Item 8.01 Other Events

On January 22, 2008, SunPower Corporation (the “Company”) reported the common stock price conversion tests for the $200 million aggregate principal amount of its 1.25% senior convertible debentures due 2027 and the $225 million aggregate principal amount of its 0.75% senior convertible debentures due 2027. The test was met when the closing price of the Company’s class A common stock equaled or exceeded $70.94 and $102.80, or 125% of the applicable conversion prices for the respective series of convertible debentures, for at least 20 of the last 30 trading days during the quarter ended December 30, 2007. Accordingly, pursuant to the terms of the applicable indenture and supplemental indentures, the debentures became convertible at the holders’ option during the quarter ending March 30, 2008. As of close of business on March 27, 2008, no holders of the debentures had exercised their right to convert the debentures.

For the fiscal quarter ending March 30, 2008, the common stock price conversion test will not be met, as the class A common stock closing price has not equaled or exceeded $70.94 and $102.80 for at least 20 of the last 30 trading days of this quarter. Therefore, the two outstanding series of convertible debentures will not be convertible into common stock based on this trigger during the fiscal quarter ending on June 29, 2008. The Company intends to re-classify $425 million aggregate principal amount of the debentures from short-term debt to long-term debt on its March 30, 2008 balance sheet. If the common stock price conversion test is met in a subsequent quarter, the debentures may again be re-classified as short-term debt.

The disclosure above is qualified in its entirety by the text of the applicable indenture, first supplemental indenture and second supplemental indenture, which describe in further detail all of the conversion features of the debentures and which were filed on February 8, 2007 and July 26, 2007 with Securities and Exchange Commission as exhibits to the Company’s Current Reports on Form 8-K.
