ITEM 1.01 ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT

On December 1, 2004 Independent Bank Corp. (the Company) entered into an On-Site Outsourcing Agreement (the Core Processing Agreement) with Fidelity Information Services, Inc., an Arkansas corporation, with offices located at 601 South Lake Destiny Drive, Maitland, Florida 32751 (Fidelity). While the Core Processing Agreement was signed on December 1, 2004, it is dated and effective as of November 1, 2004 (the Effective Date).

The Company entered into the Core Processing Agreement primarily for purposes of processing the data of Rockland Trust Company (Rockland Trust), the Company s wholly-owned bank subsidiary. The benefits of the Core Processing Agreement, however, are also expressly conferred on all of the Company s other subsidiaries.

Rockland Trust and Fidelity s predecessor in interest ALLTEL Information Services, Inc., were parties to an On-Site Outsourcing Agreement dated as of October 18, 1999, which had been amended, in writing, eight times and which had a term that ended on May 31, 2005 (hereinafter collectively the Prior Contract). The Core Processing Agreement supersedes the Prior Contract, in its entirety, as of the Effective Date.

The Company will receive the new pricing called for in the Core Processing Agreement as of the Effective Date. The Core Processing Agreement commences on the Effective Date and ends May 31, 2010, unless earlier terminated in accordance with the provisions of the Core Processing Agreement. During the period between June 1, 2008 and September 1, 2008 the Company has the option to extend the Term of the Core Processing Agreement for an additional five (5)-year period, i.e., until May 31, 2015 on terms and conditions set forth in the Core Processing Agreement.

Fidelity will provide data processing services, a license to use Fidelity base data processing software products and licenses for other, additional Fidelity software (the Fidelity Software), third-party interfaces to and from the Fidelity Software, and Fidelity resources to the Company pursuant to the Core Processing Agreement. The services provided by Fidelity to the Company pursuant to the Core Processing Agreement generally include, but are not limited to, the general management of the Company s data processing, installation and enhancement of Fidelity Software, operation of Fidelity Software and software developed by third parties, programming, furnishing, maintaining and operating computer equipment, providing information in various media forms, and the implementation through Fidelity of Automated Teller Machine/Electronic Funds Transfer Processing, Electronic Bill Payment, and eDelivery Services (hereinafter collectively referred to as the Services). Fidelity also grants a license for Fidelity Software to the Company in the Core Processing Agreement. The Services, third-party interfaces and Fidelity resources provided, Fidelity Software products licensed, and the applicable fees and charges, are described in more detail in the Core Processing Agreement.

A copy of the December 3, 2004 Press Release jointly issued by the Company and Fidelity to announce the signing of the Core Processing Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1.
