Starboard Value LP (“Starboard Value LP”), together with the other participants named herein, intends to make a preliminary filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission of a proxy statement and accompanying proxy card to be used to solicit votes for the election of a slate of director nominees at the 2013 annual meeting of stockholders of Office Depot, Inc., a Delaware corporation.

On March 18, 2013, Starboard Value LP issued the following press release:

Starboard Nominates Six Highly Qualified Candidates To The Board Of Office Depot

Believes that a Change in a Significant Portion of the Office Depot Board is Required Now to Improve Operational Performance on a Stand-Alone Basis and Oversee Integration with OfficeMax if Merger is Approved

States that New and Improved Board Should Help Select Future CEO and Be Eligible to Serve on Combined Office Depot / OfficeMax Board

NEW YORK, March 18, 2013 -- Starboard Value LP (together with its affiliates, “Starboard”), the largest common shareholder of Office Depot, Inc. (NYSE: ODP) (“Office Depot” or the “Company”), with a 14.8% ownership stake, announced today that it has delivered a letter to the Board of Directors of Office Depot (the “Board”). In the letter, Starboard stated its belief that the Board must be significantly reconstituted now, whether Office Depot continues as a stand-alone company or as a merged company with OfficeMax Incorporated (“OfficeMax”). Starboard explained that a new and improved Board is needed to: (1) act to immediately improve the current operating performance of the business on a stand-alone basis and to be in position to maximize the longer term synergies with OfficeMax, if the merger is approved, (2) select a committee of Office Depot directors to work with a committee of OfficeMax directors to conduct a process to select a CEO of the combined company, and (3) contribute the most highly-qualified directors possible to the combined Office Depot / OfficeMax board. Accordingly, Starboard is nominating six highly-qualified candidates for election to the Board who have the well-balanced mix of skill sets to ensure that the Company openly evaluates all strategic alternatives and successfully addresses the challenges ahead. Starboard cautioned that waiting for a shareholder meeting to add these highly-qualified candidates on the Board is a mistake and if the Board does not immediately engage with Starboard to reconstitute the Board, then Office Depot should schedule its annual meeting of shareholders for a date prior to the potential consummation of the merger with OfficeMax so that Office Depot shareholders can choose who they want to represent them at this critical time.

The full text of the letter follows:

March 18, 2013

Members of the Board of Directors of Office Depot, Inc.
Office Depot, Inc.
6600 North Military Trail
Boca Raton, FL 33496

Dear Members of the Board,

Starboard Value LP, together with its affiliates (“Starboard”), currently owns approximately 14.8% of the outstanding common shares of Office Depot, Inc. (“Office Depot” or the “Company”), making us Office Depot’s largest common shareholder. Additionally, pro forma for the proposed merger of Office Depot and OfficeMax Incorporated (“OfficeMax”), we believe Starboard would be the largest shareholder of the combined company. We have strong views regarding the current state and future direction of Office Depot and how to create substantial value for shareholders. We have articulated some of these views publicly in our comprehensive letter to the Board of Directors

(the “Board”) on September 17, 2012, as well as privately with the Board on several occasions. We appreciate the ongoing dialog we have had with management and certain members of the Board over the past several months.

Although Office Depot has signed a merger agreement with OfficeMax, we believe a change in a significant portion of the Office Depot Board is necessary and should be implemented immediately for the following reasons. First, we are deeply concerned with the current operating performance of the Company. We believe a new Board that possesses the appropriate skill sets to oversee a turnaround of Office Depot with a goal of substantially improving operating performance is necessary whether as a stand-alone company or as a merged company. Shareholders cannot afford to simply continue with the status quo and hope for improved results down the road if the company is merged. Instead, now is the time to act to immediately improve the current operating performance of the business on a stand-alone basis and to be in position to maximize the longer term synergies with OfficeMax if the merger is approved. Second, if the merger should be consummated, Office Depot's Board will need to: (i) select a committee of Office Depot directors to work with a committee of OfficeMax directors to conduct a formal process to identify and select a Chief Executive Officer of the combined company; and (ii) contribute the most highly-qualified directors possible to the combined Office Depot / OfficeMax board. For these reasons, it is critically important that the Board should be improved now.

To this end, we are delivering a notice today nominating the following highly-qualified candidates for election to Office Depot's Board at the 2013 Annual Meeting. These nominees possess a well-balanced mix of skill sets to ensure that the Company successfully addresses the challenges ahead and evaluates, with an open mind and a keen sense of urgency, all alternative strategies to determine the best path forward to maximize value for all shareholders. To be clear, waiting for a shareholder meeting to add our highly-qualified candidates on the Board is a mistake. Office Depot cannot afford to wait to improve its operating performance. As we have made clear in our discussions, we would like to work with you to reach an agreement to voluntarily reconstitute the Board immediately so as to include these highly-qualified candidates. If the current Board does not engage with us now to reconstitute the Board at this critical time, then Office Depot should immediately take the necessary steps to schedule its annual meeting of shareholders for a date prior to the potential consummation of the merger with OfficeMax so that Office Depot shareholders can choose who they want to represent them in selecting the future Chief Executive Officer of the Company and who should be the directors eligible to serve on any pro forma board.
