Cautionary Statement

This Annual Report on Form 20-F contains certain statements that are neither reported financial results nor other historical information. These statements are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Because these forward-looking statements are subject to assumptions, risks and uncertainties, actual future results may differ materially from those expressed in or implied by such statements. Many of these assumptions, risks and uncertainties relate to factors that are beyond National Grid's ability to control or estimate precisely, such as delays in obtaining or adverse conditions contained in regulatory and shareholder approvals and contractual consents, including those in connection with the announced US acquisitions; unseasonable weather and changes in historical weather patterns affecting demand for electricity and gas; competition and industry restructuring; changes in economic conditions; currency fluctuations; changes in interest and tax rates; changes in energy market prices; changes in laws, regulations or regulatory policies; developments in legal or public policy doctrines; the impact of changes to accounting standards; and technological developments. Other factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in this report include the ability to complete the announced US acquisitions when or as planned and to integrate the acquired businesses with the Group and realise the expected synergies from such integration; the availability, timing or success of future acquisition opportunities; the impact of the sales of businesses by the Group, the failure to achieve reductions in costs or to achieve operational efficiencies; the failure to retain key management; the behaviour of UK electricity market participants on system balancing; the timing of amendments in prices to shippers in the UK gas market; the performance of our pension schemes and the regulatory treatment of pension costs; and any adverse consequences arising from outages on or otherwise affecting energy networks, including gas pipelines, which we own or operate. For a more detailed description of these assumptions, risks and uncertainties, together with any other risk factors, please see Items 3 and 5 of this report (and in particular Risk factors under Item 3). Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this report. Except as required by law, National Grid does not undertake any obligation to revise these forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this report. The inclusion of our website address in this annual report does not, and is not intended to, incorporate the contents of our website into this report and such information does not constitute part of this annual report.

National Grid plc was incorporated on 11 July 2000. The Company is registered in England and Wales, with its registered office at 1-3 Strand, London WC2N 5EH (telephone +44 20 7004 3000). The Company's agent in the US is Lawrence J. Reilly, Executive Vice President and General Counsel, National Grid USA, 25 Research Drive, Westborough, MA 01582.

The information set forth under the headings Operating and Financial Review on pages 20 to 55, Note 36 Group undertakings and joint ventures on page 148, Glossary of Terms on page 172 and Definitions on page 173 of the Company's Annual Report and Accounts 2005/06 contained in Exhibit 15.1 is incorporated herein by reference.

Property, plant and equipment*United Kingdom*

National Grid's Corporate Centre operates principally from offices at 1-3 Strand, London. These offices, of approximately 25,080 square feet, are held on a 15-year lease from 24 June 2002. At present, environmental issues are not preventing the businesses from utilising any material operating assets in the course of their business.

UK electricity and gas transmission. We own the freehold of the majority of all sites associated with our UK electricity and gas transmission business in England and Wales. The remainder are held on long-term leaseholds, including all the transmission offtake sites in the service areas of the sold distribution networks. In Scotland, we own the majority of our gas transmission sites outright through a disposition purchase. The remainder are owned through a feudal disposition where purchase was subject to various rights retained by the previous owner, for example mineral or forestry rights. In addition, we have three principal commercial lettings, at St Fergus to Shell and Mobil, and at Theddlethorpe to ConocoPhillips. The electricity transmission business does not own any sites in Scotland. Our gas transmission network comprises approximately 4,300 miles of high pressure transmission pipelines. Agreements with landowners or occupiers are only required for those pipes that cross private land. These agreements largely comprise perpetual easements in England and Wales and deeds of servitude in Scotland. Any land issues impacting on normal agricultural activity local to pipelines and their associated easement or servitude are covered by national agreements with the National Farmers Union, the Country Land and Business Association of England and Wales and the Scottish Landowners Association.

Agreements with landowners or occupiers are required for the overhead lines and underground cables which make up our electricity network in England and Wales. The majority of agreements are in the form of terminable wayleaves. The remainder are in the form of perpetual easements under which rights have been granted in perpetuity in return for a lump sum payment. The sites at which we have electricity substations are split between freehold and leasehold. Of the leasehold sites, the large majority are substations located on the premises of generators and are held on long-term leases for nominal rental payments. Of the remaining sites, most are held as ground rents (market price payable for land only) from the respective landlords, who include electricity distribution companies.

We also own the freehold of our control centre in Berkshire and we have major offices in Warwick (freehold) and Leeds (freehold).

UK gas distribution. Following the sales of four of our regional gas networks (Scotland, South of England, Wales and West and North of England), which were completed on 1 June 2005, our retained UK gas distribution system consists of approximately 82,000 miles of distribution pipelines. Agreements with landowners or occupiers are only required for those pipes that cross private land. These agreements largely comprise perpetual easements. Any land issues impacting on normal agricultural activity local to pipelines and their associated easement are covered by national agreements with the National Farmers Union and the Country Land and Business Association of England and Wales. We own the freeholds of the substantial majority of the operational sites where there are larger operational plant and gas storage facilities used in our UK gas distribution business. The vast majority of office buildings, depots and stores used by UK gas distribution are leased from another company within the Group.

National Grid Wireless. National Grid Wireless is headquartered in freehold premises in Warwick and operates from 30 regional locations and team bases across the UK. We have active tenants on over 5,000 wireless communication sites throughout the UK. These sites offer a range of building types and structures for mobile and other wireless communications companies to locate their equipment. Agreements with landowners consist of rental payments and a revenue share. Transmitters for broadcast networks are located on approximately 1,300 sites, more than half of which we own or control and the balance of which are either licensed to us by third party landlords or under a site-sharing agreement with another independent infrastructure provider.

United States

We own in fee the office buildings that comprise our principal US business premises in Westborough and Northborough, Massachusetts and in Syracuse, Albany and Buffalo, New York. Substantially all of the Group's US properties and franchises are subject to the liens of mortgage indentures and deeds of trust under which mortgage bonds have been issued. At present, environmental issues are not preventing the companies from utilising any material operating assets in the course of their business.

US electricity transmission. Our US electricity transmission systems consist of approximately 14,000 circuit miles of transmission and sub-transmission lines located within right-of-way corridors that traverse both public and private property. Statutory authority, legislative charters and municipal franchise grants generally provide the National Grid USA companies with the rights required to locate transmission and sub-transmission facilities within and across public ways. Right-of-way corridors that cross privately owned land have generally been acquired in fee ownership (freehold) or pursuant to grants of perpetual easements. Transmission and sub-transmission substation facilities are principally located on properties that are owned in fee.

US electricity and gas distribution. Our US electricity and gas distribution systems consist of approximately 72,000 circuit miles of electric distribution lines located on rights-of-way in New England and New York, and approximately 8,500 miles of gas distribution pipelines located on rights-of-way in New York. Statutory authority, legislative charters and municipal franchise grants generally provide the National Grid USA companies with the rights required to locate distribution facilities within and across public ways. Directors

Under the Articles, a Director must disclose any personal interest in a contract and may not vote in respect of that contract, subject to certain limited exceptions.

The compensation awarded to the Executive Directors is decided by the Remuneration Committee, which consists entirely of Non-executive Directors. The fees of the Non-executive Directors are determined by the Executive Directors with the guidance of the Chairman and after taking appropriate external advice.

The Directors are empowered to exercise all the powers of National Grid to borrow money, subject to the limitation that the aggregate principal amount outstanding of all borrowings shall not exceed an amount equal to four times National Grid's share capital and aggregate reserves, calculated in the manner described in the Articles, unless sanctioned by an ordinary resolution of the Company's shareholders. A resolution at the Annual General Meeting of the Company to be held on 31 July 2006 proposes a change in respect of borrowing powers, replacing the current limit with a fixed borrowing limit of £30 billion.

There is no specific requirement for a director to retire when he/she reaches the age of 70. However, upon appointment or reappointment, the age of a person aged 70 or over must be declared in the notice convening the relevant shareholder meeting.

A Director is not required to hold shares of National Grid in order to qualify as a Director.

Rights, preferences and restrictions

National Grid may not pay any dividend otherwise than out of profits available for distribution under the Companies Act and the other applicable provisions of English law. In addition, as a public company, National Grid may make a distribution only if and to the extent that, at the time of the distribution, the amount of its net assets is not less than the aggregate of its called-up share capital and undistributable reserves (as defined in the Companies Act). Subject to the foregoing, National Grid may, by ordinary resolution, declare dividends in accordance with the respective rights of the shareholders but not exceeding the amount recommended by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may pay interim dividends if the Board of Directors considers that National Grid's financial position justifies the payment. Except insofar as the rights attaching to any share otherwise provide, all dividends will be apportioned and paid proportionately to the amounts paid up (otherwise than in advance of calls) on the shares.

Table of Contents

All dividends or other sums payable unclaimed for one year after having been declared may be invested or otherwise made use of by the Board of Directors for the benefit of National Grid until claimed. Any dividend or interest unclaimed for 12 years from the date when it was declared or became due for payment will be forfeited and revert to National Grid.

Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any shares and to any other provisions of the Articles, at any general meeting on a show of hands every shareholder who is present in person will have one vote and on a poll every shareholder will have one vote for every share which he holds. On a poll, shareholders may cast votes either personally or by proxy and a proxy need not be a shareholder. Under the Articles all must be decided on a poll, other than those of a procedural nature.

Directors must stand for reappointment at the first Annual General Meeting following their appointment to the Board. Each Director must retire at least every three years but will be eligible for re-election.

In a winding-up, a liquidator may, with the sanction of a special resolution of National Grid and any other sanction required by applicable provisions of English law, (a) divide among the shareholders the whole or any part of National Grid's assets (whether the assets are of the same kind or not) and may for this purpose value any assets and determine how the division should be carried out as between different shareholders or different classes of shareholders or otherwise as the resolution may provide, or (b) vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the shareholders as the liquidator, with the sanction of a special resolution, determines, but in neither case will a shareholder be compelled to accept assets upon which there is a liability.

Variation of Rights

Subject to applicable provisions of English law and the rights attached to any specific class of shares, the rights attached to any class of shares of National Grid may be varied with the written consent of the holders of three-fourths in nominal value of the issued shares of that class, or with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

General Meetings

Annual General Meetings must be convened upon advance written notice of 21 clear days. An Extraordinary General Meeting must be convened upon advance written notice of 21 clear days for the passing of a special resolution and 14 clear days for any other resolution. The notice must specify the nature of the business to be transacted. The notice must also specify the place, the day and the time of the meeting.

Rights of Non-Residents

There are no restrictions under National Grid's Memorandum and Articles of Association that would limit the rights of persons not resident in the UK, as such, to vote ordinary shares.

Disclosure of interests

A shareholder may lose the right to vote his shares if he or any other person appearing to be interested in those shares fails to comply within a prescribed period of time with a request by National Grid under the Companies Act to give the required information with respect to past or present ownership or interests in those shares. In the case of holders of more than 0.25% in nominal amount of any class of the share capital of National Grid, in addition to disenfranchisement, the sanctions that may be applied by National Grid include withholding of the right to receive payment of dividends and other monies payable on shares, and restrictions on transfers of the shares.

The Companies Act provides that a person (including a company and other legal entities) that acquires an interest of 3% or more in any class of shares constituting an English public company's relevant share capital (ie National Grid's issued share capital carrying the right to vote in all circumstances at a general meeting of National Grid) is required to notify the company of its interest within two business days following the day on which the obligation arises. After the 3% level is exceeded, similar notifications must be made in respect of increases or decreases of 1% or more.

For purposes of the notification obligation, the interest of a person in shares means any kind of interest in shares including interests in any shares (a) in which a spouse, or child or stepchild under the age of 18 is interested, (b) in which a corporate body is interested and either (i) that corporate body or its directors generally act in accordance with that person's directions or instructions or (ii) that person controls one-third or more of the voting power of that corporate body or (c) in which another party is interested and the person and that other party are parties to a concert party agreement. A concert party agreement is one which provides for one or more parties to acquire interests in shares of a particular company and imposes obligations or restrictions on any one of the parties as to the use, retention or disposal of such interests acquired under the agreement, and any interest in the company's shares is in fact acquired by any of the parties under the agreement. Some of the interests (eg those held by certain investment fund managers) may be disregarded for the purposes of calculating the 3% threshold, but the obligations of disclosure will still apply where those interests exceed 10% or more of any class of the company's relevant share capital and to increases or decreases of 1% or more thereafter. In addition, section 212 of the Companies Act provides that a public company may send a written notice to a person whom the company knows or has reasonable cause to believe to be, or to have been at any time during the three years immediately preceding the date on which the notice is issued, interested in shares constituting the company's relevant share capital. The notice may require that person to state whether he has an interest in the shares, and in case that person holds or had held an interest in those shares, to give additional information relating to that interest and any other interest in the shares of which that person is aware.

Where a company serves notice under the provisions described above on a person who is or was interested in shares of the company and that person fails to give the company any information required by the notice within the time specified in the notice, the company may apply to an English court for an order directing that the shares in question be subject to restrictions prohibiting, among other things, any transfer of those shares, the taking up of rights in respect of those shares and, other than in a liquidation, payments in respect of those shares.

A person who fails to fulfil the obligations imposed by those provisions of the Companies Act described above is subject to criminal penalties.

B Shares

Out of the profits available for distribution in respect of each financial year or other accounting period of National Grid, the holders of B shares are entitled, in priority to any payment of dividend or other distribution to the holders of any new ordinary shares and before profits are carried to reserves, to be paid a non-cumulative preferential dividend. All B share continuing dividends payable on B shares which are unclaimed for a period of 12 years from the date of due payment will be forfeited and will revert to National Grid.

The aggregate entitlement of each holder of B shares on a winding-up in respect of all of the B shares held by him will be rounded up to the nearest whole penny. The holders of the B shares are not entitled to any further right of participation in the profits or assets of National Grid.

The holders of the B shares are not entitled, in their capacity as holders of such shares, to receive notice of any general meeting of National Grid nor to attend, speak or vote at any such general meeting unless: (i) the business of the meeting includes the consideration of a resolution for the winding-up of National Grid; or (ii) at the date of the notice convening the meeting, the B share continuing dividend has remained unpaid for six months or more. National Grid may at any time and at its sole discretion purchase B shares: (i) in the market, (ii) by tender available alike to all holders of B shares, or (iii) by private treaty, in each case at a price and upon such terms and conditions as the Directors may think fit.

National Grid may, at any time after 8 August 2007, without obtaining the sanction of the holders of the B shares: (i) appoint any person to execute on behalf of all the holders of the B shares a transfer of all of the B shares to National Grid; and (ii) cancel all or any B shares so purchased. National Grid may at any time after 8 August 2007, and will in any event before 31 December 2009, convert all of the outstanding B shares into new ordinary shares.

Material contracts

As described in Item 4, we have agreed to acquire KeySpan Corporation pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger dated as of 25 February 2006 between National Grid plc, National Grid US8 Inc. and KeySpan. Upon the merger, each outstanding share of KeySpan capital stock will be converted into the right to receive $42.00 in cash (approximately £24.00, using the $1.74: £1 exchange rate used for our balance sheet at 31 March 2006), and KeySpan will become a wholly owned subsidiary of National Grid USA. The merger is contingent upon, among other things, receipt of state and federal regulatory approvals and the approval of each of National Grid's and KeySpan's shareholders.

Table of Contents

As described in Item 6, each of our Executive Directors has a Service Agreement and each Non-executive Director has a Letter of Appointment.

Apart from these, no contract (other than contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business) has been entered into by the Group within the two years immediately preceding the date of this report which is, or may be material; or which contains any provision under which any member of the Group has any obligation or entitlement which is material to the Group at the date of this report.

Exchange controls

There are currently no UK laws, decrees or regulations that restrict the export or import of capital, including, but not limited to, foreign exchange control restrictions, or that affect the remittance of dividends, interest or other payments to non-UK resident holders of ordinary shares except as otherwise set out in Taxation below and except in respect of the governments of and/or certain citizens, residents or bodies of certain countries (described in applicable Bank of England Notices or European Union Council Regulations in force as at the date of this document).

Taxation

The following summary describes the principal US Federal income and UK tax consequences for a beneficial owner of ADSs or ordinary shares who is:

a citizen or resident of the United States, a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation, created or organised under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, or a trust or an estate the income of which is subject to US federal income tax without regard to its source and that holds such shares or ADSs as capital assets.

The summary is not a complete analysis or listing of all the possible tax consequences of ownership, in particular those pertaining to the August 2005 return of £2 billion to shareholders as discussed below under Taxation of dividends . It does not discuss special tax rules that may be applicable to certain classes of investors including traders, collective investment schemes, banks, insurance companies, securities dealers, investors with a functional currency other than the US dollar and any corporation which directly or indirectly controls 10% or more of the voting share capital of National Grid.

Each investor is urged to consult his or her own tax advisor regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of ADSs or ordinary shares under the laws of the US, the UK and their constituent jurisdictions.

The US and UK signed a convention (the Income Tax Convention) for the avoidance of double taxation with respect to income and capital gains on 24 July 2001. The Income Tax Convention entered into force following the exchange of instruments of ratification on 31 March 2003 and was effective for withholding taxes beginning 1 May 2003. This summary describes the rules of taxation under the new convention.

The statements regarding US Federal tax laws set out below are based on:

the US Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code) and regulations issued thereunder, all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect, and in part on the representation of The Bank of New York as depositary (the Depositary).

These statements assume that each obligation provided for in or otherwise contemplated by the deposit agreement entered into by and among National Grid Transco plc (now National Grid plc), the Depositary and the registered holders of ADRs pursuant to which ADRs have been issued dated as of 21 November 1995 and amended and restated as of 31 January 2002 and any related agreement will be performed in accordance with its terms. Beneficial owners of ADSs who are residents or citizens of the United States will be treated as the owners of the underlying ordinary shares for the purposes of the Code.

For the purposes of this discussion, the term US Holder refers to a beneficial owner of ADSs or ordinary shares who is a resident of the United States for US Federal income tax purposes and, as to the description under Taxation of dividends and Taxation of capital gains below, is also a resident of the United States for the purposes of the Income Tax Convention.

Table of Contents

The statements regarding UK tax set out below are based on UK law and what is understood to be the practice of HM Revenue and Customs in the United Kingdom as at the date of this document and are subject to any change therein (including any change having retroactive effect).

Taxation of dividends

Under the Income Tax Convention the United Kingdom is allowed to impose a 15% withholding tax on dividends paid to US shareholders controlling less than 10% of the voting capital of National Grid. The United Kingdom does not, however, currently impose a withholding tax on such dividends. If it were to impose such a tax, the treaty provides for an exemption from withholding taxes for dividends paid on shares held through a tax exempt pension fund, 401(k) plan or similar pension scheme as defined in the Income Tax Convention. The Income Tax Convention does not provide for refunds to be paid in respect of tax credits arising on dividends paid by UK resident companies. To obtain benefits under the Income Tax Convention, a US holder must otherwise satisfy the requirements of the limitations on benefits article of the Income Tax Convention.

Dividends paid by National Grid to US shareholders are subject to tax in the United States. Such dividends may qualify for the reduced tax rate of 15% if the US shareholder has held the National Grid ADSs or ordinary shares for the requisite holding period, to the extent paid out of earnings and profits. Any dividends paid that do not qualify for the special reduced rate will be taxable to a US Holder at the higher rate normally applicable to ordinary income. Dividends paid by National Grid to corporate shareholders will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction allowed to corporation. This discussion is based on current law and previous guidance issued by the IRS which could be changed.

The Company returned £2 billion to shareholders in August 2005 following the sales of four of the UK gas distribution networks in June 2005 by way of a B share scheme, followed by a share consolidation. The distribution, to the extent paid out of earnings and profits, was generally taxable to a US Holder as foreign source dividend income. A distribution in excess of earnings and profits would have been treated as a non-taxable return of cash to the extent of the US Holder's basis in the existing ordinary shares or ADSs, and thereafter as capital gain. In its information reporting to shareholders, National Grid relied on IRS guidance which provides that if the payor of a distribution is unable to determine whether the distribution is paid out of earnings and profits, the entire distribution must be treated and reported as dividend income.

Taxation of capital gains

Subject to the provisions set out in the next paragraph in relation to temporary non-residents, a US Holder who is not resident in the UK for UK tax purposes is not liable for UK taxation on capital gains realized or accrued on the sale or other disposal of ADSs or ordinary shares. A US Holder is, however, liable for US Federal income tax on such gains to the same extent as on any other gains from sales of stock. The gain, if any, is generally US source.

The following taxpayers may be subject to tax in both jurisdictions for any capital gain realized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs or ordinary shares:

- a US citizen who is resident or ordinarily resident in the UK

- a US corporation which is resident in the UK by reason of its business being managed and controlled in the UK

- a US citizen who is trading or carrying on a profession or vocation in the UK and used, held or acquired ADSs or ordinary shares for the purpose of such trade, profession or vocation

- a US corporation which is otherwise carrying on business through a permanent establishment in the U.K. and used, held or acquired ADSs or ordinary shares for the purpose of such permanent establishment.

Such holder, however, is generally entitled to foreign tax credit, subject to certain limitations, against any US Federal tax liability for the amount of any UK tax (namely capital gains tax in the case of an individual and corporation tax on chargeable gains in the case of a corporation) which has been paid in respect of such gain.

A US Holder who becomes resident in the UK after a period of temporary non-residence (of up to five years) following an earlier period of residence in the UK is also potentially liable to UK capital gains tax on gains made in the period of temporary non-residence.

A US Holder must also comply with the limitation on benefits article in the Income Tax Convention in order to obtain treaty benefits.

Table of Contents

In addition, a tax loss on future sales of shares may be characterised as long-term capital loss if some or all of a US Holder's dividends are characterised as an extraordinary dividend. This characterisation may result depending on the proportionate amount of the dividend compared with the cost basis in the shares.

UK stamp duty and stamp duty reserve tax (SDRT)

Transfers of ordinary shares Generally speaking SDRT at the rate of 0.5% of the amount or value of the consideration paid is payable where an agreement to transfer ordinary shares is not completed by a duly stamped transfer to the transferee. Where an instrument of transfer is executed and duly stamped before the expiry of the period of six years beginning with such date, the SDRT liability will be cancelled, and any SDRT which has been paid will be refunded. SDRT is due whether or not the agreement or transfer of such chargeable securities is made or carried out in the UK and whether or not any party to that agreement or transfer is a UK resident. Purchases of ordinary shares completed by execution of a stock transfer form will generally give rise to a liability to UK stamp duty at the rate of 0.5% (rounded up to the nearest £5) of the actual consideration paid. Paperless transfers under the CREST paperless settlement system will generally be liable to SDRT at the rate of 0.5%, and not stamp duty. The transfer of ordinary shares where there is no change of beneficial ownership will generally attract fixed rate stamp duty of £5 per transfer. SDRT is generally the liability of the purchaser and UK stamp duty is usually paid by the purchaser or transferee.

Transfers of ADSs No UK stamp duty will be payable on the acquisition or transfer of existing ADSs or beneficial ownership of ADSs, provided that any instrument of transfer or written agreement to transfer is executed outside the UK and remains at all times outside the UK. An agreement for the transfer of ADSs in the form of ADRs will not give rise to a liability for SDRT. On a transfer of ordinary shares from the London, England office of The Bank of New York as agent of the Depositary (the Custodian) to a holder of ADSs upon cancellation of the ADSs, only a fixed stamp duty fee of £5 per instrument of transfer will be payable. Any transfer for value of the underlying ordinary shares represented by ADSs may give rise to a liability on the transferee to UK stamp duty or SDRT. A charge to stamp duty or SDRT may arise on the issue or transfer of ordinary shares to the Depositary or the Custodian. The rate of stamp duty or SDRT will generally be 1.5% of either (i) in the case of an issue of ordinary shares, the issue price of the ordinary shares concerned, or (ii) in the case of a transfer of ordinary shares, the value of the consideration or, in some circumstances, the value of the ordinary shares concerned. The Depositary will generally be liable for the stamp duty or SDRT. In accordance with the terms of the Depositary Agreement, the Depositary will charge any tax payable by the Depositary or the Custodian (or their nominees) on the deposit of ordinary shares to the party to whom the ADSs are delivered against such deposits. If the stamp duty is not a multiple of £5, the duty will be rounded up to the nearest multiple of £5.

US information reporting and backup withholding

A US Holder who holds ADSs may in certain circumstances be subject to information reporting to the IRS and possible US backup withholding at a rate of 28% with respect to dividends on ADSs and proceeds from the sale or other disposition of ADSs unless such holder furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number or is otherwise exempt.

UK inheritance tax

An individual who is domiciled in the US for the purposes of the convention between the US and the UK for the avoidance of double taxation with respect to estate and gift taxes (the Estate Tax Convention) and who is not a national of the UK for the purposes of the Estate Tax Convention will generally not be subject to UK inheritance tax in respect of the ADSs or ordinary shares on the individual's death or on a gift of the ADSs or ordinary shares during the individual's lifetime, unless the ADSs or ordinary shares are part of the business property of a permanent establishment of the individual in the UK or pertain to a fixed base in the UK of an individual who performs independent personal services. Special rules apply to ADSs or ordinary shares held in trust. In the exceptional case where the ADSs or shares are subject both to UK inheritance tax and to US Federal gift or estate tax, the Estate Tax Convention generally provides for the tax paid in the UK to be credited against tax paid in the US.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm to the Board of Directors and Shareholders of National Grid plc

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated Balance Sheets and related consolidated Income Statements, Cash Flow Statements, Statements of Recognised Income and Expense, Accounting Policies and the related notes present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of National Grid plc and its subsidiaries at 31 March 2006 and 2005, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the two years in the period ended 31 March 2006, in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall accounts presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed under the heading "Basis of preparation" in the Accounting Policies and in Note 1 and Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, as a result of adopting IAS 32 and IAS 39 on 1 April 2005, the Group changed its method of accounting for financial instruments. In line with the relevant transitional provisions, the prior period comparatives have not been restated.

International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union vary in certain significant respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Information relating to the nature and effect of such differences is presented in Note 37 and Note 38 to the consolidated financial statements.
