Item 8.01 Other Events.

On May 13, 2009, Apple, Inc. began offering customers the ability to order, activate, and ship 3G iPhones via its www.apple.com website. SynchronossTechnologies, Inc. (the "Company") has entered into an agreement with Apple to support certain transactions involving selected Apple products on Apple's www.apple.com website. Today's event was already taken into consideration when the Company provided its second quarter and full year 2009 guidance, and there are no additional changes to the Company's financial guidance as of today, May 13, 2009.

This Current Report on Form 8-K may include certain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, financial guidance, plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements contained in this Current Report on Form 8-K that are not historical facts and statements identified by words such as "expects," "anticipates," "intends," "plans," "believes," "seeks," "estimates" or words of similar meaning. These statements are based on our current beliefs or expectations and are inherently subject to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth under the caption "Risk Factors" in Synchronoss' Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Actual results may differ materially from these expectations due to changes in global political, economic, business, competitive, market and regulatory factors. Synchronoss does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statements contained in this document as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
