Table of ContentsThe Proposed OfferReasons for the Proposed Offer

The Company wishes, subject to the conditions referenced below, to make a tender offer to acquire up to all of the outstanding shares of Titan Europe (the Proposed Offer), subject to the conditions described below in Conditions to Proposed Offer. The Company believes that there is compelling logic in the acquisition of Titan Europe. In the approximately four years since its spin-off from the Company, Titan Europe has more than doubled in size and has established itself as a global supplier to the construction, mining, earth moving and agricultural sectors. The Company believes that there is a strong complementary fit between Titan International, Inc. and Titan Europe Plc and that they could achieve greater revenue growth and increased profitability than on a standalone basis. This would give Titan International, Inc. a worldwide distribution network for its Giant off-the-road (OTR) tire and wheel products.

How the Proposed Offer May Be Made

Before the Proposed Offer may be made, the Company's stockholders need to approve the issuance of up to 9,000,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock to acquire Titan Europe. If the Company's stockholders approve this issuance, then the Company may proceed with the Proposed Offer. In general, this would require a letter to be written to the Board of Directors of Titan Europe from the Chairman and CEO of the Company. The letter offer would state that the Company would trade one (1) share of the Company's Common Stock for a minimum of eight (8) ordinary shares of 40p each of Titan Europe, as determined by the Company's Board of Directors at the time of the making of the offer. If the Board of Directors of Titan Europe recommends the Proposed Offer to its shareholders, then under the Code, the Company would make a public offer and make certain filings pursuant to the Code. These filings would then start certain time limits for the offer to be accepted by Titan Europe's shareholders. If the Proposed Offer receives the approval of shareholders of Titan Europe holding at least 51 percent of its ordinary shares, then the offer will go through if all other conditions are met. The Proposed Offer would be made pursuant to the (London) City Code on Takeovers and Mergers (Code).

Conditions to Proposed Offer

The making of the Proposed Offer will be subject to a determination by the Company's Board of Directors, after consideration of all material facts, that at such time, the Proposed Offer will be advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. There would be other pre-conditions, including due diligence; the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Directors of Titan Europe to its shareholders; written confirmation that the consummation of the offer would not invoke the change of control provision under Titan Europe's credit facility; approval of shareholders of Titan Europe holding at least 51 percent of its ordinary shares, and receipt of all required regulatory approvals. The approval of the Company's lenders is also required under the terms of the Company's $250 million revolving credit facility dated July 23, 2004, as amended, with agent LaSalle Bank National Association (a Bank of America company). There can be no assurance that these conditions will be met and that the Proposed Offer will be made, or that it will be successful if made. The Company may waive a pre-condition as long as it does not violate a government regulation, existing contract or other requirement under the law.

Stockholder Approval

The Board of Directors of the Company seeks stockholder approval of the issuance of the Shares in connection with the Proposed Offer. The approval of the Proposed Offer by the Company's stockholders is not required by any laws, rules or regulations applicable to the Company or by its articles of incorporation or bylaws, and will not be sought.

Appraisal Rights and Further Stockholder Approval

If the Company's Board of Directors determines that it will proceed with the Proposed Offer and the Company's stockholders approve the issuance of the Shares, the Company's stockholders will not have any dissenters' rights of appraisal or similar rights of appraisal, and no further authorization of the Company's stockholders will be required to approve the issuance of the Shares or the transaction.
