(4) Provision of Value-added Telecommunications Services under the 2010 Comprehensive Services Agreement

For the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the six months ended 30 June 2010, the total revenue paid by CUCL to Unicom Group for the provision of value-added telecommunications services under the Second New Comprehensive Services Agreement amounted to RMB153 million (equivalent to HK$177 million), RMB122 million (equivalent to HK$141 million) and RMB48 million (equivalent to HK$56 million), respectively.

- (i) the Company's revenue depends on growth in call revenue and in its subscriber base on its various networks. Any such growth will necessarily result in increased use of these value-added telecommunications services, which the Company will not be able to control as it depends entirely on subscriber usage. Any annual cap on the provision of value-added telecommunications services will potentially limit the Company's ability to conduct or expand its business in the ordinary course; and
- (ii) as the charges for these value-added telecommunications services will contribute to the revenue of the Company, imposing an annual cap on the provision of value-added telecommunications services could also limit the Company's revenue.

The Company is now in a better position to estimate the revenue payable to Unicom Group for the provision of value-added telecommunications services under the 2010 Comprehensive Services Agreement based on the historical revenue paid by CUCL to Unicom Group for the provision of value-added telecommunications services and the estimated subscriber usage of such services. The total revenue payable by CUCL to Unicom Group for the provision of value-added telecommunications services under the 2010 Comprehensive Services Agreement in each of the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 is not expected to exceed RMB0.5 billion (equivalent to HK$579 million).
