NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
 NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 THIRTEEN WEEKS ENDED MAY 31, 2001 AND MAY 31, 2000
 (unaudited)

The following notes to the consolidated financial statements should be read in light of the following:

As a result of the following, all information which appears in the financial statements included in this report, is purely historical and will have no impact on future operations and results, if any. For an explanation of the company's historical accounting policies and data, reference is made to the Notes to the Financial Statements included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2001.

The Company experienced significant losses from operations in recent years which resulted in severe cash flow deficiencies. As a result of such losses and the Company's inability to raise financing to continue operations, it became insolvent and, finally, it terminated all business operations in October 1999.

On March 3, 2000, the Company filed a Voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. The goal of the projected reorganization will be for the Company and each of its subsidiaries to be merged with, or to acquire the assets or the capital stock of, existing businesses, or to effect similar business combinations. No assurance can be given that this goal will be achieved. Management will have sole discretion to determine which businesses, if any, may be merged or acquired, as well as the terms of any merger or acquisition. The Plan of Reorganization and the Disclosure Statement, which Management filed on July 6, 2001 with the Bankruptcy Court, will propose that the Company acquire, in a "reverse acquisition", Accutone Inc. a Delaware Corporation ("Accutone") controlled by John H. Treglia, the Company's current president. In a "reverse acquisition", the shareholders of the company which is acquired (in this case, Accutone) will end up owning the preponderance of the issued and outstanding capital stock of the company which was the acquirer (in this case, Nantucket Industries, Inc.). before it can be put into effect, the proposed Plan of Reorganization will have to be approved by the Company's creditors confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court, and not objected to after the fact by the court-appointed Trustee for the Creditors. A hearing before the Bankruptcy Court with respect to the aforesaid is currently scheduled for September 12, 2001. Management is completely unable to predict or to even venture an opinion as to whether all such required approvals and confirmation will be forthcoming. As a result, no prediction can be made with respect to whether the reverse acquisition of Accutone by the Company will ever take place. If it should occur, such acquisition would not be considered to be an arm's length transaction. While any transaction between the Company and any of its affiliates could present management with a conflict of interest, it is the intention of management that if such transaction should occur, the terms thereof will be no less beneficial to the Company than if such transaction had been effected on an arms length basis. If a Plan of Reorganization is not confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court, or is confirmed, but management is not able to successfully complete a merger or acquisition, the Company will cease to exist.

ITEM 2 - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Results of Operations

The Company experienced significant losses from operations in recent years which resulted in severe cash flow deficiencies. As a result of such losses and the Company's inability to raise financing to continue operations, it became insolvent and, finally, it terminated all business operations in October 1999. On March 3, 2000, the Company filed a Voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York.

As a result of the foregoing, during the quarters ended May 31, 2001 and May 31, 2000, the company made no sales, realized no revenues, and incurred no operational expenses.

For discussions in more detail respecting the Company's results of operations during the three years leading up to the termination of operations, reference is made to Item 7. "management's Discussion and analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" which appeared in the Company's annual reports on Forms 10-K for the fiscal years ended February 28, 2001 and 2000.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

During the several years leading up to the termination of operations, the company had funded its operating losses by refinancing its debt and increasing its capital through the sale of debt and equity securities. As at May 31, 2001, the company's assets and liabilities were unchanged from the February 28, 2001 year end, with total assets of $21,783 and total liabilities of $1,701,356.

For discussions in more detail respecting the Company's liquidity and capital resources during the three years leading up to the termination of operations, reference is made to Item 7. "Management's Discussion and analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" which appeared in the Company's annual reports on forms 10-K for the fiscal years ended February 28, 2001 and 2000.

PART II

OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1 - Legal Proceedings

On March 3, 2000, Nantucket Industries, Inc. (the "Company") filed a Voluntary petition under chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. (Case Name: Nantucket Industries, Inc., Case Number: 00-B10867). The goal of the projected reorganization will be for the Company to be merged with, or to acquire the assets or the capital stock of an existing business or to effect similar business combinations. No assurance can be given that this goal will be achieved. Management will have sole discretion to determine which businesses, if any, may be merged or acquired, as well as the terms of any merger or acquisition. The Plan of Reorganization and the disclosure Statement, which Management filed with the Bankruptcy Court, will propose that the company acquire, in a "reverse acquisition", Accutone Inc., a Delaware Corporation ("Accutone") controlled by John H. Treglia, the company's current president. In a "reverse acquisition", the shareholders of the company which is acquired (in this case, Accutone) will end up owning the preponderance of the issued and outstanding capital stock of the company which was the acquirer (in this case, Nantucket Industries, Inc.). Before it can be put into effect, the proposed Plan of Reorganization will have to be approved by the Company's creditors, confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court, and not objected to after the fact by the court-appointed Trustee for the Creditors. A hearing before the Bankruptcy Court with respect to the aforesaid is currently scheduled for September 12, 2001. Management is completely unable to predict or to even venture an opinion as to whether all such required approvals and confirmation will be forthcoming. As a result, no predication can be made with respect to whether the reverse acquisition of Accutone by the company will ever take place. If it should occur, such acquisition would not be considered to be an arm's length transaction. While any transaction between the Company and any of its affiliates could present management with a conflict of interest, it is the intention of management that if such transaction should occur, the terms thereof will be no less beneficial to the Company than if such transaction had been effected on an arms length basis. If a Plan of Reorganization is not confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court, or is confirmed, but management is not able to successfully complete a merger or acquisition, the Company will cease to exist.
