ensuing fiscal year. At least quarterly, the Committee reviews and, if appropriate, pre-approves services to be performed by the independent auditor, reviews a report summarizing fiscal year-to-date services provided by the independent auditor, and reviews an updated projection of the fiscal year's estimated fees. The Audit Committee, as permitted by its pre-approval policy, from time to time delegates the approval of certain permitted services or classes of services to a member of the Committee. The Committee then reviews the delegate's approval decisions each quarter. Microsoft uses a centralized internal system to collect requests from Company personnel for services by the independent auditor to facilitate compliance with this pre-approval policy.

PROPOSAL 2:

RATIFICATION OF INDEPENDENT AUDITOR

The Audit Committee has selected Deloitte & Touche LLP (Deloitte & Touche) as Microsoft's independent auditor for fiscal year 2010, and the Board is asking shareholders to ratify that selection. Although current law, rules, and regulations, as well as the charter of the Audit Committee, require the Audit Committee to engage, retain, and supervise Microsoft's independent auditor, the Board considers the selection of the independent auditor to be an important matter of shareholder concern and is submitting the selection of Deloitte & Touche for ratification by shareholders as a matter of good corporate practice.

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented at the meeting is required to approve the ratification of the selection of Deloitte & Touche as Microsoft's independent auditor for the current fiscal year.

The Board of Directors recommends a vote FOR the proposal.

PROPOSAL 3:

AMENDMENTS TO AMENDED AND RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

Microsoft's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation currently provide that only the Board of Directors or a Committee of the Board may call a special meeting of shareholders. The ability of shareholders to call special shareholder meetings is increasingly considered an important aspect of good corporate governance at U.S. public companies. The Board of Directors is proposing amendments to our Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation to give shareholders representing 25% or more of outstanding shares the right to call special shareholder meetings. We believe the proposed shareholder right to call special meetings as set forth in the proposed amendments to our Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws appropriately balances the roles of shareholders and directors in governing our company. The Board of Directors, upon the recommendation of the Governance and Nominating Committee, has unanimously adopted resolutions approving this amendment and recommending approval of this amendment to our shareholders.

Edgar Filing: MICROSOFT CORP - Form PRE 14A

The Board of Directors has adopted a corresponding amendment to the Bylaws of the Company that would become effective upon shareholder approval of this proposal. These amendments would describe specific procedural requirements that must be met by the shareholders calling the special meeting.

The proposal in the form of an amendment to Microsoft's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation is set forth below. If this proposal is approved by the majority vote of shareholders, the Amendment will be filed with the State of Washington.

The text of the proposed amendments to Article VIII of the Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation is as follows (additions are underlined and deletions are in strikethrough):

The text of the proposed amendments to Sections 1.2 and 1.3 of the Bylaws, which will be effective upon shareholder approval of the proposed amendments to the Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, is as follows (additions are underlined and deletions are in strikethrough):

- 1.2 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation, for any purpose or purposes, may be called at any time by the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, or one or more shareholders to the extent permitted by the Articles of Incorporation. To be in proper form, a request for a special meeting of shareholders submitted by one or more shareholders must:
- (a) be in writing and be delivered in person or by registered mail to the secretary of the Corporation;

 - (b) specify in reasonable detail the purpose(s) of and the business proposed to be conducted at the special meeting;

 - (c) suggest a date for the special meeting, which date shall be no fewer than thirty (30) and no more than ninety (90) days from the date on which the request is delivered to the secretary of the Corporation; and

(d) contain the information required of a Noticing Shareholder by Section 1.13(b) of these Bylaws.

If the Board of Directors determines a shareholder request for a special meeting complies with the Articles of Incorporation and the provisions of these Bylaws, the Board shall call and send notice of a special meeting for the purpose set forth in such request within 30 days of receipt of the request. The Board of Directors shall determine the date for such special meeting and the record date for shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at such meeting.

Given the expense and resource commitment of holding a special meeting, in making the decision to call a special meeting per shareholder request, the Board shall have discretion as to the call and purposes of a meeting, where demands are repetitious or overlapping, and may refuse to call a meeting for a purpose identical or similar to a purpose for which a previous special meeting was held in the previous 120 days. Similarly, the Board may decline to call a special meeting when, in the good faith judgment of the Board, the purpose of the proposed meeting does not present a time sensitive issue that must be addressed before the next scheduled annual meeting.

PROPOSAL 4:

ADVISORY VOTE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

As described in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis, we design our executive officer compensation programs to attract, motivate, and retain the key executives who drive our success and industry leadership. Pay that reflects performance and alignment of that pay with the interests of long-term shareholders are key principles that underlie our compensation program design.

The Board of Directors values and encourages constructive dialogue on compensation and other important governance topics with our shareholders, to whom it is ultimately accountable. In connection with the 2009 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, we received two shareholder proposals asking that we implement an advisory vote on executive compensation (commonly referred to as say-on-pay). We engaged in discussions with the proposing shareholders and considered the merits of the proposals. The Board of Directors concluded that providing shareholders with an advisory vote on executive compensation every three years will enhance shareholder communication by providing another avenue to obtain information on investor sentiment about our executive compensation philosophy, policies, and procedures. We believe holding an advisory vote every three years (a triennial vote) will be the most effective means for conducting and responding to a say-on-pay vote.

Although the vote is non-binding, Board and the Compensation Committee will review the voting results. To the extent there is any significant negative say-on-pay vote, we would consult directly with shareholders to better understand the concerns that influenced the vote. The Board and the Compensation Committee would consider constructive feedback obtained through this process in making future decisions about executive compensation programs.

Accordingly, the Board of Directors recommends that you indicate your support for the Company's compensation philosophy, policies, and procedures and their implementation in fiscal year 2009 as described in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section of this proxy statement.

PROPOSAL 5

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL NO. 1

American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) Reserve Fund has advised us that it intends to submit the proposal set forth below for consideration at our Annual Meeting.

RESOLVED: Shareholders of Microsoft Corporation (the Company) urge the Board of Directors to adopt principles for health care reform based upon principles reported by the Institute of Medicine:

1. Health care coverage should be universal.
2. Health care coverage should be continuous.
3. Health care coverage should be affordable to individuals and families.
4. The health insurance strategy should be affordable and sustainable for society.
5. Health insurance should enhance health and well being by promoting access to high-quality care that is effective, efficient, safe, timely, patient-centered, and equitable.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

The Institute of Medicine, established by Congress as part of the National Academy of Sciences, issued five principles for reforming health insurance coverage in a report, Insuring America's Health: Principles and Recommendations (2004). We believe principles for health care reform, such as those set forth by the Institute of Medicine, are essential if public confidence in our Company's commitment to health care coverage is to be maintained.

Access to affordable, comprehensive health care insurance is the most significant social policy issue in America according to polls by NBC News/The Wall Street Journal, the Kaiser Foundation and The New York Times/CBS News. In our opinion, health care reform also is a central issue in the presidential campaign of 2008.

Many national organizations have made health care reform a priority. In 2007, representing a stark departure from past practice, the American Cancer Society redirected its entire $15 million advertising budget to the consequences of inadequate health coverage in the United States (The New York Times, 8/31/07).

John Castellani, president of the Business Roundtable (representing 160 of the country's largest companies), has stated that 52 percent of the Business Roundtable's members say health costs represent their biggest economic challenge. The cost of health care has put a tremendous weight on the U.S. economy, according to Castellani, The current situation is not sustainable in a global, competitive workplace. (BusinessWeek, July 3, 2007.)

The National Coalition on Health Care (whose members include some of the largest publicly-held companies, institutional investors and labor unions) also has created principles for health insurance reform. According to the National Coalition on Health Care, implementing its principles would save employers presently providing health insurance coverage an estimated $595-$848 billion in the first ten years of implementation.

Edgar Filing: MICROSOFT CORP - Form PRE 14A

We believe that the 47 million Americans without health insurance results in higher costs, causing an adverse effect on shareholder value for our Company, as well as all other U.S. companies which provide health insurance to their employees. Annual surcharges as high as $1,160 for the uninsured are added to the total cost of each employee's health insurance, according to Kenneth Thorpe, a leading health economist at Emory University. Moreover, we feel that increasing health care costs further reduces shareholder value when it leads companies to shift costs to employees, thereby reducing employee productivity, health and morale.

BOARD RECOMMENDATION

The Board of Directors recommends that shareholders vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

The Board of Directors agrees that effective health care reform is an important national public policy issue. We have been and will continue to be actively involved in the debate and the development of technology healthcare solutions as well as our own coverage plans for our employees and their family members. Microsoft designs its health care coverage around the belief that healthy employees are more productive and better able to contribute to Microsoft's ongoing success. Our comprehensive benefits help ensure we are able to attract and retain top industry talent. Therefore, as a self-insured employer, we continue to be committed to the health and well-being of our employees and their family members and will continue to offer innovative benefit programs that improve health and help reduce and control costs. Some of the industry-leading benefits we offer include a 24-hour health line, a stay-fit benefit with subsidized access to health clubs, an urgent care house call service, and programs targeted at managing specific issues such as weight control, smoking, asthma, diabetes and heart disease. As a large employer with a panoply of benefits, we have a broad base of real-world experience and learning that we can contribute. In May 2009, we were among a group of employers invited to the White House to share our experiences with President Obama and members of his administration.

Health care reform is, however, a complex, multifaceted subject requiring time, focus, and careful consideration by members of Congress, health care providers, insurers, employers, and other stakeholders. We believe that meaningful reform should focus on wellness, prevention, cost effective care, improved outcomes and access, reducing waste, and more effective use of information technology to increase efficiency and quality of care. A strong, efficient, effective and well managed healthcare system will ensure prosperity for not only Microsoft employees and their families but for the rest of the country.

It is clear we share a number of our priorities for health care reform with the sponsor of this proposal. The Board believes, however, that endorsement of a specific set of broad-based principles developed by one organization may hinder the ability to support other proposals that are currently being considered or may be developed. Further, the Board does not consider the Company's annual meeting process to be the most appropriate forum for advancing the national health care reform debate. Accordingly, the Board recommends a vote against the proposal.

VOTE REQUIRED

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock cast in person or by proxy at the meeting is required for approval of the proposal.

PROPOSAL 6

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL NO. 2

Newground Social Investment, has advised us that it intends to submit the proposal set forth below for consideration at our Annual Meeting.

Resolved, that the shareholders of Microsoft Company (Company) hereby request that the Company provide a report, updated semi-annually, disclosing the Company's:

1. Policies and procedures for political contributions and expenditures (both direct and indirect) made with corporate funds.
2. Monetary and non-monetary political contributions and expenditures not deductible under section 162 (e)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code, including but not limited to contributions to or expenditures on behalf of political candidates, political parties, political committees and other political entities organized and operating under 26 USC Sec. 527 of the Internal Revenue Code and any portion of any dues or similar payments made to any tax exempt organization that is used for an expenditure or contribution if made directly by the corporation would not be deductible under section 162 (e)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code. The report shall include the following:

- a. An accounting of the Company's funds that are used for political contributions or expenditures as described above;

Table of Contents

- b. Identification of the person or persons in the Company who participated in making the decisions to make the political contribution or expenditure; and

The report shall be presented to the board of directors audit committee or other relevant oversight committee and posted on the company's website to reduce costs to shareholders.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

As long-term shareholders of Microsoft, we support transparency and accountability in corporate spending on political activities. These activities include direct and indirect political contributions to candidates, political parties or political organizations; independent expenditures; or electioneering communications on behalf of a federal, state or local candidate.

Disclosure is consistent with public policy, in the best interest of the company and its shareholders, and critical for compliance with recent federal ethics legislation. Absent a system of accountability, company assets can be used for policy objectives that may be inimical to the long-term interests of and may pose risks to the company and its shareholders.

Microsoft contributed at least $5.2 million in corporate funds since the 2002 election cycle. (CQ's PoliticalMoneyLine: <http://moneyline.cq.com/pml/home.do> and National Institute on Money in State Politics: <http://www.followthemoney.org/index.phtml>.)

However, relying on publicly available data does not provide a complete picture of the Company's political expenditures. For example, the Company's payments to trade associations used for political activities are undisclosed and unknown. In many cases, even management does not know how trade associations use their company's money politically. The proposal asks the Company to disclose all of its political contributions, including payments to trade associations and other tax exempt organizations. This would bring our Company in line with a growing number of leading companies, including Pfizer, Aetna and American Electric Power that support political disclosure and accountability and present this information on their websites.

The Company's Board and its shareholders need complete disclosure to be able to fully evaluate the political use of corporate assets. Thus, we urge your support for this critical governance reform.

BOARD RECOMMENDATION

The Board of Directors recommends that shareholders vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

Like many large, multinational corporations, Microsoft recognizes our responsibility to participate in the public policy process on issues related to our business and to build the foundation for innovation and sustained economic growth. In doing so, we follow high standards of legal compliance, ethical behavior, and transparent disclosure. Given our current level of disclosure and oversight of these public policy activities, the Board believes that producing the report requested by this proposal would not provide added value for the company or its investors.

Some of the ways in which we participate in the public policy and political process, and publicly disclose our activities, include:

We pursue government affairs programs designed to help educate elected officials about key business and industry issues. Our current Public Policy Agenda for fiscal year 2010 is publicly available on our corporate Web site.

In compliance with applicable state law, we make political contributions to support state and local candidates and ballot measures that are consistent with our public policy agenda and business interests. In calendar year 2008, our corporate contributions to state and local political campaigns totaled $234,000. A list of these donations is available on our Web site.

The Microsoft Political Action Committee (MSPAC) enables Microsoft employees and shareholders to participate more effectively in the political process. MSPAC is a bipartisan organization that contributes to the campaigns of federal, state, and local candidates who share Microsoft's views on public policy or otherwise influence legislation that is important to the company. MSPAC also educates its members about important issues and legislators' voting records. We disclose MSPAC donations on our Web site. In calendar year 2008, MSPAC's contributions were $1,181,000.

The Company has adopted, with the Board of Directors' oversight, robust policies governing our political contributions. We have, for example, a policy against making any corporate contributions to any non-candidate or non-party political committee organized under section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Our voluntary, centralized disclosure on our website of all corporate and MSPAC donations and of our public policy positions goes beyond legal disclosure requirements. We believe it represents a leading practice in political transparency.

The Board believes that Microsoft's high standards for disclosure of political donations and the Company's current internal policies are sufficient to provide information to the company's shareholders and the public and to ensure corporate funds are used appropriately and judiciously in the political process. For this reason, the Board recommends a vote against the proposal.

VOTE REQUIRED

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock cast in person or by proxy at the meeting is required for approval of the proposal.

PROPOSAL 7

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL NO. 2

Mr. Thomas Strobhar, 2121 Upper Bellbrook Road, Xenia, Ohio 45385, has notified the Company that he intends to submit the following proposal at this year's Annual Meeting:

Whereas, charitable contributions should enhance the image of our company in the eyes of the public.

Whereas, making known the recipients of our company's charitable gifts to as many people as possible should promote the company's interests.

Resolved, it is requested that our company list the recipients of corporate charitable contributions of $5,000 or more on the company website.

Supporting Statement

The more people know of our support of philanthropic activity the better it is for our company. For example, if we should decide to give money to the American Cancer Society we might garner good will from the millions of people touched by cancer. Similarly, should we decide to give money to Planned Parenthood, the nation's largest abortion performing organization, we might be expected to win sympathetic praise from many who support the choice of abortion. Possible contributions to organizations like the Human Rights Campaign, the Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation or other organizations that focus on the interest of people who choose to define themselves by their interest in homosexual sex, would likely engender positive feelings among potentially millions of people who enjoy engaging in sex with members of their own sex or simply those who support same sex marriage. If we gave money to the Boy Scouts of America we might expect the plaudits of potentially millions of their past members, even though they refuse to allow homosexuals to be scout leaders. Contributions to the American Heart Association or a myriad number of other worthwhile cultural and educational charities could be a source of ongoing public approval. Proper disclosure of charitable contributions would cost us little and should only serve to enhance our corporate image. For these reasons and others we urge your support for the above resolution.

BOARD RECOMMENDATION

The Board of Directors recommends that shareholders vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

Microsoft provides a wealth of information about our citizenship programs and charitable contributions. As a result, this proposal would not add any meaningful value for shareholders in the context of the extensive information that is already available.

In addition to employee contributions in fiscal year 2009, Microsoft directly donated $113 million in cash and $403 million in software to nonprofits worldwide. Since 1983, our programs have won numerous awards and recognition in the U.S. and worldwide from a variety of organizations, including the Red Cross, the United Way, and the Points of Light Institute.

Our corporate citizenship Web site, www.microsoft.com/about/corporatecitizenship, contains extensive information about our charitable programs including:

The Citizenship @ Microsoft annual report

The Unlimited Potential campaign, our umbrella for a number of programs aiming to enhance worldwide access to technology. For example, many specific grantees of our Unlimited Potential Community Technology Skills Program are identified.

A list of our strategic partners such as Tech Soup who support NGOs by building their information technology capacity, in part through software we donate.

Employee giving and volunteer programs including company matching of cash and volunteer time contributions

Our specific efforts using technology and other resources for relief of natural disasters and other humanitarian crises

We also detail our activities in numerous surveys by third parties such as the Chronicle of Philanthropy, the Committee Encouraging Corporate Philanthropy, and other publications.

As the Citizenship @ Microsoft report details, Microsoft's priorities in its citizenship efforts are transforming education, enabling jobs and opportunities, encouraging local innovation and industry collaboration, maintaining a safe and secure computing ecosystem, and maintaining high standards of accountability in our business practices. Microsoft's worldwide citizenship efforts are far more broad and diverse than a simple list of cash donations could convey. Reducing our citizenship practices to a list of donations would distort and oversimplify our efforts, and could in fact be counterproductive by providing opportunities for distraction by groups pursuing narrow agendas.

An identical shareholder proposal appeared in our 2008 Proxy Statement. It received less than 5% affirmative votes at the Annual Meeting, which demonstrates that this is not an issue that significantly concerns our shareholders as a group. Because we have no reason to believe the level of concern has changed since 2008, and because the information requested by the proposal would provide little or no incremental benefit to our shareholders and other stakeholders, the Board of Directors recommends a vote against the resolution.

VOTE REQUIRED

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock cast in person or by proxy at the meeting is required for approval of the proposal.

Also, the Laurel Hill Advisory Group LLC may solicit proxies at an approximate cost of $15,000 plus reasonable expenses. These solicitations may be made personally or by mail, facsimile, telephone, messenger, or via the Internet. Microsoft will pay persons holding shares of common stock in their names or in the names of nominees, but not owning such shares beneficially, such as brokerage houses, banks, and other fiduciaries, for the expense of forwarding solicitation materials to their principals. Microsoft will pay all proxy solicitation costs.

Tabulation of Votes. Independent election inspector(s), American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, will tabulate votes cast by proxy or in person at the meeting. We expect to publish the final vote tabulation on our Web site, www.microsoft.com/msft/votingresults.msp within one business day after the Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Effect of an Abstention and Broker Non-Votes. A shareholder who abstains from voting on any or all proposals will be included in the number of shareholders present at the meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes are not counted either in favor of or against other proposals. For the purposes of our majority vote standard for uncontested director elections, the following will not be votes cast: (a) a share whose ballot is marked as withheld; (b) a share otherwise present at the meeting but for which there is an abstention; and (c) a share otherwise present at the meeting as to which a shareholder gives no authority or direction.

Vote Confidentiality. Microsoft has a confidential voting policy to protect our shareholders' voting privacy. Only the proxy solicitor, the proxy tabulator, and the Inspector of election have access to the ballots, proxy forms, and voting instructions. The proxy solicitor and the proxy tabulator will disclose information taken from the ballots, proxy forms, and voting instructions only if there is a proxy contest, if the shareholder authorizes disclosure, to defend legal claims, or as otherwise required by law.
