UNDERWRITING

Under the terms of an underwriting agreement, which we will file as an exhibit to our Current Report on Form 8-K and incorporate by reference in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, Barclays Capital Inc., as the underwriter in this offering, has agreed to purchase from the selling stockholders 4,800,000 shares of our common stock.

The underwriter has an option to buy up to 675,000 additional shares of common stock from Luxco to cover sales of shares by the underwriter that exceed the number of shares specified above. The underwriter has 30 days from the date of this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus to exercise this overallotment option. If any additional shares of common stock are purchased, the underwriter will offer the additional shares on the same terms as those on which the shares are being offered. Our common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol SIRO.

The underwriting agreement provides that the underwriter's obligation to purchase shares of our common stock depends on the satisfaction of the conditions contained in the underwriting agreement including:

the obligation to purchase all of the shares of our common stock offered hereby, if any of the shares are purchased;

the representations and warranties made by us and the selling stockholders to the underwriter are true;

there is no material change in our business or in the financial markets; and we and the selling stockholders deliver customary closing documents to the underwriter.

Commissions and Expenses

The following table summarizes the underwriting discounts and commissions the selling stockholders will pay to the underwriter. The underwriting fee is the difference between the initial price to the public and the amount the underwriter pays to the selling stockholders for the shares.

Per share	$ 0.35
Total	$ 1,680,000

The underwriter has advised us that it proposes to offer the shares of our common stock directly to the public at the public offering price on the cover of this prospectus supplement and to selected dealers at such offering price less a selling concession not in excess of $0.20 per share. After the offering, the underwriter may change the offering price and other selling terms. Sales of shares made outside of the United States may be made by affiliates of the underwriter.

The expenses of this offering that are payable by us are estimated to be $168,395.81 (excluding underwriting discounts and commissions). We have agreed to pay expenses incurred by the selling stockholders in connection with the offering, other than the underwriting discounts and commissions, any costs and expenses incurred by the selling stockholders related to its performance under the underwriting agreement and any transfer taxes related to their sale of our common stock.

Lock-ups

We, the selling stockholders and management have agreed that, with limited exceptions, for a period of 60 days after the date of the final prospectus, we and they will not offer, pledge, announce the intention to sell, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of common stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for common stock, or enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of common stock, without the prior written consent of Barclays Capital Inc. for a period of 60 days after the date of this prospectus. These restrictions shall not apply to sales of common stock in this offering.

Our directors and executive officers will enter into lock-up agreements with the underwriter pursuant to which each of these persons, with limited exceptions, for a period of 60 days after the date of this prospectus supplement, may not, without the prior written consent of Barclays Capital Inc., (1) offer, pledge, announce the intention to sell, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of our common stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for our common stock (including, without limitation, common stock or such other securities which may be deemed to be beneficially owned by such directors and executive officers in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC and securities which may be issued upon exercise of a stock option or warrant), (2) enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the common stock or such other securities, whether any such transaction described in clause (1) or (2) above is to be settled by delivery of common stock or such other securities, in cash or otherwise, or (3) make any demand for or exercise any right with respect to the registration of any shares of our common stock or any security convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for our common stock without the prior written consent of Barclays Capital Inc., in each case other than (A) our common stock to be sold by such directors and executive officers pursuant to the underwriting agreement, (B) transfers of shares of our common stock as a bona fide gift or gifts, and (C) distributions of shares of our common stock to members or stockholders of such directors and executive officers; provided that in the case of any transfer or distribution pursuant to clause (B) or (C), each donee or distributee shall execute and deliver to Barclays Capital Inc. a lock-up agreement; and provided, further, that in the case of any transfer or distribution pursuant to clause (B) or (C), no filing by any party (donor, donee, transferor or transferee) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act), or other public announcement shall be required or shall be made voluntarily in connection with such transfer or distribution (other than a filing on a Form 5 made after the expiration of the 60-day period referred to above).

Indemnification

We and the selling stockholders have agreed to indemnify the underwriter against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and to contribute to payments that the underwriter may be required to make for these liabilities.

Stabilization, Short Positions and Penalty Bids

The underwriter may engage in stabilizing transactions, covering transactions or purchases for the purpose of pegging, fixing or maintaining the price of our common stock, in accordance with Regulation M under the Exchange Act:

Stabilizing transactions permit bids to purchase the underlying security so long as the stabilizing bids do not exceed a specified maximum.

Covering transactions involve purchases of our common stock in the open market after the distribution has been completed in order to cover short positions.

These stabilizing transactions and covering transactions may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of our common stock or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of our common stock. As a result, the price of our common stock may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. These transactions may be effected on the Nasdaq Global Select Market or otherwise and, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

Neither we nor the underwriter make any representation or prediction as to the direction or magnitude of any effect that the transactions described above may have on the price of our common stock. In addition, neither we nor the underwriter make any representation that the underwriter will engage in these stabilizing transactions or that any transaction, once commenced, will not be discontinued without notice.

OUR COMPANY

We are the leading manufacturer of high-quality, technologically advanced dental equipment, and are focused on developing innovative systems and solutions for dentists around the world. Our business has grown substantially over the past five years, driven by numerous high-tech product introductions and a continued expansion of our global sales and service infrastructure, strong relationships with key distribution partners, namely Patterson and Henry Schein, and an international dealer network. We generated revenues of $770.3 million in the fiscal year ended September 30, 2010, with the U.S. market contributing 31% of revenue, or $239.5 million, the German market contributing 19% of revenue, or $148.3 million, and the rest of the world contributing 50% of revenue, or $382.4 million.

We have a long tradition of innovation in the dental industry. We introduced the first dental electric drill 130 years ago, the first dental X-ray unit 100 years ago, the first dental computer-aided design/computer-aided manufacturing (CAD/CAM) system 25 years ago, and numerous other significant innovations in dentistry. We continue to make significant investments in research and development and our track record of innovation continues today, with numerous recent product launches, including the Galileos and CEREC combination (launched in September 2009), the CEREC AC unit (launched in January 2009), the Galileos Compact 3D imaging system (launched in July 2008), the TENEO treatment center (launched in July 2008) and the CAD/CAM milling unit MC XL (launched in fiscal year 2007).

Our Segments

We report our worldwide operations in four business segments:

Dental CAD/CAM Systems. We pioneered the application of high-tech CAD/CAM techniques to the traditional lab-based restoration process with the commercialization of our CEREC (CEramic REConstruction) method. CEREC is an in-office application that enables dentists to produce high-quality restorations from ceramic materials and insert them in a patient's mouth in a single appointment. To date, we have an installed base of over 29,000 CAD/CAM systems in dental offices worldwide. In the dental laboratory market we have a leading market position, with almost 5,000 inLab CAD/CAM systems installed. CEREC has a number of advantages compared to the traditional out-of-mouth pre-shaped restoration method, as CEREC does not require a physical model, restorations can be created in the dentist's office and the procedure can be completed in a single visit. Independent studies indicate that CEREC ceramic restorations are very durable and can replace conventional restoration materials for most procedures. In addition, CEREC restorations are aesthetically pleasing and have the benefit of a natural-looking appearance.

Imaging Systems. Our imaging systems products comprise a broad range of digital systems for diagnostic imaging in the dental practice, including intraoral, panoramic and 3D imaging systems. Intraoral x-ray equipment typically takes images of one or a few teeth. Our panoramic models, which we market under the Orthophos XG line, produce images of the entire jaw structure and provide general practitioners and specialists with a wide variety of diagnostic capabilities. In July 2006 we introduced our GALILEOS Comfort 3D-imaging unit, and in July 2008 we launched GALILEOS Compact 3D-imaging unit, specifically tailored to meet the needs of the general practitioner. In September 2009, we introduced software that facilitates the integration of Galileos 3D X-ray volume (bone level data) with a CEREC AC CAD/CAM scan (surface level information) that allows the practitioner to plan both the implant surgery and the prosthetic at the start of the implant treatment session. This integrated process reduces the number of treatment sessions, results in greater accuracy and superior implant alignment. With this new software, the dental practitioner can now place more focus on the desired aesthetic outcome throughout the entire treatment process.

Treatment Centers. Our treatment center products range from basic dentist chairs to sophisticated chair-based units with integrated diagnostic, hygiene and ergonomic functionalities, as well as specialist centers used in preventative treatment and for training purposes. We offer specifically configured products to meet the preferences of dentists within each region in which they operate. Our treatment center configurations and system integration are designed to enhance productivity by creating a seamless workflow within the dental practice. Our centers therefore allow the dentist to improve both productivity and increase patient satisfaction, significant factors in adding value to his or her practice. In October 2004, we acquired one of the leading Chinese manufacturers of basic treatment centers, located in Foshan (South China). This facility manufactures basic products for both the domestic Chinese market and export markets. In July 2008, we launched our TENEO Treatment Center, which combines industry-leading technology with a timeless design that provides both patient and dentist with the ultimate in convenience and comfort.

Instruments. We offer a wide range of instruments, including handheld and power-operated handpieces for cavity preparation, endodontics, periodontology and prophylaxis. New products that we have introduced over the last several years include: SIROLaser, a compact diode laser that can be used in endodontics, periodontology and oral surgery; SIROEndo, a root canal preparation unit; and SIROPure, oil-free, power-driven handpieces. Our instruments are often sold as packages in combination with treatment centers.

Our Industry

We believe that we are favorably positioned to benefit from several trends in the global dental industry, including:

Technological innovation. New dental technologies offer improved dental care to patients, enable dentists to enhance productivity, increase profitability, and increase their control over the entire treatment process. Recent innovations in the dental industry include the digitization of the dental practice, 2D and 3D digital radiography and CAD/CAM restorative dentistry. New treatments in dentistry require new types of equipment that support these advanced treatment methods.

Increased use of CAD/CAM systems in restorative dentistry. As a result of developments in CAD/CAM technology and improvements in ceramic dental restorative materials, the dental industry continues its shift to restorations created with CAD/CAM technology. For example, in-office dental CAD/CAM technology enables dentists to create high-quality restorations that offer patients the convenience of single-visit restorations. Dental CAD/CAM technology has also been adopted in the dental laboratory market due to increased precision, speed and quality.

Shift to digital imaging. The imaging segment continues to benefit from an industry wide shift away from film based dental imaging systems towards digital imaging systems. Digital imaging has a number of advantages over film, as dentists are able to conduct improved diagnostic analyses; do not need to spend thousands of dollars on film each year; do not need to spend time developing film; do not need a dark room; do not need to buy and store chemicals; can shoot an X-ray during a procedure (not possible with film); can easily store and retrieve X-ray images; and can significantly increase their practice productivity. In addition, digital imaging utilizes significant lower radiation dosage than does film based imaging.

Favorable demographic trends. Growth in the worldwide population, coupled with increased life expectancy, has resulted in a growing elderly patient population. Older patients spend more on dental services and visit the dentist more regularly than do younger dental patients. In addition, increasing levels of disposable income around the world are driving increased dental expenditures, particularly preventive and cosmetic treatments.

Table of Contents

Growing patient focus on dental health and cosmetic appearance. As a consequence of greater health awareness, patients have become more focused on retaining and improving the appearance of natural teeth. This trend has resulted in a reduction in the number of drill and fill treatments performed by dentists and an increase in the number of patients demanding cosmetic dentistry and specialized procedures to preserve and retain natural teeth longer.
