Petrobras beats new monthly production record

(Rio de Janeiro, July 7, 2005). PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces that in June, Petrobras beat the monthly oil production record in Brazil for the third successive time. The monthly average reached 1,755,000 barrels per day, surpassing the previous monthly record of 1,729,000 barrels per day reported in May 2005 by 26,000 barrels.

MONTH	RECORD PRODUCTION AMOUNTS (in barrels per day)
April 2005	1,704,315
May 2005	1,729,237
June 2005	1,755,226

With this result, average production for the first half of 2005 reached a total of 1,637,000 barrels daily, 11.5% above the same period in 2004 (1,468,000 barrels daily) and 7.9% more than the average for the second half of last year (1,516,000 barrels daily). This latest result is also 9.7% higher than the average for 2004 (1,493,000 barrels per day).

The jump in domestic output reflects the high operational efficiency of the platforms located in the offshore areas of the coastal regions of the states of Rio de Janeiro and Espírito Santo and the production from mature onshore areas. The enhanced output has come largely from the P-43 and P-48 platforms installed in the Barracuda and Caratinga fields. Together, these platforms are producing about 260,000 barrels daily, thus increasing the daily average production from the Campos Basin in June to 1,471,000 barrels.

The table below shows the distribution of volumes according to each production area:

Production Area	Producing Basins	PRODUCTION IN JUNE
Amazonas	Solimões	58,796
Rio Grande do Norte and Ceará	Potiguar and Ceará	94,055
Sergipe and Alagoas	Sergipe and Alagoas	52,949
Bahia	Recôncavo	51,133
Espírito Santo	Espírito Santos and Campos	36,202
Rio de Janeiro	Campos	1,453,665
São Paulo and Paraná	Santos and Xisto	8,426
TOTAL BRAZIL		1,755,226
