NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Business and Organization

China Direct Industries, Inc., a Florida corporation and its subsidiaries are referred to in this report as the “Company”, “we”, “us”, “our”, or “China Direct”. We are on a calendar year, as such the three month period ending June 30, is our second quarter and the six month period ending June 30 is referred to as the “six months”. The year ended December 31, 2008 is referred to as “2008” and the coming year ending December 31, 2009 is referred to as “2009”.

We are a U.S. company that manages a portfolio of Chinese entities. We also provide consulting services to Chinese businesses. We operate in three identifiable segments, Magnesium, Basic Materials and Consulting, in accordance with SFAS No. 131, “Disclosure about segments of an Enterprise and Related Information”. In 2006 we established our Magnesium and Basic Materials segments which have grown through acquisitions of controlling interests of Chinese private companies. We consolidate these acquisitions as either our wholly or majority owned subsidiaries. Through this ownership control, we provide management advice as well as investment capital to expand their businesses. We hold a controlling interest in twelve subsidiaries operating in China, five of which comprise our Magnesium segment and five comprise our Basic Materials segment. As of the date of this report, we have a total of 1,297 full-time employees, the majority of which, 1,281, work in the Peoples Republic of China (the “PRC”).

In our largest segment, Magnesium, we operate five entities which produce, sell and distribute pure magnesium ingots, magnesium powders and magnesium scraps.

In our Basic Materials segment, we operate five entities which sell and distribute a variety of products including (i) industrial grade synthetic chemicals, (ii) steel products, (iii) non ferrous metals, and (iv) recycled materials. This segment also includes our zinc mining property which has not commenced operations.

In our Consulting segment, we provide a suite of consulting services to U.S. public companies that operate primarily in China. The consulting and transactional fees we charge vary based upon the scope of the services to be rendered.

In 2007 we launched a Clean Technology segment. We discontinued this segment in the third quarter of 2008 when we completed the sale in October 2008 of an 81% interest in CDI Clean Technology and its 51% interest in CDI Wanda and its 52% interest in Yantai CDI Wanda to PE Brothers Corp. for $1,240,000. We plan to maintain the 19% ownership interest in CDI Clean Technology we retained. We have received the first installment payment of $240,000.

NOTE 2 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

Our unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and pursuant to the requirements for reporting on Form 10-Q. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and footnotes required by U.S. generally accepted accounting principles for annual financial statements. However, the information included in these interim financial statements reflects all adjustments (consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments) which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for the fair presentation of the consolidated financial position and the consolidated results of operations. Results shown for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results to be obtained for a full year. The consolidated balance sheet information as of December 31, 2008 was derived from the audited consolidated financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008. These interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008. Certain reclassifications have been made to prior year amounts to conform to the current year presentation and to disclose our reclassification of discontinued operations treatment reflecting the sale of an 81% interest in CDI Clean Technology.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods presented.

Significant estimates for the periods reported include the fair value of share-based compensation, allowance for doubtful accounts, and useful life of fixed assets.

We rely on assumptions such as volatility, forfeiture rate, and expected dividend yield when deriving the grant date fair value of share-based compensation. If an equity award is modified, and we expect the service conditions of the original award will be met, we will adjust our assumptions and estimates as of the modification date and compare the old equity award valued at the modification date with the new equity award valued at the modification date to calculate any incremental cost. We then continue to recognize the original grant date fair value plus any incremental cost over the modified service period

Our estimate for allowance for doubtful accounts is based on an evaluation of our outstanding accounts receivable including the age of amounts due, the financial condition of our specific customers, knowledge of our industry segment in Asia, and historical bad debt experience. This evaluation methodology has proven to provide a reasonable estimate of bad debt expense in the past and we intend to continue to employ this approach in our analysis of collectability. However, we are aware that given the current global economic situation, including that of China, meaningful time horizons may change. We intend to enhance our focus on the evaluation of our customers' sustainability and adjust our estimates as may be indicated.

We group property plant and equipment into similar groups of assets and estimate the useful life of each group of assets; see Note 7 – Property and Equipment for further information on asset groups and estimated useful lives.

Assumptions and estimates employed in these areas are material to our reported financial conditions and results of operations. These assumptions and estimates have been materially accurate in the past and are not expected to materially change in the future. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the consolidated statements of cash flows, we consider all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The carrying values of these investments approximate their fair value.

Concentration of Credit Risks

Financial instruments which potentially subject us to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and trade accounts receivable. We deposit our cash with high credit quality financial institutions in the United States and China. As of June 30, 2009, bank deposits in the United States exceeded federally insured limits by $4,773,504. This amount reflected substantially all of the net proceeds of our June 15, 2009 offering of our securities. On July 9, 2009, the $4,773,504 was deposited in a CDARS account. At June 30, 2009, we had deposits of $5,120,032 in banks in China. In China, there is no equivalent federal deposit insurance as in the United States, so the amounts held in banks in China are not insured. We have not experienced any losses in such bank accounts through June 30, 2009.

At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, bank deposits by geographic area were as follows:

Country	June 30, 2009		December 31, 2008
United States	$ 8,672,693	63%	$ 6,640,672	47%
China	5,120,032	37%	7,564,557	53%
Total cash and cash equivalents	$ 13,792,725	100%	$ 14,205,229	100%

In an effort to mitigate any potential risk, we periodically evaluate the credit quality of the financial institutions at which we hold deposits, both in the United States and China.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are reported at net realizable value. We have established an allowance for doubtful accounts based upon factors pertaining to the credit risks of specific customers, historical trends, age of the receivable and other information. Delinquent accounts are written off when it is determined that the amounts are uncollectible. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, allowances for doubtful accounts were approximately $300,000 and $500,000, respectively.

Inventories

Inventories, consisting of raw materials and finished goods, are stated at the lower of cost or market utilizing the weighted average method. Inventories as of June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 were $9,992,885 and $8,559,593, respectively. Due to the nature of our business and the short duration of the manufacturing process of our products, there was no work-in-process inventory at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008.

Accounts Payable-Related Parties

At June 30, 2009 our consolidated balance sheet reflects accounts payable-related party of $1,552,780, an amount due from Chang Magnesium to Pine Capital in repayment of an advance from customer for the expected delivery of inventory. At December 31, 2008, our consolidated balance sheet reflects accounts payable-related party of $7,516,728, comprised of $4,497,180 and $3,019,548 due Chang Magnesium in repayment of customer advances by Pine Capital and Wheaton Group, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

As of January 1, 2008, we adopted on a prospective basis certain required provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 157, Fair Value Measurements, as amended by Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Financial Staff Position (FSP) No. 157-2, on the effective date of FASB Statement No. 157. Those provisions relate to our financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value and our fair value disclosures related to financial assets and liabilities. SFAS 157 defines fair value, expands related disclosure requirements and specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on the nature of the inputs used to develop the fair value measures. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. There are three levels of inputs to fair value measurements - Level 1, meaning the use of quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets; Level 2, meaning the use of quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active or are directly or indirectly observable; and Level 3, meaning the use of unobservable inputs. Observable market data should be used when available.

Most, but not all, of our financial instruments are carried at fair value, including, all of our cash equivalents, investments classified as available for sale securities and assets held for sale and are carried at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses, net of tax. Virtually all of our valuation measurements are Level 1 measurements. The adoption of SFAS 157 did not have a significant impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Marketable Securities

Marketable securities held for sale and marketable securities held for sale-related party at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 consists of the following:

Company	June 30, 2009	%	December 31, 2008	%
China America Holdings, Inc.	$ 357,557	7%	$ 272,200	5%
China Logistics Group, Inc.	694,745	13%	1,807,357	23%
Dragon International Group Corp.	807,289	15%	704,656	9%
China Armco Metals, Inc.	2,773,945	52%	4,045,002	52%
Sunwin International Neutraceuticals, Inc.	295,218	6%	649,337	8%
Other	385,101	7%	251,240	3%
Marketable securities held for sale	$ 5,313,855	100%	$ 7,729,792	100%

Through our Consulting segment, we receive securities which include preferred stock, common stock and common stock purchase warrants from clients. We classify these securities as investments in marketable securities available for sale or investment in marketable securities available for sale-related party. These securities are stated at their fair value in accordance with SFAS No. 115 “Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities ”, and EITF 00-8

Accounting by a Grantee for an Equity Instrument to be Received in Conjunction with Providing Goods or Services". Unrealized gains or losses in investments in marketable securities available for sale are recognized as an element of other comprehensive income on a monthly basis based on fluctuations in the fair value of the security as quoted on an exchange or an inter-dealer quotation system. Realized gains or losses are recognized in the consolidated statements of operations when the securities are liquidated.

Our consulting fees vary based upon the scope of the services to be rendered. Historically, a significant portion of the fees we earned have been paid in the form of our clients' securities which include preferred stock, common stock and common stock purchase warrants. Some of the securities of China Logistics we own are restricted securities and cannot be readily resold by us absent a registration of those securities under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") or the availability of an exemption from the registration requirements under the Securities Act.

The securities of one client, Dragon Capital Group Corp. (“Dragon Capital”), accounted for all of the investment in marketable securities available for sale-related party and totaled $385,101 and $160,459 at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively. The per share price of these securities went up from $0.003 to $0.006, which accounted for the increase in the value of the securities. Dragon Capital is a related party. Mr. Lisheng (Lawrence) Wang, the CEO and Chairman of the Board of Dragon Capital, is the brother of Dr. James Wang, CEO and Chairman of China Direct. These securities were issued by Dragon Capital as compensation for consulting services. Dragon Capital is a non-reporting company whose securities are quoted on the Pink Sheets, and as such, under Federal securities laws, securities of Dragon Capital cannot be readily resold by us, generally, absent a registration of those securities under the Securities Act. Dragon Capital does not intend to register the securities.

Other-than-temporary impairment of securities is evaluated periodically to determine whether a decline in their value is other than temporary. Management utilizes criteria such as the magnitude and duration of the decline, in addition to the reasons underlying the decline, to determine whether the loss in value is other than temporary. The term “other-than-temporary” is not intended to indicate that the decline is permanent. It indicates that the prospects for a near term recovery of value are not necessarily favorable, or that there is a lack of evidence to support fair values equal to, or greater than, the carrying value of the investment. Once a decline in value is determined to be other than temporary, the value of the security is reduced and a corresponding impairment charge to earnings is recognized.

In January 2009, the FASB issued FSP EITF 99-20-1 to amend the impairment guidance in EITF Issue No. 99-20 in order to achieve more consistent determination of whether other-than-temporary impairment (“OTTI”) has occurred. This FSP amended EITF 99-20 to more closely align the OTTI guidance to the guidance in Statement No. 115. Retrospective application to a prior interim or annual period is prohibited. The guidance in this FSP will be considered at the end of our fiscal year when we conduct an assessment of OTTI for our investment in securities available for sale.

All securities (exclusive of preferred stock and common stock purchase warrants) received from our clients as compensation are quoted either on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board or the Pink Sheets. The securities are typically restricted as to resale. Our policy is to liquidate securities received as compensation when market conditions are favorable for sale. As these securities are often restricted, we are unable to liquidate these securities until the restriction is removed. We value common stock based on the fair value at the time common stock is granted and for common stock purchase warrants based on the Black-Scholes valuation model. Unrealized gains or losses on marketable securities available for sale and on marketable securities available for sale-related party are recognized as an element of comprehensive income on a monthly basis based on changes in the fair value of the security as quoted on an exchange or an inter-dealer quotation system. Once liquidated, realized gains or losses on the sale of marketable securities available for sale and marketable securities available for sale-related party are reflected in our net income for the period in which the security was liquidated.

The unrealized loss on marketable securities available for sale, net of the effect of taxes, for the second quarter of 2009 and 2008 was $207,262 and $1,590,347, respectively. The realized gain (loss) on investments in marketable securities available for sale for the second quarter of 2009 and 2008 was a loss of $79,221 and a gain of $3,756, respectively.

Prepaid Expenses and Other Current Assets

Prepaid expenses and other current assets consist of (i) prepayments to vendors for merchandise that had not yet been shipped, (ii) the fair value of securities received from client companies associated with our Consulting segment assigned to our executive officers and employees as compensation, (iii) value added tax refunds available from the Chinese government, (iv) loans receivable and (v) other receivables. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, our consolidated balance sheets include prepaid expenses and other current assets of $6,508,666 and $8,127,300, respectively.

Prepaid expenses-related parties were $4,142,066 and $8,007,111 at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively. This item is discussed in further detail in Note 10 - Related Party Transactions.

Non-current prepaid expenses and other assets consist of (i) the fair value of the securities of our client companies assigned to executive officers and employees as compensation for services to be rendered over the term of the respective consulting agreement which will be amortized beyond the twelve month period, and (ii) other assets acquired in connection with the acquisition of Pan Asia Magnesium. This item is discussed in further detail in Note 6- Prepaid Expenses and other current assets. Accordingly, non-current prepaid expenses totaled $1,800,431 and $2,744,427 at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively.

Property, Plant and Equipment
Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost and depreciated on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives of three to forty years. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Significant renewals and improvements are capitalized.

Acquisitions

We account for acquisitions using the purchase method of accounting in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 141. In each of our acquisitions for the periods presented, we determined that fair values were equivalent to the acquired historical carrying costs. Acquisitions to be made after December 15, 2008 will be accounted for under the provisions of SFAS 141R.

Advances from Customers and Deferred Revenues

Advances from customers represent (i) prepayments to us for merchandise that had not yet been shipped to customers, and (ii) the fair value of securities received as compensation which will be amortized over the term of the respective consulting agreement. We will recognize these advances as revenues as customers take delivery of the goods or when the services have been rendered, in compliance with our revenue recognition policy. Advances from customers totaled $1,503,580 and $1,545,273 at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively.

Comprehensive Income

We follow Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130 (SFAS 130) “Reporting Comprehensive Income” to recognize the elements of comprehensive income. Comprehensive income is comprised of net income and all changes to the statements of stockholders’ equity, except those due to investments by stockholders, changes in paid-in capital and distributions to stockholders. Comprehensive income for the second quarter of 2009 and 2008 included net income, foreign currency translation adjustments, unrealized gains or losses on marketable securities available for sale, net of income taxes, and unrealized gains or losses on marketable securities available for sale-related party, net of income taxes.

Foreign Currency Translation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are presented in United States dollars. The functional currency of our Chinese subsidiaries is the Renminbi, the official currency of the People’s Republic of China, (“RMB”). Capital accounts of the consolidated financial statements are translated into United States dollars from RMB at their historical exchange rates when the capital transactions occurred. Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rates as of the balance sheet date. Income and expenditures are translated at the average exchange rates for the second quarter of 2009 and 2008. A summary of the conversion rates for the periods presented is as follows:

	June 30,
	2009	2008
Quarter end RMB : U.S. Dollar exchange rate	6.8448	6.8718
Average year-to-date RMB : U.S. Dollar exchange rate	6.8432	7.0726

The RMB is not freely convertible into foreign currency and all foreign exchange transactions must take place through PRC authorized institutions. No representation is made that the RMB amounts could have been, or could be, converted into United States dollars at the rates applied in the translation.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with SFAS No. 144, “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets”, we periodically review our long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. We recognize an impairment loss when the sum of expected undiscounted future cash flows is less than the carrying amount of the asset. The amount of impairment is measured as the difference between the estimated fair value and the book value of the underlying asset. We did not record any impairment charges during first and second quarters of 2009 and 2008.

Subsidiaries Held for Sale

Long-lived assets are classified as held for sale when certain criteria are met. These criteria include management's commitment to a plan to sell the assets; the availability of the assets for immediate sale in their present condition; an active program to locate buyers and other actions to sell the assets has been initiated; the sale of the assets is probable and their transfer is expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year; the assets are being marketed at reasonable prices in relation to their fair value; and it is unlikely that significant changes will be made to the plan to sell the assets. We measure long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale at the lower of carrying amount or fair value, less cost to sell.

Non-controlling Interest

Noncontrolling interests in our subsidiaries are recorded in accordance with the provisions of SFAS 160 Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements, an amendment to ARB No. 51 and are reported as a component of our equity, separate from the parent's equity. Purchase or sale of equity interests that do not result in a change of control are accounted for as equity transactions. Results of operations attributable to the noncontrolling interest are included in our consolidated results of operations and, upon loss of control, the interest sold, as well as interest retained, If any, will be reported at fair value with any gain or loss recognized in earnings.

Income Taxes

We accounted for income taxes in accordance with SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes". SFAS No. 109 requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities to reflect the future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in our financial statements or tax returns. Measurement of the deferred items is based on enacted tax laws. In the event the future consequences of differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of our assets and liabilities result in a deferred tax asset, SFAS No. 109 requires an evaluation of the probability of our being able to realize the future benefits indicated by such assets. A valuation allowance related to a deferred tax asset is recorded when it is more likely than not that some or the entire deferred tax asset will not be realized.

Basic and Diluted Earnings per Share

Basic income per common share is computed by dividing income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the periods presented. Diluted income per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities were exercised or converted into common stock or other contracts to issue common stock resulted in the issuance of common stock that would then share in our income, subject to anti-dilution limitations.

Revenue Recognition

We follow the guidance of the Securities and Exchange Commission's Staff Accounting Bulletin ("SAB") No. 104 and SAB Topic 13 for revenue recognition. In general, we record revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, services have been rendered or product delivery has occurred, the sales price to the customer is fixed or determinable, and collectability is reasonably assured.

Stock-based Compensation

We account for the grant of stock options and restricted stock awards in accordance with SFAS 123R, "Share-Based Payment, an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 123" ("SFAS 123R"). SFAS 123R requires companies to recognize in the statement of operations the grant-date fair value of stock options and other equity based compensation.

Recent Pronouncements

In June 2009 the FASB issued SFAS No. 168, The FASB Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting , or SFAS 168. SFAS 168 represents the last numbered standard to be issued by FASB under the old (pre-Codification) numbering system, and amends the GAAP hierarchy established under SFAS 162. On July 1, 2009 the FASB launched FASB's new Codification entitled The FASB Accounting Standards Codification, or FASB ASC. The Codification will supersede all existing non-SEC accounting and reporting standards. SFAS 168 is effective in the first interim and annual periods ending after September 15, 2009. This pronouncement will have no effect on our consolidated financial statements upon adoption other than current references to GAAP which will be replaced with references to the applicable codification paragraphs.

In June 2009 the FASB issued SFAS No. 167, Amendments to FASB Interpretation No. 46(R), or SFAS 167, that will change how we determine when an entity that is insufficiently capitalized or is not controlled through voting (or similar rights) should be consolidated. Under SFAS No. 167, determining whether a company is required to consolidate an entity will be based on, among other things, an entity's purpose and design and a company's ability to direct the activities of the entity that most significantly impact the entity's economic performance. SFAS 167 is effective for financial statements after January 1, 2010. We are currently evaluating the requirements of SFAS 167 and the impact of adoption on our consolidated financial statements.

In May 2009 the FASB issued SFAS No. 165, Subsequent Events, or SFAS 165. SFAS 165 establishes general standards of accounting for and disclosure of events that occur after the balance sheet date but before financial statements are issued or are available to be issued. SFAS 165 requires the disclosure of the date through which an entity has evaluated subsequent events and the basis for that date, that is, whether the date represents the date the financial statements were issued or were available to be issued. SFAS 165 is effective in the first interim period ending after June 15, 2009. We expect SFAS 165 will have an impact on disclosures in our consolidated financial statements, but the nature and magnitude of the specific effects will depend upon the nature, terms and value of the any subsequent events occurring after adoption.

In April 2009, the FASB issued three final Staff Positions "FSPs" intended to provide additional application guidance and enhance disclosures regarding fair value measurements and impairments of securities. FSP FAS 157-4, Determining Fair Value When the Volume and Level of Activity for the Asset or Liability Have Significantly Decreased and Identifying Transactions That Are Not Orderly, provides guidelines for making fair value measurements more consistent with the principles presented in FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. FSP FAS 107-1 and APB 28-1, Interim Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, enhances consistency in financial reporting by increasing the frequency of fair value disclosures. FSP FAS 115-2 and FAS 124-2, Recognition and Presentation of Other-Than-Temporary Impairments, provides additional guidance designed to create greater clarity and consistency in accounting for and presenting impairment losses on securities. We are currently evaluating the requirements of these FSPs, as well as the impact of the adoption on our consolidated financial statements, if any.

In January 2009, the FASB issued FSP EITF 99-20-1 to amend the impairment guidance in EITF Issue No. 99-20 in order to achieve more consistent determination of whether an other-than-temporary impairment ("OTTI") has occurred. This FSP amended EITF 99-20 to more closely align the OTTI guidance therein to the guidance in Statement No. 115. Retrospective application to a prior interim or annual period is prohibited. We considered the guidance in this FSP in the assessment of OTTI for our investment in marketable securities at March 31, 2009.

On September 16, 2008, the FASB issued final FSP No. EITF 03-6-1, "Determining Whether Instruments Granted in Share-Based Payment Transactions Are Participating Securities," to address the question of whether instruments granted in share-based payment transactions are participating securities prior to vesting. The FSP determines that unvested share-based payment awards that contain rights to dividend payments should be included in earnings per share calculations. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. We have evaluated the requirements of EITF 03-6-1 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of June 30, 2009.

On October 10, 2008, the FASB issued SFP No. 157-3, Determining the Fair Value of a Financial Asset When the Market for That Asset Is Not Active. This FSP clarifies the application of FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Value Measurements, in a market that is not active and provides an example to illustrate key considerations in determining the fair value of a financial asset when the market for that financial asset is not active. FASB Statement No. 157 was issued in September 2006, and is effective for financial assets and financial liabilities for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. We have adopted

SFAS 157-3 and determined that it had no impact as of June 30, 2009, and we will continue to evaluate the impact, if any, of SFAS 157-3 on our financial statements.

In May 2008, the FASB issued FSP APB 14-1, Accounting for Convertible Debt Instruments That May Be Settled in Cash upon Conversion (Including Partial Cash Settlement)("FSP APB 14-1) . FSP APB 14-1 clarifies that convertible debt instruments that may be settled in cash upon either mandatory or optiona1l conversion (including partial cash settlement) are not addressed by paragraph 12 of APB Opinion No. 14, Accounting for Convertible Debt and Debt issued with Stock Purchase Warrants. Additionally, FSP APB 14-1 specifies that issuers of such instruments should separately account for the liability and equity components in a manner that will reflect the entity's nonconvertible debt borrowing rate when interest cost is recognized in subsequent periods. FSP APB 14-1 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008, and interim periods within those fiscal years. We will adopt FSP APB 14-1 beginning in the first quarter of fiscal 2009, and this standard must be applied on a retrospective basis. We have evaluated the requirements of APB 14-1 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of June 30, 2009.

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS 161, "Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS 161"). SFAS 161 is intended to improve financial reporting about derivative instruments and hedging activities by requiring enhanced disclosures to enable investors to better understand their effects on an entity's financial position, financial performance, and cash flows. It is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008, with early application encouraged. We have evaluated the requirements of SFAS 161 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of June 30, 2009.

A variety of proposed or otherwise potential accounting standards are currently under study by standard setting organizations and various regulatory agencies. Due to the tentative and preliminary nature of those proposed standards, management has not determined whether implementation of such proposed standards would be material to our consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 3 - EARNINGS PER SHARE

Under the provisions of SFAS 128, "Earnings Per Share", basic income (loss) per common share is computed by dividing income (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the periods presented. Diluted income (loss) per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock or resulted in the issuance of common stock that would then share in the income of the company, subject to anti-dilution limitations.

* The denominator in diluted earnings per share in 2009 and 2008 does not include shares that were assumed to be outstanding prior to conversion under the “if converted” method, 122,240 shares issuable under the unconverted preferred stock as dividends, and 217,148 of non-vested restricted shares and stock options, as such inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

EITF Issue No. 03-6, “Participating Securities and the Two-Class Method under FASB Statement No. 128 ” (EITF 03-6) requires companies with participating securities to calculate earnings per share using the two-class method. Our shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock are considered to be participating securities as these securities are entitled to dividends declared on our common stock; therefore, EITF 03-6 requires the allocation of a portion of undistributed earnings to the Series A Convertible Preferred Stock in the calculation of basic earnings per share.

NOTE 4 - COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income is comprised of net income and other comprehensive income or loss. Other comprehensive income or loss refers to revenue, expenses, gains and losses that under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States are included in comprehensive income but excluded from net income as these amounts are recorded directly as an adjustment to stockholders’ equity.

Our other comprehensive income consists of currency translation adjustments, unrealized loss on marketable securities available for sale, net of taxes and unrealized loss on marketable securities available for sale-related party, net of taxes. The following table sets forth the computation of comprehensive income for the second quarter and six months of 2009 and 2008, respectively:

NOTE 5 - INVENTORIES

Inventories at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 consisted of the following:

	June 30, 2009 unaudited	December 31, 2008
Raw materials	$ 5,097,978	$ 6,081,259
Finished goods	4,894,907	3,038,956

Inventory Reserve	-	(560,622)
	$ 9,992,885	$ 8,559,593

Due to the nature of our business and the short duration of the manufacturing process for our products, there is no work in progress inventory at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008.

NOTE 6 - PREPAID EXPENSES AND OTHER CURRENT ASSETS

At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, prepaid expenses and other current assets, consist of the following:

Description	June 30, 2009 unaudited	December 31, 2008
Prepayments to vendors for merchandise that had not yet been shipped or services that had not been performed	$ 2,865,690	$ 2,173,989

In the fourth quarter of 2008 we reallocated a portion of the purchase price to our September 29, 2007 acquisition of a 51% interest in Pan Asia Magnesium in accordance with FAS 144. At December 31, 2008, we reallocated $2,229,837, net of accumulated amortization of $445,967, from “fixed assets” to “other assets acquired in connection with acquisition”. This reallocation reflects the intangible value of a three-year fixed price coke supply agreement between Pan Asia Magnesium and Shanxi Jinyang Coal and Coke Group Co., Ltd., (“Jinyang Group”) a minority shareholder of Pan Asia Magnesium. In September 2007 Jinyang Group and CDI China entered into Joint Venture Investment Supplementary Agreement (“Pan Asia JV Agreement”) establishing Pan Asia Magnesium as a foreign invested entity. Under the terms of the Pan Asia JV Agreement, Jinyang Group has a commitment to provide coke gas to Pan Asia Magnesium at a fixed price until July, 2011; thereafter the price of the coke gas will be at a discount to prevailing market prices. Pan Asia Magnesium utilizes coke gas as fuel to operate its magnesium production facility. The relationship with Jinyang Group is, among other things, intended to ensure a stable supply of energy to Pan Asia Magnesium at advantageous prices, given the rising cost of fuel.

In the second quarter of 2009, we reclassified $689,087, net of accumulated amortization of $41,394, from “Prepaid expenses and other assets” to “Property use rights, net” to reflect Senrun Coal’s contribution of land use rights to Golden Magnesium pursuant to the November 11, 2006 joint venture agreement entered into among the parties. Pursuant to these land use rights which permit construction of a magnesium production plant capable of producing up to 20,000 tons of magnesium alloy products per year, Golden Magnesium built its magnesium production plant on this land. The land use rights expire in 2057.

For the second quarter and six months of 2009 amortization expense totaled $249,052 and $498,104, respectively. For the second quarter and six months of 2008 amortization expense totaled $222,984 and $445,967, respectively.

NOTE 7 - PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, property, plant and equipment, consisted of the following:

Description	Useful Life	June 30, 2009 Unaudited	December 31, 2008
Building	10-40 years	$ 12,013,505	$ 7,792,403
Manufacturing equipment	10 years	18,989,327	12,635,161
Office equipment and furniture	3-5 years	707,028	636,621
Autos and trucks	5 years	1,267,261	334,630
Construction in progress	N/A	16,839,070	26,277,835
Total		49,816,191	47,676,650
Less: Accumulated Depreciation		(5,174,219)	(4,220,967)
Property, Plant and Equipment, Net		$ 44,641,972	$ 43,455,683

For the second quarter and six months of 2009 depreciation expense totaled $451,163 and $953,250, respectively. For the second quarter and six months of 2008 depreciation expense totaled $494,967 and $921,287 , respectively.

Golden Magnesium holds land use rights to use approximately 24.5 acres of land located in Yueyan, Gu County, Shanxi Province, China. Pursuant to these land use rights which permit construction of a magnesium production plant capable of producing up to 20,000 tons of magnesium alloy products per year, Golden Magnesium built its magnesium production plant on this land. The land use rights expire in 2057.

NOTE 8 - PROPERTY USE RIGHTS

Property use rights, consisting of mining and property use rights amounted to $1,281,046 and $591,277 at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively.

CDI Magnesium holds property use rights valued at $96,078 for the use of magnesium alloy manufacturing equipment located in a magnesium alloy facility in China which is owned by Jinyang Group. We will begin to amortize the value of the property use rights over the useful life of equipment when the magnesium refinery commences operations.

In connection with our acquisition of CDI Jixiang Metal in December 2007, we acquired mining rights to 51 acres located in the Yongshun Kaxi Lake Mining area of China. CDI Jixiang Metal is presently in the exploration stage of its business operations and is engaged in the evaluation of mineral deposits or reserves. We have not established a reserve. There is no assurance that commercially viable mineral deposits exist on this property and further exploration will be required before a final evaluation as to the economic feasibility is determined.

Mineral property acquisition costs, site restoration costs and development costs on mineral properties with proven and probable reserves are capitalized and will be depleted using the units-of-production method over the estimated life of the reserves. If there are insufficient reserves to use as a basis for depleting such costs, they will be written off as mineral property or mineral interest impairment in the period in which the determination is made. Site restoration costs are depleted over the term of their expected life. The development potential of mining properties is established by the existence of proven and probable reserves, reasonable assurance that the property can be permitted as an operating mine and evidence that there are no metallurgical or other impediments to the production of saleable metals.

Exploration costs incurred on mineral interests, other than acquisition costs, prior to the establishment of proven and probable reserves are charged to operations as incurred. Development costs incurred on mineral interests with proven and probable reserves will be capitalized as mineral properties. We regularly evaluate our investments in mineral interests to assess the recoverability and/or the residual value of the investments in these assets. All mineral interests and mineral properties are reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances change which indicate the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable, utilizing established guidelines based upon undiscounted future net cash flows from the asset or upon the determination that certain exploration properties do not have sufficient potential for economic mineralization.

The estimates of mineral prices and operating, capital and reclamation costs, when available, are subject to certain risks and uncertainties, which may affect the recoverability of mineral property costs. Although we make our best estimates of these factors, it is possible that changes could occur in the near term, which could adversely affect the future net cash flows to be generated from our mineral properties.

NOTE 11 - STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

Preferred Stock

We have 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $.0001, authorized, of which we designated 12,950 as our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock in February 2008. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 there were 1,006 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock issued and outstanding.

Series A Preferred Stock and Related Dividends

On February 11, 2008, we entered into a Securities Purchase Agreement with accredited investors to sell, in a private placement transaction, 12,950 shares of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock ("Series A Preferred Stock") together with common stock purchase warrants to purchase an aggregate of 1,850,000 shares of our common stock. At closing, we received gross proceeds of $12,950,000. The Series A Preferred Stock has a stated value per share of $1,000, carries an 8% per annum dividend rate payable quarterly in arrears and is convertible into common stock at $7.00 per share. The dividends are payable in cash or shares of our common stock, at our option, subject to certain provisions. If paid in shares of common stock, the stock shall be valued at the lower of the conversion price or the average of the weighted average price of the 10 consecutive trading days immediately preceding the dividend date.

Upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, we are required to pay an amount (the "Make-Whole Additional Amount") equal to 8% of the stated value of the shares converted or redeemed - essentially an extra year's dividend. This amount shall be paid in shares valued at the lower of the conversion price or 90% of the weighted average price of our common stock for the 10 consecutive trading days immediately preceding the date of notice.

A registration statement covering the public resale of the shares of common stock underlying the Series A Preferred Stock and the warrants was declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 23, 2008.

As of June 30, 2009, holders of our Series A Preferred Stock have converted 11,944 shares of the 12,950 shares of the Series A Preferred Stock. Each share of Series A Preferred stock was convertible into 142.8541 shares of common stock. As a result of the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, we have issued 1,706,250 shares of our common stock, 41,967 shares of common stock in payment of the accrued dividends, and 144,206 shares of common stock, the Make-Whole Additional Amount.

The 1,850,000 warrants issued to purchasers of the Series A Preferred Stock, exclusive of the 300,000 warrants issued to Roth Capital Partners, LLC ("Roth Capital") as a fee, were determined to have a fair value of $2.07 per warrant with a total valuation of $3,829,500. Inputs used in making this determination included:

- Value of $6.83 per share of common stock;
- Expected volatility factor of 90%;
- $0 dividend rate on the common stock;
- Warrant exercise price of $8.00;
- Estimated time to exercise of 1 year; and
- Risk free rate of 2.06%.

The relative fair value of the warrants of $2,765,946 has been recorded as a dividend in the year ended December 31, 2008

In addition, under the provisions of EITF 98-5 ‘Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios’ (“EITF 98-5”),and EITF 00-27 "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments’" ("EITF 00-27”), the Series A Preferred Stock issuance carried an embedded beneficial conversion feature at issuance. Accordingly, after first allocating the proceeds received from the Series A Preferred Stock offering to the preferred shares and detachable warrants on a relative fair value basis, we derived an intrinsic value of the conversion feature of $2,451,446. As the Series A Preferred Stock does not have a stated redemption date or finite life, the deemed dividend was recognized immediately as a non-cash charge during 2008. This non-cash one-time preferred stock deemed dividend was calculated as the difference between the average of our common stock price of $6.83 per share and the calculated effective conversion price of the Series A Preferred Stock. The effective conversion price of the Series A Preferred Stock was determined with reference to the relative fair value allocation of proceeds between the Series A Preferred Stock and Warrants issued. The non-cash deemed dividend did not have an effect on net earnings, or cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2009. The estimated fair market value of the Warrants of $2,765,946 has been recorded as additional paid-in capital and a reduction to the recorded amount of the Series A Preferred Stock.

We paid Roth Capital a fee of $1,295,000 for serving as the placement agent in the Series A Preferred Stock Offering. Roth Capital also received 300,000 common stock purchase warrants, exercisable at $8.00 per share for five years as part of their fee. At February 11, 2008, the warrants granted to Roth Capital had a fair value of $2.07 per share, totaling $621,000. The warrants issued to Roth Capital have the same terms, and were valued in the same manner as the warrants issued to the purchasers of the Series A Preferred Stock.

As a result of our June 15, 2009 registered direct offering of our common stock discussed below, we reduced to $1.85 per share the exercise price of warrants to purchase 143,750 shares of our common stock with an exercise price of $8.00 per share and the conversion price of 1,006 shares of our series A convertible preferred stock outstanding that are convertible into 143,750 shares of our common stock at a conversion price of $7.00 per share. The terms of these warrants and preferred stock provide that if we sell common stock at a price per share less than the then exercise price of the warrants or the conversion price of the preferred stock, then we are required to reduce the exercise price of those warrants and the conversion price of the series A convertible preferred stock to the lower price of the subsequent sale. Because the market price of our common stock in our June 15, 2009 offering was $1.85 per share, an amount that is less than the exercise price of the $8.00 per share warrants and the $7.00 per share conversion price, we reduced the exercise price of those outstanding securities.

Common Stock

We have 1,000,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $.0001, authorized. At June 30, 2009 there were 26,519,623 shares of common stock issued and outstanding and there were 23,530,642 shares of common stock issued and outstanding at December 31, 2008.

For the six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, amortization of stock-based compensation amounted to $1,122,803 and $848,364, respectively.

During the six months ended June 30, 2009, we issued 1,050,000 shares of common stock in connection with the exercise of common stock options at an exercise price of $.01 with net proceeds of $10,000.

During the second quarter of 2009 we issued 21,000 shares of our common stock to Bazelon Less & Feldman, P.C. as compensation for legal services it provided to us. These shares were issued at $1.71 per share for a total consideration of $36,000.

On June 16, 2009 we sold 2,702,704 shares of our common stock and warrants to purchase up to 1,351,352 of common stock to accredited investors. The purchase price per share of the common stock was $1.85. The warrants have an exercise price of $2.31 per share and will be exercisable beginning 183 days following the closing date for a period ending on the fifth anniversary of the initial exercise date. The gross proceeds of this offering were $5,000,000 with offering expenses of $190,000. Management intends to use the proceeds from this offering for general working capital purposes which may include acquisitions of additional operations in China.

Stock Repurchase Program

On September 10, 2008, our board of directors authorized a stock repurchase program to repurchase up to $2.5 million of our common stock through June 30, 2009. The stock repurchase program was announced on September 12, 2008. The amount and timing of specific repurchases are subject to market conditions, applicable legal requirements and other factors deemed appropriate by our CEO and President. Repurchases may be in open-market transactions or through privately negotiated transactions, and our board of directors may discontinue the repurchase program at any time. In January 2009, we purchased 1,500,000 shares of our common stock at a price of $1.10 per share under this program from Marc Siegel, our former president and director. This stock repurchase program expired on June 30, 2009.

Reverse Split/Forward Split

On September 10, 2008, our board of directors approved a 1 for 100 shares reverse split of our common stock (the "Reverse Split") to be immediately followed by a 100 for 1 forward split of our common stock (the "Forward Split"). The Reverse Split/Forward Split was announced on September 19, 2008. Shareholders who held in the aggregate less than one share of common stock following the Reverse Split were not included in the Forward Split. Rather, such shares received a cash payment of $5.07 per share, the closing price of our common stock as of September 19, 2008. Accordingly in 2008, we purchased 69,583 shares at a purchase price of $5.07 per share, which were redeemed. These stock purchases were not part of the stock repurchase program.

Stock Incentive Plans

On August 16, 2006, our board of directors authorized the 2006 Equity Plan (the "2006 Equity Plan") covering 10,000,000 shares of our common stock, which was approved by a majority of our shareholders on August 16, 2006. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 there were options outstanding to purchase an aggregate of 276,250 and 365,000 shares, respectively, of common stock outstanding under the 2006 Equity Plan at exercise prices ranging from $2.50 to $7.50 per share.

On October 19, 2006, our board of directors authorized the 2006 Stock Compensation Plan (the "2006 Stock Compensation Plan") covering 2,000,000 shares of our common stock. As the 2006 Stock Compensation Plan was not approved by our shareholders prior to October 19, 2007, we may no longer award incentive stock options under this plan and any incentive stock options previously awarded under the 2006 Stock Plan were converted into non-qualified options upon terms and conditions determined by the board of directors, as nearly as is reasonably practicable in their sole determination, to the terms and conditions of the incentive stock options being so converted. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, there were options outstanding to purchase an aggregate of 556,740 and 414,590 shares, respectively of common stock outstanding under the 2006 Stock Plan at exercise prices ranging from $.01 to $5.00 per share.

During 2008, we granted 240,000 options under the 2006 Equity Plan to employees with an exercise price of $5.00 to $7.50 per share, of these options, 231,000 options were canceled as of June 30, 2009. The options were valued on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model, in accordance with SFAS No. 123R using the following weighted-average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%, risk-free interest rate of 2.51%, volatility of 78% and expected term of 1.31 years.

On April 25, 2008, our board of directors adopted the 2008 Executive Stock Incentive Plan covering 1,000,000 shares of our common stock, which was approved by a majority vote of our shareholders on May 30, 2008. As of June 30, 2009 no awards had been granted under this plan.

On April 25, 2008, our board of directors adopted the 2008 Non-Executive Stock Incentive Plan covering 3,000,000 shares of our common stock, which was approved by a majority vote of our shareholders on May 30, 2008. As of June 30, 2009 we granted 268,648 shares of restricted stock under this plan with vesting dates ranging from August 2008 to September 2010.

The following table sets forth our stock option activity during the six months ended June 30, 2009:

During the six months ended June 30, 2009, 1,050,000 options were exercised at an exercise price of $.01 per share with an intrinsic value of $1,462,130. At June 30, 2009, the aggregate intrinsic value of outstanding and exercisable options was $0. As of June 30, 2009, the unrecognized expense of options that have not vested is $36,583.

Common Stock Purchase Warrants

During 2008, we granted 25,000 common stock purchase warrants to consultants, exercisable immediately at an exercise price of $11.00. These warrants were fair valued on the date of grant at $103,707 using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model, in accordance with SFAS No. 123R using the following weighted-average assumptions: expected dividend yield of 0%, risk-free interest rate of 3.0%, volatility factor of 100% and expected term of 3 years. The fair value of these grants was recognized as selling, general and administrative expenses.

In February 2008, in connection with the $12,950,000 Series A Preferred Stock offering, we issued a total of 2,150,000 common stock purchase warrants, including 1,850,000 warrants issued to investors and 300,000 warrants issued to Roth Capital as the placement agent as part of their fee. The warrants are exercisable at $8.00 per share for a period of five years and were fair valued at $2.07 per warrant using the Black-Scholes Option-pricing model. Assumptions used in the calculation included: expected dividend yield of 0%; risk-free interest rate of 2.06%; volatility factor of 90% and expected term of 1 year.

On June 16, 2009 we sold 2,702,704 shares of our common stock and warrants to purchase up to 1,351,352 of common stock to accredited investors. The purchase price per share of the common stock was $1.85. The warrants have an exercise price of $2.31 per share and will be exercisable beginning 183 days following the closing date for a period ending on the fifth anniversary of the initial exercise date. The gross proceeds of this offering were $5,000,000 with offering expenses of $190,000. Management intends to use the proceeds from this offering for general working capital purposes which may include acquisitions of additional operations in China.

As a result of our June 15, 2009 registered direct offering of our common stock, we reduced the per share exercise price of warrants to purchase 143,750 shares of our common stock from $8.00 to $1.85. A summary of the status of our outstanding common stock purchase warrants granted as of June 30, 2009 and changes during the period is as follows:

NOTE 12 - SEGMENT INFORMATION

The following information is presented in accordance with SFAS No. 131, “Disclosure about segments of an Enterprise and Related Information”. For second quarter of 2009, we operated in three reportable business segments as follows:

Magnesium segment:

- Chang Magnesium;
- Chang Trading;
- Excel Rise;
- CDI Magnesium;

- Asia Magnesium;
- Golden Magnesium;
- Pan Asia Magnesium;
- Baotou Changxin Magnesium

Basic Materials segment:

- Lang Chemical;
- CDI Jingkun Zinc;
- CDI Jixiang Metal;
- CDI Metal Recycling; and
- CDI Beijing.

Consulting segment:

- China Direct Investments;
- CDI Shanghai Management; and
- Capital One Resource*.

* Capital One Resource generated revenues in two reporting segments, Magnesium and Consulting.

Our reportable segments are strategic business units that offer different products and services. Each segment is managed and reported separately based on the fundamental differences in their operations. CDI Metal Recycling was formerly in our Clean Technology Segment, which we exited during the third quarter in 2008. CDI Metal Recycling is in its start up phase and has no significant operations. Condensed consolidated information with respect to these reportable segments after giving effect to our decision to exit the clean technology segment for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008 are as follows:

For the three months ended June 30, 2009:

NOTE 14 – DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

During the third quarter of 2008, we elected to exit the alternative energy and recycling business conducted by CDI Clean Technology. We devised a formal plan of disposal of a majority ownership in these subsidiaries. The business of CDI Clean Technology and its subsidiaries comprised substantially all of the business of our Clean Technology segment. We classified the assets and liabilities of CDI Clean Technology and its subsidiaries as “Subsidiaries held for sale” in accordance with the provisions of FASB No. 144.

On September 30, 2008, we ceased depreciating the assets of CDI Clean Technology and its subsidiaries and as a result of the held for sale classification, we assessed the estimated fair value of the subsidiary and no impairment charge was recognized. The results of operations from CDI Clean Technology and its subsidiaries are classified as discontinued operations in 2008 and previously reported results of operations of CDI Clean Technology have been reclassified to reflect this subsidiary as "Discontinued operations, net of tax". On October 30, 2008, we completed the sale of an 81% interest in our wholly owned subsidiary CDI Clean Technology to PE Brothers Corp., for $1,240,000, recorded a gain of $238,670 on the sale during the fourth quarter. We plan to maintain our 19% ownership interest in CDI Clean Technology and recognize our investment using the cost method.

The following table sets forth the components of discontinued operations for the six months ended June 30, 2008.

NOTE 15 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

In accordance with SFAS 165 Subsequent Events we have evaluated all events that occurred after the balance sheet date but before financial statements were available to be issued through August 14, 2009.

In July 2009, we entered into a non-binding letter of intent to form Jinan Zhongsen Machinery Manufacturing Company, Limited, a heavy truck parts manufacturer in the PRC to invest approximately $3.3 million over the next two years to obtain a 45% interest in the venture. The letter of intent is intended to be non-binding and is subject to all necessary due diligence, our board of directors' approval and execution of definitive agreements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the information contained in our unaudited consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto appearing elsewhere herein and in conjunction with the Management's Discussion and Analysis set forth in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008.

We are on a calendar year, as such the three month period ending June 30, is our second quarter and the six month period ending June 30 is referred to as the "six months". The year ended December 31, 2008 is referred to as "2008" and the coming year ending December 31, 2009 is referred to as "2009".

OVERVIEW OF OUR PERFORMANCE AND OPERATIONS

Our Business

We are a U.S. company that manages a portfolio of Chinese entities. We also provide consulting services to Chinese businesses. We operate in three identifiable segments, Magnesium, Basic Materials, and Consulting, in accordance with SFAS No. 131, "Disclosure about segments of an Enterprise and Related Information". In the fourth quarter of 2006 we established our Magnesium and Basic Materials segments which have grown through acquisitions of controlling interests of Chinese private companies. We consolidate these acquisitions as either our wholly or majority owned subsidiaries. Through this ownership control, we provide management advice as well as investment capital to expand their businesses. We hold a controlling interest in twelve subsidiaries operating in China, five of which comprise our Magnesium segment and five comprise our Basic Materials segment. We have a total of 1,297 full-time employees, of which 1,281 work in the PRC.

Our Magnesium segment is currently our largest segment by revenues and assets. We manufacture and sell pure magnesium and related by-products. We also purchase and resell magnesium products manufactured by third parties. Magnesium is used in a variety of markets and applications due to the physical and mechanical properties of the element and its alloys. Magnesium is the lightest of the structural metals; it is one fourth the weight of steel and two thirds the weight of aluminum. Various forms of magnesium are also used in the manufacture of electronic equipment such as computers, cameras, and cellular phones. Magnesium powder is also used in flares, flashes and pyrotechnics. Global production of magnesium was estimated to be approximately 805,000 metric tons in 2008. China produced an estimated 630,000 metric tons in 2008, of which 160,000 metric tons were consumed domestically. During the second quarter of 2009 our Magnesium segment produced, sold or distributed approximately 4,007 metric tons of magnesium generating revenues of $10.1 million compared to the production, sale and distribution of 14,955 metric tons and revenues of $55.7 million in the second quarter of 2008.

Our Basic Materials segment engages in the sale and distribution of basic resources within Asia. Our Basic Materials segment includes the sale and distribution of a variety of products including (i) industrial grade synthetic chemicals, (ii) steel products (iii) nonferrous metals, and (iv) recycled materials. As well, within this segment we hold the rights to mining properties and are evaluating the economic feasibility of commencing mining and production operations at this site given the current weakness in the market price of zinc and related products. Presently we do not have a timetable for when our mining operations will commence. In the second quarter of 2009 this segment generated revenues of $10.0 million compared to $15.0 million in the second quarter of 2008.

Our Consulting segment provides services to Chinese entities seeking access to the U.S. capital markets. These services include general business consulting, Chinese regulatory advice, translation services, formation of entities in the PRC, coordination of professional resources, strategic alliances and partnerships, advice on effective means of accessing U.S. capital markets, mergers and acquisitions, coordination of Sarbanes-Oxley compliance, and corporate asset evaluations. In the second quarter of 2009 this segment generated revenues of $322,386 compared to $6.7 million in the second quarter of 2008.

Our Performance

Total revenues for the second quarter of 2009 totaled $20.4 million compared to $77.3 million during the second quarter in 2008 and $41.1 million for the six months of 2009 compared to $136.7 million for the six months of 2008. The decreases over the prior comparable periods for the second quarter of approximately 74% and approximately 70% for the six months ended June 30, 2009, were mainly due to the global economic slowdown which has adversely affected the demand for magnesium and to a lesser extent affected our sales of basic materials and revenues in our Consulting segment. Our gross profit (loss) for the second quarter of 2009 totaled ($711,250) compared to $13.5 million in the second quarter of 2008, and $657,566 for the six months of 2009 compared to $23.4 million for the six months of 2008. This decrease in our profit margin was mainly in our magnesium segment due to continued low market prices for magnesium, higher historical costs of raw materials and inventory on hand and the fixed costs of production and higher operating expenses in our Consulting segment.

Our Outlook

Over the course of the last nine months we have witnessed a severe downturn in the demand for and price of our magnesium products due to the continued weakness in the global economy and the effects of a 10% export tax on magnesium products which became effective in January 2008. Furthermore, in 2008 domestic magnesium consumption in China decreased to 160,000 metric tons, the second domestic decline since 2003. The continued weakness in the global economy has reduced demand for magnesium and as a result the average price of magnesium during the second quarter of 2009 was approximately $2,200, down from $2,400 in the first quarter of 2009 and significantly lower than $4,500 average price during the second quarter of 2008. Current magnesium prices have, however, shown signs of stabilization and recovery. As a result, we are evaluating strategic initiatives in our magnesium segment which may involve consolidation of our magnesium holdings, opportunistic acquisitions and potential divestiture of non-strategic assets. Additionally, we have formed International Magnesium Group, Inc. as the vehicle to consolidate our strategic magnesium operations and to create an identifiable brand name to unify our marketing efforts for these operations.

We intend to continue to explore external expansion in our basic materials related businesses in an effort to further diversify our revenue base. An example of this effort is the recent launch of our industrial commodities trading business to leverage our relationships with our strategic partners and subsidiaries in China. We also continue to work with the management of our subsidiaries to identify strategies to maximize their potential within their segment and to the consolidated group. Furthermore, we entered into a non-binding letter of intent to form Jinan Zhongsen Machinery Manufacturing Company, Limited, a heavy truck parts manufacturer in the PRC to invest approximately $3.3 million over the next two years to obtain a 45% interest in the venture. The letter of intent is intended to be non-binding and is subject to all necessary due diligence, our board of directors' approval and execution of definitive agreements.

The worldwide economic slowdown continues to negatively impact the market price for zinc. At current market prices for zinc, it is not economically feasible for us to commence operations at our zinc property or to complete construction of a planned zinc mining facility. We believe that prices for lead and lead concentrate will remain stable in 2009 because the uses for lead are more widespread than zinc. We will continue to operate as a distributor of steel and nonferrous metals and believe that demand for these materials will increase as worldwide economic activity increases and domestic consumption increases as a result of the November 2008 China domestic stimulus program.

Recycling. We continue to evaluate the feasibility of the development of a proposed facility to create aluminum powder from recycled aluminum. While the current market price of aluminum does not support the economic viability of a recycling operation, we believe aluminum wire recycling will become viable as natural resources continue to be depleted.

While we have made efforts to improve the caliber of the clients within our Consulting segment, the global economy and severe liquidity crisis in the capital markets have created a difficult environment for smaller companies to attract interest in the financial community. Accordingly, we do not anticipate this segment will grow in 2009.

PRC Government Programs. In November 2008, the Chinese government announced a $586 billion domestic economic stimulus program aimed at bolstering economic activity in China. The two year program includes tax rebates, spending in housing, infrastructure, agriculture, health care and social welfare, and a tax deduction for capital spending by companies. In February 2009, China's State Council announced support plans for the country's nonferrous metals and logistics sectors. The support plans include subsidized loans to support technical innovations within the nonferrous metals sector, adjustments to export rebate rates of nonferrous products, and the establishment of a national reserve system for the industry. These programs adopted by the PRC government are aimed towards supporting growth in some of the sectors in which we operate and there have been signs that the program, along with China's significant foreign currency reserves, has resulted in heavy accelerated spending on building infrastructures and domestic spending on automobiles and appliances. It is, however, difficult to predict if any of our businesses will benefit. It remains to be seen if domestic consumption can compensate for slower worldwide demand, and the impact this will have on our future revenues.

Presentation of Financial Statements. The presentation of the statements of operations included in this Form 10-Q have been modified to allow for the reporting of deductions from net income to arrive at income (loss) applicable to common stockholders. Items reflected in our comprehensive income for the periods reported are now included in our notes to the consolidated financial statements included in this Form 10-Q. In addition, portion of our consolidated financial statements have been reclassified to recognize discontinued operations treatment reflecting the sale of an 81% interest in CDI Clean Technology.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Consolidated revenues and operating expenses by segment for the second quarter and six months of 2009 and 2008 are as follows:

Consolidated Revenues

(Dollars in thousands)	For the second quarter of 2009		2008
	Revenues	% of Revenues	Revenues	% of Revenues	% increase (decrease)
Magnesium segment	$ 10,099	49%	$ 55,665	72%	-82%
Basic materials segment	10,005	49%	14,982	19%	-33%
Consulting segment	322	2%	6,698	9%	-95%
Total consolidated	$ 20,426	100%	$ 77,345	100%	-74%

(Dollars in thousands)	For the six months ended June 30, 2009		2008
	Revenues	% of Revenues	Revenues	% of Revenues	% increase (decrease)
Magnesium segment	$ 18,532	45%	$ 100,343	72%	-82%
Basic materials segment	21,899	53%	27,380	19%	-20%
Consulting segment	681	2%	9,016	9%	-92%
Total consolidated	$ 41,112	100%	$ 136,739	100%	-70%

Total consolidated revenues for the second quarter of 2009 were $20.4 million, a decrease of 74% compared to the first quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $41.1 million, a decrease of 70% compared to the six months of 2008. These decreases were primarily a result of a decrease in revenues within our Magnesium segment as a result of weak world-wide demand for magnesium, a decline in revenues in our Lang Chemical subsidiary, the absence of one-time transaction fees in our Consulting segment in the first quarter of 2009 that we recognized in the second quarter of 2008 and a reduction in recurring consulting fees for the six months of 2009 as a result of the reduction in the market price of the fixed number of securities we received from our client companies as fees. These decreases were partially offset by increases in sales in our Basic materials segment of wood and steel products from our CDI Beijing subsidiary which we acquired in June 2008.

Consolidated Operating Income and Expenses

(Dollars in thousands)	2009		2008
	Amount	% of Revenues	Amount	% of Revenues	% increase (decrease)
Revenues	41,112	-	136,738	-	-70%
Cost of revenues	40,454	98%	113,308	83%	-64%
Gross profit	658	2%	23,430	17%	-97%
Total operating expenses	5,519	13%	4,098	3%	35%
Operating (loss) income	(4,861)	-12%	19,333	14%	-125%

Total consolidated operating loss for the second quarter in 2009 was $3.1 million compared to the operating income during the second quarter of 2008 of $11.0 million, and for the six months of 2009 a loss of $4.9 million compared to operating income of $19.3 million for the six months of 2008. The loss in 2009 compared to the income in 2008 was due primarily to the 82% decrease in revenues in the Magnesium segment, the substantial reduction in the market price of magnesium, higher historical costs of raw materials and inventory on hand relative to current selling prices, the relatively higher costs of magnesium production at lower volumes and increases in our operating expenses related to increases in non-cash stock based compensation expenses, payroll expense and professional fees.

In the second quarter of 2009 our cost of revenues was $21.1 million, a 67% decrease compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 was $40.5 million, a decrease of 64% compared to the six months of 2008. These decreases are primarily a result of a decrease in production and raw material costs associated with a reduction in sales volume. Our gross profit margin for the second quarter of 2009 increased to (3%) from 17.4% in the second quarter of 2008. Our gross profit in the second quarter of 2009 was ($711,250), a decrease of $14.2 million compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 was $657,566, a decrease of $22.7 million compared to the six months of 2008. The changes in our cost of revenues and gross profit are primarily a result of higher historical costs of raw materials and inventory on hand relative to current magnesium selling prices and fixed production costs within our Magnesium segment.

Operating expenses decreased $66,904 in the second quarter of 2009 compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $5.5 million, an increase of $1.4 million or 35% compared to the six months of 2008. The decrease in the second quarter was primarily a result of timing differences in sales related expenses. The increase in the six month period was primarily a result of non-cash stock based compensation expenses, payroll expense and professional fees.

Magnesium Segment Operating Results

Revenues. Magnesium segment revenues in the second quarter of 2009 were $10.1 million, a decrease of 82% compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $18.5 million, a decrease of 82% compared to the six months of 2008. These overall decreases were mainly due to the weak global economy which has reduced demand and prices for magnesium and were partially offset by a $1.7 million increase in sales in the second quarter of 2009 compared to the first quarter of 2009. The average price of magnesium during the second quarter of 2009 was approximately $2,235 compared to $4,791 during the second quarter of 2008, or a decrease of 53%. Contributing to the variance between 2009 and 2008 was higher demand and stockpiling of inventory in 2008 in expectation of production shortages and/or transportation interruptions associated with the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

Revenues – Related Party in the second quarter of 2009 were $2.0 million, an increase of 49% compared to the second quarter of 2008, and $6.6 million for the six months of 2009, an increase of $4.6 million compared to the six months of 2008. These increases were a result of sales at market prices of our excess inventory to a minority shareholder of our Magnesium segment subsidiaries.

In the second quarter of 2009 we produced, sold and distributed approximately 8,292 metric tons of magnesium with an average price of $2,235 per metric ton. In comparison, for the second quarter of 2008 we produced, sold and distributed approximately 29,000 metric tons of magnesium with an average price of $4,791 per metric ton.

Gross Profit (loss). In the second quarter of 2009 gross profit for the segment decreased $8.1 million compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 it decreased $15.4 million, compared to the six months of 2008. The gross profit margin for this segment in the second quarter of 2009 was (15.8%) compared to 12.25% for the second quarter of 2008 and for the six months of 2009 it was (5.3%) compared to 14.4% in the six months of 2008. These decreases are primarily a result of price concessions to a major customer, sales of inventory on hand with a higher historical cost relative to current magnesium selling prices and fixed production costs within our Magnesium segment. In particular, in late 2009, we purchased material and finished product in anticipation of the fulfillment of a fixed price supply contract with a major customer. As magnesium prices declined rapidly, we made concessions under this agreement to maintain our long term relationship with this customer that contributed to our lower gross profit.

Operating Expenses. In the second quarter of 2009 Magnesium segment operating expenses were approximately $231,000, a decrease of 54% compared to approximately $506,000 during the second quarter of 2008 primarily a result of the collection of a bad debt previously written off and other adjustments, partially offset by rising operating expenses. Operating expenses for the six months of 2009 were about the same compared to the six months of 2008 while sales were down from $100.3 million to $18.5 million about 80% decrease. Sales were down while the operating expenses were up as a percentage of sales because the Magnesium segments had to absorb the production overhead that was normally included in the cost.

Basic Materials segment

Revenues. In the second quarter of 2009 Basic Materials segment revenues were $10.0 million, a decrease of 33% compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $21.9 million, a decrease 20% compared to the six months of 2008. Revenues in this segment benefited from the addition of $6.0 million in sales of wood and steel products from CDI Beijing and were partially offset by a decrease in sales of industrial chemical products by Lang Chemical as a result of weak domestic demand for its industrial chemical products.

Gross Profit. In the second quarter of 2009 gross profit for the segment increased to $0.5 million, a gross profit margin of 6% compared to $0.4 million, a gross profit margin of 2.5% for the second quarter of 2008. Gross profit for the six months of 2009 were $1.2 million, a gross profit margin of 5.6% compared to the 4.8% gross profit margin for the six months of 2008. This margin improvement was due primarily to the contribution of CDI Beijing which generated gross margins of 10% in the six months ended June 30, 2009 partially offset by lower margins at Lang Chemical due to increases in shipping costs to customers it incurred as it expands the size of its sales territory.

Operating Expenses. In the second quarter of 2009 Basic Materials segment operating expenses were approximately $501,000 an increase compared to the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $1.2 million, an increase of 76% compared to the six months of 2008. These increases are primarily a result of increases in operating costs related to CDI Beijing which we acquired in June 2008 and increased operating expenses at Lang Chemical due to increases in shipping costs to customers it incurred as it expands the size of its sales territory.

Consulting segment

Revenues. In the second quarter of 2009 Consulting segment revenues were approximately $322,000 compared to $6.7 million during the second quarter of 2008, and approximately $681,000 for the six months of 2009, a decrease of $8.3 million compared to the six months of 2008. These decreases are mainly due to the absence of $5.39 million in one-time transaction fees in our Consulting segment in the six months of 2009 that we recognized in the six months of 2008 and a reduction in recurring consulting fees for the six months of 2009 as a result of the reduction in the market price of the fixed number of securities we received from our client companies as fees.

Gross Profit. In the second quarter of 2009, gross profit for the segment totaled approximately $93,000 compared to $6.3 million in the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $680,386 compared to $9 million for the second quarter of 2008 a decrease of 95% and 99%, respectively. This decrease was primarily a result of a decrease in revenues while overhead expenses increased. The gross profit margin in this segment was 23% in the second quarter of 2009 compared to 91% in the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 was 59%, a decrease of 36 basis points compared to the six months of 2008. The decrease in the margin was mainly attributable to a reduction in revenues partially offset by a decrease in professional fees associated with this segment as we provided these services internally.

Operating Expenses. In the second quarter of 2009 operating expenses, which include general and administrative expenses for our U.S. headquarters and executive management, were approximately $1.7 million, nearly the same as the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $3.5 million an increase of 38% compared to the six months of 2008. The increase was mainly due to increases in non-cash stock based compensation expenses, payroll expense, professional fees and approximately $94,000 in severance costs related to the elimination of four employees. The estimated future savings as a result of the elimination of these positions is approximately $250,000 per year.

Total Other (Expense) Income

Total other expense in the second quarter of 2009 was $569,680 compared to total other income of $249,648 in the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 total other expense was $684,692 and total other income of $500,664 for the six months of 2008. Interest income is mainly comprised of interest from short-term loans, largely offset by a net realized loss of $79,221 for the quarter ended and $311,932 associated with the sale of marketable securities available for sale during the second quarter of 2009.

Income Tax Expense

Income tax expense for the second quarter of 2009 was $13,492 compared to the income tax expense of $716,791 during the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 an income tax benefit of $58,087, compared to an income tax expense of $1.0 million for the six months of 2008. Income tax expense decreased as a result of our net loss of $2.9 million in the second quarter of 2009 compared to net income of $7.5 million in the second quarter of 2008. Our income tax benefit for the six months ended June 30, 2009 was mainly due to our year to date net loss of $4.4 million compared to net income of $12.3 million in the six months of 2008.

Net (Loss) Income

Net loss during the second quarter of 2009 was $2.9 million, a reduction of $10.4 million compared to net income of $7.5 million in the second quarter of 2008. Net loss for the six months of 2009 was $4.3 million, a decrease of $16.6 million compared to net income of $12.3 million for six months of 2008. These decreases are mainly due to the decrease in our total revenues and gross profit margins while our operating expenses remained relatively high due to increases in our operating expenses.

Foreign Currency Translation Gain

The functional currency of our subsidiaries operating in the PRC is the Chinese dollar or Renminbi (“RMB”). The financial statements of our subsidiaries are translated to U.S. dollars using period end rates of exchange for assets and liabilities, and average rates of exchange (for the period) for revenues, costs, and expenses. Net gains and losses resulting from foreign exchange transactions are included in the consolidated statements of operations. As a result of these translations, we reported a foreign currency translation loss of $64,083 for the second quarter of 2009 and a gain of approximately $1.3 million for the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 a gain of $380,875 and a gain of $3.1 million for the six months of 2008. This non-cash gain had the effect of increasing our reported comprehensive income. See “Note 4 - Comprehensive Income” included in the Notes to our unaudited consolidated financial statements appearing elsewhere in this report.

Unrealized Loss on Marketable Securities Available for Sale, Net of Income Tax

The unrealized loss on marketable securities available for sale, net of income taxes for the second quarter of 2009 totaled $207,261, compared to an unrealized loss of $1.6 million for the second quarter of 2008, and for the six months of 2009 were $2.1 million, compared to an unrealized loss of $3.2 million for the six months of 2008. These declines reflect a reduction in the fair value of securities received from our client companies for consulting services. We believe the declines are due in large part to the overall decline in global market conditions during the first and second quarter of 2009.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Liquidity is the ability of a company to generate funds to support its current and future operations, satisfy its obligations and otherwise operate on an ongoing basis. At June 30, 2009 our working capital was $33.5 million compared to $37.5 million at December 31, 2008.

Our cash balance at June 30, 2009 totaled $13.8 million, a decrease of approximately $0.4 million over the balance at December 31, 2008. We have commitments of $2.2 million to increase the registered capital of CDI Beijing which will be satisfied from working capital. We have no additional material capital commitments.

The continued implementation of our business model, which includes providing investment capital to augment the growth of our portfolio companies and expand our business through new accretive acquisitions, will in all likelihood require additional capital. On June 15, 2009 we sold 2,702,702 shares of our common stock, at a price of $1.85 per share and warrants to purchase up to an additional 1,351,352 shares of common stock in a registered direct offering. We received gross proceeds of approximately $5,000,000 before placement agent fees of $150,000 and other expenses of the offering of approximately $25,000. In addition, we have formed International Magnesium Group, Inc. as the vehicle to consolidate our strategic magnesium operations and to create an identifiable brand name to unify our marketing efforts for these operations. Accordingly, we may raise additional capital through private or public financing for this initiative and other acquisitions.

We have an effective registration statement on Form S-3 which permits us to sell on a delayed or continuous basis, shares of our common stock or other securities along with certain selling shareholders at any time pursuant to a registration statement that we filed pursuant to Rule 415 under the Securities Act of 1933. The amount of our common stock which we or the selling shareholders are permitted to sell pursuant to our prospectus dated August 1, 2008 is limited to no more than one-third of the aggregate market value, during the period of 12 calendar months prior to the sale, of the voting and non-voting common equity held by non-affiliates of our company. Based on this limitation and subtracting the $5,000,000 raised in our June 15, 2008 offering, as of June 30, 2009, we and the selling shareholders would be limited to selling no more than approximately $7,400,000 of our common stock assuming there were no other sales within a 12 month period and a market price for our common stock of $1.72. We are evaluating our ability to continue to use the Form S-3 registration statement.

We maintain cash balances in the United States and China. At June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, bank deposits by geographic area, was as follows:

Country	June 30, 2009		December 31, 2008
United States	$ 8,689,503	63%	$ 6,640,672	47%
China	5,103,222	37%	7,564,557	53%
Total cash and cash equivalents	$ 13,792,725	100%	$ 14,205,229	100%

A substantial portion of our cash balance, approximately $5.1 million at June 30, 2009, is in the form of RMB held in bank accounts at financial institutions located in the PRC. Cash held in banks in the PRC is not insured. The value of cash on deposit in China at June 30, 2009 has been converted based on the exchange rate as of June 30, 2009. In 1996, the Chinese government introduced regulations, which relaxed restrictions on the conversion of the RMB; however restrictions still remain, including but not limited to restrictions on foreign invested entities. Foreign invested entities may only buy, sell or remit foreign currencies after providing valid commercial documents at only those banks authorized to conduct foreign exchanges. Furthermore, the conversion of RMB for capital account items, including direct investments and loans, is subject to PRC government approval. Chinese entities are required to establish and maintain separate foreign exchange accounts for capital account items. We cannot be certain Chinese regulatory authorities will not impose more stringent restrictions on the convertibility of the RMB, especially with respect to foreign exchange transactions. Accordingly, cash on deposit in banks in the PRC is not readily deployable by us for purposes outside of China.

Current assets as of June 30, 2009 totaled $51.4 million, a decrease of 14%, compared to December 31, 2008. This decrease was mainly due to a decrease in prepaid expenses and other current assets including related parties of $5.4 million, a decrease in our accounts receivables of $3.6 million and a reduction in our marketable securities held for sale of $2.5 million partially offset by an increase in inventories of $1.4 million and accounts receivable – related party of $2.7 million. Current liabilities as of June 30, 2009 totaled $17.9 million, a 20% decrease from our December 31, 2008 balance.

A summary of total assets by segment at June 30, 2009 and at December 31, 2008 is as follows:

(Dollars in thousands)	June 30, 2009	December 31, 2008
Magnesium segment	$ 55,365	$ 62,646
Basic materials segment	12,825	9,158
Consulting segment	32,624	35,575
Total	$ 100,814	$ 107,379

Our accounts receivables and accounts receivables related parties, net of allowances for doubtful accounts, as of June 30, 2009 was $10.2 million, compared to $11.1 million as of December 31, 2008. Although this amount decreased by $0.9 million, our accounts remained high as a result of longer payment terms offered to customers. Our Magnesium and Basic Materials segments generally offer payment terms to its customers of 90 days. We may, however, offer longer payment terms to our customers in order remain competitive and increase sales. Our Consulting segment generally receives full payment in advance for consulting services to be provided, upon entering into a consulting agreement.

Inventories as of June 30, 2009 were $10.0 million, an increase of $1.4 million compared to December 31, 2008. This increase is due primarily to higher magnesium inventories as a result of weak demand and increases in inventory in our Basic Materials segment in anticipation of increased demand. Magnesium inventories accounted for 80% and 91% of consolidated inventory levels at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively.

Prepaid expenses and other current assets consist of prepayments to vendors for inventory, other receivables, loans receivable, assets acquired in the acquisition of Pan Asia Magnesium, VAT tax refunds, and security deposits. Prepaid expenses and other current assets as of June 30, 2009 were $6.5 million compared to $8.1 million at December 31, 2008. This decrease is primarily a result of amortization of the intangible asset that was part of the Pan Asia Magnesium acquisition.

As of June 30, 2009, restricted cash was $1.7 million, a 97% increase compared to December 31, 2008. Restricted cash is the cash deposited in banks to help secure bank notes that businesses need for various reasons. Lang Chemical currently issued a promissory note in the amount of $2.0 million secured by restricted cash of $800,000.

Investment in marketable securities decreased by $2.5 million in the second quarter compared to December 31, 2008. This 33% decrease was due to the decrease in the fair market value of our securities available for sale.

Property plant and equipment increased by $1.2 million as of the second quarter compared to December 31, 2008. This increase was due to additional equipment Golden Magnesium acquired in 2009.

As of June 30, 2009, property use rights, net of allowances, increased by 117% compared to December 31, 2008. The increase is due to a reclassification of $689,087, net of accumulated amortization of $41,394, from Pre-paid expenses to land use rights to reflect Senrun Coal's contribution of land use rights to Golden Magnesium pursuant to the November 11, 2006 joint venture agreement entered into among the parties. Pursuant to these land use rights which permit construction of a magnesium production plant capable of producing up to 20,000 tons of magnesium alloy products per year, Golden Magnesium built its magnesium production plant on this land. The land use rights expire in 2057.

Accounts payable and accrued expenses were $9.7 million in 2009, an increase of $1.2 million compared to $7.5 million in 2008. Accounts payable and accrued expenses represent payables associated with the general operation of each segment, including accrued payrolls. Advances from customers represent prepayments for products, which have not yet been shipped. The increase was primarily attributable to increased inventory purchases in our Basic Materials segment.

Accounts Payable related party as of June 30, 2009 was $1.6 million, a decrease of $5.9 million compared to $7.5 million at December 31, 2008. This decrease was a result of payment or satisfaction of the amounts due to Pine Capital in the amount of $2.9 million and Wheaton Group in the amount of $3.0 million.

CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF CASH FLOWS

As of June 30, 2009, our net decrease in cash totaled $412,504 and was comprised of $2.8 million used in operating activities, $1.8 million used in investing activities, $3.8 million provided by financing activities, and the effect of prevailing exchange rates on our cash position of a positive $413,591.

Cash Used in Operating Activities

Net cash used in operating activities for the six months of 2009 totaled $2,795,117 which was primarily due to our net loss during the six months of 2009 of $4.3 million, a decrease in our accounts payable and accounts payable-related parties of $6.0 million, and an increase in inventories of $1.4 million. These amounts were mainly offset by a decrease in prepaid expenses and prepaid expenses-related parties of $6.0 million, a net decrease in accounts receivable and accounts receivable - related party of $1.0 million, our non-cash charges in depreciation and amortization of $1.5 million, and stock-based compensation of $1.1 million.

As of June 30, 2008 cash used inoperations of $2.8 million included our net income of $12.3 million, our non-cash charges for depreciation and amortization of $962,281, and stock-based compensation of $0.8 million, an increase in accounts payable and accrued expenses of $2.6 million, and an increase in other payables of $1 million. These increases in cash funds provided were partially offset by an increase in inventories of $6.9 million, an increase in prepaid expenses and other assets of $4.9 million, and an increase in accounts receivable of $14.7 million.

Cash Provided by (Used in) Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities as of June 30, 2009 totaled $1,849,628. Cash used was comprised of purchases of property plant and equipments of $2.9 million, partially offset by payments received from loans granted to related party of $546,881 and $483,723 of proceeds from the sale of marketable securities.

Net cash used in investing activities as of June 30, 2008 totaled $8.6 million. Cash used was comprised of purchases of property plant and equipments of $7.4 million, an increase in loans receivable of $1.1 million, and payments of loans to related party of $1.6 million. These were partially offset by proceeds from the sale of marketable securities of $428,395.

Cash Used in Financing Activities

Net cash provided by financing activities as of June 30, 2009 was $3.8 million. Cash provided by financing activities was mainly comprised of proceeds from sale of common stock of $5.0 million, proceeds from loans payable of $0.9 million, and capital contributions from minority owners of $0.7 million. These were partially offset by $1.7 million of payment for stock split/forward and stock repurchase, and $0.8 million increase in restricted cash.

Net cash provided by financing activities as of June 30, 2008 was $14.0 million. Cash provided by financing activities was mainly comprised of proceeds from sale of preferred stock of $13.0 million, proceeds from exercise of warrants and options of $2.8 million. These were partially offset by a decrease in due to related party of $2.6 million, a decrease in loans payable of $1.9 million, and $1.5 million in offering expenses.

Off Balance Sheet Items

Under SEC regulations, we are required to disclose our off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, such as changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that are material to investors. An off-balance sheet arrangement means a transaction, agreement or contractual arrangement to which any entity that is not consolidated with us is a party, under which we have:

- Any obligation under certain guarantee contracts,
- Any retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets,
- Any obligation under a contract that would be accounted for as a derivative instrument, except that it is both indexed to our stock and classified in stockholder's equity in our statement of financial position, and
- Any obligation arising out of a material variable interest held by us in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to us, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with us.

We do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that we are required to disclose pursuant to these regulations. In the ordinary course of business, we enter into operating lease commitments, purchase commitments and other contractual obligations. These transactions are recognized in our financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

Critical Accounting Policies

The discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations are based upon our unaudited consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of these unaudited consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates based on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

A summary of significant accounting policies is included in Note 2 to the unaudited consolidated financial statements included in this quarterly report. Management believes that the application of these policies on a consistent basis enables us to provide useful and reliable financial information about our operating results and financial condition.

Acquisitions

We account for acquisitions using the purchase method of accounting in accordance with SFAS No. 141. In each of our acquisitions for the periods presented, we determined that fair values were equivalent to the acquired historical carrying costs.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In April 2009, the FASB issued three final Staff Positions (FSPs) intended to provide additional application guidance and enhance disclosures regarding fair value measurements and impairments of securities. FSP FAS 157-4, Determining Fair Value When the Volume and Level of Activity for the Asset or Liability Have Significantly Decreased and Identifying Transactions That Are Not Orderly, provides guidelines for making fair value measurements more consistent with the principles presented in FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. FSP FAS 107-1 and APB 28-1, Interim Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, enhances consistency in financial reporting by increasing the frequency of fair value disclosures. FSP FAS 115-2 and FAS 124-2, Recognition and Presentation of Other-Than-Temporary Impairments, provides additional guidance designed to create greater clarity and consistency in accounting for and presenting impairment losses on securities. We are currently evaluating the requirements of these FSPs as well as the impact of the adoption on our consolidated financial statements, if any.

In January 2009, the FASB issued FSP EITF 99-20-1 to amend the impairment guidance in EITF Issue No. 99-20 in order to achieve more consistent determination of whether an other-than-temporary impairment (“OTTI”) has occurred. This FSP amended EITF 99-20 to more closely align the OTTI guidance therein to the guidance in Statement No. 115. Retrospective application to a prior interim or annual period is prohibited. The guidance in this FSP was considered in the assessment of OTTI for various securities at March 31, 2009.

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS 161, “Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities” ("SFAS 161”). SFAS 161 is intended to improve financial reporting about derivative instruments and hedging activities by requiring enhanced disclosures to enable investors to better understand their effects on an entity’s financial position, financial performance, and cash flows. It is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008, with early application encouraged. We have evaluated the requirements of SFAS 161 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of March 31, 2009.

In May 2008, the FASB issued FSP APB 14-1, Accounting for Convertible Debt Instruments That May Be Settled in Cash upon Conversion (Including Partial Cash Settlement). FSP APB 14-1 clarifies that convertible debt instruments that may be settled in cash upon either mandatory or optional conversion (including partial cash settlement) are not addressed by paragraph 12 of APB Opinion No. 14, Accounting for Convertible Debt and Debt issued with Stock Purchase Warrants. Additionally, FSP APB 14-1 specifies that issuers of such instruments should separately account for the liability and equity components in a manner that will reflect the entity's nonconvertible debt borrowing rate when interest cost is recognized in subsequent periods. FSP APB 14-1 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008, and interim periods within those fiscal years. We will adopt FSP APB 14-1 beginning in the first quarter of fiscal 2009, and this standard must be applied on a retrospective basis. We have evaluated the requirements of APB 14-1 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of March 31, 2009.

In May 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 162, The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. This standard is intended to improve financial reporting by identifying a consistent framework, or hierarchy, for selecting accounting principles to be used in preparing financial statements that are presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States for non-governmental entities. SFAS No. 162 is effective 60 days following approval by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board's amendments to AU Section 411, The Meaning of Present Fairly in Conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. We do not expect SFAS No. 162 to have a material impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements.

On September 16, 2008, the FASB issued final FSP No. EITF 03-6-1, "Determining Whether Instruments Granted in Share-Based Payment Transactions Are Participating Securities," to address the question of whether instruments granted in share-based payment transactions are participating securities prior to vesting. The FSP determines that unvested share-based payment awards that contain rights to dividend payments should be included in earnings per share calculations. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. We have evaluated the requirements of EITF 03-6-1 and it had no impact on the preparation of our consolidated financial statements as of March 31, 2009.

On October 10, 2008, the FASB issued SFP No. 157-3, Determining the Fair Value of a Financial Asset When the Market for That Asset Is Not Active. This FASB Staff Position clarifies the application of FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Value Measurements, in a market that is not active and provides an example to illustrate key considerations in determining the fair value of a financial asset when the market for that financial asset is not active. Statement 157 was issued in September 2006, and is effective for financial assets and financial liabilities for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. We have adopted SFAS 157-3 and determined that it had no impact as of March 31, 2009, and we will continue to evaluate the impact, if any, of SFAS 157-3 on our financial statements.

A variety of proposed or otherwise potential accounting standards are currently under study by standard setting organizations and various regulatory agencies. Due to the tentative and preliminary nature of those proposed standards, management has not determined whether implementation of such proposed standards would be material to our consolidated financial statements.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Information and Factors That May Affect Future Results

This report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The Securities and Exchange Commission encourages companies to disclose forward-looking information so that investors can better understand a company's future prospects and make informed investment decisions. This Annual Report on Form 10-K and other written and oral statements that we make from time to time contain such forward-looking statements that set out anticipated results based on management's plans and assumptions regarding future events or performance. We have tried, wherever possible, to identify such statements by using words such as "anticipate," "estimate," "expect," "project," "intend," "plan," "believe," "will" and similar expressions in connection with any discussion of future operating or financial performance. In particular, these include statements relating to future actions, future performance or results of current and anticipated sales efforts, expenses, the outcome of contingencies, such as legal proceedings, and financial results. A list of factors that could cause our actual results of operations and financial condition to differ materially is set forth below, and these factors are discussed in greater detail under Item 1A – "Risk Factors" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008:

- Continued global economic weakness is expected to reduce demand for our products in each of our segments.
- Fluctuations in the availability of magnesium and in levels of customer demand.
- Changes in the prices of magnesium and magnesium-related products.
- Our ability to implement our business strategy of growing our business through increased magnesium production capacity and acquisitions.
- Fluctuations in the cost or availability of coke gas and coal.
- Loss of orders from any of our major customers.
- The value of the equity securities we accept as compensation is subject to adjustment which could result in losses to us in future periods.
- Our ability to effectively integrate our acquisitions and to manage our growth and our inability to fully realize any anticipated benefits of acquired business.
- Our need for additional financing which we may not be able to obtain on acceptable terms, the dilutive effect additional capital raising efforts in future periods may have on our current shareholders and the increased interest expense in future periods related to additional debt financing.
- Our dependence on certain key personnel.
- Our ability to establish adequate management, cash, legal and financial controls in the PRC.
- The lack various legal protections in certain agreements to which we are a party and which are material to our operations which are customarily contained in similar contracts prepared in the United States.
- Potential impact of PRC regulations on our intercompany loans.
- Our ability to assure that related party transactions are fair to our company.
- Yuwei Huang, our executive vice president – magnesium, director and an officer of several of our magnesium subsidiaries is also an owner and executive officer of several companies which directly compete with our magnesium business.
- Our ability to comply with the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act which could subject us to penalties and other adverse consequences.
- Limits under the Investment Company Act of 1940 on the value of securities we can accept as payment for our business consulting services.
- Our acquisition efforts in future periods may be dilutive to our then current shareholders.
- The risks and hazards inherent in the mining industry on the operations of our basic materials segment.
- The effect of changes resulting from the political and economic policies of the Chinese government on our assets and operations located in the PRC.
- The impact of Chinese economic reform policies.
- The influence of the Chinese government over the manner in which our Chinese subsidiaries must conduct our business activities.
- The impact on future inflation in China on economic activity in China.
- The impact of any recurrence of severe acute respiratory syndrome, or SAR's, or another widespread public health problem.
- The limitation on our ability to receive and use our revenues effectively as a result of restrictions on currency exchange in China.
- Our ability to enforce our rights due to policies regarding the regulation of foreign investments in China.
- Recent substantial declines in the market price for shares of our common stock and continued highly volatile and wide market price fluctuations.
- The impact on our stock price due to sales of our stock by existing shareholders and stock option and warrant exercises and sales of shares of stock exercised pursuant to stock options.
- Possible claim for underwriting fees and expenses.

We caution that the factors described herein and other factors could cause our actual results of operations and financial condition to differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statements we make and that investors should not place undue reliance on any such forward-looking statements. Further, any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which such statement is made or to reflect the occurrence of anticipated or unanticipated events or circumstances. New factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all of such factors. Further, we cannot assess the impact of each such factor on our results of operations or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

We maintain our books and records in Renminbi, the functional currency of the PRC, however, we use the U.S. dollar as the reporting currency of our financial statements. The exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and the Renminbi is subject to the foreign exchange quotation publicized by the People's Bank of China daily. Results of operations are translated at average exchange rates during the period. Assets, liabilities, and stockholder's equity are translated at the unified exchange rate as quoted by the People's Bank of China at the end of the period.

Transaction gains and losses that arise from exchange rate fluctuations on transactions denominated in a currency other than Renminbi are included in the results of operations as incurred. Gains and losses from foreign currency transactions are included in the results of operations. There were no material transaction gains or losses for the six months ended June 30, 2009.

Although the conversion of the Renminbi is highly regulated in China, the value of the Renminbi against the U.S. dollar fluctuates and is affected by, among other things, changes in China's political and economic conditions. On July 2, 2005, the Chinese government changed its decade-old policy of benchmarking the value of the Renminbi to the U.S. dollar. Under the new policy, the Renminbi is permitted to fluctuate in value within a narrow band against a basket of certain foreign currencies. There remains significant international pressure on the Chinese government to further liberalize this currency policy, and if such liberalization occurs, the value of the Renminbi could appreciate or depreciate against the U.S. dollar. This floating exchange rate, and any appreciation of the Renminbi that may result from such rate, could have various adverse effects on our business.

Our exposure to foreign exchange risk primarily relates to cash and cash equivalents denominated in U.S. dollars as a result of earnings in China and our obligations to invest in our subsidiaries. For example, to the extent that we need to convert U.S. dollars into Renminbi for our China based operations, appreciation of the Renminbi against the U.S. dollar would have an adverse effect on the Renminbi amount that we receive from the conversion. Conversely, if we decide to convert our Renminbi into U.S. dollars for the purpose of making dividend payments on our common stock or for other business purposes, appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the Renminbi would have a negative effect on the U.S. dollar amount available to us. In addition, fluctuations in the exchange rate would affect our financial results reported in U.S. dollar terms without giving effect to any underlying change in our business or results of operations.

We currently do not hedge our exposure to fluctuations in the Renminbi to U.S. dollar exchange rate. In the future, we may choose to reduce our exposures through financial instruments (hedges) that provide offsets or limits to our exposures when considered appropriate.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer who serves as our principal executive officer and our Controller and Internal Audit Manager who serves as our principal financial and accounting officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, as of the period ended June 30, 2009 (the "Evaluation Dates"). Based on this evaluation, and as described below under "Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting", we indentified material weaknesses in the lack of controls over the accounting for cash receipts and disbursements and related party transactions as previously reported and control deficiencies at one of our subsidiaries that resulted in a delay in the preparation of its financial statements. Because of these material weaknesses, which are in the process of being remediated as described below under "Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting", our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and our Controller and Internal Audit Manager, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as of June 30, 2009, which is the end of the period covered by this report.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's annual or interim financial statements would not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

Our "disclosure controls and procedures" are controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

The certifications attached as Exhibits 31 and 32 to this report should be read in conjunction with the disclosures set forth herein.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

The specific material weaknesses identified by our management were as follows:

- The lack of controls over the accounting for cash receipts and disbursements. Specifically the lack of these controls permitted employees and vendors to be paid in cash. We discovered that some of these transactions took place without sufficient externally prepared documentation or approvals.
- The lack of controls over the accounting for related party transactions. Specifically the lack of these controls caused related party sales to be classified as regular sales. These sales totaled $16.8 million in 2008.
- The lack of an integrated financial accounting system to collect and record data across all of our subsidiaries; and
- Management at one of our foreign majority controlled subsidiaries continues to fail to provide adequate oversight to ensure the timely completion of its financial statements and did not engage in adequate communication with our management to inform them of their lack of progress.

Although these material weaknesses did not result in a material misstatement for the period ended June 30, 2009 or any prior periods, the lack of controls over the accounting for cash receipts and disbursements and related party transactions did result in accounting adjustments in prior periods and a reasonable probability that a material misstatement of income or expenses in our annual or interim financial statements would not have been prevented or timely detected. In addition, the control deficiencies at one of our subsidiaries resulted in a delay in the preparation of its financial statements, limited our ability to perform a thorough review of this subsidiary's financial statements and supporting financial statement disclosure schedules independent of the preparer.

We believe the following actions we have taken and are taking will be sufficient to remediate the material weaknesses described above:

- Internal audit activities and resources have been expanded. We added a position for an internal auditor who will manage an internal audit team that will test and monitor the implementation of our accounting and internal control procedures;
- We are in the process of completing a review and revision of our existing documentation of our accounting and internal control procedures and policies which will include appropriate controls and procedures for cash management in China and related party transactions;
- We are in the process of implementing an initiative to ensure the importance of internal controls and compliance with established policies and procedures are fully understood throughout the organization. These initiatives will be managed by our Controller and Internal Audit Manager;
- Our board of directors is evaluating the adoption of a Related Person Transaction Policy to govern our accounting and internal control procedures and policies;

We are in the process of implementing a financial software system both in our U.S. office and in our subsidiaries to standardize the process and access to financial reports on a timely manner;

- Provide training to our employees to ensure these procedures are properly performed; and
- We will evaluate our strategic alternatives related to Pan Asia Magnesium including, among other things, appointment of new management or a sale of our interest or other transactions in light of the performance of this entity and difficulties we have encountered with its management concerning strict compliance with our accounting policies and procedures.

Except as described above, there were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended June 30, 2009 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Management believes the actions described above will remediate the material weaknesses we have identified and strengthen our internal control over financial reporting. We expect the material weakness will be remediated prior to December 31, 2009. As we improve our internal control over financial reporting and implement remediation measures, we may supplement or modify the remediation measures described above.

A company's "internal control over financial reporting" is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, a company's principal executive and principal financial officers, and effected by a company's board of directors, management and other personnel, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and our Controller and Internal Audit Manager, does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls will prevent all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Due to the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within our company have been detected.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

None.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Risk factors describing the major risks to our business can be found under Item 1A, "Risk Factors", in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008. Except as provided for below. there has been no material change in our risk factors from those previously discussed in the Annual Report on Form 10-K:

The sale of our common stock in our June15, 2009 offering will result in the reset of the exercise price of certain outstanding warrants and our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock.

Included in our outstanding warrants are warrants to purchase 143,750 shares of our common stock with an exercise price of $8.00 per share. We also have 1,006 shares of our series A convertible preferred stock outstanding that are convertible into 143,750 shares of our common stock at a conversion price of $7.00 per share. The terms of these warrants and preferred stock provide that if we sell common stock at a price per share less than the then exercise price of the warrants or the conversion price of the preferred stock, then we are required to reduce the exercise price of those warrants and the conversion price of the series A convertible preferred stock to the lower price of the subsequent sale. Because the market price of our common stock in our June 15, 2009 offering is less than the exercise price of the $8.00 per share warrants, the sale of shares of our common stock in our June 15, 2009 offering will result in a reduction of the exercise price of those outstanding warrants which will reduce the proceeds we might receive from their possible exercise. Also, because the market price of our common stock in our June 15, 2009 offering is less than the conversion price of our series A convertible preferred stock, the sale of shares of our common stock in June 15, 2009 offering will result in a reduction of the conversion price of the outstanding preferred stock which will dilute our existing shareholders upon conversion.

Possible Claim for Underwriting Fees and Expenses.

In addition to any fees we pay Rodman & Renshaw, LLC in connection with our June 15, 2009 offering, we may be obligated to pay additional fees associated with that offering to our former investment banker. If our former investment banker makes a claim for a fee in connection with our June 15, 2009 offering, we intend to dispute such claim. If we are unsuccessful in disputing such claim, the costs of the June 15, 2009 offering may be higher than the amounts set forth in our June 15, 2009 prospectus supplement.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds.

(a) Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities

During the second quarter of 2009 we issued 21,000 shares of our common stock to Bazelon Less & Feldman, P.C. as compensation for services it provided to us. The shares were issued pursuant to an exemption from registration under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 since the issuance by us did not involve a public offering. The issuance was not a "public offering" as defined in Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 due to the insubstantial number of persons involved, size of the offering, manner of the offering and number of shares issued. In addition, the recipient had the necessary investment intent as required by Section 4(2) of the Securities Act since it agreed to allow us to include a legend on the shares issued stating that such shares are restricted pursuant to Rule 144 of the Securities Act of 1933. Based on an analysis of the above factors, we have met the requirements to qualify for exemption under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 for this issuance.

(b) Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

None.

Item 3. Defaults Upon Senior Securities.

None.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders.

(a) The Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the Annual Meeting") of the Company was held on May 29, 2009, in Deerfield Beach, Florida.

(b) The following directors were elected at the Annual Meeting:

Yuejian (James) Wang
Yuwei Huang
David Barnes
Sheldon Steiner
Philip Y. Shen, Ph.D.

(c) The shareholders voted at the Annual Meeting on the following matters:

1. The vote on the election of directors to serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their successors are duly elected and qualified was as follows:

12,209,369	35,358	0	6,800

Item 5. Other Information.

On August 13, 2009, our board of directors approved a resolution changing the our fiscal year end to September 30th of each year pursuant to the board of director's authority provided for in Section 10.03 of the company's by-laws. Previously, our fiscal year ended on December 31 of each year. The change in fiscal year end was made to avoid conflicts and delays that affect our China based subsidiaries which occur as a result of the observance and celebration of the Chinese New Year. We will file a transition report for the transition period from January 1, 2009 through September 30, 2009 on a Form 10-K.
