Dear Friends:

The past few weeks have been very busy for AT&T and full of good news for our customers, both here in South Carolina and around the country.

Pamela Lackey

We are excited about the prospect of providing consumers a stronger competitive alternative to cable through the combination of AT&T and DIRECTV.

We are also continuing to expand the availability of our advanced services around the state. We recently launched Digital Life in the Charleston and Greenville areas, bringing this exciting wireless service to residential customers in a total of 20 South Carolina communities.

And we are continuing to expand and enhance our 4G LTE mobile broadband service, especially in small and mid-sized communities.

For more on these and other stories, please continue reading. South Carolina is a great state in which to live and work. We appreciate the opportunity to work with you in making it even better.

Sincerely,

Pamela Lackey

AT&T to Acquire DIRECTV

Consumers will soon be provided with a stronger competitive alternative to cable through the combination of AT&T* and DIRECTV — an acquisition announced on Sunday, May 18th. This transaction combines the best video platform in America with AT&T's wired and wireless broadband networks.

The combination of AT&T and DIRECTV will benefit consumers with innovative mobile, video and broadband services and bundles and increased broadband availability, especially in rural areas of the country. As a part of the acquisition, AT&T has committed to expand and enhance broadband to 15 million customer locations — primarily in rural areas.

“This is a unique opportunity that will redefine the video entertainment industry and create a company able to offer new bundles and deliver content to consumers across multiple screens — mobile devices, TVs, laptops, cars and even airplanes. At the same time, it creates immediate and long-term value for our shareholders,” said Randall Stephenson, AT&T Chairman and CEO. “DIRECTV is the best option for us because they have the premier brand in pay TV, the best content relationships, and a fast-growing Latin American business. DIRECTV is a great fit with AT&T, and together we'll be able to enhance innovation and provide customers new competitive choices for what they want in mobile, video and broadband services. We look forward to welcoming DIRECTV's talented people to the AT&T family.”

The merger is subject to approval by DIRECTV shareholders and review by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission, U.S. Department of Justice, a few U.S. states and some Latin American countries. The transaction is expected to close within approximately 12 months.
