Press Release

CVRD wins mineral rights to explore bauxite deposit in the Amazon

Rio de Janeiro, November 17, 2004 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD) informs that it won the international competition promoted by Paranapanema S.A. for the research, evaluation and exploration of the bauxite deposit in the Pitinga region, Municipality of Presidente Figueiredo, Amazon State, Brazil.

During the next two years, CVRD will be developing all the geological exploration work to define the size of the deposit and the best way to proceed with its economic exploration. The Pitinga reserve contains bauxite potentially of high quality and in large quantity.

The exploration of the Pitinga bauxite deposit is in line with CVRD's strategic plans, contributing to its growth and shareholder value creation.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and CVRD cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which CVRD operates. For additional information on factors that could cause CVRD's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see CVRD's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
