Business Report

(April 1, 2010 – March 31, 2011)

1. Current Conditions of Komatsu

(1) Effects of the Great East Japan Earthquake on Komatsu Group's Business Operations and Responses

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2011, the Great East Japan Earthquake and the subsequent tsunami that occurred on March 11, 2011 brought about very extensive damages, especially in the Tohoku and northern Kanto regions of Japan. Immediately after this tragic disaster, the Komatsu Group checked the safety of its employees and their families, worked to secure their safety, and made all-out efforts in transporting relief items to disaster-stricken employees and their families. The Komatsu Group also focused its efforts to recover operations of affected plants, suppliers and other business bases.

With respect to production, the buildings and facilities of some plants of the Komatsu Group located in the Tohoku and northern Kanto regions were damaged but we quickly worked to repair them. As for our suppliers, many employees from the Group's Production and Procurement Divisions went to the suppliers' facilities and worked together with their employees on quick repair of their facilities. As a result of these efforts, all the affected plants resumed production by the end of March, while we are still experiencing uncertain procurement conditions for some electronic parts of construction equipment as well as electric power supply.

Our sales and service operations were seriously affected by the tsunami. At some bases located along the Pacific Ocean side of the Tohoku region, their buildings, facilities and construction equipment were washed away. While it will take some time for us to recover the full-scale operations of those bases, soon after the devastation brought by the tsunami, we restarted our maintenance and repair service for construction equipment, which is indispensable for the restoration and reconstruction of the affected regions at our other bases nearby.

As an effort within our best capacity to offer equipment and materials needed in the affected regions, we have decided on a JPY 800 million worth assistance action plan centering on free-of-charge lending of our own construction equipment, forklift trucks, temporary housing and power generators. We have delivered them per the requests of local governments.

It is projected that reconstruction work will last for a long time. We recognize the importance of producing construction equipment, an indispensable tool of restoration and reconstruction, promptly delivering them to the needed areas, and continuing our maintenance and repair service to ensure trouble-free use of equipment, while continuing to work to normalize our operations.

Table of Contents(2) Outline of Operations and Business Results

Komatsu Ltd. and its subsidiaries (hereinafter "Komatsu") embarked on the "Global Teamwork for Tomorrow" mid-range management plan for three years starting in the fiscal year under review, which emphasizes (1) promotion of ICT applications to products and parts, (2) further advancement of environmental friendliness and safety in machine performance, (3) expansion of sales and service operations in Strategic Markets, and (4) promotion of continuous Kaizen (improvement) by strengthening workplace capability.

In the fiscal year under review, the first year of the ongoing mid-range management plan, demand for construction and mining equipment remained at a high level in Strategic Markets, especially in China, Asia and Latin America, while demand recovered and increased from the previous fiscal year in the Traditional Markets of Japan, North America and Europe. Demand for industrial machinery also turned toward recovery, reflecting an increased volume of production of cars in Strategic Markets and growth of the solar cell industry in China and Asia.

[Markets as Positioned by Komatsu]

Traditional Markets Japan, North America and Europe

Strategic Markets China, Latin America, Asia, Oceania, Africa, Middle East and CIS

During the fiscal year under review, as a result of successfully responding to growth in demand in each market, Komatsu recorded consolidated net sales of JPY 1,843.1 billion (USD 22,206 million, at USD 1=JPY 83, hereinafter based on the same rate), up 28.7% from the previous fiscal year. With respect to profits, while the Japanese currency appreciated sharply against the U.S. dollar, Euro and Renminbi from the previous fiscal year and we incurred a loss resulting from the damages by the Great East Japan Earthquake and the subsequent tsunami, we made sizable gains by expanding the volume of sales and continuing structural reform efforts, such as the realization of selling prices and the improvement of production costs. Specifically, operating income reached JPY 222.9 billion (USD 2,686 million), registering an increase of 232.6% from the previous fiscal year, and operating income ratio advanced to 12.1%, an improvement of 7.4 percentage points. Income before income taxes and equity in earnings of affiliated companies increased by 238.3% to JPY 219.8 billion (USD 2,648 million). Table of Contents

Business results by operations are described below.

Consolidated Sales by Operation

Segment	142nd Fiscal Year	Changes From 141st Fiscal Year
Construction, Mining and Utility Equipment	JPY 1,615.6 billion	27.4%
Industrial Machinery and Others	JPY 227.4 billion	39.5%
Total	JPY 1,843.1 billion	28.7%

1) Construction, Mining and Utility Equipment

Komatsu expanded consolidated net sales of construction, mining and utility equipment by 27.4% to JPY 1,615.6 billion (USD 19,466 million) by steadfastly capitalizing on global demand recovery.

During the fiscal year under review, Komatsu continued to focus its efforts especially to expand production capacity and reinforce sales and product support capabilities by anticipating the mid to long-range growth of Strategic Markets. To accelerate sales of hybrid hydraulic excavators, which offer improved fuel consumption and CO₂ emission volume, Komatsu tooled up the production of new HB205 and HB215LC models of hybrid hydraulic excavators, introduced them on the Japanese market and decided to launch them in major markets around the world. With respect to the utility equipment business, consisting of forklift trucks and mini construction equipment, the Company decided to merge with Komatsu Utility Co., Ltd. by absorption-type merger in order to speed up the pace of strengthening its business in growing overseas markets, further improve their product competitiveness and product development efficiency, and reinforce human resource development.

<Japan>

While public investment began to decline in the second half period of the fiscal year under review, private-sector capital investment remained strong. Against this backdrop, demand for construction equipment headed for recovery centering on the rental equipment segment, and sales improved from the previous fiscal year in Japan. In December 2010, Komatsu launched sales of new HB205 and HB215LC hybrid hydraulic excavators in Japan before overseas markets, received great responses from their customers and enjoyed good sales.

Note: For effects of the Great East Japan Earthquake on Komatsu Group's business operations and responses, see on page 5.

<Americas>

In North America, while the U.S. housing starts remained sluggish, overall demand for equipment turned for recovery, supported by strong demand in the rental equipment and mining industries. In this market environment, Komatsu continued to promote the zero inventory of distributors campaign and worked to improve their financial strength. Komatsu also advanced preparation for the market introduction of products compliant to new emission control regulations. In Latin America, demand for equipment remained strong in mining, civil engineering, agricultural and forestry sectors in Brazil, the largest market of Latin American. In Chile where demand for mining equipment grew sharply, Komatsu strengthened its sales and product support capabilities for the mining industry. As a result, sales improved from the previous fiscal year.

<Europe & CIS>

Demand for construction equipment headed for recovery mainly in major markets such as Germany, the United Kingdom and France. While demand recovered in these markets, Komatsu worked to strengthen its product support capability and expand sales of parts by teaming up with its distributors. As a result, sales improved from the previous fiscal year.

Table of Contents

In CIS, demand for large equipment grew, centering on use for coal and gold mining as well as energy development, and sales improved from the previous fiscal year. To seize on the mid to long-range demand for mining equipment, Komatsu strengthened its production and product support capabilities by commencing production at Komatsu Manufacturing Rus, LLC in June last year and opening the Kuzbass Support Center in Siberia.

<China>

Demand for construction and mining equipment remained strong, reflecting thriving demand in the mining industry coupled with advancement of infrastructure development and urbanization, especially in inner China. Particularly by steadfastly capitalizing on demand, which followed the Chinese New Year in February this year, sales improved from the previous fiscal year and Komatsu registered record-high sales in China.

In tandem with this market expansion, Komatsu worked to expand its production, sales and product support capabilities, especially by establishing Komatsu China Mining Limited to engage in sales and product support for major mining companies, constructing the new plant of Komatsu (Changzhou) Construction Machinery Corp., opening the KC Techno Center, and training service engineers of distributors in the special training course at Shandong Jiaotong University.

<Asia & Oceania>

In Indonesia, the largest market of Southeast Asia, demand for mining equipment continued to expand, while demand for construction equipment remained strong in the civil engineering, agriculture and forestry sectors. Demand was also strong in India, Thailand, Malaysia and some other countries. In Australia, some mining companies experienced adverse effects of the flood in shipment of their commodities in the second half period, but overall demand for mining equipment remained firm. Under such market conditions, sales accelerated in Asia, resulting in an increase in sales from the previous fiscal year in Asia & Oceania. In Southeast Asia, Komatsu concerted efforts to introduce KOMTRAX (Komatsu Machine Tracking System) -installed standard construction equipment to more regions. In Australia, Komatsu continued to reinforce sales and product support capabilities, including the reorganization of Komatsu Australia Pty Ltd in August last year to further strengthen its capabilities as a distributor.

<Middle East & Africa>

While political and social conditions have continued to be unstable in some countries, demand for equipment remained firm, particularly in the mining sector. As a result, sales improved from the previous fiscal year. Komatsu is expecting market expansion into the future as accompanied by the development of new mines and the recovery of infrastructure development. In Africa, Komatsu continued its efforts to strengthen its product support capability by adding a new training center to foster the growth of service engineers of distributors.

2) Industrial Machinery and Others

In the industrial machinery and others business, Komatsu boosted sales of wire saws for use in slicing silicon ingots, a material for solar cells, as capital investment remained brisk in Asia, centering on China, for the solar cell market. As a result, sales expanded by 39.5% from the previous fiscal year, to JPY 227.4 billion (USD 2,740 million). Orders received for large presses and other machinery upturned for growth, as capital investment in automobile manufacturing industry headed for recovery in China, India, Brazil and some other countries.

To further enhance the competitive strength of its industrial machinery business under such market conditions, following the reorganization of press business in April last year, the Company decided to merge Komatsu NTC Ltd. and Komatsu Machinery Corporation into a single entity and to merge with Komatsu Engineering Corp. by absorption-type merger. Concerning the merger of Komatsu NTC and Komatsu Machinery, as both companies mainly engage in machine tools for the automobile manufacturing industry as well as semiconductor manufacturing equipment, Komatsu is going to focus its efforts to converge their technologies and know-how to develop and produce new products for broader lineups as well as those designed to meet next-generation technological applications. With respect to the absorption-type merger with Komatsu Engineering, as it has a leading-expertise in systems engineering, the Company is going to apply that expertise to its manufacturing engineering, development and design operations.

Furthermore, Komatsu NTC Ltd. has built a new plant in order to expand its production capacity of wire saws against the backdrop of expanding its share of the solar cell market.

(3) Capital Investment

Capital investment increased by JPY 1.5 billion from the previous fiscal year, to JPY 97.7 billion (USD 1,178 million).

1) Breakdown by Segment

(4) Financing

While there was an increase in capital demand from our retail finance business and others during the fiscal year under review, there was a large improvement in income which allowed us to accelerate repayments of loans from financial institutions, including those under Euro Medium Term Notes and the like. As a result, the balance of interest-bearing debt at the fiscal year-end decreased by JPY 42.3 billion from the previous fiscal year-end to JPY 544.0 billion. The net debt-to-equity ratio* improved 0.10 point to 0.50.

* Net debt-to-equity ratio = (Interest-bearing debt - Cash and cash equivalents - Time deposits) / Komatsu Ltd. shareholders' equity

(5) Tasks Ahead

Komatsu's production and procurement of parts remain vulnerable to being affected by such conditions as the electric power supply, suppliers' recovery of operations, aftershocks and the crippled nuclear plant in Fukushima Prefecture. We will continue our all-out efforts to stabilize production and procurement as we monitor the conditions very carefully.

Concerning the reconstruction of the regions devastated by the Great East Japan Earthquake, we created the Tohoku Operation Department in Sendai City, Miyagi Prefecture in April 2011 to promptly and continuously provide assistance. The Department will ensure dynamic decision-making operations in the affected regions, provide for the smooth transportation of construction equipment, forklift trucks, temporary housing, and spare parts for equipment, and reinforce our service operations.

Looking at our global group-wide business environment, Strategic Markets are steadily expanding in the construction, mining and utility equipment business. We are projecting that the economic growth of countries in Strategic Markets will play the role of driving the demand for equipment. In the industrial machinery and others business, we are also anticipating that demand will continue to grow, as the volume of automobile production is increasing, especially in Strategic Markets.

Komatsu draws its strengths especially from ICT applications, in-house development and production capabilities of key components, global sales and service networks, and flexible procurement and manufacturing operations. In the new mid-range management plan, "Global Teamwork for Tomorrow," with the goals set for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2013, we are working to further refine our strengths by focusing our efforts on the following activities of importance and will steadfastly generate results. We will also continue our efforts to disseminate and anchor The KOMATSU Way, as all employees of Komatsu engage in Kaizen (improvement) activities in their own work. In addition, we will focus our efforts on our brand management activities designed to further enrich the relationship with our customers for mutual growth with them and foster the growth of employees who are needed for our global business expansion.

Table of Contents

Activities of Importance in the Global Teamwork for Tomorrow

(i) Promotion of ICT Applications to Products and Parts

We have built on our record of ICT applications mainly in the domain of construction and mining equipment with the KOMTRAX for construction equipment, the AHS (Autonomous Haulage System) for dump trucks in large-scale mines and other systems. We will continue to apply leading-edge ICT to machine management, machine control, and construction site management in order to enhance our product competitiveness. We will also proactively promote ICT applications to our industrial machinery and forklift trucks. Furthermore, we are going to advance our utilization of a variety of information obtained from the KOMTRAX to improve customers' productivity and our sales and production planning.

(ii) Further Advancement of Environmental Friendliness and Safety in Machine Performance

To help our customers reduce CO₂ emission volume from their equipment, we are going to advance our hybrid, HST (hydrostatic transmission) and motor-driven technologies for construction equipment and forklift trucks, and our AC Servo technology applied to presses for industrial machinery. With respect to hybrid hydraulic excavators, we are preparing for worldwide launchings of new HB205 and HB215LC models. By combining our in-house development and production of key components, such as engines, hydraulic equipment and control systems with leading-edge technologies, we are continuing our efforts to develop products to meet new emission control regulations in Japan, North America and Europe and to ensure their smooth market introduction. In the domain of mining equipment, we have already introduced the AHS to mines in Chile and Australia, and we are going to further refine the performance and safety of the AHS. We are also going to generate steady results in the Biodiesel Fuel Project in Indonesia which we started in the previous fiscal year.

(iii) Expansion of Sales and Service Operations in Strategic Markets

In Strategic Markets and in the domain of mining equipment, which both have high growth potential, we are going to make a difference from competitors by not only supplying products which feature superior QCDS (quality, costs, delivery and safety) but also enhancing the operating rates of customers' equipment through quick and responsive delivery of parts and service. To this end, we are going to upgrade our sales and service capabilities by developing and strengthening distributors, expanding service support bases, reinforcing parts and Reman businesses and supporting customers through ICT applications. Also, in the domain of industrial machinery and forklift trucks, we are going to promote more synergy effects with the construction equipment business, and improve sales and service networks in response to an expanding weight on Strategic Markets centering on China.

(iv) Promotion of Continuous Kaizen (Improvement) by Strengthening Workplace Capability

While the growth of emerging economies offers us a great chance to expand our business, we need to expect new competition with companies of emerging economies in addition to conventional competition. To win this global mega competition, it is important for us to continuously refine our capability to meet the changes and sharpen our cost competitiveness, as we advance our efforts for growth upheld in the mid-range management plan. To this end, it is absolutely necessary for us to have the power to demonstrate workplace capability and adaptability, i.e., the power to continue our Kaizen (improvement) activities. With this workplace capability and effective ICT utilization, we are going to further heighten our operational flexibility of global manufacturing operations, substantially reduce production costs, and optimize logistics. We are also continuing to make our efforts to reform and streamline our administrative work. Through these Kaizen (improvement) activities, we are going to further enhance our workplace capability and promote human resource development.

Table of Contents

Based on the belief that our corporate value is the total sum of trust given to us by society and all our stakeholders, Komatsu is further strengthening its corporate governance to ensure sound and transparent management, while improving management efficiency. Being committed to promoting thorough compliance, we will also ensure that all employees share The KOMATSU Way. In addition to improving our business performance, we will facilitate both the development of corporate strength and the achievement of social responsibility in a well balanced manner.
